The High School team, consisting of Gavin Fountaine, Tyler Linder, Dwight Griffith, Ethan Snowbank and Kela Vicich, along with ICA Teacher Sheri Johnson, spent the week in Maryland competing against 54 other teams from the United States, Canada and China.

The competition judging is divided into six categories - Wildlife, Aquatics Ecology, Current Issues, Oral Presentation, Forestry and Soils/(hardest test), 12th in Aquatics, 34th in Soils/Land use, 37th for Presentation, and 42nd in Current Issues.

ICA instructor Sheri Johnson had this to say about the experience: "I am very proud of how we represented at Nationals - not only our scores, but more importantly how well we acted. Thank you to all our sponsors and supporters: Kim Warkentin and Tracy Arnold from WI Land and Water, CSD, ICA Board, the area. They travelled to the Antietam Creek restoration project, a peach orchard, several Smithsonian museums, as well as other spots in Washington, D.C., and the advisors got to tour Gettysburg while the team was testing.

Congratulations to all for a job well done and thanks for being such great representatives for Cumberland and Wisconsin.

A View from the Lake: Beaver Dam Lake Management District Update

by Tom Schreoder, President

It is hard to believe that over half of the "summer" has passed but the best is yet to come! After all, the lake temperature is finally comfortable, the water is clear, fishing is steady and Rutabaga is just ahead!

The Lake District Annual Meeting was held on July 8th with 45 in attendance. Senator Janet Bewley took time from her busy schedule to attend and gave an update on the State Budget discussion and commented on several lake and local issues. Dr. Alan Carson was elected to another term and will remain as treasurer for 2017. The proposed budget that was published in the Advocate and in the BDLMD Annual Letter was approved. Almost two-thirds of the budget is covered by WDNR grants.

Besides continuing to evaluate how invasive species, especially EWM (Eurasian water milfoil) and CLP (Curly leaf pondweed) are impacting the lake, the ma-

Louis E. Muench elected 2017-18 President of the American Association of Meat Processors

Louis E. Muench was elected president of the American Association of Meat Processors (AAMP) during the 78th Annual Convention of Meat Processors and Suppliers' Exhibition, July 22, in Lexington, Kentucky.

In a speech to attendees of the convention, Muench said it was truly an honor and privilege to be named the president of AAMP. "I will continue to work diligently to move this association in the right direction," he said.

A third-generation meat processor, Muench is the president of Louie's Finer Meats, located in Cumberland, Wisconsin. He attended the University of Wisconsin-Barron County and earned an Associate's Degree in 1974. He graduated from the Butcher's Program at SW WI Vo-Tech in Fennimore in 1975. He then continued to attend the University of Wisconsin-River Falls where he earned a Bachelor of Science Degree with a double major in Food Science and Biology.

Muench has been inducted into the Wisconsin Meat Industry Hall of Fame and the National Cured Meats Hall of Fame, and was a member of the inaugural class of Wisconsin Master Meat Crafters. He has served as a judge for multiple state professional association competitions, and held elected office within state and national meat industry organizations. He was inducted into AAMP's Cured Meats Hall of Fame in 2003.

In May, the University of Wisconsin-River Falls' College of Agriculture, Food and Environmental Sciences named Muench the 2017 Wisconsin Distinguished Agriculturalist. The award was established in 1970 to recognize individuals who have provided leadership, service and other contributions to the broader agricultural community.

"I could not think of a more experienced meat processor or more qualified individual to guide this association," said Chris Young, executive director of AAMP. "Louie's long-time service to the association and to the trade as a whole will allow him to work on the best solutions to the challenges we will face as an industry."

Muench is heavily involved in his local community. He served as the Scoutmaster of Cumberland's Troop 24 for 25 years, assisting 28 scouts to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout. He is currently the president of the Cumberland Municipal Utility Commission, as well as volunteers for the Cumberland Area Friends of Scouting.

Muench is married to Barbara and has three children, Louis K., Heidi and Eric, and they currently reside in Cumberland, Wisconsin. His sons, Louis K. and Eric are also actively involved in the business. Louie's Finer Meats has won nearly 500 awards at the state, national and international competitions for their meat products.

Muench succeeds Doug Hanks, Thrushwood Farms Quality Meats, Galesburg, IL, who will remain on the AAMP Board of Directors as the immediate past president. Rick Reams, RJ's Meats, Hudson, WI, was elected 1st Vice President; Dwight Ely, Ely Farm Products, Inc., Newtown, PA, was elected 2nd Vice President; Darla Kiesel was elected 3rd Vice President; and Chad Lottman, C&C Processing Inc., Diller, NE was elected Treasurer.

$100 WITHOUT A BUTTON! 2017 GOLDEN 'BAGA HUNT

Clue #1

Another year has passed and I have returned, I found a new home where I can adjourn.

I can see you, but can you see me? The key is I'm keyless and I'm off the key.

My roof is red, but that you can't take, I have never in my life been so close to the blue lake.

REMEMBER!

The 'Baga medallion will only be found on PUBLIC land. It is NOT in or around the Library! Again, we ask each of the 'Baga hunters to respect private property and confine your hunt to public areas. Good Luck.

Under construction!

New Mobile App helps find the UW School that's right for you

College-bound students now have an easier way to find UW System campuses that best meets their needs. A new mobile app called UW Journey guides students through the college search process by comparing and contrasting the 26 UW System campuses. It matches a student's career goals, extracurricular interests, lifestyle and more. Users can also sign up for alerts about important dates, such as when admission opens, ACT test days, and financial aid deadlines. The app is available in the App Store and Google Play.

"We invite students to start their college search with UW Journey to consider the full range of UW campuses that meet their needs," said UW System President Ray Cross. "Whether you are a transfer student, an online student, or a recent high school graduate, UW Journey brings you one step closer to finding the UW campus for you."

"UW HELP has a long history of serving as the front door to the UW System," said UW Colleges and Extension Chancellor Cathy Sandeen. "We know students use their phones for everything now, so it made perfect sense to develop a mobile app like UW Journey. It is a fun and interactive way to learn about all of the campuses and the opportunities and resources each offers."

The UW Journey app sifts through data and instantly shares which UW campuses are a fit based upon a series of questions, such as their areas of study and interests, if they would like to start with a 2-year or 4-year campus, and how far they would like to live from their hometown. Built-in tools provide side-by-side comparisons of UW campuses including:

- Number of programs offered at the campus
- Campus & community size
- Cost of tuition

- Faculty to student ratio
- Residence hall information
- Options for athletics and other clubs

The UW Journey app is also available in a website version. UW Journey was developed by UW-Extension's UW HELP program, which strives to increase access to the 26 UW System campuses through personalized advising and outreach activities such as college fairs, community presentations and training sessions for school counselors.

UW HELP also develops publications, websites, and other electronic resources. Learn more at uwhelp.wiscn.edu.

Grand Reunion of the Classes of 1965-1980

Sponsored by the Class of 1969

The Gathering of the Tribes

Saturday, August 18th
Cumberland Beach Park • BYO

The Class of '69 is proud to sponsor an informal class reunion for all these classes at the park next to the Cumberland Beach. The organization is very informal. Someone from each class needs to bring a sign with their class year, and arrange food, perhaps sun-shade tents. The main pavilion area is reserved for the classes of 1966, 1969, 1970 and 1978. Our current estimate of attendees is from 150-500, excluding guests. Our planning number is 300 total people We are planning to organize some other events for the weekend, and following week, before Baga Fest. We are all members of a tribe from Cumberland, which usually includes people from other classes, so this is a way to mix and mingle.

We will have pontoon boats available for tours around the lake or transport to near library lake for activities centered near or in the Baga Fest Stage.

We will need to pay for portable toilets, driving me, security and possibly equipment rentals. In addition, there may be some musicians traveling from out of state, and I have promised modest driving or flying expenses. Schedule for visiting the Baga Fest, as well as other functions, are being planned now.

We will welcome walk-ins, but there is a discount for people paying early. Each graduate will be allowed to bring one guest.

Cost (pre-registered): $8 per person • Onsite: $10 per person

Opinion

by Senator Janet Bewley

People probably get tired of hearing me talk about how lucky we are to live in Northern Wisconsin. In addition to the abundant natural beauty, the people who live here have more than their fair share of creativity, energy and general stick-to-itiveness. Last Wednesday I saw a lot of that on display at the Northwest Regional Planning Commission's annual meeting at the Flat Creek Inn & Suites, in Hayward.

Sen. Janet Bewley

The NWRPC is the oldest planning commission in Wisconsin and one of the first multi-county planning commissions in the nation. The people I talked with all share a commitment to do their best to build on our strengths and improve our economic standing.

Unfortunately, choices being made in Madison by the Governor and the leaders of the legislature aren't designed to benefit everyone. Instead, they benefit only a tiny fraction of the people in this great state.

In the 2011 state budget a provision was slipped in late in the process to phase in a so-called "Manufacturing and Agriculture" tax credit. It was supposed to be a boon to job creation and the state's economy, even though no job creation or retention is required to claim the credit.

What it's proven to be is a shameless giveaway that has had negligible, if not negative, effect on our state's economy.

A memo released last week showed that a stunning $21 million of taxes the rest of us still have to pay will be given to just 11 people. No, that's not 11%, that's 11 people in a state of 5,771,337. Perhaps most alarmingly, just 2,280 people whose income exceeds $500,000 per year will receive a staggering $186 million. 99.8% of Wisconsin's population cannot qualify for this credit.

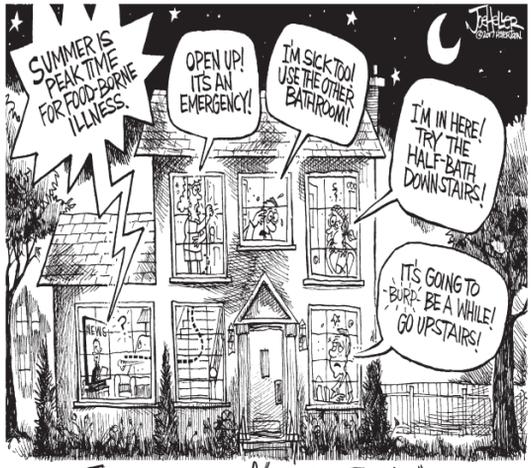

The first year that the MAC will be fully implemented will be 2017, and the LFB states it will cost over $209 million. Compare that benefit for the wealthy to the burden on average Wisconsin taxpayers and families: cuts to schools and the University of Wisconsin system including Extension and the two-year Colleges; and the total disregard of roads and infrastructure in the rural north.

A new memo from the non-partisan Legislative Fiscal Bureau shows that in the three years, 2010 through 2012, before this credit started to take effect, Wisconsin gained 31,431 manufacturing jobs. In three years since the credit started to take effect we've added 10,904 manufacturing jobs according to the gold standard Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages. Wisconsin workers gained three times as many manufacturing jobs before the credit as they have since.

Has the credit worked? The data available clearly says NO. And the wealthy few who received the credit don't have to say or prove anything

Our roads, our schools and our local universities have taken huge cuts. Property taxpayers have too often been asked to make up the difference. And $209 million is set to go out the door for a tax credit 99.8% of Wisconsin doesn't qualify for. A giveaway that has resulted in fewer manufacturing jobs.

It's time to focus on our roads, our schools, and the well-being of taxpayers and families in the north. Giveaways to the privileged 0.18% are unfair, and are taking us backwards.

Inside Wisconsin by Tom Still

Why Foxconn decided to make Wisconsin its American home

MILWAUKEE — With Lake Michigan shimmering in the background as they stood inside the Milwaukee Art Museum, Gov. Scott Walker and Foxconn founder Terry Gou sealed a historic deal for Wisconsin's economy Thursday.

The reasons why a mid-sized, Midwest state won the competition to land North America's first liquid crystal display plant — and the 13,000 direct jobs that will come with it — have much less to do with Wisconsin's offer of financial incentives than with its other tangible and intangible assets.

Since the Foxconn talks began to surface in public talks in June, speculation centered on how Wisconsin might attract the Taiwanese electronics giant if it came down to a bidding war with much larger states such as Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

It may turn out that one or more of those states bid far above the $3 billion in staged financial incentives put on the table by Wisconsin. That means Wisconsin emerged on top for other reasons:

- Location, location, location. The old real-estate axiom applies in layers, with Foxconn wanting to open at least one U.S. factory for market and geopolitical reasons; preferring the Midwest to the East and West coasts for its first high-tech facility; and centering on Wisconsin's southeast corridor due to its proximity to Milwaukee and Chicago. Ample land is available. Transportation options include the interstate system, major airports and rail lines.

- Energy and water. The southeast corner of Wisconsin is a hub for interstate electric transmission lines and Wisconsin utilities are part of a Midwest consortium to ensure reliability as well as renewable sources. Water is used in the production of glass LCD panels, which are built under "clean room" conditions, and the Lake Michigan watershed provides an ample supply that can be used and recycled.

- Higher education. There are 75,000 graduates produced each year by the University of Wisconsin System, the Wisconsin Technical College System and the state's private colleges and universities. That's a likely source for some of the workers who will eventually fill Foxconn's Wisconsin labor force. Wisconsin colleges and universities are also home to a research and development structure that rivals what can be found in most states — although it's time to reinvest in that asset before quality wanes.

- A manufacturing tradition. Wisconsin has a history of making things that extends to the late 19th century. Its manufacturers are, by and large, innovators who have embraced technology and new ways of producing goods and services. Electrical equipment and medical equipment are already two staples of the tech-based manufacturing landscape in Wisconsin. As Foxconn builds out a supply chain that may include hundreds of companies, it will find that Wisconsin is among the nation's leaders in original equipment manufacturers.

- A vibrant technology foundation. While many people think first of Wisconsin for its agriculture, tourism and manufacturing, its tech sectors have grown steadily over time and provide support for the "big three" in a variety of ways. According to the latest Cyberstates report by CompTIA, the nation's largest technology association, there are at least 101,000 tech workers in Wisconsin, largely in information technology, tech products and engineering fields. Another 25,000 or so people work in life science fields. Collectively, that's about six percent of the Wisconsin workforce and growing. For emerging tech companies in Wisconsin, Foxconn's interests in electronics, artificial intelligence, robotics, virtual reality, medical imaging, regenerative medicine, virtual reality and more provide potential opportunities for growth.

- Teamwork. While it's not always apparent in the day-to-day debates in the state Capitol, the Walker administration and legislative leaders from both parties pulled together when it counted. Gou praised Walker's leadership and the governor relied on two Cabinet leaders, Administration Secretary Scott Neitzel and Mark Hogan of the Wisconsin Economic Development Corp., to drive home the deal. In southeast Wisconsin, officials in Racine and Kenosha counties were integral, and a mix of business groups weighed in to help.

The $3 billion, "pay-as-you-grow" incentive package must still be approved by the Legislature, most likely in a special session next month. It's a vital part of the deal, of course, but Wisconsin lured Foxconn for a mix of reasons that far exceeded dollars alone. Those same assets can help draw others.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal. His previous five columns on Foxconn and Wisconsin can be found at www.wisconsintechology-council.com.

Cumberland's 19th annual Krazy Daze, sponsored by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, was as usual, a rip-roaring success. The Chamber awarded prizes for both customer and clerks costumes. Winning in the customer division were: Danny and Heidi Scribner, first, Lisa Madjeski, 2nd, and Todd Dodge and Jeff Bergstrom, 3rd. Winners in the clerks division were: Debbie Decker at Camille's, Marilyn Vig at Northwestern State Bank, and the team of Fern Smith and Ruth Lindfors from Jacobson's Men's Store.

The hot and humid weather of the past month climaxed into a deadly series of tornadoes that swept through sections of Barron, Dunn, Chippewa, Polk and St. Croix Counties. Other nearby areas that reported damage were: Clear Lake (a husband critically injured and taken to a Twin Cities hospital and his wife who was hospitalized locally), Reeve, Cameron, and Canton. There was no damage at all in the immediate Cumberland area-the storm hardly seemed noteworthy, except for a heavy downpour that lasted only a few moments.

Joshua D. Johnson, 26, of St. Croix Falls, has been charged with failure to obey a traffic officer, and felony bail jumping, (failure to comply with the terms of his bond by committing a crime).

According to the criminal complaint, on Tuesday, July 18, 2017, Cumberland Police Officer Frey, was on patrol in his squad car, when he observed a maroon car driving behind him in close proximity to his squad car, on 6th Avenue near Sorenson Street. Officer Frey turned left onto Sorenson Street and the maroon car continued south on 6th Avenue. As Officer Frey reached the intersection of 5th Avenue and Elm Street he observed the same maroon vehicle driving east on Elm Street at a high rate of speed, passing several other vehicles on the right hand side of the road.

At that time, while approximately 1/2 block behind the vehicle, Officer Frey activated his emergency lights and siren and pursued the vehicle. Officer Frey lost, and regained visual of the vehicle multiple times during the chase as the vehicle was operating much faster than the 25 mile per hour speed limit within the city and made several turns. Officer Frey was pointed in the direction the vehicle went by multiple individuals in the area. He regained visual on the vehicle when the maroon car was at the intersection of 21 1/2 Avenue and Highway 63. Officer Frye observed the vehicle turn left to go south on Highway 63 and soon thereafter slam on its brakes, turning the vehicle around to head west on 21st Avenue.

As the vehicle turned, it faced Officer Frey's squad car, which still had lights and sirens activated. Officer Frey got behind the vehicle and followed it for several hundred yards west on 21st Avenue, before it finally stopped. At that time Officer Frey observed the male driver look back and swear.

Officer Frey detained the driver, who was identified as Joshua Johnson. Johnson indicated he wanted to speak to Officer Frey. After Officer Frey read Johnson his rights, Johnson said he was driving the way he was because he was late for work and his dad was going to fire him. Officer Frey asked Johnson where he was working, and Johnson said somewhere down the road, but would not say where specifically. When asked why, if he was working in this area, did he go the long, roundabout way to get there. And Johnson could not give an answer.

Officer Frey asked Johnson why he did not stop when he first attempted to pull him over. Johnson claimed he did not see Officer Frey's squad car, until he heard the siren after he pulled over. Officer Frey asked Johnson how fast he thought he was going in town and Johnson advised he thought around 41 or 42 miles per hour in the 25 mile per hour zone.

Officer Frey noted that during the chase, he saw Johnson run stop signs. He also said there were multiple other vehicles and pedestrians in the route of the chase. The chase was approximately four miles, and Officer Frey estimated Johnson's speed, while in town, to be 50 miles per hour in a 25 mile per hour zone. Officer Frey activated his lights and sirens when he was within one half block of Johnson and kept his lights and sirens activated throughout the chase.

If convicted Johnson may be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years and nine months, or both. His preliminary hearing was held Friday, July 28, 2017.

Bobcat harvest quota to increase for the 2017-18 season

MADISON - The statewide harvest quota for bobcat has been approved and set at 750 for the 2017-18 seasons, which mark the fourth year of statewide bobcat harvest.

Hunters and trappers successful in receiving a harvest permit for the 2017-18 season will be notified by mid-September.

The quota of 750 bobcats includes both the Northern and Southern Zone - Wisconsin HWY 64 acts as the dividing line between these zones. The Southern Zone quota for the 2017-18 season is set at 200 bobcats (compared to 150 in 2016-17), while the northern zone quota is set at 550, (compared to 225 in 2016-17).

"Both zones will see quota increases this year, with a substantial quota increase in the Northern Zone," said Shawn Rossler, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources furbearer ecologist.

Each year, the department's Furbearer Advisory Committee meets to review bobcat research, harvest, and survey data to make harvest recommendations. The committee expressed support for increased quota recommendations for both zones.

Bobcat population estimate research is led by Dr. Nathan Roberts, DNR furbearer research scientist. "DNR works closely with trappers and hunters to learn more about this elusive, but common, species - together, we are working to refine our understanding of Wisconsin's bobcat population and are finding that Wisconsin's bobcat population is healthy and robust enough to provide additional harvest opportunities," said Roberts. "The information we gather from ongoing research efforts will be used to update population models and continue to guide harvest quotas in the future."

Bobcat research is funded, in part, by a special application fee that was requested by Wisconsin's sportsmen and women to ensure science-based management of this species.

2017-18 bobcat hunting and trapping seasons begin Oct. 15

Wisconsin's bobcat hunting and trapping seasons are divided into early and late time periods. These early and late seasons for each zone can be closed early, if needed, to stay within approved harvest quotas.

Time periods for 2017-18 are as follows:

Period 1: Oct. 15 to Dec. 25, 2017; and Period 2: Dec. 26, 2017 to Jan. 31, 2018.

Successful hunters and trappers must register their bobcat by phone within 24 hours and, additionally, must also register their bobcat in person by the fifth day of the month following the date of take.

For more information regarding this year's bobcat quota, search the DNR website, dnr.wi.gov, for keyword "trap."

Musky Joe's Big Day

Hello friends,
I was walking on a long distance trapline last February when my good buddy, Joe Flater, called me and told me he was being inducted into the National Fresh Water Fishing Hall of Fame. Joe Flater is a blue-collar musky/bear hunting guide who earns much of his income by floating down the Flambeau and Chippewa Rivers and showing people a really good time. When Joe called me, he asked if I would come and speak when he had his celebration and I guaranteed him that I would.

Friday, July 21st
High 72, low 55

I am camped on Joe's back 40 which is just down the road from Flater's Resort, which may have the coolest pub in North America. Today is the day before Joe's sons- Andy, Matt and Austin as well as Joe's wife, Dawn and many other people put on one of the biggest and coolest celebrations for one man that northwest Wisconsin has seen in a very long time.

We are floating down the Flambeau River trying to catch a musky, Joe is doing a lot of rowing and I feel like a rich man as my guide and I shoot the jaw and laugh a lot as we have for the last 18-years that we have known each other.

I was with Joe when I shot my first bobcat. I was with Joe when we helped a young girl shoot and video her first black bear with a bow. I was camped on Joe's land on a cold December night when I kind of started my tent on fire; I have been with Joe on at least 20 trips down the Flambeau or Chippewa!

When I started KAMO back in 2007, Joe Flater was on board from day one to help with what would become The Indianhead Chapter of KAMO "Lady-smith area!"

Today we are floating down a river where his father, Tubby, who is 85 and still an active part of the Flater operation was guiding 60-years ago in exactly the same style as Joe does today.

For those of you that are use to jumping into a $60,000 rig when fishing with a guide Joes uses a 14-foot v-hull that certainly might leak, and it is pushed for the most part by current or "Joe's big shoulders" or sometimes a 10 hp motor. The only electronics on board are cell phones of which if you are up north in the Camp 41 area, good luck with reception.

Joe Flater was one of eight people in the world to become a member of The Fresh Water Fishing Hall of Fame this year. An earlier example would be Ernest Hemingway.

We did not catch a fish today, Joe cared, and I did not!

Saturday, July 22nd
High 77, low 55

If you love America and the outdoors the celebration put on for Joe Flater, today was about as cool as it gets, it was grass roots, all about family and friends and attended by 400 to 500 people with excellent music and a lot of heartfelt talks by many people.

Joe does a ton of volunteering in this area, has skied the Birkie 10.5 times, his resort has held a triathlon for decades and also has a ball field with lights and an annual tournament.

Joe helps out big time with the snowmobile trails is the local fire warden and just happens to be a very cool bartender.

Musky Joe, as Joe Flater is often called, was honored with great pride by hundreds of people today who were rewarded with an incredible chicken dinner and as much beer as they wanted to drink (the two tappers were so busy that two able bodied men became fulltime pitcher pourers, thanks guys) from 3:00 p.m. until well after midnight. I honestly believe that what I witnessed was the coolest picnic that I have ever been to.

Technology is where it is at in most aspects of our lives these days, but there are still a few old timers that are well aware that hard work and an awesome personality win the day!

Long Live Musky Joe!
Sunset

Musky Joe on the job

It seems like people are always having a good time at Flater's Resort!

Steve King: 2017 Cumberland Athletic Hall of Fame Inductee

Steve King

The Cumberland Beavers have had numerous outstanding basketball players in the long history of the school. One of the best was Steve King, a 1972 graduate of the school.

An eight-time letter winner in baseball, basketball, and cross country, King made his biggest impact in basketball where he scored over 1300 career points. He helped lead the Beavers to two HON Titles, three straight Sectional Title games, and a berth in the 1971 State Tournament, a year the Beavers finished with a 22-4 record. King was the leading scorer and rebounder for the Beavers three straight seasons, averaging over 20 points a game both his junior and senior years.

An All-State Basketball player, King also ran cross country and played baseball, where he laughs and said, "I received standing ovations for foul balls." He received the schools "Athletic Citizenship Award" as a senior.

and was MVP on a team that was Second at the State Junior College Tournament. This helped him land a scholarship at the University of Minnesota-Duluth, where he would become a starter the following two seasons.

Among his hi-lights at UMD, were two outstanding performances against Division 1 opponents, when King scored 17 points against Oklahoma State and 10 against the University of Mississippi. After graduation and a move back to Cumberland, King continued to play basketball for the Cumberland Men's League until his 48th birthday.

Steve would later spend four seasons coaching basketball for the High School. He continues to own and manage Camp Brigadoon on Beaver Dam Lake.

This October, Steve will join a list of outstanding athletes, whose contributions to Cumberland athletics have led him into this special and well deserved recognition. Tickets for the event are on sale in the High School office.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

The Washburn County Fair was every bit as wonderful as we expected. Duane and I went on Friday evening, walked through all the exhibits and barns, ordered supper from the 4-H Club kitchen, and of course, ate ice cream. Maybe you remember at the Barron County Fair we only saw two people, other than relatives, that we knew. Well, at the Washburn County Fair we saw a lot of familiar faces and talked to so many friendly people. Harry and Verna Dahlstrom were working as greeters at separate exhibition facilities. Verna was in the old school house where the senior open class exhibits were on display. The only bad part about that was that we had to vote for the item we thought was the best so they could give a "people's choice" award to the person who had the most votes. Honestly, it was impossible to pick one item in that room and say it was the best. There were many beautiful quilts, knitted and crocheted items, wood working projects, paper projects—just about any hand crafted thing you can imagine, and anyone could see that they were all lovingly and skillfully designed. We did put a person's name and item number in the ballot box, but as far as I'm concerned, I think everyone who entered anything in that room should get an award.

Kevin and Terri Johnson were there, of course, and Kevin told us that Terri had made the potato salad that was being served from the 4-H kitchen. I'll tell you what, I might have eaten better potato salad at some time in my life, but I can't remember when. It was excellent!

We saw the Snowbank sisters, Annie and Mary, and talked with them for a couple minutes. Our neighbors, Thomas, Karynn and Kohnor were there and Kohnor seemed to be enjoying every minute of his fair experience. We chatted with Ron Christianson. We talked with Hope and Scott and Irene and Bob. There was a trapper in the shed housing the fur and trapping exhibit who was very knowledgeable, and Duane had lots of questions to ask about the different types of traps and animals. Actually, everyone was so friendly. We were very glad we took time to attend.

And, speaking of attendance, you know that Barronett Lutheran Bible School will be starting next Monday, August 7th and running through Friday, August 11th. Classes will start at 10:00 a.m. and end at 1:30 p.m. There are going to be so many things to do that the kids are almost guaranteed to have a great time. I have information for pre-registration now. You can either email your child's information to: barronettlutheranchurch@gmail.com or call 715/822-3527. All kids, no matter if they are members of our church or our community or not, ages 4 to 12, are cordially invited to join us.

Jerry and Carol Hefty came over from Campia last Wednesday to have breakfast with us at the Red Brick Cafe. Jerry said that he wanted to pick raspberries, but it had rained and everything was so wet that I just gave him a bucket that I had already picked. I wonder if that was all part of his evil plot to get raspberries without having to work very hard. Hmmm.

Duane and I went to a family and friend reunion in Monroe this past Sunday. The reunion was for the kids of Bud and Helen Hefty, Allen and Ann Williston and my mom and dad, Dodd and Vera Copus. We, Sue, Rachel, Ed and Burt Hefty, Leonard, Doug and George Williston, and Jim, Pat, Viv and I, were neighbors on Badger Road in Madison. Growing up there was somewhat like having three sets of parents. Whoever saw one or more of us doing something we were not supposed to be doing was the one who made sure we knew not to do it again. It was one of those "it takes a village" things. Anyway, it was great to see the Williston family again. And, of course, the Hefty's, but we see them a lot anyway. George had moved to Florida right out of high school, so I hadn't seen him for many years, and Doug had moved to the east side of the state so he wasn't around either. We do see Leonard on occasion because he always comes for important family functions.

Rachel and Gregg hosted the reunion and it was just wonderful. Of course we all ate too much—that's expected at those functions, isn't it? And we had a lot of fun catching up on what everyone has been doing for the last few years.

Can you believe that summer is almost over? Darn it! While we were driving to Monroe we saw a lot of farmers out in the fields thrashing oats and baling straw. It won't be long before they start filling silos. Man, where does the time go?

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. I hope you have some little ones who would like to come to our Bible School. See you next time.

A Look Back...

50 Years Ago August 3, 1967

If the ears of many Cumberland people were burning from June 22 to July 15th it was because they were being talked about by four former Cumberland residents who accidentally met in the mid-Pacific en route to Honolulu on the liner S/S Lielani. They were William Larson, the ships chief engineer and his wife Myrtle, who was sailing as a passenger, Ronald Mackenzie, M.D. the ship's surgeon and his wife, the former Jean Neurer, also sailing as a passenger. Mrs. and Mrs. Larson are both from Barronett. Mrs. Mackenzie is the daughter of Mrs. Alfred Neurer and Dr. Mackenzie, who grew up in McKinley, is the nephew of Tom Odell and the cousin of Mrs. Glenn Bean.

Roger Johnson, 20, of Rice Lake was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon, when the county highway gravel truck he was driving was struck at a grade crossing about a quarter mile east of Alma by a westbound Soo Line diesel freight train. Johnson, a student at River Falls State college, had driven the truck across the tracks on a town road after picking up a load of gravel at a nearby gravel pit. He apparently did not see the train. His truck was cut in half by the impact and the front end carried 1225 feet further before the train was brought to a halt.

60 Years Ago August 1, 1957

For the second time in 35 days, the Siren branch of the First National Bank of Grantsburg was held up last Friday. The thief escaped with $5,800. The bank was also held up on June 23rd with the gunman escaping with $25,000. The bandit went into the bank and said he wanted to open an account. He opened up his briefcase, and squirted ammonia in the eyes of the bank manager, with a toy water pistol and struck him on the head, grabbed the money and ran. FBI officials at Eau Claire arrested Dennis R. Ogren, 27, of Frederic, for the second holdup. He had been released from the Minnesota State Prison at Stillwater just three weeks ago.

70 Years Ago July 31, 1947

Three hailstorms in quick succession Saturday evening around 7:00 did considerable damage in this area. Rain which accompanied the hail totaled 1.37 inches.

Four planes at the airport were damaged.

Roaming dogs killed 242 turkeys on the Jerome turkey farm in the Town of Barron. Damage was estimated at $700.

A baseball team has been organized with Les Kurchner as manager. The team will be made up of Hough Shade, Comstock and Silver Lake players, as well as some of the local men.

75 Years Ago July 30, 1942

Frank Babcock will leave Friday for Washington, D.C. where he will be employed in the office of the FBI as a clerk.

Nearly 2 1/2 inches more of rain has come in the last five days, over half of it in the heavy showers Saturday night and Sunday, when 1.39 inches fell.

Cumberland, with a total of 194 war bond pledges amounting to $1,424.75 was third in the county this month in both the number of pledges and total amount pledged. First place was taken by Barron.

85 Years Ago July 28, 1932

The barn, garage and chicken house on the Clement Savina farm in the Town of Cumberland were burned July 12, together with 15 tons of hay and some machinery. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Frederic Hines was the only member of the local troop to attend the council camp of the Chippewa Valley Council. He passed the requirement for the life saving merit badge and is now ready for his investiture to the rank of Eagle Scout. He will have the honor of being the first scout to attain that rank in Cumberland.

95 Years Ago August 3, 1922

The Hines Merc. Co. has completed a 35x56 addition to their store building which will be used as a store room. The structure is built of tile.

The Cumberland Creamery was entered Friday evening by thieves who managed to make their getaway with 16 tubs of butter and one case of pints. The only trace left by them was the tracks of a large truck or touring car that were found the following morning.

The business firms of Cumberland will close Friday so everyone can attend the ball game against the Colored Giants.

BC Master Gardener Training Scheduled

Being a Master Gardener is about becoming a Volunteer with the University of Wisconsin-Extension to help educate the public about gardening and natural resources. Level 1 Master Gardener Volunteer Training is being offered in Barron County from September 5 through November 14. Classes will be held at the UW-Barron County Campus in Rice Lake on Tuesday evenings. The fee for the course is $125 per person and covers all course materials and supplies. Class size is limited so pre-registration is required by Wednesday, August 23 by contacting the Barron County UW-Extension office at 537-6250 or tim.jergenson@ces.uwex.edu.

Master Gardener Volunteers assist their local university extension educators address identified community needs such as: increasing food security, creating safe greenspaces, garden therapy programs for seniors and school garden programs to promote science awareness in kids. It's not about knowing everything about gardening. It's about learning to ask the right questions and knowing how to look up information from appropriate resources.

Each training session will be about 2 hours long and is intended to increase your knowledge base of horticulture topics and provide methods on how to find reliable information when posed a horticulture question. Sessions will be a mixture of interactive training, discussions, guest speakers and hands-on activities and skills development. Certification requires attending 12 of the 13 sessions, volunteering 24 hours of relevant community service, a completed background check and signed volunteer agreement and passing of a final exam.

The Barron County Master Gardener Program is comprised of over 50 volunteers. Their volunteer activities provided over 2,300 hours of horticulture support in Barron County last year alone. Active projects include the Barron County Fair, the Pioneer Village Museum and various community education programs. They offer a Spring Garden Expo and Plant Sale every year to educate the public on gardening practices. For more information visit barron.uwex.edu.

Hunt Hill Audubon Sanctuary will host the fourth Cakes at the Lake program of the year on Saturday, August 12th.

Cakes at the Lake is an all-you-care-to-eat pancake breakfast which features buttermilk and specialty pancakes, sausage, fresh fruit, and beverages. The specialty pancake will be bacon pancakes with bits of bacon crumbles. Following the breakfast, guests are encouraged to stay for the free environmental program sponsored by the Long Lake Preservation Association (www.longlakellpa.org).

August's Cakes at the Lake presenter is Brian Heringa of the US Forest Service. Attendees will learn about the unique characteristics of bats. These creatures are often maligned, but play an integral part of our Northern Wisconsin habitat. The program will also highlight how we can help Wisconsin's bat population, and how they can be great neighbors.

Breakfast is served from 8:00 am to 9:45 am. Adults are $7, kids ages 5 to 12 are $3, and kids under 4 are free. The program begins at 10:00 am and is free for all to attend.

Hosanna Free Lutheran Church, Cumberland
1 Thessalonians 4:16 says: "For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God."

One of the most exciting and powerful teachings of the Bible is that Jesus Christ promised that one day He would return. Those who witnessed His ascension were told:

"This same Jesus who had been taken from you into heaven will come in the same way you have seen him go into heaven." Acts 1:11

1. The truth of the Second Coming of Christ is important because the Scriptures clearly teach His Return. He will come with, and for His disciples...all who have embraced Him as Savior and Lord.

2. This teaching is important because it will come at the time when the world is most in need of a righteous King.

3. No one knows the day or the hour of His Return, but the Scriptures do give indications regarding His return. One of the most important signs of the Second Coming of Christ is the existence of the nation of Israel. In 1948 Israel once again became a nation with land. After some 1900 years the Jewish people were recognized officially as a nation.

4. To anticipate the return of Christ we do not set dates and times, but seek to live our lives as if it could happen any day. We are to have our lives ready for His return and not be unaware of who He is and what His claims of Lordship are on our hearts and lives.

On the other hand, it may be many years before He does return. In the meantime we have the joy of serving Him and making Him known to a world lost without Christ as Savior.

Matthew 24; 30: "At the time the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all the nations of the world will mourn. They will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky, with power and great glory!"

Miracle Treat Day!

Vaughn, Uriah and Griffin enjoyed a DQ on Miracle Treat Day Thursday, July 27.

A View from the Lake...

major project for the coming year will be the construction of the SW Library Lake storm water pond. So far the planning/design is almost complete, the property has been acquired and bids for the construction should be let soon. If everything goes as planned the construction should commence about mid September.

Two new navigation buoys were purchased and one each was placed at the "sand dam" between Williams and Rabbit Bay and at the "narrows." Please don't play with, move or anchor to the Buoys.

I again want to remind everyone to practice safe use and operation of your water craft whether it is a boat, Personal Water Craft (PWC), paddle board, paddle boat or canoe/kayak, including awareness that Personal Flotation Devices "PFD" are required for each member on board the boat, etc. Wave runners and jet skis are a blast to drive through big waves, making quick turns, etc. but remember that there are regulations that specify the distance you must keep from each other and nearby boats. Keep in mind that on Wisconsin waters a spotter is required on the craft when pulling a skier or tube. A wave runner or jet ski needs to have sufficient capacity for the driver, spotter and all occupants being pulled. I continue to observe passengers sitting on the front of pontoon boats splashing and/or dangling their feet outside the pontoon boat railings with the boat under power. Please don't allow passengers to be outside the railing of pontoons while the boat is in motion. Anyone falling off the front deck would be exposed to severe injury or possible death. Comply with boating regulations by observing "No Wake" zones, not skiing, wake boarding, tubing, etc. between sunset and sunrise, having spotters on your water craft, keeping a safe distance from people fishing, paddle boarding, etc. Following boating and water safety regulations may save you an investment of $175 or more in potential fines.

Remember to check the BDLMD website at beaverdamlake.org for the latest news about the Lake.

USDA Funding Available to Help low Income Families

USDA Rural Development has funding available for very low and low-income individuals and families seeking to purchase or repair a home in a rural area. "Safe, affordable housing and the availability of credit are key to the growth and prosperity of rural communities," said Acting State Director, Dave Schwobe. "USDA Rural Housing Programs have provided stability and opportunity for over 60 years and we value what we have accomplished."

USDA Rural Development's Rural Housing Programs offer a broad range of homeownership assistance available to individuals and families who wish to, or currently, live in rural areas, cities and communities. The Rural Housing Program area of USDA Rural Development has the ultimate goal of providing affordable homeownership opportunities to Wisconsin residents.

USDA's Direct Home Loan Program offers financing to qualified very-low and low income applicants that are unable to qualify for traditional financing. No down payment is required and the interest rate could be as low as one percent with a subsidy. Applicants must meet income and credit guidelines and demonstrate repayment ability. The program is available in rural communities of 20,000 people or less.

The maximum loan amount for repair is $20,000 at a one percent interest rate, repayable for up to 20 years. Grants of up to $7,500 are available to homeowners 62 and older and must be used to remove health or safety hazards, such as fixing a leaking roof, installing indoor plumbing or replacing a furnace.

Portions of all counties in Wisconsin are eligible for Rural Development programs with the exception of Milwaukee County. Visit <https://eligibility/sc.egov.usda.gov/eligibility/welcomeAction.do> to determine if you are within the established income limit based on household size and county and if the home you wish to purchase or repair is located within an eligible area.

For further information on USDA Rural Development programs, call us at 715-345-7611 or visit our website at www.rd.usda.gov/wi.

The Stringsmiths are on the Library Lake Stage Aug. 8

It'll be bluegrass on Library Lake Tuesday, Aug. 8, when The Stringsmiths take the stage in the ninth Island City Music concert. They'll play from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on the east shore of Library Lake in downtown Cumberland.

Led by banjo player Chris Landstrom, the local bluegrass band plays at many venues throughout northwest Wisconsin, including the Cumberland Fine Arts Center last April 28, when they did an album-release concert, and, coming up Sept. 16, in the Augustana Lutheran Church bluegrass series.

The Island City Music series is sponsored by the Cumberland Area Business Alliance and individual businesses and organizations, including The Advocate. Wealth Management Group is the title sponsor of the Aug. 8 concert.

There is no charge for attending. But you should bring your own lawn chairs. If it rains, the concert will be held in the Isle Event Center behind Nezy's.

Parents and staff of Island City Academy charter school will be on hand each Tuesday with the school district's kayaks that can be taken out from the city dock on the south shore of the lake. Susan Bridger, community education director, asks that you call or email her to reserve kayaks by Monday. Her number is 715-822-5121, ext. 403, and her email is sbrid@csdmail.com.

Free-will offerings will be accepted for the use of kayaks, with the donations going to the Island City Academy.

Questions? Call Larry Werner at 612-743-5117.

Northwoods Notebook

Thanks to those who act, so we can laugh

By Larry Werner

This summer is more relaxing than that last two have been.

I've had my share of stress – playing nursemaid to Ann, who had her hip replaced, and sweating through the sale of her business, not to mention the annual invasion of kids and grandkids over the Fourth of July.

The stress that's missing this summer is memorizing lines and 30-some rehearsals for the 'Baga Fest play.

I was thinking I'd probably be in my third play after portraying a dashing Spanish divorcee in The Odd Couple (Female Version) two years ago and an escaped mental patient in Death by Design last year. I was prepared for Lori Bock, president of ETC, or the play's director, Dan Hoffmann, to do a guilt number on me, at which point I'd agree to another summer of memorizing and rehearsing.

But it didn't happen.

Oh, there were auditions for the play that ETC was going to do, and, just like the last two years, I didn't show for the auditions. But in 2015, Lori said there would be no play if she couldn't get two men to play Jesus and Manolo Constzuela, the Spanish brothers in the Odd Couple. And last year, director Eva Srubar did the same number on me and my pal, Denny Epple.

Neither of us had done speaking parts in plays before, and we're both of an age when remembering things isn't easy. One day during a rehearsal last summer, Denny said, after forgetting a line: "I'll be damned if I'm doing this to myself again."

So auditions for the 2017 play come along, and no men show up.

But instead of guilting me and Denny into taking parts, theater chair Mike Clay changed to an all-woman play. And that's what you'll see Aug. 23-26 – The Savannah Sipping Society, a story of four Southern women trying to "escape the sameness of their day-to-day routines" and "reclaim the enthusiasm for life they've lost through the years," according to a synopsis of the play provided by director Diane Thorpe.

It might sound depressing, but I can assure you after sitting through a rehearsal last week, it's hilarious, the kind of wacky comedy you've come to expect during festival week. And you'll get to enjoy two of my favorite local actors – Christine Johansen and Sharai Hefty – who starred last August in that goofy British comedy.

Chris, a retired university music teacher, and Sharai, who works as a server at the Red Brick Café in Barronett, were like on-stage directors with Denny and me last summer. If we forgot a line, they'd whisper it to us.

Carol Haugdahl, who retired from teaching in Clear Lake, has been acting for 20 years in plays at ETC, the Red Barn in Rice Lake, in Barron and in Arizona. She's in the play with Chris, Sharai and a first-time actor.

The novice is Susan Rafferty, retired from the Barron schools, where she was a school nurse.

I ran into Sue a couple weeks ago, and we talked about the challenge of doing that first play, as I did in 2015. I like to read books but did little of that the last two summers because every spare moment was spent memorizing.

During my walk into town for coffee, I'd be listening to my lines on a tape recorder, and during my weekly commutes to the Twin Cities and back, I'd practice lines I had recorded on my cell phone.

And instead of chasing fish or kayaking on the lake in the evenings, I'd spend three or four nights a week at the Arts Center.

Acting, I discovered, may be a lot fun, but it's also a lot of work.

So here's my thank you to Chris, Carol, Sharai and Sue for giving many, many hours of their summer so the rest of us can spend a couple hours laughing during 'Baga Week.

The tickets, which are $10 each, are available at Peter & Annie's and can be reserved by calling 715-822-2787.

Maybe next year, someone will twist my arm into taking a part. I hope so, I think.
