TRICK OR TREAT
will be held Saturday
OCTOBER 28
12:00 -2:00 p.m.
Sponsored by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce

Opening October 26th!

The new Cumberland Kwik Trip at the intersection of 8th Ave. and Elm St., will open its doors for business at 5:00 a.m. on Thursday, October 26th. The old location will be closing at 5:00 p.m. on October 25th.

School District holds Budget Hearing and Annual Meeting

The School District held its Budget Hearing, Annual Meeting and monthly Board meeting on Monday, October 23rd in the Middle School commons.

Steve Mann, Business Manager for the District, conducted this portion of the meeting. Steve gave a presentation of the effects of the referendum and compared the predicted versus actual levy rates. In both years since the referendum, the actual levy rates have been below the ones projected during the referendum process. This amounted to approximately $21.00/$100,000 savings per taxpayer in the first year.

Steve also illustrated what the districts deficits would have looked like with and without the referendum. The first year's deficit was reduced by over $200,000.

Steve then went on to offer the proposed budget (copies of which are contained in the Annual Report, available from any school or the District office). The tax levy for the 2017-18 school year will be $6,217,215 for General Fund Operations and $250,000 for the Community Service Fund, for a total of $6,467,215.

Due to planned building maintenance and upgrades, this years budget is currently looking at a deficit of approximately $282,579. This will be covered by the monies in the GFO and some will be recouped through energy savings and rebates.

After Steve's presentation, the Budget Hearing was adjourned. Jennifer Hyatt, who had been elected to be the Chairperson for the Annual Meeting, called that meeting to order.

During that meeting, the community members in attendance all approved the following measures:

- Approval of the 2016 Annual Meeting Minutes.
- The Treasurer's Report for 2016-2017
- Authorization to levy a school tax to include the amounts previously noted.
- Set salaries of the school board members and authorize payment for travel and actual expenses incurred while traveling outside the district in performance of duties: President - $70 per meeting; Vice President

- $70 per meeting; Clerk - $75 per meeting; Treasurer - $75 per meeting; Member - $70 per meeting; Reimbursement $70 per day plus actual expenses (out of district); and Negotiation Committee Members - $70 per meeting.
- Authorized the Board to pursue cash flow borrowing if needed to maintain current fiscal operations.
- Authorized the Board to apply any remaining fund balance to be designated for working capital.
- Authorized the Board to legally defend or prosecute any action or proceedings in which the district deems appropriate and necessary.
- Authorize the Board to provide school breakfast and lunch programs with appropriate funds allocated for that purpose.
- Authorize the Board to provide and furnish academic textbooks.
- Authorize the Board to purchase, operate and maintain transportation vehicles and to purchase liability insurance for such vehicles.
- Authorize the Board to purchase or lease suitable sites for school buildings, to build, rent, lease or purchase and furnish equipment and maintain school district buildings.
- Authorize the sale of property and disposal of unused property belonging to and not needed by the district, and
- Authorized the Board to establish the date for next year's annual meeting.

Once this was accomplished, the meeting was adjourned and the School Board opened the monthly meeting for October.

After dispensing with the business items, the Board heard reports from representatives of the Island City Academy detailing some of their activities over the past month, including a visit to the incinerator and recycling plant, and a three day environmental education retreat at Forest Lodge in Ashland conducted by Northland College. They also have been finishing up work at the school forest building. The students also announced the first Gallery fundraiser is the Foundation Golf Outing on June 2018. This technology until recently has only been available in larger institutions. Cumberland Healthcare is very fortunate to acquire this revolutionary technology. This technology will be expanding into other areas of lab testing and our patients can access it today!

Cumberland Healthcare Adds Bio Fire revolutionary Molecular Diagnostic Technology for laboratory

Cumberland Healthcare announces that it has added a new state-of-the-art molecular laboratory instrument to help diagnose certain conditions and diseases faster and with better accuracy. "Bio fire utilizes the very latest in technology by using DNA enhancement and amplification to give us exactly what organisms be it-virus or bacteria that might be creating the problem. The clinician will receive more accurate information in about one hour of lab time. Before the Bio Fire information used to take several days and involved sending the specimen to a reference lab," said Greg Leach, Laboratory Manager at Cumberland Healthcare.

The quick results can reduce length of hospital stays and get the patient on the correct treatment much sooner which can in turn reduce the overall cost of care.

The panels that Bio fire will be used for are:

- Meningitis/Encephalitis Panel
- Gastrointestinal Panel
- Upper Respiratory Panel
- Blood Culture Panel

The Cumberland Healthcare Foundation has pledged $45,000 for this equipment in their upcoming campaigns over the next few years. The first fundraiser will be the Progressive Dinner with a Purpose: Bio fire-held on March 2, 2018. The second fundraiser is the Foundation Golf Outing on June 2018. This technology until recently has only been available in larger institutions. Cumberland Healthcare is very fortunate to acquire this revolutionary technology. This technology will be expanding into other areas of lab testing and our patients can access it today!

Card of Thanks Card of Thanks

The Island City Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6769 would again like to thank the Cumberland community for their support of the 2017 Buddy Poppy campaign.

Donations will enable the Post to help Veterans and Veteran families in need, the High School Scholarship Endowment and other community organizations and programs.

Special thanks to Kwik Trip and Louie's for again allowing the VFW to accept donations at their location.

Thank you to all the nice people who stopped in for our party. We were so pleased so many people came, and we got to visit with old friends and make new ones too!

The winner of the one month free service is Tom Nelson!

We realize most folks feel they should wait to sign up with us after their current service is terminated. Please give us a call so we can put you on our list so that we can set up routes faster. Dumpsters are going to be slow coming in, so we need to get them ordered as soon as possible. We have lots ordered, but need to keep a fair number of extras for future customers.

Thank you again for your business and words of encouragement.

Pelican Pete celebrated his 60th birthday in August of 2017 in Pelican Rapids, MN. Pelican Pete is the world's largest pelican. He has graced the Pelican River since 1957. John Effertz (bottom photo right) of Cumberland was a very young man when his family helped to create the giant pelican, which has been the town's centerpiece for 60 years. The giant pelican stands at 15 1/2 feet tall. John recently visited Pelican Rapids with his wife, Gloria (bottom photo left) and son Doug. As you may or may not know, John also helped to create the "Beaver" which is proudly displayed in front of the Cumberland Elementary School on Cumberland's main street.

School District meetings...
Walk of the year will be held on Monday, October 30th from 2-4 pm and 5-6 pm in the Middle School gym.
Johnny Richie gave the Student Council report, relating the season endings for the sports teams and state band results.
In the action items, the Board officially approved the School Budgets and the proposed tax levy as presented in the previous meetings.
They also approved the creation of an "activity bank account" for the Class of 2021.
In staffing matters, Rebecca Odden was approved as the new Assistant FFA Advisor and Michael Dietrich was approved as Middle School Boys' Basketball Coach.
Resignations were accepted from both Eric Butzler and Alyssa Lunquist from their positions as Assistant Softball Coaches. Both cited busy schedules as the reasons for the resignations.
Two students were approved for the Youth Options courses for the next semester.
In the administrative reports, it was noted that, since Veteran's Day falls on a Saturday this year, the services held by the District will take place on Monday, November 13th instead.
The next regular meeting of the School Board is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. on November 14th.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

The baseball playoffs are well underway with the World Series soon to begin. I have no idea which team will win the series but I know one thing for certain, the winning team will have long hair and plenty of full beards. I have never seen a year where so many players have adopted the long hair, full beard look. It seems to me that the style would be hot and messy as well as potentially dangerous to the player. Or maybe the rejuvenation of beards and long hair is the second coming of the House of David. The House of David sect was founded by Mary and Benjamin Purnell in Benton Harbor, Michigan back in 1903. The purpose of the group was to gather the 12 lost tribes of Israel and to await the Millennium (The belief that after a 1000 years, society will undergo great changes). They started playing baseball and by 1915 the team was playing around the country. By the early 20's the team was fairly strong and was "barnstorming" around the country earning money for the colony. The colony sponsored teams in the 30's and until the late 40's. However, there were still teams traveling the country until as late as 1955. At one time there were three teams traveling under the House of David label. All players, even if they were not members of the colony, were required to have long hair and full beards. As a kid, I can remember watching a House of David team, playing on the East Side of St. Paul and seeing some of the especially long hair, on some of the Dodger players, brought back these memories.

The weekend football games have Packer fans crying and Viking fans cheering. The purple faithful all but have the Vikings in the Super Bowl. They have to come back to reality. It is a long season.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

P.S. I have heard there are three stages in marriage. The first is he talks and she listens. The second is when she talks and he listens and the third is when they both talk and the neighborhood listens.

About "Taking a Knee"

To the Editor:

People with contempt for our country and what it stands for used to burn American flags. Sports figures today refuse to stand in respect to the American flag, or "take a knee" while the rest of us sing the national anthem.

Far too many Americans before them "took a knee" out of respect for our country and what it stands for. They went down on their knees after bullets tore holes in their lungs and they couldn't breathe. They went down on their knees when they couldn't stop their life's blood flowing out of gaping wounds onto the ground all around them. In recent years they had legs blown out from underneath them by an IED, or they couldn't keep their innards from spilling out of their hands, and they went down on their knees.

For some, like those in the Revolutionary or Civil War, the flag was the last thing they saw as they went down on their knees and then passed into the next life. But today we have NFL players and others, who just can't bring themselves to show a bit of respect for the flag or the national anthem or our country.

It makes me angry to think that kids across the country are looking up to

by Tom Still

Keeping up higher ed investments will help meet workforce needs

MADISON, Wis. — A few hundred yards from the UW-Madison College of Engineering's core campus is a fresh example of why engineering is more than classrooms and theory: It's a hands-on discipline for turning ideas into prototypes and products that help people.

Opened in September, the Grainger Innovation Design Innovation Laboratory is a "makerspace" open to inventors, designers, builders and old-fashioned tinkers, primarily within the College of Engineering, but also to students and faculty elsewhere on campus.

Occupying 12,000 square feet in Wendt Commons, the space comes equipped with 3D printers, laser cutters, machine tools, virtual and augmented reality software, microscopes, soldering irons, a paint shop and more tools to put physical form to ideas.

The makerspace also represents the changing face of higher education — and why Wisconsin has advantages worthy of nurturing through public and private support.

The UW-Madison College of Engineering leveraged a gift from the Grainger Foundation to outfit the makerspace, which is already producing innovative devices such as a haptic stethoscope, an electronic page turner and new ways to help visually impaired people find their way around a building.

Meanwhile, the college is bustling at the seams when it comes to accepting students who want to be there and meeting industry demand for its graduates.

There are roughly 4,500 undergraduate students in UW-Madison's engineering sequence today. About 6,600 applied last year, including many qualified applicants from outside Wisconsin who could add to the state's talent base.

The main barrier to taking more is a lack of faculty to educate more students without diminishing the quality of the experience for all. Private gifts help, but the core funding for faculty hires comes from state government support and student tuition. Neither source has grown much for years.

As a result, the college has seen some peer rankings slip, even though none of its core departments — biomedical, chemical, civil and environmental, electrical, engineering physics, industrial, materials science and mechanical — ranks below 24th nationally. Some are within the top 10.

The issue is similar in other colleges and universities, even as those institutions are being asked to produce more graduates to meet the demand for skilled workers in Wisconsin.

One of the reasons Foxconn Technology Group settled on Wisconsin as the site for its North American production facility is the quality of its education programs and partnerships, from Gateway Technical College, UW-Milwaukee and Marquette University in southeast Wisconsin to UW-Madison and Madison College in south-central Wisconsin and well beyond. Even with the signed contract pending, members of Foxconn's team have been combing the state to establish relationships with schools and other sources of talent.

The same search for talent is true with existing Wisconsin companies and others hoping to expand in Wisconsin. With more "Baby Boomers" retiring, companies often look to higher education — which produces about 75,000 graduates per year in Wisconsin — to help them attract and retain workers.

At a recent meeting of the Wisconsin Technology Council board of directors, two researchers independently noted the mismatch between the state's population growth and the much slower growth in supply of workers. That's largely driven by the aging of the workforce, although a failure to attract and keep enough younger workers is also a problem.

Investing in proven sources of talent will help provide a solution. When the UW-Madison College of Engineering turns away qualified students by the hundreds, the state of Wisconsin is missing a chance to attract and keep some of the best and brightest. Higher education is evolving to become more responsive, but it can't do so by itself.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

A Look Back

10 Years Ago October 24, 2007

Thirty-five high school bands from across the state marched into the UW-Whitewater campus on Saturday, October 20th to participate in the 23rd annual Wisconsin School Music Association (WSMA) State Marching Band competition at Perkins Stadium. The WSMA State Band Championships are divided into four entry classes, determined by total school enrollment. This year the CHS Band competed in Class "AA" even though they are a Class "A" sized school. "We voluntarily moved up in 2002 after winning five consecutive state championships in Class "A," said Director Dan Hopkins. "The staff and students wanted to elevate the program and encourage bands across the state to become more creative, musical and proficient in marching. These goals have been achieved and I could not be more proud of what Cumberland students have accomplished," he concluded. This year Cumberland finished in third in a very competitive class. Cumberland scored a season-high 80 points, with WestDePere scoring 82.65 and Greendale scoring 84.80.

State Superintendent Elizabeth Burnmaster praised Cumberland Middle School for being among the states 163 schools that received New Wisconsin Promise School of Recognition honors for the 2007-2008 school year, during a special ceremony at the state capitol in Madison.

20 Years Ago October 22, 1997

It was a very good year for the Cumberland High School Marching Band. On Saturday, October 18th the CHS Marching Band became the Wisconsin Class C State Champions. When the CHS Marching Band came down Main Street during the Rutabaga Festival, the clapping and cheering was unlike other years. This year the spectators knew this was as fine a band as we have had. Last Saturday afternoon in Whitewater, the students "displayed true dedication and courage, and peaked at exactly the right time," said Director Dan Hopkins. "They were considered underdogs going into the finals, but they didn't let that stop them." In addition to receiving the highest overall points to become the State Champions they also received a trophy for Outstanding Visual Presentation.

The Cumberland Boys Cross Country team became the HON Champions on Thursday at the conference meet at Barron. This is the first time Cumberland has won a Cross Country championship. The girls team took third place. Team members are: Zach Gray, Mike Foley, Zach Kreager, Aaron Bryant, Josh Kreager, Ryan Avery, Brian Mathison, Ryan Kroells, Troy Lynch, Tyler Odden, Adam Dorrer, Becky Peterson, Jessica Miller, Candi Kroells, Mary Turba, Jenni Wickre, Melissa Ewer, Jessica Hollister, Abby Nelson and Amy Nelson. The team is coached by Mike Clay.

Three Cumberland football fans had a perfect score in this past week's contest, so their ranking had to be decided with the Hayward Cumberland tiebreaker. Ben Hines won first place, Kent Johnson, second, and Tom Wols, third. Close behind, with only one incorrect, were: Carley Fuller, Helen Rugowski, Craig Greener and Jan Keehn.

Boy Scout Troop 24 will hold a Court of Honor on Monday at the American Legion Hall. John B. Ellis and Robert Boehm will receive the Eagle Rank.

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed a 30x50 foot barn at the Frank Csuti place on Highway H last Thursday. The alarm was turned in at 1:39 p.m., but the building was beyond saving by the time Cumberland Firemen arrived at the scene. Also lost, in addition to the building, was 5,000 bales of hay. The fire continued to flare up during the evening hours and some firemen remained on the scene until well after midnight.

Brian Brecka won the 10-year-old division of Punt, Pass and Kick zone competition at Rice Lake last Saturday. He defeated six other area local Champions to win the trophy. This is the third straight year that he has won the first place trophy in the zone competition. He will now compete in the district competition at the Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, MN. next Saturday.

Nathan D. Schumann, 28, of Rice Lake, has been charged with felony bail jumping.

The criminal complaint states that on Saturday, October 14, 2017, at approximately 2:23 a.m. Cumberland Police Officer Damrell drove through the rear parking lot of Peter and Annie's World Market. She observed a young male very unsteady on his feet, attempting to walk to the parking lot. The male walked to the back of the building and fell into the building several times. When Officer Damrell made contact with him, she was unable to understand what he was saying and he ultimately laid down on the cement near the parking lot. He verbally identified himself as Nathan Schumann.

Officer Damrell learned from Dispatch, that Schumann was on bond from Barron County and had a specific bond condition that he was not to possess or consume alcohol or be in any premises where alcohol is sold.

Officer Damrell smelled a strong odor of intoxicants coming from Schumann, his speech was very slurred to the extent that he could not form any sentences and he could barely keep his eyes open. She requested him to submit to a preliminary breath test, she received a result of .09.

Given the state of his apparent intoxication Officer Damrell brought him to Cumberland Memorial Hospital to be medically cleared before bringing him to the Barron County Jail as she had placed him under arrest for violating his bond. The transport to the hospital was due to the fact that Schumann could not walk by himself, he could not speak more than a couple of words at a time or stay awake. Officer Damrell asked if he had drank any alcohol, to which he responded that he did. He denied that he had used any type of drugs.

After transporting Schumann to the Barron County Jail, Officer Damrell was advised by jail staff that they had received the preliminary breath test result of .07 and that the jailers had to assist him in the change out room. They also advised that he did not submit to an intoximeter test at the jail, due to the fact that after he changed out, he simply lay on the floor and fell asleep.

If convicted Schumann could be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years, or both. His preliminary hearing will be held November 21, 2017.

James E. Gurtner, 49, of Almena, has been charged with false imprisonment, misdemeanor battery, and criminal damage to property.

The criminal complaint states that on Monday, October 16, 2017, at approximately 12:13 a.m., the Barron County Sheriff's Department advised of an incident that had taken place in the Village of Almena. The caller was the victim's daughter, who reported her mother, P. J. was in an altercation with James Gurtner at his residence in Almena.

Deputy Pressley met with the P. J. who appeared very upset and shaken. Deputy Pressley observed her hands were noticeably shaking as she was explaining what had taken place. She reported she went to Gurtner's residence and he put a gun on the table and told her she was not leaving. Gurtner did not allow her to leave and at one time he smashed her cell phone.

Deputy Pressley asked her what happened that made her feel she was not free to leave, and she stated he had a loaded gun on the table, told her she could not leave, and then he locked the doors. Gurtner retrieved a pistol from a kitchen drawer next to the refrigerator. P. J. reported he had numerous guns in the residence that were commonly loaded.

She further reported that on numerous occasions during the incident he actually physically restrained her and stopped her from leaving. She reported approximately seven times he held her or placed her in a chair and at one point he twisted her arm behind her back and held her against the wall.

She further explained that at one point she pulled out her cell phone and when she did so he demanded she give him the phone. She stated she knew right then she was in trouble. They went into the garage where Gurtner commonly smokes. While in the garage he threw her cell phone on the concrete floor and smashed the phone with a hammer.

She said she was able to escape when Gurtner went to use the bathroom.

P. J. explained that Gurtner stores property at her residence. His family had moved to Virginia and while he was visiting them some of his property was stolen from his residence. Gurtner believed P.J.'s husband and other family members may have been involved in the theft of his property. She also stated during the incident Gurtner threatened to kill her, her husband and her husband's brother, believing they were all liars and had a connection to the theft of his property. She further reported he was intending to move to Virginia and that is why he had his long guns sitting against the wall in the residence.

After speaking with P. J. deputies responded to Gurtner's residence. Gurtner came out of the garage area of the residence to meet with the officers. Deputy Pressley observed Gurtner had to walk with the assistance of walking sticks or metal canes. He requested to return to the garage area where he had a wheelchair.

Inside the garage Deputy Pressley observed a hammer located on a cabinet or table behind him, which was consistent with P. J.'s account of what had taken place. Deputy Pressley observed debris on the ground and plastic which appeared to be pieces of a cell phone, also consistent with her statement.

Deputy Pressley placed Gurtner under arrest for false imprisonment and battery. Gurtner requested to go into the house to get his medications and use the bathroom.

Officers escorted Gurtner into the residence. While walking through the residence Deputy Pressley noticed several long guns leaning against the living room wall, as previously described by P. J.

Gurtner walked into the kitchen area and began rummaging through the kitchen cupboards. Deputy Pressley confronted him with the fact there was a report of guns in the drawers next to the refrigerator. Gurtner then opened the drawer and Deputy Pressley observed two semiautomatic pistols. Both pistols were removed from the drawer, the magazines were removed and both pistols had loaded ammunition in the magazines.

If convicted Gurtner may be fined not more than $30,000 or imprisoned for not more than seven years and six months, or both. His preliminary hearing will be held October 27, 2017.

Football Team Falls to Durand in Playoff Opener

The Cumberland Beavers football season came to an end last Friday with a 54-34 loss to the Durand Panthers in a Level 1 Playoff game at Endeavor Stadium. It leaves the Beavers with a final record of 6-4, while sending Durand to Grantsburg this Friday for a second round game.

A beautiful October night greeted the two teams and the fans in attendance had barely taken their seats, when the Beavers Riley Bodsberg took the opening kickoff on his own 15-yard line and broke through the middle of the field on his way to a 85-yard kickoff return into the Panthers end zone. Quarterback Kobe Berghammer then hit Max Narges with the conversion pass giving Cumberland an 8-0 lead 13-seconds into the contest.

The score remained that way until Durand scored on the last play of the first quarter, when their running back Josh Biesterveld broke off tackle on his way to a 57-yard touchdown run. This would be his first, of many big plays, in what would become a monster game. A two-point conversion pass was good, leaving the two teams tied at the end of the first twelve minutes of play.

Cumberland regained the lead four minutes later, when Berghammer found Reid Olson on a 31-yard touchdown pass. Berghammer continued his outstanding season, often scrambling for several seconds before unloading a pinpoint pass to one of his receivers. It was to become the Beavers passing game against the Durand rushing attack.

Biesterveld and the Panthers would score the next two times they had the ball. Biesterveld was the culprit in both cases, going in from 46-yards and then 12-yards. He would add both conversion runs, giving the Panthers a 24-14 halftime lead. Durand increased their lead to 30-14 on another short run by Biesterveld in the third quarter before Cumberland responded on a 48-yard touchdown strike from Berghammer to Max Narges to close the margin. Reid Olson added the two-point conversion to make the score 30-20. Unfortunately, this would become the closest the Beavers would get.

The games final 20-minutes saw Biesterveld add two more long touchdown runs and their quarterback TJ Tulip add a final short short run to paydirt. The Beavers responded with two Berghammer scoring tosses, one each to Andrew Barnes and Narges. It was a good Beavers effort, but they could not overcome the Panthers ground game.

Durand would rush for 590 yards in the game on 63 attempts for over nine yards a carry. Biesetervelds big game included 403 rushing yards in 30 carries and six scores. Durand would complete two of four passes for another 65 yards of total offense. Stopping the run was an issue for the Beavers.

For the Beavers, Kobe Berghammer continued his impressive season with 22 completions in 36 attempts for 396 yards and four scores. He would pass for over 3,200 yards and 36 touchdowns on the season.

He also had some excellent performances from his receivers as they would put together several outstanding catches in the contest. Max Narges had another excellent game with seven catches for 159 yards, giving him 67 receptions for 1025 yards on the year. Junior Reid Olson added five catches for 76 yards and showed a toughness after receiving the ball. He would end the year with 52 catches for 806 yards. Riley Bodsberg and Andrew Barnes also had a nice nights catching the ball, with Bodsberg adding six receptions for 46 yards and Barnes catching four balls for 89 yards.

Defensively, Alex Ricci, Trystin Neitzel, and Adam Nyhus led the team in tackles.

“Our season obviously didn’t end the way we had hoped, as we really wanted to get a win in the playoffs. You must give credit to Durand, however, as they executed their plan better than we did,” said Coach Corey Berghammer. He concluded by saying, “This was a very successful season for us and a step in the right direction for our program. I will always look back at this team with a smile.”

Soccer Season ends in Regional Final

The Cumberland Soccer Team dropped a 7-0 contest to McDonell Central Catholic/Regis last Saturday, in a Division IV Regional Final, to end their season with a final record of 8-8-2. McDonell Central Catholic/Regis, will next play Barron this Thursday, to see who advances to this Saturdays Sectional final.

The Beavers got to Eau Claire last Saturday with a 2-0 victory over Three Lakes in a Tournament opener last Thursday in Cumberland.

Cumberland used goals by Lukas Bruehl and Mitchell Koser in pitching the shutout in front of the home crowd. Goalie Seth Abner also played a role in the victory by making some really nice saves, while the defensive back line of Max Brenna, Johnny Richie, Noah Shradleand Tyler Bohn also played well.

The Coaches credited midfielder Kevin Koser with “displaying some nice footwork throughout the game.”

“It was a nice season. I want to thank the players and coaches for their hard work and the parents and fans for their great support,” said Coach Larry Ruetz.

The Cumberland girls team took 12th and were led by Junior Teagan Benson, who finished 62nd overall with a time of 26:43. Olivia Moll took the individual title with a run of 21:57. Cumberland Sophomore Naomi Rodriguez finished 67th with a time of 27:08 and freshman Val Paso took 69th overall with a run of 27:18.

The boys medalist was Ashland's Walker Miller, who ran an excellent 17:51. Beavers senior Gavin Fontaine finished 28th overall with a 20:06, as the Beavers finished 14th as a team. Junior Zach Hullander was 42nd with a time of 20:36, while sophomore Raven Broker finished 79th with a 23:29.

Coach Tanya Majewski thanked the team, “For their hard work throughout the season.”

Volleyball season ends in regionals

The Cumberland Volleyball Team hosted Chequamegon in a Regional Volleyball Opener last week, losing the contest in three sets, 25-23, 28-26, and 25-16. “They were very scrappy and didn’t let anything touch the ground. The first two game were so close and if either one of those goes the other way I think the match may have gone differently,” said Coach Jessica Olson.

Ania Hyatt led Cumberland with 11 kills, while Adreanna Johnson added 10 kills and 11 digs. Izzy West led the team with 29 assists and Autumn Riewestahl had a team-high 11 digs. Hannah Delzer added six kills.

Coach Olson concluded, “We had a nice season and I’m proud of our fourth place finish in the HON and our other team accomplishments in the Onalaska Sprawl and other Invitational appearances. I will especially miss our five seniors; Adreanna Johnson, Hannah Delzer, Autumn Riewestahl, Sophie Bassett, and Mykayla Anderson.”

Nineteen Nights on a Bear Stand

Hello friends,
When my daughter Selina Walters and I received our permits last February to hunt black bear in Zone C, I made the decision that with this being our last bear hunt together before Selina is in college or maybe even after, I was really going to try to do this hunt right.

The following is a recap of what turned out to be exactly 90-days of baiting and hunting.

The southern section of Zone C that holds a respectable number of black bear is northern Juneau County, Jackson and Wood Counties.

There are not a lot of black bear harvested in this part of Wisconsin but there are a lot of big bear, as is proven by baiters trail cameras.

I believe that this part of Wisconsin has a lot of black bear, over 400-pounds in part because dogs are not allowed to aid in harvesting bear in Zone C. To my pals that are dog hunters don't get mad at me, I support you guys as well.

Here is what I feel/know for a fact that is happening in our southern bear hunting section, black bear have learned that to move before it gets dark out after Labor Day might cost you your life. In other words they have become nocturnal.

Selina and I ran nine baits with five of them having trail cameras. Two of our baits have a true 550-600 pound bear hitting them that I have been chasing for years. Several of our baits had two to four bear over 350-pounds hitting them at least twice a week.

Until August 1st we were having about five daytime hits a week, which is good but not great. The big bear was hitting our baits during the daytime at least twice a week and let me tell you, I really wanted to put him in the crosshairs of my BAR 300!

I have mentioned in the past the long-term fatigue that kicks a baiter/hunters behind. It is the kind of fatigue that keeps chores from getting done, social engagements from happening, beats the bajeezes out of your truck and more than empties your pocket book.

I hunted on opening day with Selina in her stand a mile away and than the next two nights by myself as she had cross-country practice.

On Saturday, September 9th it had been 40-days since we had a day time hit on our cameras and Selina and I were sitting in our trees, and by God a 220-pound sow gave Selina a shot and she drilled it and like her dad taught her, she put a second shot in it when it was running away "both in the chest".

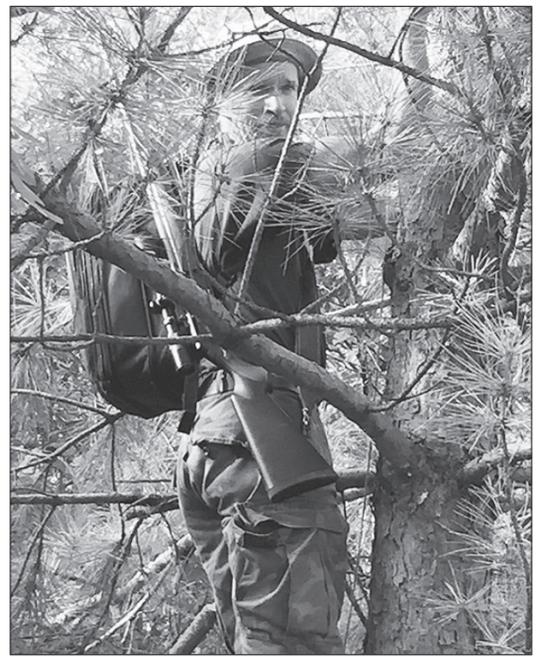

So now I have four hunts under my belt, I am very happy but I want to hunt for a big bear. Fifteen nights out of the next 31 would find me sitting in Selina's stand.

My stand which was just as good, lost all of it's bear action when a pack of wolves moved in and literally lived on it 24/7.

I talked to one hunter that had 14 wolves in one trail camera picture. About all I can say to all of the folks that are 100-percent against some form of sensible wolf management, is this. Can you imagine if you were a whitetail deer that is about to give birth to a fawn, or a deer that is run down from the rut or living in deep snow and the forest is loaded with unregulated meat eating animals that weigh from 60-120 pounds.

So anyways, my life is consumed with family, KAMO, hobby farming, traveling for my job and never missing a night in the stand if I am home. The last week of the season, I have several big bear hitting my one and only bait. In some cases these bear are hitting the bait 25-minutes after I leave the stand.

Since July 10th when this journey began, the bear were only eating about 2-3 pounds of granola due to an incredible amount of food in the forest, but now they are eating about 15-pounds.

I constantly dream of seeing a big bear and sometimes visualize a full body mount in my living room. There is not one second of this time and money sucking adventure that I regret and on the last night of a great journey I sat and re-visualized the incredible night that Selina killed her first black bear from the tree that I was sitting in and did not give a rats hiny that I did not see a bear the entire season.

Run down, but not dead!
Sunset

DNR: Wisconsin deer donation; How to donate this fall

The deer donation program will be continuing Wisconsin's autumn tradition of helping those in need. Since the program began in 2000, hunters have donated over 90,000 deer which were processed into over 3.6 million pounds of ground venison.

Donation throughout the state: Wisconsin has a network of venison donation partners including: county land and water conservation departments, food pantries, charitable organizations, Hunt for the Hungry, USDA - Wildlife Services and participating processors who all help implement and administer the program.

Chronic wasting disease affected counties: Deer taken within the 18 CWD-affected counties [PDF] of Adams, Columbia, Crawford, Dane, Grant, Green, Iowa, Jefferson, Juneau, Kenosha, Lafayette, Portage, Racine, Richland, Rock, Sauk, Walworth and Waukesha must be donated to processors within those counties. Processors outside of the counties listed are not allowed to accept deer that were harvested within these counties.

All adult deer harvested in Adams, Crawford, Grant, Green, Jefferson, Juneau, Kenosha, Lafayette, Portage, Racine and Waukesha are required to be tested for CWD and;

All adult deer and fawns harvested in Columbia,

Dane, Iowa, Richland, Rock, Sauk and Walworth are required to be tested for CWD.

Donated deer must be sampled for CWD prior to, or at the time of donation. The processed venison will be held until results are known.

How to donate your deer: Hunters, you can help feed needy people throughout Wisconsin this fall by taking 5 simple steps.

- Donate any legally harvested deer from Wisconsin by dropping it off at a participating processor [PDF] by January 31, 2018. Deer harvested outside of Wisconsin cannot be donated through the Wisconsin deer donation program.

- Prior to donating, field dress the deer, register it and write your registration confirmation number down. You will need the registration confirmation number handy in order to fill out the hunter donation log sheet that the meat processor maintains.

- Call first! Contact one of the participating processors before dropping the deer off to verify the processor has space to accept your deer.

- Donate the entire deer to receive the processing for free. (Head and/or antlers may be removed for mounting.) Please handle the carcass as if it were destined for your own table. A couple bags of ice placed in the cavity will help preserve the carcass in warm weather.

- When dropping your deer off at a processor, please complete the log sheet indicating your desire to donate the deer. We'll do the rest. The donated deer will be processed and the venison will be distributed to charitable organizations to help feed Wisconsin's needy.

Make a financial donation to the Deer Donation Program: Hunters and the public can voluntarily donate $1 or more to the Deer Donation Program. Donations will be used to help cover meat processing fees. To donate, either go to any WI Hunting License sales location or donate online through your Go Wild ac-

Deer Hide Donation: If you would like to donate the hide from your harvested deer, a list of drop-off locations throughout Wisconsin can be found online

Non-toxic ammunition: Please consider switching to non-toxic ammunition as even a very small amount of lead in a deer carcass may be toxic to humans and wildlife. Page 22 of the 2017 Deer Hunting Regulations [PDF] booklet lists recommendations to reduce the risk of lead in venison.

Thank you for your interest and good luck hunting!

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Barronett Civic Club members will be hosting their annual children's Halloween party this Saturday, October 29th. All children, ages ten and older, are welcome. Children must be accompanied by an adult. There will be lots of games, prizes, food and fun. There is no charge to attend the party, but of course, donations are always welcome. So get the little ones dressed in the cutest, or scariest costumes, you can find and bring them in to Barronett this Saturday to have lots and lots of fun.

I have a mystery to solve this week, and I hope someone will help me. On Saturday afternoon, Mike and Mary Jane Mohlin came from Belle Plaine, MN. to visit. We were at our house talking, and they said they would like to see the garden and tree house. We took them there, were gone about 15 minutes, came back home, and there was a bag of cranberries hanging on the door. Fifteen minutes! I hope that the person who dropped them off will give me a call so that I can thank them. Or, if you happened to see someone hang a bag on our door you could call me and let me know so that I can thank them. I washed them and put most of them in the freezer-except for a couple cups that I used to make cranberry muffins. Anyway, they are very nice cranberries, right from the bog, and there were almost two gallons that I put in the freezer. Thank you to our mystery cranberry donor.

While Mike and Mary Jane were still there, Bill Gill also stopped by and we decided that it would be a good night to go to Bistro 63 for dinner. We didn't think about making reservations, but luckily Sharon could fit us in anyway. Duane told everyone how great Jen's barbecued ribs are. Bill and Mike both decided to try them and they agreed with Duane wholeheartedly. Mary Jane had prime rib and that was also delicious. It's so nice to live right next door to the Bistro. Our friends are always happy with their meal, and it saves me a lot of cooking and washing dishes.

Tinille Lehmann and her friend, Mike, were in the area to participate in a dart tournament at West Point Resort this past weekend. We don't get to see Tinille enough since she deserted us and moved to Stillwater, so when we were invited to the Prime in Trego for breakfast with them we were happy to accept. Suzy and Tru Lehmann and Jerry Marsh were there too, and we had a great time visiting, laughing and eating breakfast.

Rachel and Jesse Adams hosted their annual bonfire/potluck a little late this year. They usually have it right after the Rutabaga Fest parade, but had to postpone it until this past Saturday evening. It rained off and on, but that didn't dampen anyone's spirits. Jesse and Rachel have a fantastic den/man cave/garage that nearly everyone would run to when the rain started except of course, a couple diehards which always included Jesse. He had a roaring bonfire out there and he had every intention of enjoying it all night. We had a lot of fun talking to everyone in the garage while it was raining and talking to Jesse when it wasn't.

Bill Gill had two visitors from the Twin Cities on Sunday, Aaron and Preston Rust, and one of the things they wanted to see was the tree house he built. He took them up to our garden to see it, and Preston, who is twelve years old, was very impressed. He decided he wanted to come back and spend a night there sometime. After sitting in the hammock chairs for a while, they stopped by our house to visit. We had a good time visiting and told Preston that he was welcome to camp out in the tree house whenever he was in the area.

That afternoon, Kane Thon was visiting with his grandma, Lynn, and Tru Lehmann was visiting with me and they decided they wanted to see Bill's baby pigs. We stopped by Bill's farm and Aaron and Preston were still there, but Bill was happy to show the little ones the baby pigs. Tru decided that she wanted one for her birthday-don't think that is going to happen as she lives in a place where it would probably be frowned on. I think Kane is going to be a farmer when he grows up because he loves animals so much-cows, sheep, goats, kittens and pigs.

The Scandinavian Smor-gasbord is Rapidly approaching. It will be the first Saturday in November this year, which is only a week and a half away. Anita Lehmann and I will be busy all day on Friday before the dinner making lefse so it will be nice and fresh for dinner the next day. I hope you have the day marked on your calendar, November 4th, starting at 1:00 p.m. and that you will join us. We work so hard to make everything as perfect as we can, and after we have a minute to sit down and catch our breath, we think about how great it was to see and visit with so many of the people who come. In addition to the dinner we will be having a bake/craft sale, so maybe you'll find something to take home with you. I hope we see you there.

That's about all I know from Barronett this week. Hope you have a little one to bring to the Halloween party. See you later.

Senior News By Gloria Lindeman

The week started out miserably. I had to go to the dentist, which I hate to do, but it was necessary.

So after that I figured that the rest of the week should be up hill, and it sure was. We went for a short drive to a place called Firefly Fields, the address is 2553 10th Street in Cumberland. Scott and Colleen have a beautiful place and the landscaping is excellent. They built a cute little shed which she calls the "Barn" where they sell jams, jellies, garden produce and also gift items such as soaps and dish cloths, as well as other items. These would make great gift boxes for the coming holidays. They are only going to be open this coming Saturday, October 28th from 8:00 a.m. until noon. Their phone number is 715/914-0559. You can give them a call any time and they would be glad to have you stop in. Try to make it Saturday-it's well worth the drive.

Thursday night we went to the annual Mennonite Supper. It was a delicious meal served by the young people. They are so well organized and the tables were set up very nicely. They had a great choice of pies too. It was hard to decide which one to take, they are all so good. After the meal we listened to some wonderful singing by the young choir. All in all it was a very enjoyable evening.

Watch out for the little ghosts and goblins which will be ringing our doorbells soon. That also means the cold and winter weather will soon be here.

Stop in at our Center and have a cup of coffee and visit awhile. Thank you to the ones who have complimented me on my news letter-guess that means I will have to keep writing for awhile.

Dance In The Leaves Along The Way

By Joseph J. Mazzella

It is an old memory. It may even be a dream. The older I get the more the two seem to merge together at times. I was a little boy and I was falling backwards. I wasn't afraid, however. In fact, I felt thrilled and safe at the same time. It was like I knew I couldn't be hurt. Suddenly, my back made contact with something soft but crunchy as well. I was falling into a huge pile of freshly fallen leaves. They were dry and had the wonderful smell of Autumn about them. I fell further and further into the pile as the leaves flowed over my face and body. When I finally stopped all I could see was a few pinpoints of sunlight shining through my leafy covering. I smiled and started to half climb and half swim my way out of the pile. I could hear other kids around me yelling and laughing in the warm sunshine. They were dancing in the leaves, crunching them underfoot, and burying each other under them. When I finally got out of the pile I joined in. Then I looked up and saw the last butterfly of the season circling around looking for a daisy or dandelion to land on. It was a such a glorious day in Fall that I wished it would last forever.

Of course that day didn't last forever and as I grew up I became more afraid of falling and failing. I became afraid of this world with its anger, competition, and hatred. I became afraid of not having enough to care for myself and my family. I became afraid of not knowing what trouble or problem would come next. I let that fear separate me from God too. I was no longer the trusting and happy boy who had played in the leaves.

It took me many years to regain that child's trust and wisdom and still be an adult. It came from learning time and again just how much God loves us here. It came from the realization that this life is only temporary and that the love, joy, and light that awaits us are eternal. It came from learning that the only thing that really matters in this life is the love and kindness that we share with each other.

I think that this Fall I may do a little playing in the leaves once again instead of just raking them up and throwing them away. This life, after all, is best lived in laughter, learning, love, and joy. This life is best lived with the trust and wisdom of a child. We are all God's Children. We are all on a journey to Heaven. And there is no reason why we shouldn't dance in the leaves along the way.

"Wisdom: "To See and to Respond to Life from God's Point of View"

By: Pastor Richard (Andy) Anderson
Hosanna Free Lutheran Church, Cumberland

Proverbs 2:2-4 "So incline your ear to wisdom, and apply your heart to understand. If you seek her as silver, and search for her as for hidden treasure...then you will understand the fear of the Lord, and the knowledge of God."

In this world there is much knowledge and information, but it does not necessarily translate into wisdom. An individual can have a bucket load of knowledge, but not be wise...he or she can actually be foolish.

1. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. To fear the Lord is to acknowledge that He is who He is and that each of us are accountable to Him and His Word. To fear, means to respect and give honor. We are not to fear Him in a slavish manner, but as a child respects and honors his mother and father.

2. To have wisdom is to see life from God's point of view. "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will direct your paths." Proverbs 3: 5-6.

3. To be wise also means we respond to life, and its challenges as Jesus would. But is it not for us to pull ourselves "up by the bootstraps" but to allow Him to empower us to live in wisdom as we allow Him to control our lives on a daily basis.

4. True wisdom is found in the Bible...Proverbs 4:20 "My son, give attention to my words and incline your ear to my sayings."

5. A major focus of our lives should be to seek and gain wisdom: "Wisdom is the principal thing... therefore get wisdom!" Proverbs 4:7

"The fool doth think he is wise, but the wise man knows himself to be a fool."

William Shakespeare, As You Like It.

"The saddest aspect of life right now is that science gathers knowledge faster than society gathers wisdom."

Isaac Asimov.

"Life is 10% what happens to me and 90% how I react to it."

Northwoods Notebook:

A tale of two theaters – Shell Lake and Cumberland

By Larry Werner

A few weeks back, I showed up for rehearsal at The Erika Quam Theater in Shell Lake, where my buddy Denny Epple and I were going to be playing roles in Death by Design, which we had done at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center in August of 2016.

Denny was playing Jack the chauffeur, and I would be Eric, an escaped mental patient, in this goofy British murder mystery. We had played those roles in Cumberland during Rutabaga Festival a year ago.

As I waited to go onstage, one of my fellow actors, who is also a board member of Theatre in the Woods – the Shell Lake community-theater group that performs at The Quam – told me her organization is struggling to get actors and volunteers. In fact, the Shell Lake theater had planned to do Death by Design last spring but couldn't get a cast.

Denny and I were recruited for the play this fall by Eva Srubar of Cumberland, who has directed and acted in many ETC productions and was our director in 2016 and also in 2015, when Denny and I had appeared in The Odd Couple (Female Version).

Eva agreed to direct the play in Shell Lake if a cast could be assembled, and that wasn't easy. Denny and I solved two of her casting problems, and she got an 18-year-old fellow from Springbrook to play Edward Bennett, a middle-aged playwright. His wife, Sorel, was played by a 54-year-old woman from Danbury, and a young woman from Danbury, who played the crusty old British maid, talked a girlfriend from Siren into playing Walter Pearce, the Parliamentarian/murder victim.

Victoria, an eccentric modern dancer, was played by Chris Olson, who lives in Mikana and played the same role when we did the play in Cumberland.

It was a talented crew from all over northwest Wisconsin with one Shell Lake resident: the board member who told me about the theater's struggles to get actors and volunteers. At three of the performances, our cast almost outnumbered audience members because posters and ads didn't get out until the day before opening night.

Meanwhile, back in Cumberland, three veteran actors from our town were rehearsing for Guys & Does, the deer-hunting musical that opens Thursday, Oct. 26, with more performances Oct. 27 and 28 and Nov. 2-4. Tickets, as always, are available at Peter & Annie's and by calling 715-822-2787.

As I watched a rehearsal directed by Dan Hoffmann and Ann Kysely, veterans of the Cumberland stage, I couldn't help but feel grateful for the talent and support we have here in The Island City. Tom Toftness, a local chiropractor, was singing deer-hunting songs with Jeremy Westin, the Ard- isam technology consultant, and Phil Warner, the music teacher at Cumberland Elementary.

Since moving here a few years back, I've been impressed by the talent we have in Cumberland, the theater in which we do our plays and the volunteers who take tickets, serve cookies and build sets. Occasionally, directors have had problems getting actors, especially men, but people like Eva and ETC's president, Lori Bock, do a great job recruiting. That's how Denny and I got involved.

Volunteers are never a problem for ETC, and there is always a decent audience, if not a full house.

About 15 miles up the road, in a former church converted for use as a theater, just as in Cumberland, Shell Lake residents enjoy community-theater. But the plays are fewer than what we do at the old church in our town, as are the volunteers.

When Ann and I were looking for a retirement home, we came close to buying in Shell Lake. Like The Island City, it's a lovely small town in the north woods. But the support we get for community theater here is just one more reason I'm glad we made Cumberland our home.

Drug Take Back Day is October 28, 2017

Attorney General Brad Schimel invites all Wisconsinites to do their part in preventing misuse and abuse of prescription painkillers and other pharmaceuticals by taking their unwanted medications, both prescription and over the counter, to Drug Take Back Day locations on Saturday, October 28, 2017. The Cumberland Police will be accepting drop-offs from 9 am - 12 noon at the Police Department, located in Cumberland City Hall. Drug disposal boxes are available year-round at the Barron County Justice Center.

"More than two thirds of people who have abused prescription painkillers got them illegally from a friend or family member," said Attorney General Schimel. "Wisconsinites can help cut down on prescription drug abuse by storing prescription drugs securely and disposing of unused medication through proper methods, like DOJ's biannual Drug Take Back Day."

In partnership with the Wisconsin Department of Justice (DOJ) and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), local law enforcement agencies will be holding Drug Take Back events across the state on October 28. This effort will continue to bring focus to the issues prescription painkiller abuse and the opioid epidemic cause in Wisconsin.

Drug Take Back Day provides a safe, convenient and responsible means of disposal, while also educating the community about the potential abuse and consequences of improper storage and disposal of these medications. To find a Drug Take Back Location near you, go to: www.doseofrealitywi.gov/find-a-take-back-location/.

Unused or expired medicine should never be flushed or poured down the drain. Water reclamation facilities are not designed to remove all of them and trace amounts of pharmaceuticals are showing up in rivers and lakes.

To ensure the success of Drug Take Back Day, in addition to the DEA, DOJ relies on the generous support of Fuchs Trucking, Covanta Energy, the Wisconsin State Patrol, the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, Wisconsin Department of Military Affairs, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, the Indiana State Police, Waukesha County, Waukesha County Sheriff's Office, and all participating local law enforcement agencies.

GUIDELINES:
All waste pharmaceuticals must be generated by a household – no businesses are allowed.

Bring: Prescription (controlled and non-controlled) and over-the-counter medications, ointments, patches, inhalers, non-aerosol sprays, creams, vials and pet medications.

Do Not Bring: Illegal drugs, needles/sharps, acids, aerosol cans, bio-hazardous materials (anything containing a bodily fluid or blood), personal care products (shampoo, soaps, lotions, sunscreens), household hazardous waste (paint, pesticides, oil, gas), mercury thermometers.

Participants may dispose of solid, non-liquid medication(s) by removing the medication from its container and disposing of it directly into a disposal box or into a clear sealable plastic bag. Plastic pill containers should not be collected. Blister packages without the medications being removed are acceptable.

Liquids will be accepted during this initiative. However, the liquids, creams and sprays must be in their original packaging and their weight evenly distributed within the boxes of collected solid prescription medications. Liquids without the original packaging will not be accepted.

Illicit substances such as marijuana or methamphetamine are not a part of this initiative and should not be placed in collection containers.

some of these players as role models. It makes me very angry to think that any veterans who served our country see this when they watch a game.

The worst thing about all of this, however, is how it lays bare our ignorance of our Constitution.

These players are not exercising their First Amendment right to free speech. Any grownup who told them not to "take a knee," and penalized them for doing so, would not be denying any First Amendment right.

The First Amendment of our Constitution reads "Congress shall make no law ... abridging the freedom of speech ...". Under our Constitution, only the Congress, the federal government, is limited from restricting our freedom of speech.

That is why we were given our Constitution—to limit the power of the federal government. We were not given our Constitution to enable progressives to grant us an endless list of "constitutional rights," with the resultant buildup of the federal government until it is out of all control, like a so-called First Amendment "right" for a moron to "take a knee."

But progressives have manipulated most of us into thinking we must tolerate and allow for this; that people have some sort of constitutional right to say whatever they want, whenever they want, because of the First Amendment. This doesn't have to be tolerated at all. It would be entirely appropriate for team owners, coaches, stadium owners or supporters to require a show of respect as has always been done in professional sports, and enforce penalties to bring this to a stop.

The burning of the American flag should have been stopped decades ago. State legislatures and cities should have enacted penalties for burning the flag. It would have been entirely constitutionally appropriate for them to do so.

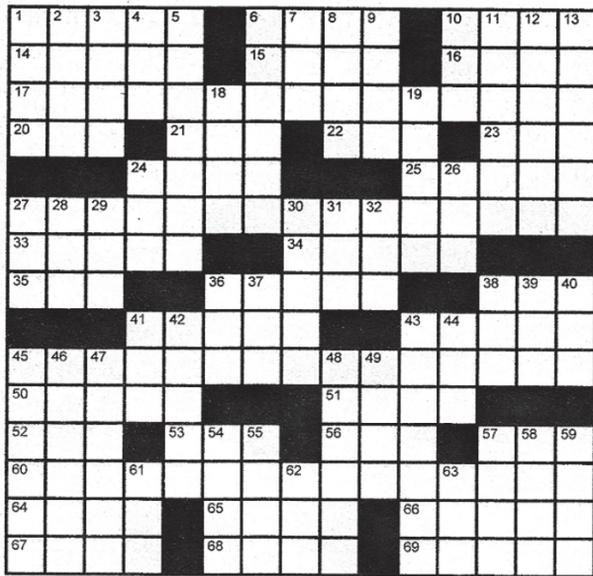

The recent tearing down of veterans' monuments and memorials, happening simultaneously as players are "taking a knee," should have been stopped before now as well. As I write, the Constitution Party of Wisconsin is working to provide penalties for those intent on exercising a First Amendment right to tear down veterans' memorials in our state.

The only thing that will continue to prevent stopping some of these things is your silence.

We are not, in any way, respecting our Constitution when we tolerate this "speech." We are teaching our kids to disrespect our flag and everything this country stands for, and our Constitution. We are effectively undermining our Constitution by not speaking out against this as we have a First Amendment right to.

Terry A. Larson
Communications Director
Constitution Party of Wisconsin

My Crazy Bear Hunting Adventure

By: Deb Standaert

This crazy story started about six years ago when I was 49 years old. Fifty was right around the corner, and I knew it was time for a bucket list. One of my top wants was to hunt and kill a bear. So, at 49 I started applying for a kill tag. This spring (six years later), I found out I got a tag. It was so exciting, but scary at the same time, as no one in my family or immediate group of friends had any interest. However...a couple years ago I had told Rick Rieper I was applying and he said, "If you ever get a tag, let me know. I'll help you out." (Bet he wishes that had never come out of his mouth).

When I found out I got a tag I let him know. From that point on the "planning" was on! From the time baiting started, to the first day we climbed up into the stand, I learned many tidbits of information about this bear hunting thing. Rick is full of fun stories and tips to pay attention to when hunting.

The first six or seven days we got skunked. Then on September 19th after another unsuccessful day, I was getting out of the stand, lost my grip and fell to the ground. Although it was only about 10 feet or so, it felt like slow motion and like I would never get to the ground. Then came the sound of breaking bones and the terrible pain set in. Thank goodness Rick was right there and because of his training the situation was handled with expertise. It seemed like the ambulance was there in a matter of minutes. After getting me loaded on the board with the ambulance crew and loading me in the bed of Rick's truck (which smelled like bear bait), he drove me out of the woods to the driveway so they could load me into the ambulance. Off to the ER we went. After X-rays, the surgeon was called and I was then told I had broken both my tibia and fibula bones in my left leg. Surgery was scheduled for the next day. After a one week stay in the hospital, because of a couple complications, they let me go home. All I could think of was, "dang it, I just want to get a bear!!"

Rick called one day and told me he had plans to set up a ground blind if I wanted to go back out for another try. So....on Thursday, October 5th we ventured out for another try. Talk about feeling out of shape and worthless! It was such a feat to get out of the car, into the gator, get out of the gator and hobble about eight steps to the blind. It sure doesn't sound like a big deal, but it was. Again we got skunked.

The next two days I had too much pain and couldn't leave the house. Then on Sunday, October 8th I felt good enough to try it again. Rick picked me up and by 4:00 we were in the blind. Rick said "this is gonna be the night." I had a good feeling about it too and told him I would heave a bear down by 5:30 p.m. For the next hour and a half I was watching the clock thinking, I gotta get this bear by 5:30. Then, all of a sudden, there was a bunch of commotion behind the blind. Neither of us could see what was going on, but it sounded like a herd of elephants. It took another hour before we could finally see five bear around the blind. As soon as I had one in my site, I pulled the trigger. I hit it right where Rick showed me to hit it and down it went. After a few cocky statements between us and a couple of high five's, Rick went out to make sure it was dead. One shot!! Yippee!!! I got the Bear!! It wasn't a monster, but it sure is a nice looking one. I can't wait to get the mount back and try the different things I'm having done with the meat.

One of the best parts of this whole experience is getting to know the awesome man we have as our Chief of Police here in Cumberland. I have known Rick for many years. But never on the level I do now. What a patient, caring, funny, knowledgeable guy. The time and energy he put in this experience for me was second to none. I am so lucky. Thank you, thank you, thank you Rick.

I also want to thank Brad Larson for or all the baiting and your help the night I got the bear. I really appreciate your being part of this craziness.

Thank you Mr. Chuck for letting us hunt on your land. It's beautiful out there.

Thank you Kim (Rick's wife) for the many hours you gave up with your hubby so he could hang out with this klutzy old grandma.

Thank you Kylah (Rick's daughter). Thank you for letting me use your gun. It sure did the job.

What a great adventure!

Rick, Brad and Deb at the end of a true adventure!

Pumpkin Giveaway!

Miss Cumberland Second Princess Ciara LeBow and Junior Princess Ryssa Standaert were on hand to help pass out pumpkins at the Chamber of Commerce annual pumpkin giveaway last Saturday in front of the Chamber office.

Lots and lots of kids stopped by the Thomas St. Angelo Public Library to decorate pumpkins Saturday morning. The cool rainy weather didn't dampen spirits inside the toasty library.

Washburn County becomes a National Weather Service StormReady county

National Weather Service officials have recognized Washburn County, as a StormReady® county. The StormReady program helps community leaders and residents better prepare for hazardous weather and flooding. StormReady counties have made a strong commitment to implement the infrastructure and systems needed to save lives and protect property when severe weather strikes.

On October 17th, Carol Christenson of the National Weather Service forecast office in Duluth, MN, presented county officials with a certificate and a special StormReady® sign during the county board meeting in Shell Lake.

“Washburn County has every reason to be proud of this accomplishment. Earning StormReady recognition indicates that Washburn County has done everything possible to improve emergency communications, first responder action and citizen preparedness in the event of a natural disaster. By becoming StormReady, Washburn County helps the National Weather Service in its goal for our country to become a Weather Ready Nation,” said Christenson.

Carol Buck, emergency management director for Washburn County, worked closely with Christenson to ensure the county met StormReady guidelines. During the recognition ceremony before the county board, Buck acknowledged that it was a team effort with emergency responders, amateur radio, Skywarn spotters and local and county law enforcement and others involved in helping the county become Storm-

Ready.

The nationwide community preparedness program, founded in 1999, is a grassroots approach to preparing for natural hazards. Today, more than 2,200 U.S. communities are better prepared for severe weather through the StormReady program.

To be recognized as StormReady, a county must maintain a 24-hour warning point and emergency operations center; have more than one way to receive National Weather Service warnings and to alert the public; be able to monitor local weather and flood conditions; conduct community preparedness programs; and ensure hazardous weather and flooding are addressed in formal emergency management plans, which include training SKYWARN® weather spotters and holding emergency exercises.

The StormReady program is part of the National Weather Service’s working partnership with the International Association of Emergency Managers and the National Emergency Management Association. The StormReady recognition is valid for three years and can be renewed.

The National Weather Service’s Duluth, MN Forecast Office is the primary source of weather data, forecasts and warnings for 10 counties in northeast Minnesota, 8 counties in northwest Wisconsin and western Lake Superior. Join us on Facebook and Twitter. Working with partners, the National Weather Service is building a Weather-Ready Nation to support community resilience in the face of increasing vulnerability to extreme weather.
