Deputy injured when car runs stop sign in fog

On Friday, October 6, 2017 at 8:04 a.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department was advised of a three vehicle accident on Highway 8 at 20th Street just south of Cameron, involving a Barron County squad car.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department, along with two Lakeview Medical Center ambulances, Cameron Fire Department and Cameron Police Department responded to the scene.

Initial investigation shows a Chevy Cobalt traveling north on 20th Street, driven by Ricky Howard, 58, of Chetek, failed to stop for the stop sign at Highway 8 and failed to stop for the median stop sign at this same intersection, and was struck by the Barron County Sheriff's squad car, driven by Deputy Dave Kuffel of Rice Lake.

A car, driven by Noah Anderson of Cameron, stopped in the southbound lane at 20th Street on the north side of Highway 8, was struck when the Chevy Cobalt spun after impact with the Barron County squad. There was a passenger in the Anderson car, Erik Damrell, also of Cameron. These two subjects were not transported for injuries.

Deputy Kuffel was transported to Lakeview Medical Center for his injuries and Ricky Howard was extricated from his vehicle and transported to Mayo Hospital.

Deputy Kuffel is at home recuperating from his injuries and is expected to return to work soon.

The condition of Ricky Howard is not known at this time.

One injured in Casino parking lot accident

On Friday, October 6, 2017, the Turtle Lake Police Department was notified of a car versus pedestrian accident in the St. Croix Casino parking lot. Dispatch advised the victim was still under the car. When the officer arrived the victim had been pulled from under the car. The accident happened in the valet drop off area of the parking lot.

The victim was 72-year-old Shirley Juarez of Turtle Lake. She was airlifted from the scene to the hospital in Eau Claire with serious injuries.

The vehicle, which struck the woman was a 2017 Mitsubishi Mirage, which was driven by 87-year-old William Anderson of Boyceville.

Assisting with the accident were Turtle Lake Fire Department, Turtle Lake First Responders, Cumberland Ambulance, Casino First Responders and Security and Life Link Helicopter.

This accident remains under investigation by the Turtle Lake Police Department.

Three vehicles were involved in the accident that left this deputy's squad car and two other cars severely damaged. The incident occurred in the heavy morning fog last Friday, October 6th. A reminder to exercise extra caution when driving in foggy weather.

Wrong way driver on Hwy. 53 airlifted after crash

On Thursday, October 5, 2017, at approximately 8:12 a.m., the Wisconsin State Patrol-Spooner Post, received a report of a wrong way driver traveling northbound in the southbound lanes of US Highway 53, near mile marker 141.

At 8:16 a.m. a Trooper located a crash on US Highway 53 at 26 1/2 Avenue.

A northbound 2003 Dodge van, driven by Darlene J. Doorn, 67, from Rice Lake, collided with a southbound 2000 Mack semi, driven by 67-year-old Dennis C. Korn from Winneconne.

Darlene Doorn received serious injuries and was airlifted to Mayo Hospital in Eau Claire. Dennis Korn was also injured and was transported to Lakeview Medical Center in Rice Lake.

The crash remains under investigation at this time.

Something You Should Know About... United Fund of Cumberland by Hope Lee Vicich

When I first started writing my columns, my purpose was to shine a spot light on things that I, as a "non-native," saw that made Cumberland special but that "natives" might take for granted because "they have always been here." My first of those kind of stories was on the United Fund of Cumberland.

My first few years here, I never really gave the bright yellow banner stretched across Main St. (reminding all that the United Fund of Cumberland was kicking off their annual fundraising effort) much thought. I simply made the assumption, as I have learned that many people do, that it was just the local "United Way" drive. But I was wrong.

The United Fund of Cumberland is unique to our community. It is not (and never has been) affiliated with the better known national organization the United Way. Though their concepts are similar - donations made are put in a general fund and then distributed to other causes and organizations, the differences are what truly sets them apart and makes the United Fund of Cumberland so special.

The United Fund of Cumberland is a totally volunteer organization. There are no administrative costs or salaries paid so 99% of all donations go directly to the charitable organizations, non-profit agencies or causes that are recommended or apply to the Fund for support. Best yet, those donations are used to support our local community needs. The money you donate stays in our community, supporting causes from all tiers of society. The young and old, sports and arts, health and wellness, educational groups and the fire district are all represented in the list of recipients.

Included in the Advocate this week is the flyer for this year's fund raising drive. The United Fund urges you to read it carefully. It lists past recipients, the Board of Directors (which is made up of representatives from all aspects of our community),

Chetek man dies in one car accident

On Tuesday, October 3, 2017, at 6:58 p.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department was advised of a one vehicle versus tree accident on 22 3/4 Street north of County Road D, west of Chetek.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department, along with Chetek Ambulance, Chetek Fire Department, Lakeview Medical Center Ambulance, Chetek First Responders and Life Link Helicopter all responded to the scene.

The initial report was able to determine that an F150 pickup truck was traveling south on 22 3/4 Street when it veered from the roadway into the ditch and struck two trees. The driver of the truck, Dennis Hiemstra, 58, of Chetek, was extricated and transported to Mayo Hospital, where he was later pronounced deceased.

The cause of the crash is under investigation, but alcohol is not a factor in the crash, and the Barron County Medical Examiner's Office is investigating a possible medical issue. Dennis Hiemstra was not wearing his seatbelt.

Northwoods Notebook: Food, wine and a play for deer-hunting widows by Larry Werner

I grew up in a large family with a mom who stayed home with us and a dad who worked day and night as a maintenance guy at a small trucking company. When he wasn't at work, Dad tended our four-acre "farm," growing fruits and vegetables and raising rabbits, which was our primary source of protein.

So Dad didn't have time to get away, except for one weekend in fall, when he went with his co-workers to a deer camp. Mom, then, became one of those deer-hunting widows left behind while her husband was off in the woods trying to get some meat other than rabbit to put in the freezer.

On Oct. 24, Guys & Does opens at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center. It's a musical comedy about the guys who go into the woods for deer and the women left behind. It's reminiscent of Esplanade in da Moonlight, the deer-hunting play performed three times in recent years by the Enrichment Through Culture (ETC) players.

On Nov. 1, in the middle of the run for Guys & Does, there will be a special event for the deer-hunting widows, a ladies' night out called the "Widow's Ball." Ann Kysely, assistant director of the play, thought it would be fun to have a special night for women and raise some money for a good cause - Benjamin's House in Rice Lake.

The other day, I visited this shelter for people who end up homeless for various reasons. Maybe they were evicted after losing a job or after a medical emergency or simply because they didn't put enough money aside for the rent. Lori Bowman, the home's executive director, explained that she and her staff work with residents for 90 days to find their residents jobs and a permanent place to live.

The home is on a little island in Rice Lake, in a former convent for the Sisters of St. Joseph. Six years ago, a nonprofit was created to rent the place from the nuns to operate an emergency shelter.

"We're a program shelter," said Bowman, former head of the WITC Foundation. "We have families, individuals, anyone who has an eviction, has a medical emergency, coming out of treatment centers, lost a job. Our expectation is they come for 90 days and they have a case manager on site who works on a plan to get them employed, save their money and find them housing."

Benjamin's House receives no money from government agencies. It's entirely supported by donations from foundations, individuals and organizations, such as First Lutheran Church in Cumberland. Support also comes from fund-raisers like the Widow's Ball, brainchild of Kysely, a retired English and drama teacher who is on the Benjamin's House board.

Women who pay $30 will enjoy wine and appetizers at Peter & Annie's and the adjacent Dancing Bird Art Studio and Gallery from 5 p.m. to 6:30. Then they'll head up the street to the arts center for a special performance of the play that is not open to the general public.

The rest of us can see the play at 7 p.m. Aug. 24-26 and again Nov. 2-4. Tickets for the musical are $12 and are available at Peter & Annie's or can be reserved by calling 715-822-2787.

Kysely describes the play as a hilarious look at "why men hunt and the bonding of men and leaving the women behind." The three actors are Tom Toftness, Jeremy Westin and Phil Warner. Dan Hoffmann is the director.

Appetizers for the Widow's Ball are being donated by Peter & Annie's, Laird-church B&B, The Turn restaurant, Louie's Finer Meats and Lisa Barrows. Island Wines is donating the wine.

Tickets for the ladies' night out are available at Peter & Annie's and the Dancing Bird.

My mom never went to a wine and appetizer event, that I can remember. But she did get away from Dad and the six kids on Thursday nights when she played bingo. She considered that a fund-raiser for the family.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

Quite a week we just went through. Natural disasters, mass shootings, and the continuing political controversies, capped off with a senior senator, comparing the West Wing to a “adult day care center.” Wow, what times we live in. The mess left by the hurricanes most worries me. We just can’t leave our brothers and sisters in Puerto Rico out in the cold. I agree with the experts who say that we need a Marshall Plan to rebuild the island. We have both a legal and a moral responsibility to take action and to take action quickly. I hope this is one area that our dysfunctional federal government can agree to help and to help at all possible speed. We rebuilt Europe so we should be able to rebuild Puerto Rico. The mass terror, that fell on Las Vegas is still being investigated and we may never know what caused this deranged man to launch a one man war on innocent people. Guess what! We are not going to be able to prevent this type of tragedy. Lone, mentally ill individuals will be able to wreak havoc on us no matter how hard we try to prevent their actions. We may prevent some attacks, but not all. That is part of the price we pay for living in a free society. The political show continues unabated as each day rolls out some new outrage. I don’t know if it is “adult day care,” but it is certainly a federal government that is functioning at a “pre-school level.” This also, we can’t seem to fix. It appears we will have to just wait until 2018 and 2020. The “Ship of State” will creak and groan, but I believe will survive, even this President.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Inside Wisconsin by Tom Still

Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, the seeds of a tech-based economy are growing

MADISON, Wis. – It’s easy to forget, especially if you live there, that the Madison area has a lot going on when it comes to competing in the knowledge-based economy.

Recent reminders were: The descent of thousands of customers on Epic Systems, the electronic health records giant that commands the lion’s share of the U.S. market; the techy theme at annual meeting of the Greater Madison Chamber of Commerce; a UW-Madison campus session on how the $2.6-billion Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation will spark more entrepreneurial activity; and a spate of news about company breakthroughs, grants and investments.

That’s pretty much within a week or so. Community leaders in other cities, including many cities much larger, wish they could see that much momentum in a month.

One such community is Milwaukee, where the seeds of a tech-based economy but still need a fair amount of tending.

That was the overall message at a recent meeting of the Public Policy Forum of Milwaukee, where the 104-year-old independent “think tank” raised the curtain on a report that examined how southeast Wisconsin is performing when it comes to building a knowledge-based economy.

The report concluded the four-county metro region has made progress in strengthening its pool of educated workers and in adding scientists, engineers and other tech workers. However, the region continues to struggle compared to similar-sized metropolitan areas when other indicators are measured.

“Our analysis finds that our region has been losing more businesses than it’s creating, and that we’re lagging peer cities when it comes to entrepreneurship and capital formation,” said Joe Peterangelo, the report’s lead author. “These discouraging trends are countered, however, by a growing number of college graduates and an increased number of science and technology workers in our regional workforce.”

The report on “Cultivating Innovation” looked at 20 indicators related to building a knowledge-based workforce, transferring ideas to the marketplace, creating businesses and encouraging entrepreneurs, and attracting the financial resources needed to help companies grow. It compared southeast Wisconsin to other regions. Some key findings:

- Educational attainment is rising and the region’s workforce ranks high among its peers. That’s due in large part to the presence of more than 20 colleges and universities in the region or a short drive away.

- Between 2004 and 2014, more businesses closed in the four-county region than were opened. “In addition,” the report noted, “metro Milwaukee’s rate of business survival does not appear to make up for the sluggish pace of business creation.”

- Federal grants and federally guaranteed loans for business startups, expansions and research activities have declined at a faster rate in Milwaukee than nationally.

- Milwaukee underperforms almost all peer regions in attracting venture capital. That finding is supported by a separate Tech Council report, “The Wisconsin Portfolio,” which tracked 136 angel and venture capital deals statewide in 2016. Of 136 such deals, 80 were in the Madison area (58.4 percent of the total) versus 38 in southeast Wisconsin (27.7 percent).

During a panel discussion on the report, I noted the region’s progress but added it needs “three Cs” to grow:

Culture, capital and connectivity. In some cities, the culture of entrepreneurship is deeply rooted and capital is drawn to the best ideas, technology and teams. Stronger connections between industry, academia, government and entrepreneurs themselves help create that chemistry.

It didn’t take long for the discussion to get around to the Foxconn Technology Group and its now-revealed plans to build a massive liquid crystal display plant in Racine County’s Town of Mount Pleasant.

While the study didn’t analyze the Foxconn factor directly, Peterangelo noted the company’s presence can’t help but boost startup and supply chain activity – so long as the region continues to work on its other challenges.

Milwaukee isn’t Madison and shouldn’t try to be, given its very different history, culture and industrial foundations. However, it’s important that Milwaukee continues to blaze its own path, as the Wisconsin economy still depends in large part on a healthy southeast corner.

The criminal complaint states that on June 20, 2017, Barron County Detective Nelson was contacted by an inmate in the Barron County Jail. Upon meeting with him on June 22, he indicated that he had some information concerning some stolen property. He indicated that approximately three months prior, an individual had showed him some snowmobiles which he described as an Arctic Cat, as well as what he thought was a Yamaha Phazer and a Polaris that were hidden in some brush on the rim of a gravel pit. He drew a map indicating this gravel pit and its location.

On July 17, 2017, Detective Nelson made contact with the owner of the gravel pit and advised him that he had received some information of possible stolen snowmobiles being located on his property. The owner advised that he had seen the yellow colored snowmobile up in the brush along the back field where the gravel pit is located. He gave Detective Nelson permission to drive back and look for any stolen property, including this particular snowmobile.

On July 19th, Detective Nelson went back to the particular area of the property. As he and two other deputies drove on the west side of the gravel pit, they immediately noticed a yellow colored snowmobile in the brush. He also located two other snowmobiles. One of the snowmobiles was identified as the 1998 Yamaha. The other two were identified as a 1996 Skidoo and a 1999 Arctic CAT. Detective Nelson was able to determine that one of the registrations on the snowmobiles came back to an individual from Barron County. Detective Nelson drove to his residence and noted that it was a vacant property that consisted of a house and a pole shed. Through property records he was able to determine that the property owner was an individual from Rice Lake.

Detective Nelson contacted the property owner by telephone and asked if he still owned this particular property. He indicated he did. Detective Nelson also inquired as to whether or not he stored any snowmobiles on the property and was missing any. He advised that he stores well over a dozen snowmobiles on the property, but hasn't been to it recently to check if he was missing any. He advised Detective Nelson that he was aware that he was missing what he thought to be approximately 13 rifles and shotguns from the house that is located on the property. He further indicated that approximately several months prior he had discovered that people have been going into the house and that the firearms were stored in a closet in the upper level bedroom.

Detective Nelson provided him with the names and previous registrations on the snowmobiles and the makes and models of the snowmobiles that had been located by Detective Nelson. He identified all three of the snowmobiles as belonging to him. He also indicated that he felt the firearms had been stolen in approximately March or April, 2017. He stated that all of the firearms were in working condition.

On August 15, Detective Nelson had further contact with the property owner, who advised that he had located some of the stolen firearms and had some returned to him. He indicated that he had been in contact with a subject who advised that his son had purchased some of the stolen guns from an individual whom he identified as Justin Nickell.

The property owner advised he had spoken to both the father and son and learned that several weeks prior, a coworker of the son had been selling firearms to individuals. This individual was identified as Justin Nickell. The property owner had met with Nickell and actually recovered both of his lever action rifles as well as the SKS rifle. He also stated that he had been told that Nickell had also tried to sell some handguns as well.

On August 23, 2017, Detective Nelson met with the son and interviewed him concerning the information from the property owner. He indicated he had worked with Justin Nickell for approximately three to four months on a turkey farm northwest of Barron. He indicated that he thought sometime in late March or early April, Nickell asked him if he liked firearms and if he was interested in purchasing any. He indicated that he was a hunter and was in fact interested in firearms. Nickell told him he was low on cash and that he was selling firearms to raise money. They ended up meeting in Barron and drove together to a farm somewhere in the Richland area. Nickell commented that it was his grandfather's house or some sort of relative. When they arrived at the location, Nickell spoke with an adult, he thought was possibly the grandfather, who unlocked the door to a milkhouse which appeared to store Nickell's personal property. The son advised he had purchased two Winchester 30-30 rifles as well as a .303 British antique military rifle, along with a .22 model 1906 rifle and a .22 pistol. He also remembered seeing an SKS rifle in the building, as well as other firearms including some shotguns.

On October 2, 2017, Detective Nelson had contact with Justin Nickell, whom he located at his grandfather's residence. Detective Nelson advised Nickell that he was there to talk to him about the theft of some snowmobiles and guns. Nickell said he was aware there were some snowmobiles that were at the gravel pit, but that he knew nothing about any guns. Detective Nelson advised him that he was aware that he had actually sold some of the stolen firearms, at which point he observed Nickell become upset and begin to shake and say he didn't know what Detective Nelson was talking about. Detective Nelson advised him that he had already spoken with someone who had purchased guns from him and provided some of the information to Nickell.

Nickell showed Detective Nelson the milkhouse and advised he could look around it as there were no guns in it. Detective Nelson observed that it appeared to be set up as a living quarters. He advised Nickell of the information he had received regarding the sale of firearms.

At that point Nickell advised that he was involved and indicated that he had relapsed to his use of methamphetamine. He indicated that an individual named Curtis Nichols was involved as well. He indicated

Beavers Defeat Tigers Qualify for Playoffs

The Cumberland Beavers traveled to Maple last Friday and came away with a big 40-21 victory over the Northwestern Tigers to raise their overall record to 5 and 3 and qualify for the WIAA Playoffs for the first time since 2013 and the twelfth time overall. "We played our best game overall. It was fun to see all the smiles from our kids," said Coach Corey Berghammer.

Played on a rainy night, the Beavers used six Northwestern turnovers and a ground game that rushed for 235 yards to grind out the victory. Quarterback Kobe Berghammer, who has passed for over 2,000 yards this fall, led the Beavers effort with 211 yards passing and 144 yards rushing in the game.

"We paved the way for the win by having one of our best weeks of practices last week. I was proud of our kids on how they positively reacted to the challenges we put in front of them, but now we need to consistently perform at that level the rest of the season," Berghammer said.

Cumberland led 14-6 at half and 26-21 entering the fourth quarter before putting the game away with two fourth quarter scores. Northwestern ran successfully, rushing for 331 total yards, but could not overcome a spirited Cumberland defense, who allowed only 28 yards passing, while grabbing two interceptions. That combined with four Beaver fumble recoveries helped set up the victory.

Berghammer had an outstanding effort. He completed 15 of 27 passes for 211 yards and two scores. It was on the ground, however, where he burnt the Tigers again and again. Using a mixture of scrambles and called runs, he would score four times on his 144 yards rushing. Add an interception on defense and you have an idea of the impact he had in the contest.

Max Narges led Cumberland receivers with six catches for 83 yards and a touchdown. Andrew Barnes added the other touchdown reception to go with two receptions for 45 yards. Reid Olson also had a nice game, catching four balls for 42 yards, while rushing four times for another 32 yards. He also had Cumberland's second interception.

"We played more physical all over the field than we had previously. Northwestern forces you to tackle and hold the line and we did that in the win. Now we need to prepare for Hayward this Friday," concluded Coach Berghammer.

The game at Endeavor Stadium will begin at 7:00 pm.

Middle School Football Teams Fall to Unity

The Cumberland Middle School Football Teams traveled to Unity last week, with the seventh grade losing 26-8 and the eighth grade dropping a 26-6 decision. The teams finish up their season this Thursday with home games against Chetek-Weyerhaeuser beginning at 4:00 pm.

The seventh grade suffered from turnovers in their loss. Eddie Chafer scored the Beavers lone touchdown on a two-yard run and also added the extra point. The coaches credited Dylan Capra, Garrett Craine, and Donovan Ehman with nice defensive nights.

The eighth grade scored their lone touchdown on a Blake Siebert run of 14 yards. Quarterback Maddox Allen also had several completions to Gavin Jarchow. Conner Morrison, Drew Griffith, and Logan Olson enjoyed nice defensive nights.

Big Win!

Cumberland Quarterback Kobe Berghammer had a huge night at Maple running for 4 touchdowns and throwing for 2 more in the Beavers win over Northwestern last Friday night.

Exciting Hunt!

Deb Standaert had quite a hunt harvesting a 260 pound bear on Sunday October 8th. Not letting a "minor injury" impede her hunt Deb and hunting partner Rick Rieper had 5 bears around their ground including a pair of sows who were not getting along with each other. Finally this bear presented a perfect shot and Deb put an end to a very exciting hunt. Congratulations Deb!

Youth Hunt!

An Outdoorsman's Journal

The Mississippi!

Hello friends,

The trip that I am about to write about is almost like a religion for the people that take part in it each year. Forty-six years ago my father, the late Robert Walters, took me camping on an island on the Mississippi River near Ferryville where I took part in my first duck hunt.

I am as addicted to this annual trip as I am to deer camp and our annual Canadian fly in fishing adventure. There have been years when I was the only person on it and then this year we hit an all time high with 18 very hardcore duck hunters attempting to whack ducks and some catch fish.

Friday, September 29th
High 74, low 53

The general population of this years hunt was about 25-years old and enjoys the campfire as much as the duck blind. These are young men from Poynette and Necedah that like myself call this trip "The Mississippi" when talking about it the rest of the year. I love giving these guys a hard time and am always amazed at how much better they get at this game each year.

Mud motors are the norm and by using their phones as a gps they can find their duck hunting spot with ease in the dark and move along at least at 10 mph.

Ruby's mother Fire (my golden retrievers) would be hunting with guys that did not have a dog and I would be alone in my canoe with Ruby for the weekend.

My daughter Selina was not along this year as she is being hit hard by mononucleosis. I have never witnessed this illness before and it is horrible.

On Friday we build camp, which is about three miles south of Lansing, Iowa, and then head out to explore and pick out our hunting spots.

Today I had kind of bad luck when I realized that a rock incident on my last adventure did some serious damage to my boat trailer and one of my tires was gone and there was going to have to be some money spent to fix my problem.

Saturday, September 30th
High 77, low 52

Thank God for old buddies! Some of our gang left camp at midnight to secure their hunting locations, the rest were gone by 4:00. I was so tired that I did not hear a thing until my pal, Doug Cibulka sent me a text at 5:52 saying "good luck". Doug was hunting with his son Derek near Poynette and was my wake up call.

With a 6:35 opener, I did not bring any food and was paddling my canoe by 6:05 and had my decoys set a full 4 minutes before shooting started.

To say the very least, the sky was full of wood duck and teal and with my first shot I dropped a hen wood duck, Ruby saw it hit the water and she was out of the canoe like a rocket and did a perfect retrieve.

We do a lot of texting and some phone calls and for the most part everyone was having incredible shooting except my brother-in-law Dick Schuster and his brother Randy who were fishing and did pretty good on perch, bluegill and walleye.

In my world of empty wallets I had made a choice either Selina or I would get new chest waders. I chose Selina, her waders were home on the living room floor, mine being worn by me and actually had current in them as the water would fill them so fast.

Ruby and I watched the skies until dark and had a great day visiting with our comrades and in the last minute of legal shooting Ruby retrieved a teal to me that would give me my six-bird limit.

At camp we had our annual duck over the campfire meal, several mud ball fights and before you knew it, it was time to go hunting again.

This gang is made up of skilled workers that have a strong work ethic and to the man, believes in standing up for our flag.

We had so much fun that we are coming back next year! Sunset

P.S. On day one we harvested 76 ducks and two geese!

Volleyball Team Finishes Regular Season Thursday: Tournaments on Tuesday

The Cumberland Volleyball Team had a busy week in the HON, going 2 and 3 overall, to raise their record to 19 and 12, 6 and 5 in the HON. The team finishes up Conference play this Thursday, by holding a Varsity Quad in Cumberland beginning at 5:45 and then opens up WIAA play next Tuesday with a home game in Elmer Beran Gymnasium against Chequamegon at 7:00 pm.

Things got started last Thursday with three losses to Bloomer. State ranked, the Blackhawks dominated the three contests. "We didn't pass well so we couldn't get going offensively," said Coach Jessica Olson. Lauren Green led the team with six kills, while Izzy West had a team-high nine assists.

Saturday, Cumberland then traveled to Northwestern for competition against four teams as part of the HON Tournament. They defeated Barron and Chetek-Weyerhaeuser on the day and lost to Bloomer and Ladysmith. The other three matches versus Conference foes will take place this Thursday.

Things opened up with a 25-13 and 25-17 losses to Bloomer, but the Red and White rebounded by defeating C/W in three games, winning the decisive match 15-9.

This set up a match against the Barron Bears, a long-time power in the Conference. Playing what Coach Olson called "Our best volleyball of the year," Cumberland pulled out a three-set victory.

The finale ended up being a thrilling 15-13 Cumberland win. Against the Bears, West had a team-high six digs and 17 assists, while Ania Hyatt had three blocks and six kills. Adreanna Johnson also had a good match at the net with six additional kills. Kiya Talbot, meanwhile had 10 service points and Payton Nyhus contributed seven more. It was an excellent victory for the Beavers.

The day ended with a tough three-set loss to Ladysmith by scores of 27-25, 11-25, and 11-15. "We have close matches everytime we play them," said Olson.

Lauren Green led the way with six service points including two aces, while Adreanna Johnson had 10 digs and West 18 assists. Cumberland is currently in fourth place in Conference action and hopes for an upper division finish with a good showing on Thursday in front of the home crowd.

For the season, Talbot has a team-high 179 service points, while West has 593 assists. Hyatt leads the way with 209 kills and 55 blocks.

Cross Country Runs at Hayward; Sectional at Hayward on Friday

The Cumberland Cross Country team has finished up the regular season with the Hayward Invitational and now awaits the Division 2 Sectional Tournament that will be run this Friday in Hayward. The team also ran in the Conference Meet on Tuesday and results will be published in next weeks Advocate.

Sixteen teams participated in the Invite last Tuesday with the Cumberland boys finishing 14th and the girls 12th. Hometown Hayward won the girls competition, while St. Croix Central was the girls champ.

The Beavers Zach Hulaner was the boys top finisher with a 26th place run.

His time of 21:12 trailed medalist Walker Miller of Ashland, who ran a 18:26. The next two Cumberland finishers were Raven Broker and Wayne Ankarlo, who finished 71st and 72nd overall. Their times were 23:56 and 23:57 respectively.

The girls were led by Teagan Benson, who finished 55th with a run of 27:40. Naomi Rodriguez was close behind with a 28:04. Medalist was Erica Loe of Lady-smith, who ran a 22:05.

"Our kids are working hard, improving, and setting personal bests and we're looking forward to the rest of our season," said Coach Tanya Majewski.

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Okay, I'll have to start out with an imaginary drum roll again this week. Ready? Our son, Jim Marsh was named Entrepreneur of the Year by Barron County Economic Development Corporation. He was honored at the 2017 Business Awards Banquet held at Das Lach Haus last Thursday. Jim invited Dave and Diana Barta, Pam Olson and Duane and me and the administrative staff of Medical Staffing Solutions, Inc. to join Summer and him at the event. To say we are proud of him is a huge understatement.

Foster Friess was given the Community Champion Award. One of the many, many things we learned about Foster was that he donated a million dollars in matching funds for the victims of this spring's tornado between Cameron and Chetek. His Friess Family Foundation provides help around the world, and in 2000 he was named Humanitarian of the Year.

The Commitment to Community Award was presented to Saputo Cheese USA., Inc. and the Exceptional Program Partner Award was presented to Workforce Resource, Inc.

There were several very dynamic speakers before the awards were presented, and each of them made excellent points about economic development, student apprenticeships, and keeping young people in our community. Of course Carl and his crew put on a buffet that was fantastic. It was an impressive evening.

John and Sandy Peichel held a get-together at their home in honor of their daughter, Kayla, on Sunday. Kayla is in the Air Force, stationed in New Mexico and was home on leave for a couple weeks. She has to go back to New Mexico for a few months, then will be reassigned to an Air Force base near Fairbanks, Alaska. Going to be quite the climate change for her. Just about everyone at the gathering informed her that they would be expecting her to be their tour guide when they decided to go to Alaska. Sandy is a great cook, so naturally there was way too much food, and we all had a wonderful time visiting, eating and checking around the beautiful flower gardens.

You probably know that I am always searching for black walnuts to use in my baking. Well, this year, during the Color Fest, I found a box of black walnuts on the hood of my car. (I'm not sure who left them there, but I really appreciate it). Then, Nancy Sharhag picked walnuts at her mom's house and brought me a box of them. And then, my brother, Jim Copus, brought up three garbage bags full from his home in Brooklyn, WI. I am happy!! Duane, not so much. He's the one who always gets stuck shelling them.

odrich loaned us a couple antique nutcrackers and the one is perfect for shelling black walnuts. I just put the nut on the little platform with the pointy side up, pull down a lever, and the shell falls right off. It's the easiest way to shell them that I have ever found. I asked Terry if we could buy the nutcracker from him, but he won't sell it. He said we could use it for as long as we need to though. I'll keep trying to convince him that it should be ours.

Terry stopped by on Sunday evening and brought a few hickory nuts to crack with the smaller nutcracker. It worked really well for the smaller nuts. Anyway, while Terry was here he was telling us about problems he was having with his pressure tank and the repairs he had to make. I was wondering why he didn't just call one of the Beecroft crew and save himself a lot of work, but Terry said he is such a voracious collector that he would not want anyone to see his basement. (Is "collector" and "hoarder" different words for the same condition)? Hmmm.

Don Albee stopped by the other day and told us about the fantastic time he had with daughter, Justina, at the Arabian Fall Fest held at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds on the 30th of September. He said that he was just sitting at home, minding his own business, when she swooped in, scooped him up, and the next thing he knew he was having a great time looking at horses that most of us could never afford. He mentioned the amount of money some of the owners charge for stud fees. Holy mackerel-we could buy new cars cheaper. Didn't matter. He wasn't in the market for a horse and he was just along to have fun with Justina.

Jesse Adams called Sunday afternoon and said that he had lots and lots of grapes that were ripe and that he wasn't going to do anything with them. I knew that Sharai Hefty wanted to make wine and jelly, so I gave her a call and she and I went over to Jesse's and picked grapes for about half an hour. I am so impressed with the way he has his grape veins growing. They are on rebar attached to steel fence posts. I'm going to redo ours this fall and see if I can get them going like Jesse's are.

I'm going to remind you again (and I will be for the next three weeks) that the Scandinavian Smorgasbord will be held at the Barronett Community Center on November 4th. We will have Swedish meatballs, ham, lefse, mashed potatoes and gravy, rutabagas, and lots of other delicious stuff--and of course, lots of desserts. Lynn Thon and I decided that the proceeds this year will be donated to the Back Pack program. We hope you will mark that on your calendar and join us for a wonderful afternoon of feasting and visiting.

That's about it from Barronett this week. Hope you are enjoying this wonderful fall weather. See you next time.

Correction: There was an error in last week's column. The sentence should have read: When they got back to Anita's house, Debbie Lehmann was already there washing windows and getting things ready for winter. Jeff Kodesh and Robin Fankhauser also joined them and installed new storm doors. Sorry for the error.

What a great turnout for our annual fall festival! A Huge Thank You to all our volunteers that worked long hours setting up days ahead. Thank you to everyone who bought raffle tickets and all the merchants who donated gift certificates and to all who donated items.

The chili was delicious, as usual, and we sold out right to the last drop. There were also lots of delicious bars, cookies, etc. Thanks to all who baked for us.

The three big winners in our raffles were Lynda Kolzow, the wooden church; Steve Schneider, the large painting; and Linda Weaver the pellet gun.

I was asked to mention Dining at 5. This is held every month at the Center on the third Thursday. This month it will be held October 19th, and of course, it starts at 5:00. Cost is only $6.50 if you are 60 years or older, or $8.00 for everyone else. Reservations are required so you need to call in by the Tuesday of that week. The number to call is 715/822-8974 or come in to the Center and sign up. The menu is posted or is in the Review each month.

Don't forget Bingo is the second Thursday of the month, so this month it will be on October 12th. Come in to the Center and grab a newsletter and calendar so you don't miss anything. The calendar, of course, is in the Review too.

The leaves are turning really pretty, so hope you get a chance to get out and drive around. I think Cumberland has some of the prettiest ones, of course.

Till next week - stay well!

ed that he, Curt Nichols and Chris Baldwin had gone to an old farm house on three different times and took three separate snowmobiles and some guns. He said it was Curt Nichols' idea to do so and that he was the one who knew where the place was. He indicated he ended up taking the firearms that were stolen and brought them back to the milkhouse and said it was true that he had sold some of them. He said after he sold some of the guns, Nichols came down and picked up the remaining guns and took them. He said he didn't know where the remaining guns were, or any other items that were taken.

On October 3, 2017, Detective Nelson interviewed Chris Baldwin. Detective Nelson advised him that he wanted to talk to him about some of the firearms and snowmobiles.

Baldwin advised that it was true that he was involved in taking some snowmobiles. He indicated that he, along with Curt Nichols and Justin Nickell did this around March or April 2017. He said that they went to this abandoned place on three separate occasions all in one particular night. He indicated that either Nichols or Nickell were driving and all three were riding in the front seat of the truck. He indicated initially that he believed all the snowmobiles were sitting outside in the yard, but later acknowledged that at least one of them was inside the shed on the property. He indicated they all loaded the snowmobiles up in the middle of the night and took them back to the gravel pit and unloaded them. When Detective Nelson asked about the theft of firearms, Baldwin denied any knowledge of that. After several minutes Baldwin acknowledged that he knew something about the theft of firearms.

He indicated that on the third trip that they had made the three of them went inside the house. He originally said that he remained in the porch area, but later acknowledged that he had walked around the other areas of the house. When asked about the firearms, he acknowledged that he remembers seeing what he thought to be possibly five or six long firearms on some sort of blanket in one of the rooms in the house. He indicated both Nickell and Nichols were wrapping them up in a blanket on the floor. He indicated they took the guns and placed them into the truck, along with the last snowmobile and that they were transported back to the gravel pit. He indicated that Nickell and Nichols ended up with the guns and that he never actually possessed any of them himself, but that he had commented to people he knew somebody that had guns for sale and was referencing more particularly either Nickell or Nichols.

If convicted Chris Baldwin and Curtis Nichols may each be fined not more than $45,000 or imprisoned for not more than 19 years and three months, or both.

If convicted Justin Nickell may be fined not more than $105,000 or imprisoned for not more than 47 years and nine months, or both.

OBITUARIES

Dale Lester Knutson

Dale Lester Knutson, 69, of Cumberland died surrounded by his family on Friday, October 6, 2017 at Mayo Clinic Health System in Eau Claire. He was born October 20, 1947 in Cumberland to Lester and Ellen (Avery) Knutson. He was married in Cumberland on October 4, 1969 to Toniann Cifaldi.

He is survived by his loving wife and best friend, Toniann; four children: Kelly (Glenn) Poole of Normal, IL, Lisa (Brad) Burke of Bellbrook, OH, Brent (Krista) Knutson of Cumberland and Kevin Knutson of Minneapolis; grandchildren: Brittany, Brianna and Bridget Poole, Brandon and Abby Rowe, Alexa, Connor, Riley and Cooper Burke, Isaiah Patrin, Elliot and August Knutson; his brother Dean (Judy) Knutson of Forest Lake, MN; his sister, Sonja (Gary) Fitzgerald of Cumberland; many nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

Dale fondly remembered attending Stanfold School through eighth grade before graduating from Cumberland High School in 1965. He attended UW-River Falls before following his passion for mechanics graduating from Dunwoody Institute in 1969.

Dale served our country in the United States Army Security Agency from 1970-1972 and was stationed in Massachusetts and Germany. He and Toniann enjoyed traveling most of Europe together during their time there.

Dale believed in serving the community where he lived and contributed in countless ways. He was an active member of the Cumberland Jaycees serving in various roles including president. He started a bowling program for youth and inspired Cumberland's first Fourth of July celebration. Dale served on the City Council for 25 years serving as an alderman, president of the council, and the public works chairman. In 2003, he received the Community Member of the Year Award from the Cumberland GAP. He was active in Barron County 4-H since his youth, volunteered with the tractor safety program for 25 years, and inspired each of his children to be active 4-H members. In 2001 Dale and his family were awarded the Barron County 4-H Family of the Year.

Dale was never afraid of a hard day's work and it was his passion. In 1980 he started Knutson Excavating and was very proud of the work he did and always enjoyed a challenging job.

When he wasn't working (which wasn't often), he enjoyed playing bridge, camping, doing crosswords and sudoku. He took special pleasure in passing on his love for games, puzzles and problem solving to his children and grandchildren.

He will always be remembered for his "unique" sense of humor and his ability to bring laughter to even the toughest situations. His optimism and perseverance during his 25-year battle with cancer are a testament to his strength, will to live, and love for life.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 10:30 AM Friday, October 13, 2017 at St. Anthony Catholic Church with Father Tom Thompson officiating and burial with full military honors following at St. Anthony Cemetery.

Pallbearers are Tom Lingen, Tom Bents, Bob Skinner, Jim Cotone, Barry Coil, Steve Bowen.

Visitation (and honorary retirement party) will be held from 4:00 to 7:00 PM Thursday and for one hour prior to Mass at the church.

Skinner Funeral Home of Cumberland is serving the family.

Free from fear and full of love

By Joseph J. Mazzella

As I write this we have been disconnected from the electric grid for 4 1/2 weeks now. On a routine inspection, the meter boxes that ran our home and the homes of seven of our neighbors were found to be a safety hazard and had to be taken down. It has been a long wait for the replacement parts to come in so the work can be done. My daughter lived in one of the other houses and has had to move back in with me. For the first week we were fortunate to have family take us in. When it became clear, however, that we weren't getting back on the grid soon I bought a portable, gas-powered, generator so we could at least move back home.

The generator has been powering the refrigerator, fans, television, and computer but lacks the power to handle the stove, clothes dryer, AC, and hot water heater. The lights except for two lamps can't be used either. It amazes me too how much gas it uses. I am making two trips a day to the gas station just to keep it going. Through all of this, though, I have learned a few things: I would have made a lousy pioneer. The smell of gas makes me sick to my stomach. You can meet a lot of interesting people at the laundromat. Cold showers hurt at first but after a minute you get used to them. Hot water gets dishes a lot cleaner than cold water does. It gets dark awful early in the evening when you don't have electric lights. Cooking with just a hot plate and electric frying pan takes a lot of creativity. Flashlights work far better than candles do. It is hard to change the oil on a generator without banging your knuckles loosening the bolt on the oil pan. Summer heat is no fun with just a few fans to keep you cool. Yet, people are good and kind especially when you are hurting.

More importantly I have learned that family is the most important thing in my life. The love they have blessed me with in this tough time has uplifted me and kept me going. I have learned that bad things happen to good people just as "Reformation 500"

By: Pastor Tim Schmidt
First Lutheran Church, Cumberland

October 31, 2017 will mark the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation. This date goes back to October 31, 1517, when Martin Luther nailed his 95 Theses to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg. Luther never dreamed that this act would set into motion a movement that would continue to grow 500 years later. In other words, he had no idea that he was beginning the Reformation. But that is exactly what he did. And five centuries later, this anniversary gives us a chance to reflect a little bit.

Who was Martin Luther, and why are his teachings still important to us today? What did he teach about Christ and forgiveness and grace? How did he imagine the church? What do these teachings mean for our relationship with other Christians.

Because as Lutherans and other Protestants, we are Christians first of all. And our unity in Christ with other Christians far outweighs any differences that we have in denominations or teachings with other Christians. And that is very important when we celebrate an anniversary like this. Yes, there are principles that Luther taught that we hold very dear, such as his teachings that God's grace is absolutely primary and that all people should know and study God's word.

But we also need to keep in mind that the world and the church are much different than in Luther's day. Protestants and Catholics have both changed dramatically in the last 500 years, and have thankfully drawn much closer together. The Reformation is not an "us" versus "them" event. We have too much of that mindset in our world today. Instead, this anniversary is a chance for us to remember and give thanks for the great heritage of our faith, and to ask how we can continue to live faithfully today, and ask how the church might be reformed yet today to be more and more the community of faith that Christ calls us to be.

Blessings and Peace.

OBITUARIES...

Genevieve Ann Olson

Genevieve Ann Olson, 75, of Almena died Friday, October 6, 2017 at Care and Rehab - Cumberland. She was born October 3, 1942 in Cumberland, to Anthony and Lena (Curella) Marino. She was married in Cumberland on May 12, 1962 to Stuart Olson who preceded her in death on October 13, 2005.

One of her greatest achievements, aside from her family, was her selfless dedication to making the community a better place through volunteerism and service. Genevieve served on the Adult Leader's Association of Barron County 4-H, as well as general General Leader of the Poskin Jet's 4-H Club for many years, where she positively impacted the lives of multiple generations.

Genevieve also served the Village of Almena through various organizations and events including the Almena Community Women, Lion's Club, Cub Scouts, election worker, the Almena Family Fun Days, Junior Miss Almena, as well as led numerous community service engagement programs through the Almena Elementary School, which earned her the infamous title of "Label Lady" among faculty and students. However, one of her most altruistic acts of compassion was the endless hours of effort and coordination of benefit events to support local families in need of resources and support during times of hardship.

In addition to her contributions toward the community, Genevieve found enjoyment through several hobbies. Genevieve was identified by her loved ones as an elite Scrabble and crossword puzzle player, a fierce armchair Wheel of Fortune competitor, and "survey says" that she dominated at the Family Feud. Whether she was reading the local newspaper or several hundred pages into a New York Times Best Seller, Genevieve was passionate for literature and loved to share what she learned with her family and friends, as well as facilitated book reports to local youth at the Almena Elementary School to pass on her love for reading. Genevieve was also an artist in her own craft, cake decorating. Throughout her life, Genevieve produced hundreds of beautifully crafted wedding, graduation, and birthday cakes, and her family and friends will be the first to admit that her frosting recipe was a masterpiece. She passed down her cake decorating skills to her daughter who continues to carry out the family tradition. Outside of games, reading and culinary skills, Genevieve had a love for all animals, and she was a strong advocate and contributor to the Humane Society of Barron County. Over her lifetime, Genevieve gave refuge to dozens of cats, dogs and many other furry friends who were nurtured to health from Genevieve providing shelter, food and love, even when her granddaughter continued to bring home new stray cats on a routine cadence.

Genevieve was a mother to us all, and she has touched the lives of so many individuals during her beautiful life. She will be missed everyday by her family and friends, and the world will forever be a better place for having had her a part of it. Genevieve's family would like to thank Dr. Thomas Lingen of Cumberland Health Care, Kelley Strohschein, Director of Nursing of Cumberland

Care & Rehab, and all the nurses and staff that provided outstanding quality of care, comfort, and support for Genevieve and her family during the past few weeks. Your contributions and efforts will forever be cherished by the family and friends of Genevieve Olson, a woman who changed the world for the better, and taught everyone in her life the true meanings of selflessness, perseverance, strength, love, and family.

She is survived by sons, Mark (Andrea) Olson of Almena and Brian (Tena) Olson of Shakopee, MN; daughter, Lisa Olson of DePere; Lisa Maas Olson of Golden Valley, MN; six grandchildren, Amanda (Jesse) Weber, Michael Olson, Nicole (Matt) Smrz, Nathan Olson, Carlson Hang and Theresa Hang; three great grandchildren: Jameson Weber, Addison Weber and Callahan Smrz; siblings: Marcia (Brad) Rindlesbacher of Orlando, FL, John (Kay) Marino of Rice Lake, Rob Marino of St. Paul, MN; nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 10:30 AM Thursday, October 12, 2017 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with Father Tom Thompson officiating and burial following at Sacred Heart Cemetery. Pallbearers are Michael Olson, Jesse Weber, Nathan Olson, Pete Standing, Nick Feidt, Josh Peterson, and Mario Marino. Honorary Pallbearer is Matthew Smrz.

Visitation will be from 4:00 to 7:00 PM Wednesday at the Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland, and for one hour prior to the Mass on Thursday at the church.

Ordinance 706

AN ORDINANCE TO AMENDING SECTION 17.16 DEFINING HOME OCCUPATIONS AREA AND LANGUAGE

The Common Council of the City of Cumberland do ordain as follows:

SECTION ONE. Subsection 17.16 of the Municipal Code of the City of Cumberland is hereby amended to read as follows:

17.16 HOME OCCUPATIONS.

(1) PURPOSE. The purpose of this section is to regulate the conditions under which occupations may be carried on in homes in order that such home occupations may not undermine the general intent and purpose of this chapter and the specific purposes of the residential districts. The standards for home occupations in this chapter are intended to insure compatibility with other permitted uses and with the residential character of the neighborhood, plus a clearly secondary or incidental status in relation to the residential use of the buildings as the criteria for determining whether a proposed accessory use qualifies as a home occupation.

(2) STANDARDS. Home occupations shall be subject to the following standards:

(a) The occupation or profession shall be carried on wholly within the principal building or other structure accessory thereto and it shall utilize no more than 500 sq ft of the gross floor area of the buildings.

(b) The home occupation is to be conducted only by members of the family residing in the dwelling unit plus no more than one nonresident assistant or employee employed on the premises at any one time. Persons engaged in building trades or similar fields, using their dwelling units or residential premises as an office for business activities carried on off the premises, may have more employees than the limitations set forth herein if they are not employed on the premises.

(c) The home occupation shall be incidental and subordinate to its use for residential purposes.

(d) In no way shall the appearance of the structure be altered or the occupation within the residence be conducted in a manner which would cause the premises to differ from its residential character, either by the use of colors, materials, construction and lighting.

(e) No home occupation shall create noise, dust, vibration, smell, smoke, glare, electrical interference, fire hazard or any other hazard or nuisance beyond what normally occurs in the applicable zoning district.

(f) There shall not be outside storage of any kind related to the home occupation.

(g) The home occupation shall not involve the use of commercial vehicles, other than those owned by the applicant for delivery of products or materials to and from the premises. This shall not be interpreted to include delivery and/or pickup services, such as United Parcel Service, Federal Express, etc., in the conduct of their normal operations.

(h) No traffic shall be generated by such home occupation in greater volumes than would normally be expected in a residential neighborhood.

(i) There shall be no demand for parking beyond that which is normal to the neighborhood. In no case shall the home occupation cause more than 2 additional vehicles to be parked on or near the premises.

(j) Activities which involve the manufacture, utilization, processing or storage of chemicals or flammable and explosive materials shall not be permitted.

(3) NAMEPLATE ALLOWED. Only one nameplate shall be allowed. It may display the name of the occupant and/or the name of the home occupation. It shall not exceed 2 square feet in area and shall not be illuminated. The limitation to one nameplate is intended to apply to all lots, including corner lots.

4) CONDITIONAL USE. Any proposed home occupation shall be considered a conditional use and be granted or denied by the City Council after receiving Planning Commission recommendation and upon consideration of those standards contained in sub. (2) and in accordance with the procedures as required in §17.70

5) Forfeitures /Revocation: Upon the occurrence of two (2) documented violations of the operational rule within a calendar year, the owner shall be subject to a forfeiture and/or revocation of the Home Occupation permit.

6) Grievance.

(1) Any existing or new business aggrieved by such ordinance may appeal for a variance to said rules through the zoning board of appeals.

(2) Any existing or new home occupation may appeal to the zoning board of appeals for an interpretation of these regulations under this subsection.

(3) Any special exception or variance so granted shall not be transferable and shall not be construed to run with the land.

7) Penalties. Any violation of this subsection may subject the owner of the property to a forfeiture of $50.00 per day, and such person may also be subject to an action for abatement. Each day a violation continues or occurs shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION TWO. Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect upon passage and publication as provided by law.

Sweet victory: Judge decides that home baked goods ruling applies to all Wisconsin bakers

After years of waiting, the people of Wisconsin can finally buy homemade cookies, cakes, muffins and breads directly from home bakers. On October 5th, a Lafayette Circuit Court judge clarified his May 31 ruling that the state's ban on selling home-baked goods is unconstitutional. Wisconsin officials had argued that the ruling was limited to Lisa Kivist, Kriss Marion and Dela Ends—the three bakers, and Wisconsin Farmers Union members, who teamed up with the Institute for Justice in January 2016 to challenge the ban in state court. But, Judge Duane Jorgenson disagreed, clarifying that his ruling applies not only to the three plaintiffs, but to all home bakers like them.

As a result, home bakers across the Badger State are now free to sell safe, delicious baked goods that do not require refrigeration directly to consumers.

"This is a win for all of us home bakers," said home baker Hannah Shaw, who stopped selling her cakes and cupcakes earlier this year after the government issued a cease and desist order against her. "I can't wait to start baking again!" Law enforcement threatened Shaw with a $10,000 fine and a year in jail, merely for selling the delicious goods out of her home.

The new ruling came about after the plaintiffs informed the court that the Wisconsin attorney general's office was still enforcing the unconstitutional ban on selling home-baked goods against everyone except the three of them.

In his initial May decision, Judge Jorgenson found that the ban had "no real or substantial connection" to protecting the public, because there was no instance of anyone ever becoming sick from an improperly baked good despite home-baked goods being legally sold in 48 states. In addition, the judge found that the ban only benefited special interest groups, like the Wisconsin Bakers Association, who wanted the government to shut down healthy competition from home bakers.

"This ruling is a major step for economic liberty and common sense in Wisconsin," said Erica Smith, lead attorney on the case with the Institute for Justice. "Wisconsin was one of only two states, the other being New Jersey, that banned the sale of goods baked in a home oven. Before a person could sell even one cookie, they needed to acquire an expensive commercial kitchen and a burdensome commercial license. Now, Wisconsin home bakers are free to sell their baked goods out of their home, at community events and at farmers' markets—something people are already doing in almost every other state every day."

"This decision opens the door for rural entrepreneurs to take part in the growing farm-to-foodie movement," said Wisconsin Farmers Union President Darin Von Ruden. "Home baking is a natural fit for many of our family farmer members, who are looking to add an extra revenue stream by selling baked goods at farmers markets, at their on-farm bed and breakfasts, or to family and friends."

Von Ruden encouraged home bakers to adopt best practices for Cottage Foods, use approved recipes, label ingredients and provide baker contact information on labels or at the point of sale. This week, Wisconsin Farmers Union will launch www.wisconsincottagefood.com, a website that will provide approved recipes and other resources for home baker entrepreneurs.

"The ruling is great news for our tiny town's farmers' markets that have been waiting to welcome start-up baking vendors for six years now," said home baker and plaintiff Kriss Marion. "I personally can't wait to bake and eat all of that fresh-from-the-kitchen homemade goodness. It's what the people want, and now they can get it. Bon appétit!"

Prior to the lawsuit, Wisconsin already allowed the sale of homemade foods like raw apple cider, maple syrup and popcorn, as well as canned goods like jams and pickles. But the evidence showed that baked goods were as safe and even safer than many of these other goods. The state even allowed nonprofit organizations to sell any type of homemade foods at events for up to 12 days a year. As the court found in May, it was blatantly irrational to allow these goods to be sold without a license and commercial grade kitchen, but not baked goods for profit. State officials must now immediately stop prosecuting local entrepreneurs and allow customers to decide where they want to get their baked goods.

"This is more than a win for us home-based bakers, it's recognition that all small businesses have the right to earn an honest living free from irrational government regulation," said plaintiff Lisa Kivist. "I'm excited to get in my kitchen and start baking with the rest of our state's amazing bakers as Wisconsin is finally and truly open for business."

Big Sunflowers!

Last spring the second graders were each given a packet of sunflowers to grow over the summer. At the end of September, the now third graders brought in their sunflowers to see which one had the largest diameter. Each participant received a certificate and a small prize. Congratulations to this year's participants: Nautica Ruppel, Graycin Miller, Isabel Gonyer, Mitchell Monchilovich, Cash Rouzer, Kiera Fox, Maycee Fargo, Greta Weaver, Lauren McCreary, and Brody Gilbertson. This year's winner of a bird feeder was Cash Rouzer with a sunflower measuring 17.5 inches. The Master Gardeners is an organization that donates many hours to local gardening and landscaping projects.
