Cumberland Healthcare Foundation hosts 5th Annual Golf Classic Scramble

The Cumberland Healthcare Foundation is hosting the 5th Annual Golf Classic Scramble on Tuesday, June 20, 2017, at the Cumberland Golf Course. The event features a 9-hole golf scramble, dinner catered by the Cumberland Golf Course, games and a raffle.

"The Cumberland Healthcare Foundation is excited to offer this event for the fifth year in a row," says Kelly Quick-Hanson, Executive Coordinator at Cumberland Healthcare. "We encourage community members to participate in this great event that raises money for local healthcare efforts."

All proceeds from the 2017 Golf Classic will benefit Cumberland Healthcare's new 3D breast imaging technology. 3D breast imaging offers clearer images of the breast tissue leading to earlier detection of cancer and a more accurate treatment plan.

Projects the Cumberland Healthcare Foundation has contributed to include:

- The Cumberland Healthcare Healing Center, which provides a comprehensive oncology/infusion program and wound healing services
- Improving the aesthetics of our OB department
- 3D imaging technology, which is our current campaign

The Cumberland Healthcare Foundation is an extension of Cumberland Healthcare, a not-for-profit, independent, Critical Access healthcare facility. The Foundation was formed in 2013 with a mission to enhance and ensure continued healthcare excellence for our community through generosity. ## Island City Music series hosts Chris Kroeze on June 13th

Chris Kroeze, the Nashville recording artist from Barron, will be playing from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 13, in the Island City Music concert in downtown Cumberland. Kroeze, who sings country and pop songs, is performing the second concert in the 10-concert series on the east shore of Library Lake.

Kroeze has recorded an original song in Nashville, and he appears frequently at venues around Wisconsin and Minnesota, including The Five O'Clock Club. He has also performed for U.S. troops overseas.

The Island City Music series is sponsored by the Cumberland Area Business Alliance (CABA) with contributions from individual businesses and organizations. Ian Haugen's Cumberland Boat Storage Dock &

Lift is sponsoring the Chris Kroeze performance.

The Advocate is providing ads to promote the events.

There is no charge for attending the concerts. But you should bring your own lawn chairs.

Parents and staff of Island City Academy charter school will be on hand each Tuesday with the school district's kayaks that can be taken out on the lake during the concerts. Free-will offerings will be accepted for the use of kayaks, with the donations going to ICA.

The concerts are being organized by a group called Cumberland Connect, which is working to develop places and activities in Cumberland that bring people together in gathering places.

Ahnikas' Vision Treatment Recovery

Deb and Ahnika Leonhardt returned home from Berlin in April and had Ahnika's first eye appointment on Thursday, May 25th in the United States to see exactly what improve-impressed, as he figured she would have been more deteriorated in both eyes and asked when we are going back, as this treatment was successful

We will have another follow-up appointment in October, 2017. Her vision hopefully will continue to improve during this time. If her vision does continue to improve the Doctor in Berlin wants us to come back in six to 12 months, as he can perform this treatment again, and even regain more of her vision! This is all very exciting for us, as we are seeing the changes in her every day.

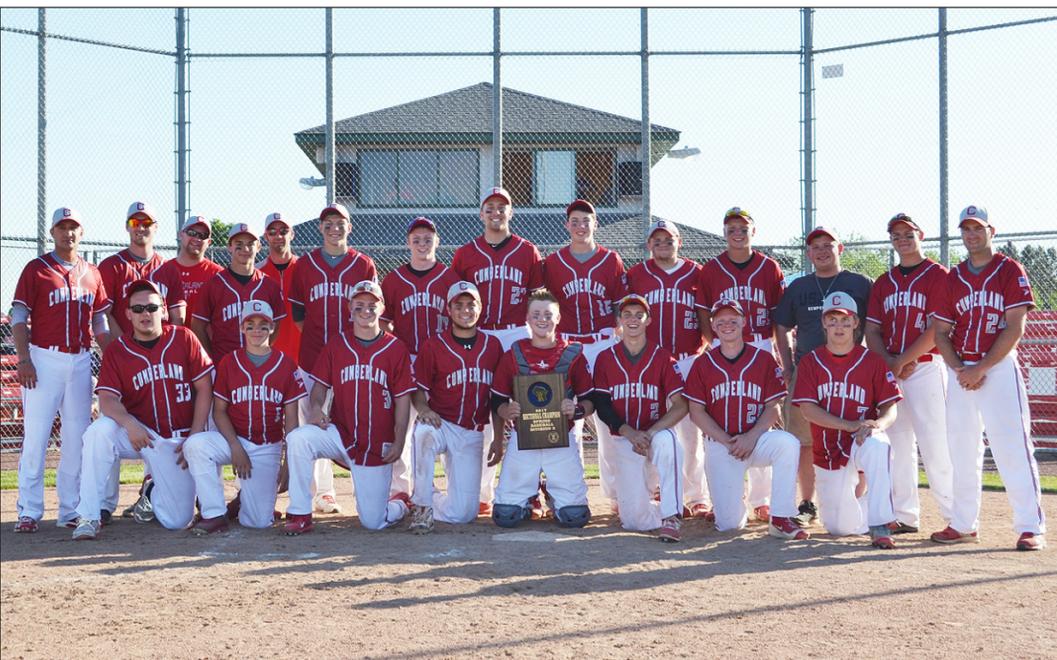

Again, Thank you all for your prayers, support and donations to make this possible. We are blessed to be in such a wonderful community. Blessings to you all.

Something You Should Know About A Tale of Two Buildings by Hope Lee Vicich

You can divide a community into two basic groups - those who were born to it and those who came to it. For the ones who were "born to it" the stories of how they came to be here go back generations and form the foundations and history of the community.

Richard Ihrig

The ones like me who "came to it" have different sorts of stories to tell. These stories are the future of the community and they have been fascinating me more and more of late.

What attracts people to Cumberland? What changed in their lives that made this the right place for them to be, right now? For attorney Richard Ihrig, it is a tale of two buildings. Ihrig practiced law, mostly in Minneapolis, for more than 40 years. For many years, Ihrig has been a partner at Lindquist & Vennum, one of the largest law firms in Minneapolis. Mostly, he worked on resolving large commercial disputes through litigation, negotiation, and mediation. He also found time to be a law professor and to serve on the boards of directors of the Legal Aid Society of Minneapolis, Mid-Minnesota Legal Assistance, and the Advocates for Human Rights. However, Richard says "the idea of practicing in a smaller community has always intrigued me."

In the early 1990s, Ihrig and his wife, Dr. Colleen Cooper, purchased a home on Bone Lake east of Luck, and they began visiting all the surrounding villages and cities to see what was there. "Cumberland seemed to me to be the most vital," said Ihrig.

One day while driving around Cumberland he noticed the Pioneer Meat Market building and "liked its looks. I like the way it stands with square shoulders. I like the fact that it's a brick building. The more I've investigated how it was constructed, the more impressed I am with its structural integrity." He "made some inquiries" and learned that the then owner was interested in selling it. So he bought it. The building started life over 100 years ago as the Pioneer Meat Market, and since then it has had several commercial and residential uses.

Richard told me that, unfortunately, the press of a very busy metropolitan law practice and a growing family absorbed more than all of his time for a number of years. While he kept the building from deteriorating, rebuilding about 1/3 of the exterior, replacing the roof, and replacing all but the front windows, the interior restoration had to wait.

However, while the interior project was on hold, Richard and Colleen remained interested in Cumberland and its doings.

In approximately 2008, the Library restoration project began. Richard's love for old buildings once again came to the front when contacted by Claire Johnson. Knowing of his interest in preserving old structures, Claire asked if Richard would consider working with the group that was leading the effort to preserve the original Carnegie part of the library and expand it in a way that was faithful to the original structure. "I said yes and got involved."

Then approximately two years ago, Ihrig began to cut back on his law practice and spend more time in Wisconsin. The way Richard tells it, "I decided that, rather slip into retirement, I would far rather keep doing what I had been doing, but on a smaller scale. So it made sense to plant myself in a community that I have high regard for and where I conveniently owned a place that could be my new professional home." He explained that the "bread and butter" of his practice has always been representing businesses at all stages of their lives - formation, growth, and eventual sale. I do this by preparing documents, negotiating transactions, and resolving disputes. I plan to continue this type of work."

Now Richard is combing his love for these two historic structures by hosting a concert in his newly completed offices to benefit the Library.

"Music at the Law Office" will present an evening of jazz for the benefit of the Thomas St. Angelo Public Library on Saturday, June 17th at 7:30 p.m.. The evening will feature music by local legend Manfred Schonauer on keyboards, Dustin DeGolier on jazz guitar, and Jennifer Wozniak will provide vocals. Tickets for the evening are $15 and can be purchased in advance at Peter and Annie's. I've been asked to remind everyone that this is an "intimate venue" with limited seating so you don't want to wait to purchase your tickets!

Richard invites you to come see his new offices at 1120 Second Ave. (across from the old Donatelle's store), enjoy an evening of fine music in a "unique setting" and help support the Library. Sounds like a great night for a great cause. See you there!

Wisconsin State Patrol Law of the Month: Safety devices required when towing trailers

Before you hit the road for a fishing or camping trip this summer, make sure that your boat, camper, trailer or other piece of towed equipment is securely fastened to your vehicle.

For safe towing on roadways, state law requires that the ball and hitch coupling assembly must be the same size and must latch securely. The latching mechanism also must be able to prevent disengagement of the trailer while the vehicle is in operation, says Wisconsin State Patrol Captain Nick Wanink of the Northwest Region.

Two safety chains of proper length and strength must be attached between the vehicle and the trailer. The slack on each length of chain must not be more than is necessary to permit proper turning. In addition, it's a good idea to crisscross the safety chains to create a cradle that can catch the tongue of the trailer and prevent it from striking the pavement if an unexpected disconnection occurs.

A violation of the state law regarding properly securing trailers costs $200.50 with two demerit points added to a driver's license.

The State Patrol also offers some simple and practical advice for safe towing. Captain Wanink says, Before you begin a trip with your boat, camper or trailer, check to see if it is loaded properly and its contents are secured. A shifting load on a trailer can cause it to sway unexpectedly. Test the trailer brake lights. You also should check the axles and tires. Many trailers sit for long periods of time, and we see crashes caused by wheel bearing failure or blown tires. You should carry a spare tire because specialty tires for trailers may be hard to find when you're far from home or its the middle of the night.

I have a happy wife. In the newspaper, last Sunday, was an article that said a new study has perhaps found a miracle drug - chocolate. According to the study those that ate chocolate six times a week were 20% less likely to have a stroke or heart attack. Wow! If true, the chocolate producers will be adding extra shifts at the factory to satisfy all the chocolate lovers who will increase the use of chocolate for "medical" purposes.

More terrorist attacks around the world and more cries about what should we do to prevent these attacks. This is a difficult dilemma facing countries and citizens around the world. As I see it, the more security we gain, the more freedom we lose. It is easy for a strongman, governing a country - the choice has already been made, the "screws" are just tightened until the problem is reduced to acceptable levels. Individual liberty loses to collective security. The problem comes in societies where individual liberty is important. The more important individual liberty, the less likely measures that promote collective security will be accepted. We will be asked to make a decision here in America. It is a "drip, drip, drip," decision making process. Just a little bit of freedom gone. How much security do we want and how much loss of individual liberty will we tolerate? With the latest terrorist attack in London the cry for more security will get louder and decisions will have to be made. What will the people of the UK do? I don't know what will happen, but I am worried. I don't want to give up any of my freedom.

The motto of the organization I served, while in the U.S. Army, was "Always Vigilant." A great motto! We must always be "vigilant" to safeguard our liberties. We can't choose for Britain, but we can choose for America.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Business plan contest continues to produce winners for Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. – Joe Scanlin is about to come down with a double case of jet lag.

Scanlin, who co-founded Scanalytics with fellow UW-Whitewater graduate Matt McCoy, will travel this month to China and France as the company continues its remarkable rise in the world of "smart building" sensors.

It all began about six years ago when Scanlin was shopping at a retail store and became intrigued by how companies with a physical footprint could use sensor technology to better understand customer behavior – traffic patterns such as dwell time, turnover and "patience" rates.

Scanlin and McCoy entered the 2012 Governor's Business Plan Contest with a plan that may have been ahead of its time for adoption within the "Internet of Things," but has since grown to include installations of the company's SoleSensor technology on four continents.

Through a partnership with Intel, for example, Scanalytics will be introduced to potential customers in a Chinese business park with about 150 companies. In France, the connection is through Cisco Systems. It's all part of a "smart building" movement that Scanlin believes will transform how physical space, from manufacturing to retail, is monitored and analyzed.

Scanalytics was a finalist in the 2012 contest, which Scanlin said helped expose him and McCoy "to resources we probably would not have known were available, and enabled us to build our networks."

Scanalytics was part of a contest class that included RoWheels, C-Motive Technologies, Imbed Biosciences, NitricGen, Strategic Fishing Systems and Fishidy, all still in business or integrated into other companies.

"It was really refreshing to see how people from Wisconsin are out there solving real problems," Scanlin recalled of his contest experience.

The latest crop of contest finalists will present Tuesday at the 15th annual Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Conference at Union South in Madison, where 500 or more people will gather to hear speakers, panel discussions and more over two days ending Wednesday afternoon.

The Governor's Business Plan Contest has been a staple of the conference since its second year and continues to serve as a platform for up-and-coming ideas and companies.

Each of 13 finalists will make seven-minute pitches to judges, who will score them on content and presentation. Those results will be combined with scores from the written portion of the contest, which concluded in late May, to produce winners in four categories – Advanced Manufacturing, Business Services, Information Technology and Life Sciences.

The grand prize winner will be selected from the four category winners. An impressive list of sponsors, including the Wisconsin Economic Development Corp., provide cash and in-kind prizes. This year's finalists hail from Appleton, Eau Claire, Madison, Mequon, Milwaukee, Sheboygan, Sun Prairie and Wisconsin Rapids.

Scanalytics is one success story among many over time. Among the speakers at the Entrepreneurs' Conference are several contest alumni, including Scott Jens of Revolution EHR, Henry Schwartz of MobCraft Beer and Chris Johnson of Pilot Training System.

Making the news in recent weeks were 2016 grand prize winners Pat Hughes and Mike Fox of Hyde Sportswear, which is producing a lightweight, minimalist life jacket that can appeal to a mix of water sports enthusiasts and help save lives. The work of past and present contestants Classmunity, i65 Inc. and Vibetech has also been featured in publications of late.

Other success stories include Vector Surgical, My Health Direct, TAI Diagnostics, bluDiagnostics, Whole Trees, Kiio, Sector67 and Elucent Medical. They may have entered the contest at varying levels of organization – or none – but emerged with a plan that caught the eye of potential partners, customers and investors.

Companies that have reached the final contest rounds over time have raised about $250 million collectively from angel and venture capitalists or from merit-based grants.

Wisconsin is sometimes dinged for its lack of business startups, and the Wisconsin Governor's Business Plan Contest is among resources committed to producing more. The next generation of finalists is waiting in the wings.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council, which produces the Wisconsin Governor's Business Plan Contest. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

Many bodies are involved in a volunteer effort that began last week, organized by the Cumberland Backcourt Club, to remove tiles, cork and tar from the floor of the Elmer Beran Gymnasium. Muscles and sweat are preparatory to the installation of a new maple floor and work is progressing on schedule according to Superintendent of Schools Merwin Moen. Students got in on the act last week, by using their end of the year energies to pry tiles from their 29-year-old moorings. Backcourt Club members and other community helpers, continued the tile removal last Friday and Saturday. Moen said this floor had been installed in 1958, and to the best of his knowledge, this was only one of two such floors in the nation, the other being in Minnesota.

After what seemed like a "prolonged dry spell" on the local business scene, a sharp rejuvenation has taken place in recent days and "things are booming" in both downtown and outlying Cumberland. The newest business on Cumberland's "main street" is the Christian Corner Book & Gift Shop, operated by Jane Degner, which opened June 1st in the former Kinder Shop location. Other new businesses now open are: The Shoppe, a handicraft store in the former Coil's Realty location; the Deep Rock service station located at Highways 63 and 48 at the west edge of the city and Sam's Factory Housing, pre-built and mobile home sales in north Cumberland. Coil's Realty has moved to 1275 Elm Street and is now undergoing extensive remodeling. Opening soon is Davis Photography in the former Yarn Barn building and a restaurant operated by Sam Cifaldi will be in the old marina building. An off-sale liquor store will be opened by Don Long in the former Corner Store location in north Cumberland. Falcon Drill is undergoing an extensive expansion and the Tower House recently completed a kitchen remodeling project.

Wickre Agency, Inc., advertises a three bedroom split entry home in the country with a good location just off Highway 63 for $35,000; a two bedroom year around cabin on Dummy Lake with a walkout basement and 130' of beautiful sand beach, $28,000; and a four bedroom home on seven acres, five miles west of Cumberland, with an old barn and nice pines for $20,000.

Eugene R. Vilz, 54, of Menomonie, has been charged with lewd and lascivious behavior, and disorderly conduct.

The criminal complaint states that on Tuesday, May 30, 2017, at approximately 5:35 a.m. Turtle Lake Police Chief Gabe was advised that Barron County Dispatch had received several calls from people reporting a male subject in front of an apartment building on East Martin Avenue in the Village of Turtle Lake. The reports indicated that this male was jumping on cars yelling to get the snakes off of him. The reports also indicated the subject was completely naked. Chief Gabe was further advised that this individual was also in the middle of the street, completely naked and yelling about getting snakes off of him.

Upon his arrival Chief Gabe observed that Barron County Deputy Weise had a male subject handcuffed and was escorting him to the squad car. The subject was completely naked except for one work boot on his right foot. Chief Gabe recognized the person as Eugene Vilz, who he had dealt with many times over the years. When Chief Gabe called out Vilz's name, he responded that he was high on meth and told Chief Gabe to get the snakes off of him because they were biting him on his legs.

Chief Gabe placed Vilz in the back of his squad car and then spoke to one of the individuals that had called in the complaint. The individual stated that he had observed Vilz naked, lying on the car yelling and then slide off and go into the street, jumping around yelling to get snakes off of him. Other witnesses that Chief Gabe spoke to also indicated they had observed Vilz yelling from the top of cars, completely naked, to get the snakes off of him.

If convicted Vilz may be fined not more than $11,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both. His hearing will be held July 26, 2017.

Alan M. Gassen, 36, of Prairie Farm, and Shannon M. Petersen, 34, of Prairie Farm, have each been charged with child neglect, contributing to the delinquency of a child, possession of tetrahydrocannabinols (THC), and possession of drug paraphernalia.

According to the criminal complaint, Barron County Detective Dexter interviewed a juvenile female, age 15. During the course of the interview the juvenile indicated that she smoked weed several different times and indicated that she probably smokes it daily and is "dependent on it." Detective Dexter had a second contact with her on May 19th, after being advised by Barron County Detective Kuffel, that the juvenile had shared information with her school principal concerning the use of smoking weed with her parents, Shannon Petersen and Alan Gassen.

Prior to the May 19th interview Detective Dexter reviewed a writing that had been completed by the juvenile and provided by the school principal, which read: "for my 13th birthday, mom and Alan let me smoke my very first bowl. I've been smoking with them every day mostly since, unless we don't have any. The house is a complete disaster. There is dishes everywhere, food that has not been cleaned up and stuff piling up on the table. They can be nice, but mostly they just yell. There is old dog feces in my little brother's room. There are pop cans everywhere and they yell at our dogs to get them to do something. Sometimes we get in fights and Alan will pull me down the stairs and he and my mom call each other rude names and they fight with each other all the time. On one occasion, Alan slapped my mom and then tried to say it wasn't even that bad. They do not buy the necessities we need like undergarments, socks and any other stuff we need.

On another occasion Alan had told me my mother tried to take her life."

When asked where they usually smoked, the juvenile said anywhere, depends where they pack the bowl. She indicated she was in the living room, or sometimes in the dining room. She said sometimes she goes up to her room and smokes by herself or "we'll sit in chairs and pass it down."

When asked who provides the weed for her family, she said that technically Alan does because he has a job. But she said they all smoke it. She indicated that her little brother often goes up to his room to get away from the fighting, but that the other two little kids are usually around when the smoking takes place. She explained that her mom has somewhat of a gate on either side of the living room that the younger two kids are blocked from coming into the living room. But said these younger children have been in the living room when she and her parents have been smoking weed.

When asked if she smoked weed because she wants to, the juvenile indicated yes and "I really can't stop it." When asked if her mother ever stops her from smoking or tells her not to, the juvenile indicated that sometimes her mom will say that she needs it more than the juvenile does.

When asked how many times within the last week she has smoked, she indicated she didn't know, but that it was usually every day. She indicated that Alan usually keeps some stuff in his pocket or will hide it and they don't tell her where it is. She said he doesn't usually have very much at a time, but that when they get the Social Security payments from her father's death benefit, they always get a lot of weed around the first of the month.

On May 23rd, Detective Dexter participated in the execution of a search warrant at the residence on Fifth Avenue in Prairie Farm. During the course of the execution of the search warrant, she had contact with Shannon Petersen. When Petersen was advised that there was a search warrant, she indicated she would just show officers or tell us where the "green" was and asked Detective Dexter to please help her keep her kids.

Detective Hagen's report indicated that he made several observations concerning the condition of the house during the execution of the search warrant. He observed that there was no power supplied to the residence from the power company. The house did not appear to have any running water. It appeared that some power was being supplied to the house by way of a generator that was running outside of the house, which appeared to be powering the computer through the use of an extension cord from the generator. The generator was not powering the refrigerator because it was not running and there was rotting food and meat in the refrigerator and freezer that had a putrid odor when the refrigerator was open. The generator was observed to be directly wired into a fuse service panel on the exterior of the residence. There was a strand of electrical wiring with three wires between the service panel/fuse panel on the external east wall of the residence and the generator. The three wires on the end of the generator were stripped and the stripped ends were partially exposed and plugged directly into an outlet on the generator. This appeared to be a significant fire hazard and shock risk to any of the young children living at the residence. He sent pictures of the generator and the wiring to a friend of his that was an electrician who confirmed that the manner in which this was wired was a very dangerous situation.

Detective Hagen also observed there to be very little, if any clean clothes for the children to wear. There was no bedding on any of the beds or crib for the two-year-old child that was in the residence. He also observed that the house smelled of rotting food, filth, and animal feces. He observed animal feces on the floor right next to toys and clothes that were on the floor in the four-year-old boys bedroom upstairs.

While Detective Hagen was photographing the residence, the two-year-old boy picked up a cigarette butt that was on the floor in the dining room and started to put it in his mouth, until Detective Hagen took it way from him. Detective Hagen also observed what appeared to be the remains of animal feces on the floor in the carpet in the living room. He also observed that the dining room was full of clutter and extremely dirty. There were dirty dishes covering the kitchen counters, some of which had rotten, moldy food on them. He observed choking hazards virtually everywhere for the two-year-old child. The two-year-old's bedroom also had the smell of cat urine.

If convicted they may each be fined not more than $21,500 or imprisoned for not more than two years and one month, or both. Their driving privileges may be suspended for not more than ten years, each. They are scheduled to appear July 19, 2017.

Baseball Team Wins Regional Title

The Cumberland Beavers Baseball Team overcame an early 7-0 deficit at Unity last week to win the Division 3 Regional Baseball Tournament and advance to Tuesday's Sectional Tournament in Cumberland. Elk Mound, Durand, C/W, join Beavers, with the winner headed to next weeks State Tournament in Appleton.

Unity put the Beavers in an early hole last Wednesday with a seven-run first inning. Two big errors were part of the scoring binge. The Beavers never panicked, however, and would hold the Eagles scoreless from that point on until the seventh inning.

Cumberland couldn't get much going offensively either, until an eventful top of the sixth.

Trailing 7-0 entering the frame, the Unity pitcher began to tire and fall behind Cumberland hitters. Three base-on-balls, three hits, and a critical Unity error later, the Beavers narrowed the lead to 7-4 as senior Payton Rose came to bat with two on and two out.

On a 2-2 pitch, Rose then put the Cumberland faithful into delirium, when he launched a shot over the left field fence, tying up the contest. His fourth home run of the spring had knotted things up at 7-7.

The Beavers pitcher Tyler Landsworth then retired the Eagles 1,2,3 in the bottom of the inning, sending the two teams deadlocked into the seventh.

Here, the Beavers showed they weren't done with heroics on the day. With two on and two out, sophomore Reid Olson stepped to the plate. He had already had one hit and an RBI on the day, but he showed he was up for more. On a 1-1 pitch, Olson crushed a fastball from Unity pitcher Tyler Tetschendorf over the left field fence for a three-run home run and a three-run Cumberland lead. Olson's feet barely touched the ground as he rounded he bases. Cumberland was three outs from the Regional crown.

Unity didn't go easily, scoring once, but Landsworth shut the door at that point for a comeback 10-8 victory.

Landsworth pitched four innings in relief of Olson, striking out six and walking two. He also joined Olson in leading the Beavers with two hits each. Eight Cumberland hitters had hits in the contest.

Cumberland got to Wednesday's contest with a 5-0 win over Luck/Frederic on Tuesday in a Regional opener. Sophomore Riley Bodsberg pitched a two-hit shutout in the game, striking out seven.

The Beavers got the only runs they needed in the first inning on a Kobe Berghamer triple, a single by Max Narges, and a Luck/Frederic error.

Bodsberg and Narges had two hits each in the win. Dylan Anderson added a Cumberland double.

In Wednesday's opener, the Beavers (16-6) faced Chetek-Weyerhaeuser (8-12) in game one, while Durand (19-7) played Elk Mound (18-7) in game two. The winners played to advance to next Wednesday afternoons State Semifinal contest.

Rose to play in State Baseball All-Star Game

Cumberland senior Payton Rose, has been chosen to play for the West Team in the Wisconsin Baseball Coaches All-Star Games in Oshkosh on June 23 and 24. Seventy-two seniors from around the state play in a round-robin Tournament over a two-day period. Many former Major League players from Wisconsin have played in the games including Jordan Zimmerman, Jarrod Washburn, Scott Servais, Bob Wickman, and Joe Randa.

Cumberlands last representative was Jonah Lundquam in 2014. Rose is currently hitting .333 with 10 doubles, four home runs, and 21 runs-batted-in for the Beavers.

Logan Armstrong shoots solid round at Sectionals

Cumberland's Logan Armstrong traveled to Cadott last week, where he participated in the Division 3 Golf Sectional at Whispering Pines Golf Course. Armstrong shot a solid 92, but did not advance to the State Tournament.

"Logan shot well, but the putts did not fall. It was a good way to finish up his season," said Coach Tom Hullander.

Medalist at Cadott was Spring Valley junior Tyler Leach, who shot an excellent 69. Freshman Logan Lillehaug of Luck/Frederic was second with an equally impressive even par 72.

Eleva-Strum had the top team score with a 325. Luck/Frederic also qualified for State with a team runner-up 342.

Three Days on Green Bay

Hello friends,

I honestly believe that one of the best fisheries in the upper Midwest is Green Bay.

I started fishing Green Bay about 10 years ago and have had some incredible fishing for walleye and have seen some huge musky over the years. One time while fishing alone in a small boat, on very high seas, I had a northern pike take a night crawler harness that was attached to a planer board.

It was so windy that despite that fact that the big gator was on the surface and only five-feet away from me, I could not net what I honestly believe was at least a 30-pound fish.

We watched each other, for what seemed like an eternity, and then just like that, it dived, cut my line and would become one of the most significant fish memories of my life.

This week I returned for 48-hours of hardcore fishing for walleye, pretty much living out of my 18.5 foot War Eagle, and having a base camp on a friends land.

Monday, May 30th

High 67, low 42

I think that it is fair to say, that in the world of catching fish, other than a lack of knowledge the most universal way to observe what I call a "non-bite" or "lockjaw" is to experience a cold spell while fishing or just before you start your adventure.

I arrived at the boat landing on the Suamico River, just north of Green Bay, this afternoon and literally at the same time air temps that would cause me to have to wear coveralls for the entire three days of fishing, came in with a storm.

With that storm came solid westerly winds that never let up. So I cannot even begin to describe how excited that I am to start trolling which in this case would be two Flicker Shads and a crawler harness. All the reports that I heard have been excellent and I wanted to catch some big walleye in high seas.

Long story short, after four hours of trolling, I did not have a strike and just before dark I made camp, started a fire, and cooked a steak.

Tuesday, May 31st

High 55, low 40

It was 3:45 a.m. when the local flock of redwing blackbirds started singing in the trees above my tent. Shortly after that, I was trolling for walleye or whatever would take my offering in what would once again be high seas.

In the first 8 hours of trolling I had 3 strikes, two were sheephead and I do not know what the other fish was, as it got away.

Today I observed a great many comorants and pelicans and I have to wonder what these birds, that can eat massive amounts of fish, might do to fish numbers in this area.

This afternoon at about 5:30 I finally had a good hit and though it might not seem like much, I landed a three-pound walleye. Fishing is a crazy sport/way of life, when we succeed all is perfect in our world (at least for the moment).

I used the spotlight to get back to camp and when I brought my lines in, I had a 13-inch walleye on one of my Flicker Shads, which I let go.

The next morning, just like yesterday, my boat was thoroughly stuck on the beach (is there a tide on Green Bay)? The wind was solid, my only hit turned out to be a 27-inch gator and to be perfectly honest, I wanted to stay another week, I mean I really did.

I would love to come here and paddle troll with my canoe and sleep wherever the day takes me!

Sunset

A beached boat can be difficult to get off the beach.

Sailboats are a common site on Green Bay!

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Last week I couldn't come up with any news. This week there has been so much going on I probably will have to save some for next time.

It is with great sorrow that I have to report that Don Lehmann passed away on Monday morning, June 5th. Don lived almost his entire life on the family farm a couple miles south of Barronett. In his younger days, in addition to farming, he hauled milk to the creamery and gave neighborhood kids a ride to school. He was an outstanding farmer, a loving husband and father, and an all around great guy. He will be sadly missed.

At the beginning of worship service on May 28th, Pastor Todd gave a very moving tribute to veterans everywhere by telling us the story of his four uncles, all from the same family, who were soldiers in WWII. The uncles fought in both Europe and the Pacific. Only three survived the war, and one, Uncle Earl, became a very important person in Pastor Todd's life. After he finished his family's military experiences, he asked the veterans in our congregation to stand up and be recognized. Almost all the men stood up. I didn't realize we had so many veterans in our congregation.

At the synod assembly that Pastor Todd attended last month it was reported that, every day, twenty-two veterans who have recently returned from war zones commit suicide. I'm not sure where you can find that statistic, but that is like a horrible epidemic. Anyway, someone came up with the idea of having people do 22 push-ups for 22 days to keep these young men and women in mind. I would like to know what we can do to help them. Are they getting the counseling and help they need? Can people even tell ahead of time that they need help? We need to know what to do about this.

On Friday, May 26th, Dawson Adams was one of the graduating seniors at Barron High School. His family, Curt, Adrian and Dillon, were there, along with many other friends and relatives, all very proud of him as he walked across the stage to receive his diploma. Dawson is going to attend a school in the Madison area where he will be learning to operate heavy equipment.

On Saturday, May 27th, a huge graduation party was held at the Barronett Community Center for Morgan Neitzel. There were lots and lots of people there to congratulate Morgan, and of course, plenty of great food.

That same afternoon Brad Esser and Brittany had a house warming party at their new home. They moved into the Albee house the first part of May. They had plenty of food for everyone of course, and games to play. Tonja Metnik and I challenged Duane and Dick to a game of beanbag toss, and the way I've heard defeats like ours described before is that we had a very personal part of our anatomy handed to us. So we sat down and licked our wounds for awhile and then, because we love humiliation, we challenged Duane and Brad to another game. I wish I could say it turned out differently, but I would be lying. I think I'm going to get that game and invite Tonja to come and practice with me so the next time we can trounce our opponents.

Bistro 63 is having music on the deck every Thursday this summer. The first one was on June 1st, so Art and Jill Adams, Lynn Thon, Duane and I decided to go over to enjoy the music and have dinner. You most likely already know what I think of the Bistro food, so I probably don't have to say it again, but it is great. Duane recommends the ribs to anyone who happens to be going there, and Lynn and I always have the rigatoni calabrese. We got there a little too late to sit on the deck, it was already filled to capacity, but after we were finished with dinner, we went back to the house, sat in our yard, and listened to their music. That is just one of the many benefits of living next door to the Bistro.

Jim Copus and his family and friends were at his campsite on Sand Creek for Memorial Day weekend. When they are all here, my job has been to take two cakes, one chocolate and one oatmeal, up to the camp and watch them devour them like a pack of wolves. Well, this year I was so busy that I kind of fell down on the job. We did go up and sit around the campfire and swap lies, but I didn't bake the cakes. So, because I felt so guilty, Monday morning, bright and early, I baked the two cakes. I had them finished by 9:00 a.m. and started over to the creek. While we were on the way up there, Jerry Marsh called and said that, because of the weather, just about everyone was already gone and those who were still there were in the process of packing up and leaving. So we went home, kept one cake out to serve when company comes over, and put the other one in the freezer. Maybe I'll leave it there and give them that old frozen cake next year. Just kidding, I would never do that.

The day after Memorial Day, I went into Cumberland Healthcare for surgery. I had been in the hospital one day last month too, for some tests and I cannot say enough nice things about Doctor Degerman, the nurses and OR staff. They explained what would happen, and answered any questions I had. They were professional, kind and caring. My only problem was that I said the most ridiculous things to my family while I was waking up. The silliest, I guess, was that I couldn't find my kite and I was planning to fly a kite that day. Where in the world did that come from?

I expected to have about a three week recuperation time, and I feel almost guilty that I feel fine. Everyone has been so nice, offering to help me do things, but I really don't need any help. I guess I should have pretended to be in pain so that Duane would cook and do dishes for a couple weeks, but I thought of that a little too late. He has been very helpful though, making sure I follow the rules in my discharge papers and carrying things that he thinks are too heavy for me. He actually is the world's best husband.

The Barron County Dairy Breakfast was held last Saturday, and we had planned to go to that with Bill Gill, but I wasn't quite ready to be walking around and standing in line at that time. Bill said that the farm where the breakfast was held was beautiful. He mentioned that there were three ponds, one with a formal garden and other flower gardens. He sounded pretty impressed by the beauty of it.

This Saturday is the Tri County Dairy Breakfast at the Washburn County Fairgrounds in Spooner, and we are planning to go to that. Duane likes to look at all the old tractors on display. I on the other hand, like to pig out on the food, eat free ice cream, visit with all the people, and take a ride on Pat Fankhauser's horse drawn wagon. Hope to see you up there.

Tru Lehmann was over to visit one day this past week, and while we were taking a walk, we stopped by to visit with Lois Nickell for a couple minutes. Lois was working in her flower garden, and Tru was very impressed with how beautiful it was. Lois said, jokingly of course, something about thinking she should mow it all down, and Tru let her know that she thought that was a bad idea. Actually, I think just about everyone in Barronett would be disappointed if they couldn't look at Lois's colorful garden in the spring.

I had to have my kitty, Sarah, put down. She was seventeen and had been unable to eat or drink for a while, and I really waited too long to let her go. Duane and I took her to the Cumberland Vet Clinic, and Dr. Angie Ruppel euthanized her for us. Dr. Ruppel gave me plenty of time to say goodbye before taking her to another room for the procedure. It was a very difficult decision to make, and I appreciate the kindness shown to us by Dr. Ruppel. We buried Sarah by our other cat, Nonnie, near the lilac bushes.

I guess that's about it for now. Hopefully I'll see you next Saturday at the diary breakfast. Have a great week and I'll see you next time.

Pioneer Village flea market

The Barron County Historical Society's Pioneer Village Museum will host its second annual Flea Market on June 10th. As people wonder through exhibits at the museum, they often reminisce about items that their grandparents had, or maybe even something from their childhood that "disappeared" long ago. A flea market is a great place to find old "treasures," or maybe even sell some of your own.

This is a great time to visit the Museum because admission is free on June 10th. Anyone who comes for the flea market, will likely come back to visit one of the Museum's many special events.

Anyone interested in having a stand at the Museum's flea market, can contact Tammy Schutz at 715 458 2080, or email museum1@chibardun.net.

BHGS to work on Pine Grove Cemetery

The Blue Hills Genealogical Society will work on the Pine Grove Cemetery on Monday, June 12. Meet at the cemetery at 6:00 and bring a digital camera, notebook and pen to record text on the tombstones. Wear casual work clothes and gloves to work on cleaning the stones. If you want, you may bring brushes for cleaning the stones. The Pine Grove Cemetery is located by traveling east on Highway 8 to 21 1/2st St. south. We will gather at Carol Moen's home for refreshments after our cemetery work. With this work we will finish recording the Pine Grove Cemetery with pictures and text.

Those wishing to donate items for the Society's silent auction in July may bring the donations to the BHGS Resource Center at 410 E. LaSalle, Suite C, Barron by June 15. The Resource Center is open Mondays from 2:00-6:00 p.m. The silent auction will be held July 8 from 10:00-2:00 at the Pioneer Village Museum in the Town Hall.

A Look Back...

Act passed by the Legislature in 1965, the Zoning Committee of Barron County is now zoning the shoreland of streams and lakes in the county. One of the shoreland problems affecting water pollution is the septic tank systems improperly located, constructed in soil which does not absorb properly or which discharges sewage effluent directly into a stream or lake. Septic tank systems and wells will now be under scrutiny by the state health department.

Reggie Scott Levy 48 years old passed away Sunday, June 4, 2017 peacefully at his home surrounded by family members after his lengthy journey with cancer. Living with no regrets since diagnosed in 2009, Reggie and his wife Wendy spent many days and hours traveling back and forth to Rochester where Reggie participated in trial studies, various immunotherapy's and several kinds of chemo treatments during the last two years of his life. Mayo Health Systems of Rochester are truly grateful for all the research Reggie has given them with such a rare cancer called "Ocular Melanoma" (cancer of the eye) which metastasized to the liver in 2015

Reggie was born in Cumberland to Norman and Nancy Levy on September 30, 1968. He grew up in the Shell Lake area. He graduated from Shell Lake High School in 1987. While there he excelled at many sports such as wrestling, football and baseball. He also loved the great outdoors where he hunted and fished. Reggie attended college at Steven's Point where he received a degree in Fishery Management. He graduated from Steven's Point in 1992 and worked for the DNR for the next three summers where he worked on trout stream improvement and Youth Conservation Corps. In 1993, during the off seasons at the DNR, he began to work with Schaffer Welding/Manufacturing. His dedication to Schaffer Welding/Manufacturing and great work ethic of 25 years helped the company excel to where it is today.

Reggie's love of baseball led him to be a coach for a women's softball team in the summer of 1994 where he fell in love with Wendy. Four years later they were married on October 24, 1998 at Augustana Lutheran Church in Cumberland. From there they purchased land in Clayton, and built their beautiful home where their family still resides today.

Reggie's love of sports carried over to his children participating in sports. He not only followed each of their sports which led him to coaching and assisting many years for Hunter's baseball teams. Throughout the years Reggie also attended as many practices for Hunter to be his mentor and personal coach afterwards. Reggie always made it a point to speak with each player for all sports after their games and pointing out special things they did during the game which also carried over to the coaches and parents. His love for sports and life was truly felt by all.

Reggie was preceded in death by grandparents: Victor Schaffer, Jean (Schaffer) Brekke, Edward Levy, Theresa (Johnson) Levy, Jack Javner (Father-in-law), Mary (Bushong) Javner (Mother-in-law), and Garrett Javner (brother-in-law).

"Christ's Ascension: His Life, Ours"

By: Pastor John Miels

St. Paul Lutheran Church LCMS, Cumberland

The Ascension of our Lord Jesus Christ, is the 40th day after the resurrection, on which He rose up into the heavens.

While the church year is somewhat foreign to much of American Christianity, it needn't be. It shouldn't be. For what it is, in essence, is an annual celebration of the life of Christ, from His incarnation, His birth, baptism, epiphany, suffering, death, resurrection, ascension and sending of His Spirit in Pentecost, bringing us into the Trinitarian life. It is the story of our life. You see, the life of Christ is the life of the Christian. Our life is hidden in His. Having been baptized into Christ, we are baptized into His body, becoming His living members. As such, His destiny becomes ours, His home ours, His Father ours.

His Ascension is in a way a departure. He rises from sight, where He will take His place at the right hand of God. He goes, in order to come, He rises, to fill all things. By ascending to the Father's right hand, He becomes present for us in every place and time, most especially in every place and time where His Gospel is preached, where His children are baptized, and now filled and fed with His precious body and blood. During His earthly ministry, Jesus walked place to place. Now He is here, there, and everywhere His gospel is preached. He is with us wherever our road may lead.

At His right hand, our Lord now serves as our eternal priest. He makes petitions on our behalf. He speaks to our Father. He is our advocate. He has the Father's ear. As the Son of Mary, He speaks as a man, on behalf of all men, saying things like, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." "Father, forgive them, my blood is the eternal payment for their sins."

A man, our brother, sits upon the universe's throne, above all powers and principalities. He makes room for our earthly family within His heavenly family. As He sits at the right hand, we have a place at His table. We children of the earth, formed from the dust of the ground, find our home in the heavenly places. Jesus, our crucified, risen, and Ascended Lord and Brother, ascends and sends us His Holy Spirit; the gift at Pentecost.

May traffic crashes claim 45 lives in Wisconsin

Second safest May since World War II, but traffic deaths so far this year still outpace the five-year average

Preliminary data from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) shows 45 people died in Wisconsin traffic crashes last month making it the second safest month of May since the end of World War II. The deadliest May occurred in 1968 with 123 fatalities, and the safest was in 2013 with 32.

Traffic fatalities last month were 10 fewer compared to May of last year, and three less than the five-year average for May. Preliminary figures indicate 11 people died in traffic crashes over the recent Memorial Day weekend – compared to 10 during last year's three-day holiday period.

Over the first five months of this year, 203 people died in Wisconsin traffic-related crashes including 27 pedestrians and 13 motorcycle drivers. Through the end of May, traffic deaths were 13 fewer compared to the same period last year but 13 above the five-year average.

"Every traffic-related death is a tragedy and virtually all are preventable," said David Pabst, Director of WisDOT's Bureau of Transportation Safety. "Nationally, at least 90 percent of traffic crashes are the result of motorists making bad decisions or practicing dangerous driving behaviors. As we enter the heavily-traveled summer months when traffic crashes, injuries and deaths typically increase, we're asking all motorists to slow down, buckle up, eliminate distractions, drive sober and alert. Everybody can do their part to move our traffic fatalities toward Zero in Wisconsin."

Two seriously injured in Friday evening accident

On Friday, June 2, 2017, at 6:33 p.m., Polk County Dispatch received a report of a two-vehicle traffic accident on State Highway 65, at the intersection with County Highway F/85th Avenue in Garfield Township. There were reports of two seriously injured occupants who were trapped in one of the involved vehicles.

EMS and Law Enforcement personnel were dispatched and upon arrival at the scene, they immediately determined that the two injured subjects would need med flights via Life Link III helicopters to Regions Hospital in St. Paul, MN. State Highway 65 was shut down at the scene and once extricated from the vehicles, the injured subjects were flown out by two helicopters.

Investigation of the incident indicated that a Ford F150 pickup truck was traveling northbound on State Highway 65 towing two ATV's on a trailer. This vehicle was occupied by three subjects who were uninjured. The other vehicle, a Toyota Prius, was traveling westbound on County Highway F/85th Avenue and entered the intersection without yielding to oncoming traffic. The driver of the pickup was unable to avoid a collision with the Toyota, and struck the driver's side of that vehicle. Both vehicles came to rest in the northwest ditch at the intersection. The driver of the Toyota suffered life-threatening injuries and the passenger suffered significant injuries. All parties appeared to have been wearing seatbelts and airbags deployed in both vehicles. Alcohol was not a factor with the driver of the pickup truck; it is unknown at this time if alcohol was involved with the driver of the Toyota. Further investigation may be conducted by the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

Emergency services assisting with this incident included Garfield First Responders and Fire, Dresser Fire, Amery Area Ambulances, Life Link III, and the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

Northwoods Newcomer: Good benches help make good downtowns

By Larry Werner

On a cold, rainy day before-Memorial Day, Ann and I were having a latte at Peter & Annie's and chatting with Vickie Komarek, the owner. She told us she's getting a bench in front of her store, and we told her that made us very happy.

We are big fans of benches in front of stores.

Many years ago, to celebrate our 10th anniversary, Ann and I spent a week in Fish Creek, Wisc. a lovely village about halfway up the Door County peninsula. We went to Door County with our best friends, Bob and Debbie Jansen, and we went back five more times to this place where folks go to visit art galleries, quaint shops and restaurants where I can get my favorite fish – perch.

Bob and I enjoy looking around gift shops for a few minutes, but we tire long before our wives do looking at what Bob calls "stuff nobody needs." So after we've seen what we need to see in a shop, we retire to the benches that are in front of nearly every store and gallery in Door County's villages.

One day, while sitting on one of those benches waiting for Ann and Debbie, Bob came up with one of his ideas. For those of you who have met my best buddy, it won't surprise you to hear the idea was a bit wacky: He suggested we write a book entitled, "The Benches of Door County."

Yes, the title is a takeoff on "The Bridges of Madison County," a best-selling novel and movie that was set in Madison County, Iowa, where there are lots of covered bridges. In Door County, there are lots of benches, and we talked for hours about photographing and interviewing old guys like us who sit on benches waiting for their wives to come out of shops and galleries.

OK. Maybe it wouldn't make a great book. But benches make for great shopping districts. Wouldn't it be nice to have benches to sit on when you're shopping downtown? Wouldn't it be nice to spend a few minutes people-watching on Second Avenue after having a bite to eat at Nezy's or The Spot or The Corner Bar?

I like walking Cumberland. And I sometimes take a break on one of the few benches we have downtown. The board of ETC, our arts council, used some money left to the organization by deceased patron Jim Cervanka to buy a bench that sits in front of the arts center.

It's a nice place to sit. Poet Robert Frost wrote a poem called Mending Wall about a fellow who believed that, "Good fences make good neighbors." Frost didn't like the idea that a structure that keeps people apart is considered good for the relationship between folks who live next door to each other.

Benches, I think, do make good neighbors. They bring people together, unlike walls.

I'm glad Vickie is going to have a bench where I can sit and enjoy my latte. It would be nice if Cumberland, like Fish Creek, had benches outside all the shops and restaurants.

We could call them, "The Benches of Barron County."

Public meeting for WIS 48 at US 53 in Barron County

Meeting to focus on reconstruction of WIS 48 between West Avenue and Bear Paw Avenue

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) is conducting a public involvement meeting to discuss reconstruction of WIS 48 from West Avenue to Bear Paw Avenue, Barron County. The project is currently scheduled for 2020.

The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 20, 2017 from 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. at the City of Rice Lake Council Chambers, 30 E. Eau Claire St., Rice Lake, WI 54868. A brief presentation will be made at 5:15 p.m. The objective of the meeting is to familiarize the public with the purpose and need for the project and to obtain input on the proposed improvements.

The preferred alternative involves the following:

the intersections with West Avenue and both the northbound and southbound US 53 ramp terminals as roundabouts.

- Mill and overlay WIS 48 at the intersection with Bear Paw Avenue and install a traffic signal.

- Reduce WIS 48 from two lanes in each direction to one lane in each direction.

- Pave the existing WIS 48 gravel shoulders.

- Make minor improvements to drainage along WIS 48.

- Provide a new multi-use path to the north of WIS 48.

Adjacent property owners are encouraged to attend the meeting. Citizens who are hearing-impaired and require an interpreter may request one by contacting Diana Maas at least three working days prior to the meeting via the Wisconsin Telecommunications Relay System (dial 711).

From left Jason Lundequam, Jerry Shadick, Marty Lundequam and Tom Hullander won the annual baseball scramble by shooting a fine score of 58. Over 20 teams had a great time Sunday at the Cumberland Golf Club.
