Sewer Bill Changes

At the City Council meeting on September 4, 2018, one of the agenda items was to change the way that Public Fire Protection is being charged. Past practice has been that this charge is recovered by placing it on the tax levy every year. This means that everyone that gets a tax bill is paying a portion of this charge. At the Council meeting, a motion was made and approved to move this charge to the Utility Bills, meaning that everyone that pays a water bill, will get this new charge as of January 1. So what is the Public Fire Protection Charge? This is a charge that is required by State law, and regulated by the State of Wisconsin's Public Service Commission. This is a cost collected for the benefits of municipal water utilities for the express purpose of recovering the costs to supply proper volume and pressure of water for fighting fires. This cost has nothing to do with the Fire Department. The Public Fire Protection Charge covers the costs of the Water Utility to be able to deliver water for fighting fires and is completely independent of any expenses that the Fire Department may incur in order to use the water to fight the fire. Currently, all the information is sent into the PSC to determine the rates to all users of City water. I will continue to publish more questions and answers related to this a few times a month so that hopefully all questions will be answered before this charge starts. If you have questions, feel free to contact me at clerk@city-ofcumberland.net or at 715-822-2752.

Northwoods Notebook: Mary Zappa's hundred years in Cumberland

by Larry Werner

In this space last week, I talked about the folks who come back to Cumberland after having grown up here, then left to seek their fortunes in the Twin Cities or elsewhere.

Then there are those who never left.

But few have done what Mary Zappa has: spend a century living in the Island City.

moved away. In Delores's case, she has spent most of her life in California.

A couple years ago, Delores called me to say I'm lucky to have discovered this little town. She misses it terribly and hasn't been back since before the death of the man who moved her to California.

Delores still gets the Making our schools safer

Meet Cumberland's new Police/School Liaison Officer

With the start of the new school year, the Cumberland School District and the City of Cumberland are pleased to announce that the newly created position of Police School Liaison Officer (PLSO) has been filled by officer Melissa A. Damrell.

The PLSO position is a 70/30 split partnership. 40 hours a week, from 7:30 am -3:30 pm Monday-Friday during the school year, Melissa can be found at one of the schools. Superintendent Rose did say that "There will be flexibility with hours depending on activity schedule and district needs." During the Summer months, Officer Damrell will take on regular duties for the Cumberland Police Department.

Rose also stated that the District is "excited about this position." He explained that the position is an educational resource that can enhance school-wide safety with an emphasis on proactive, preventative measures. "The PLSO will play an active role in facilitating and enhancing school safety for our students, staff, and community" he added.

The Cumberland School District received School Safety Grant funding over the summer. While Grant dollars could not be used for School Resource Officer, they were used to address the following:

- New door locks (exterior & Interior)
- Hardening of school entryways (shatter proof film)
- Improving screening entryways through access control door entry system
- Increased security camera coverage district wide
- Training for staff in Ad-

Public hearings, hydrant charges and Cumberland Cemetery on agenda at September City Council meeting

The Cumberland City Council met for their regular September meeting on Tuesday, September 4th at 7 p.m..

Their agenda for the evening included three public hearings, Ordinance changes, and two resolutions accepting annexation of property.

Since there were three public hearings scheduled with a comment period for each issue, Mayor Skinner requested that the general public comment period be restricted to items that aren't appearing later on the docket. He also explained that, due to procedural constraints, the council would not be able to directly answer any one's questions at that time. The first to speak was Jim Queenan, who lives on Hines Lakeview Drive. He was upset that a letter he had dropped off before last month's council meeting had not been read into the record. He also felt he received inadequate response to a number of correspondences he had sent to City Hall regarding the issue of the proposed curb and gutter sidewalk work along Hines Lakeview Drive. The mayor reminded Queenan that the council would not be able to directly answer any questions at that time. He then offered Queenan, and anyone else at the meeting, the invitation to make an appointment for a one-on-one consultation with himself and whatever member of the City staff who can best address their specific concerns.

The first public hearing held was on the issue of the Special Assessments for the public improvements being conducted on Wickre Dr., Forest Path and Woodland Trail. Carl Preshoeldt, a resident of Wickre Dr., asked that the council consider holding off actually levying the assessment until the project is finished, and not before. He made this request because of the delays that of been happening on the project because ago. Delores, who was a Zappa, said I have to meet Mary Zappa, who has never left this place.

In fact, Mary's grandfather moved here from Italy and bought land on Highway T that Mary's parents farmed, raising rutabagas and other vegetables. At Mary's kitchen table, in Cumberland's Mill Hill neighborhood, over some coffee and fresh-baked banana bread, I listened to stories of her growing up on the rutabaga farm, meeting husband Tony at a dance hall in Richardson and moving to a house Tony built in 1953.

Mary talked about her childhood on the farm, about walking from the farm along railroad tracks to St. Anthony for Sunday mass, about piling into the horse-drawn buggy for a trip to Donatelle's grocery store. She talked about working at "the box factory" before she was married, about working at 3M, where the box factory once stood, after her two children were grown, and about all of her 13 siblings leaving Cumberland after high school.

"I was the only one who stayed," she said. "We liked it here so we stayed. Everything about Cumberland is home."

She likes the salad bar at the Corner Bar, dinner at Bistro 63, getting her hair done at Color Me Red Salon and, of course, getting her meat at Louie's. But she did have to talk to Louie about his Italian sausage several years ago.

"I recall when Louie first came to Cumberland," she said. "He was making Italian sausage and putting fennel in it. I said, 'Louie, I wish you wouldn't put all that fennel in it.' He said, 'I'm from Chicago and we put fennel in Italian sausage.' I said, 'I'm Italian and we don't put fennel in it.'"

She said he cut way back on the fennel after that scolding.

Mary says she has no secret for her long life and good health. Until her 99th birthday, she said, she was very healthy. Then she fell in her garage, breaking her hip. She had to give up driving after the hip surgeries, which put her in the hospital for 13 weeks. With help from her two children, Dennis and Joyce, she is able to stay in the house she and Tony shared until he died 15 years ago.

She was able to celebrate her birthday at St. Anthony's in August and might be facing more surgery. But she is determined she'll be behind the wheel again after that, tooling around the town she loves, where she's been fortunate to live, for the last hundred years.

WI State Patrol September Law of the Month: Start of another School Year means drivers must watch for students & buses

School bus, pedestrian and bicyclist laws

As students across Wisconsin head back to school, motorists are being reminded to keep a sharp eye out for students, school buses and crossing guards. The State Patrols September Law of the Month details state laws designed to protect students as they head to and from school activities.

"Children are easily distracted and don't always think about their own safety, requiring drivers to be extra alert and cautious," said Captain Nick Wanink of the Wisconsin State Patrol Northwest Region. Motorists should be watchful for school buses loading and unloading passengers, and for children who are walking or biking.

School Bus Laws: Wisconsin law (346.48) requires drivers to stop at least 20 feet from a stopped school bus that has its red warning lights flashing. The law applies when approaching a school bus from either direction.

The only exception is if you are traveling on the other side of a divided roadway separated by a median or other physical barrier.

When passed illegally, school bus drivers are authorized to report violations to law enforcement. A citation for failure to stop for a school bus costs $326 and four demerit points.

All Wisconsin school buses built on or after January 1, 2005, must now be fitted with amber lights.

When flashing, the amber lights mean drivers should slow down because the red flashing lights will soon be activated and the bus is about to stop. Drivers can carefully pass a school bus with amber lights activated, but should do so cautiously.

Pedestrian Laws: State law requires drivers to yield to pedestrians:

- Who have started crossing an intersection or crosswalk on a walk signal or on a green light if there is no walk signal;
- Who are crossing the road within a marked or unmarked crosswalk at an intersection where there are no traffic lights or control signals; and
- Whenever directed to stop by a school crossing guard (346.46 (2m)). Like bus drivers, crossing guards have the authority to report violations to law enforcement.

Depending on the specific violation, drivers who fail to yield the right of way to pedestrians that are legally crossing a roadway can receive a citation ranging from $175 to $326.

Bicycling Laws: When passing a bicyclist traveling in the same direction, motor Elementary School students wave to the volunteers who helped make the new school playground equipment a possibility at last Friday afternoon's ribbon cutting ceremony.

EYE FACTS from JACOBSON ADVANCED EYE CARE

What Are The First Signs of Cataracts & Glaucoma?
GLAUCOMA -- Unfortunately, the most common form of glaucoma has no warning signs. The effect is so gradual that you may not notice a change in vision until the condition is at an advanced stage. Vision loss due to glaucoma cannot be recovered. This is why it's so important to have regular eye exams that include measurements of your eye pressure. If glaucoma is recognized early, vision loss may be slowed or prevented. If you have the condition, you'll generally need treatment for the rest of your life. The signs and symptoms of glaucoma vary depending on the type and stage of your condition. Call our office immediately should you experience any of the following: patchy blind spots in your side or central vision; tunnel vision; severe headache, eye pain, nausea and vomiting, blurred vision, halos around light or eye redness.
CATARACTS -- A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of your eye and is a bit like looking through a frosty or fogged-up window. If impaired vision interferes with your usual activities, you might need cataract surgery which is generally a safe, effective procedure. Let us know if you experience: clouded, blurred or dim vision; night vision difficulty; light sensitivity; halos around lights; color fading or double vision in a single eye.

Regular eye health examinations can help detect glaucoma, cataracts and other eye or physical problems. Make your appointment today.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

It has been a most interesting week! We saw the publishing of Washington Post reporter Bob Woodward's book, the publishing of an anonymous editorial in the NY Times, the Senate Supreme Court nominee hearings, and the White House reaction to all of the above. None of these happenings paint our country in a favorable way. It appears as though the White House is one giant sandbox. The Sunday newspapers however, gave me an optimistic story that has made my outlook improve. The headline read - "Young adults energize Minn. voter registration." The story goes on to detail how young people - ages 18-30 - are leading the way in registering to vote. Thus far through September, Minnesota has had over 52,000 new people registered to vote with over 65% between the ages of 18 and 30. It must be that the "circus" in Washington has had some effect on young people. It has in Minnesota and I hope it has in Wisconsin. I am optimistic that these young folks will get out on election day and will vote. Which ever side you favor, it is important to vote. As former President Obama pointed out - "elections have consequences."

It will soon be my favorite time of the year. The fall colors will once again bless Cumberland. There are a number of great car rides you can take to see the very best of our area. I love to drive around the lakes to see all of the colors.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

P.S. Long married couples have a unique way of communicating. A young woman heard her aunt and uncle one day: "What are you looking for in that closet" her aunt asked. "Nothing he replied." "Well, its not in there. Look under the bed."

The Wisconsin National Guard's 32nd Infantry Brigade Combat Team and six other units have been ordered to active duty, marking the largest operational deployment of Wisconsin National Guard forces since World War II. The mobilization orders given this week will call up as many as 3,500 soldiers for an active duty mission in Iraq. The soldiers will spend about ten months in Iraq. Being mobilized are Company B, 1st Battalion, 128th Infantry, New Richmond, Det. 1, Company B, 1st Battalion, 128th Infantry, Rice Lake, 829th Engineering Company (Vertical) Chippewa Falls and Det. 2 829th Engineering Company, Ashland.

Is Wisconsin drawing more millennials? Some signs point that way

MADISON, Wis. – One of Wisconsin's lagging economic indicators over decades has been "net migration," the term for describing the numerical difference between how many people move from the state versus those who move in.

There are indications that Wisconsin may be reversing the slide at precisely the right time, given its aging workforce and the national competition for talent.

Wisconsin gained nearly 6,200 more people than it lost in 2017, according to U.S. Census Bureau figures that examined both domestic and international migration. That followed a six-year span in which Wisconsin lost an average of 4,000 more people than it gained each year to migration.

It's not a recent story. Wisconsin has been a net migration loser in most post-World War II decades, the data shows. The principal reason is not that Wisconsin suffers from excessive "brain drain," but that has fared worse over time than the nation's high-growth states in terms of "brain gain," meaning attracting people from elsewhere.

One year does not make a trend, but there are anecdotal reasons to suggest a shift is occurring.

A recent study by the National Association of Realtors examined which U.S. communities were leaders in the percentage of millennials (born between 1981 and 1996) who bought homes in about 200 of the nation's largest housing markets within a one-year period. Appleton in Wisconsin's Fox Valley was No. 1, with 57 percent of its mortgages issued to millennials.

The report cited ready-to-move-in houses, cost, entertainment and arts options, schools and other quality of life advantages as working in Appleton's favor. More generally, it noted that millennials bought 36 percent of the nation's housing stock last year, making them the largest single demographic group to buy homes.

"They may be buying homes in big numbers, but they can't afford to do so in the nation's largest, most expensive cities," the report noted. "Instead, many younger buyers are opting for more affordable – an unexpected – parts of the country."

Appleton Mayor Tim Hanna viewed the report as an indicator that "great things are happening" in his city.

"The report seems to verify what I've been hearing anecdotally: People are choosing to move from Appleton from other places around the country," Hanna said. "It's what we have been trying to accomplish for many years. Maybe our hard work is finally starting to pay off."

Counting Appleton, six of the top 10 millennial housing markets in percentage terms were Midwest cities. Others were Des Moines, Iowa; Duluth, Minn.; Kalamazoo, Mich.; Lincoln, Neb.; and Evansville, Ind.

While not as scientific as census data, the North American Moving Services report has charted household moves for years. It showed Wisconsin as a "balanced" state in terms of in-bound and out-bound household moves in 2017, a change from recent years. Illinois, Connecticut, New Jersey, California and Michigan were the nation's top out-bound states while Arizona, Idaho, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee led the in-bound states.

What's working? That's a bit of a guessing game, although it may come down to efforts by individual cities or regions to stand out.

A prime example is the "Make it in Milwaukee" project that is run through NEWaukee, a nine-year-old group that uses social gatherings and other events to portray the city as an exciting place for millennials to live, work and play.

NEWaukee's Chief Idea Officer, Jeremy Fojut, and his team developed a high-touch way of helping regional companies find talent that goes far beyond typical head-hunting tours. It introduces college students, predominantly from outside Wisconsin, to what Fojut calls "the real Milwaukee," helping them see the city through the lens of people who live there.

The success rate so far has been impressive. At Advocate Aurora, to cite one corporate example, about 70 percent of the people who have taken part in a three-day "Make it in Milwaukee" immersion have received job offers. All of them have accepted.

The nationwide competition for talent is real and the winners may be those states, regions and cities that make a compelling case that combines economic opportunity and quality of life. Wisconsin can make the case it has both.

Monte J. Becker, 53, of Almena has been charged with false imprisonment, domestic abuse, disorderly conduct, domestic abuse, and operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 4th.

The criminal complaint states that on August 29, 2018, at approximately 11:48 p.m. Barron County Deputy Cook was advised by Dispatch they had received a call from a frantic female, who had been at her residence with Monte Becker, and he had strangled her, threatened to kill her and had since left in a white Chevy Impala. While in route to that location, Deputy Cook heard via police radio that Deputy Allen had initiated a traffic stop on a vehicle matching the description given by dispatch.

Upon arrival at the residence, Deputy Cook met with the caller, who said that approximately 45 minutes earlier she had been asleep alone in her home with the door unlocked. She said she was awakened by Becker, violently shaking her bed and headboard, screaming at her and holding her down by her throat and hair. She said Becker repeatedly screamed that he was going to kill her and that he was going to kill her entire family. The female subject said Becker specifically named her son. She said he was intoxicated

The results of a one vehicle crash on Country Rd. A near Dallas. The Driver was airlifted with critical injuries.

Alcohol believed to be a factor in one vehicle crash

On September 8, 2018, at 2:00 a.m., the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a call of a one vehicle crash on County Road A and 18 1/2 Street, east of Dallas.

Deputies from the Barron

County Sheriff's Department along with the Dallas Fire Department, Chetek Fire Department, Chetek Ambulance and Life Link Helicopter all responded to the scene.

Preliminary investigation shows the operator of vehicle Phillip Kurtz, 28 of Dallas, was westbound on County Road A when his vehicle went onto the shoulder. He then over corrected which caused his vehicle to go into the eastbound lanes and off the road striking some trees. Kurtz was ejected from the vehicle and was airlifter to Mayo Eau Claire where he was listed in critical condition.

Alcohol appears to be factor in this crash.

and slurring his speech. She said he spit on her face, and called her ugly and other demeaning things. He then punched the bed next to her head numerous times and repeatedly asked her if she was scared yet. She said he would leave her bedside for a few moments and would appear to get himself worked up and return, hold her down, yell, threaten to kill her, and punch the bed next to her head and so on over the course of about four minutes. She said that while he held her down, she tried to move away, however she was unable to do so. She said that if he had struck her with one of the blows to the bed near her head, she believes she would have been seriously injured. She said he also threatened to burn down her deceased mom and dads home which is located on 5 1/4 Street in Cumberland.

She said Becker demanded she return a vacuum cleaner and some plastic storage boxes to him. She explained that the vacuum cleaner was a small Dirt Devil, or something similar which she had since given to Goodwill. Becker demanded she return it to him by the end of the month or she would be dead.

She stated she knows Becker because he is a close relative of her now deceased husband. She said that her husband died in November 2014, at the time of his death he had been running a business selling and installing flagpoles. She said she continued on with the business and took Becker on to assist her with this. She said she and Becker had a plutonic friendship and that he had on occasion stayed with her on and off sometimes for a couple of weeks at a time. She said she did not consent to him entering her residence or having physical contact with her. She elected to have the 72 hour no contact provision enforced.

Deputy Allen heard Dispatch advising of the call. He reported that he was in the Almena area when this call was given out over the radio. He began traveling west from Almena towards the incident address on 12th Street. He observed a vehicle matching the description of the white Chevy Impala traveling westbound in the area of Poskin.

Deputy Allen turned around and conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle. Deputy Allen recognized the occupant and driver of the vehicle from the in-house record photos to be Monte Becker. Deputy Allen questioned Becker about the reported incident at the females residence. He said they had been living together for three and one-half to four years. While speaking to him, Deputy Allen detected a strong odor of intoxicants coming from his person. He observed his eyes were glossy and bloodshot and his speech appeared to be slow and slurred. Deputy Allen asked him if he had consumed any alcohol and Becker said three beers, maybe four.

Deputy Allen asked him to perform field sobriety tests, which he agreed to do, but which he failed to perform satisfactorily. Becker's attitude began to change to an uncooperative mood, at which point he ceased field sobriety testing. Deputy Allen administered a preliminary breath test and the reported value was .169. He was placed under arrest.

Becker withdrew his implied consent for a blood draw, based on Deputy Allen's probable cause for believing he was operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Deputy Allen completed a search warrant which was signed by the on-call judge. Deputy Allen then transported him to Barron Hospital where a sample of Beckers blood was collected.

A check with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation revealed that Becker had three prior OWI convictions on his record, one in May, 1989, February, 1994 and December, 2002.

If convicted Becker may be fined not more than $21,000, or imprisoned for not more than 12 years and 90 days, or both. A domestic abuse assessment may also be imposed. If convicted his driver's license may also be revoked for not less than two years or more than three years. His preliminary hearing will be held September 14, 2018.

Dante J. Saal, 17, of Chetek, has been charged with two counts of operating a motor vehicle without the owners consent, criminal damage to property, and felony bail jumping (failure to comply with the terms of his bond by committing a new crime).

The criminal complaint states that on August 29, 2018, at approximately 5:50 a.m. Cumberland Police Officer Chafer was walking to his squad car from his residence, when he noticed a vehicle pull up and park behind his squad. Officer Chafer made contact with the driver, who wanted to report that his neighbor's vehicle had been stolen over the night. He said this happened on County Highway G. Officer Chafer asked how he knew the vehicle was stolen, and he stated the subject left a van behind and took his neighbor's vehicle. He added the vehicle which was left behind was left at 90 Highway G and the vehicle was taken from 92 Highway G.

He stated that around 1:00 a.m. he heard a vehicle driving slowly by his residence. He said he saw a vehicle parked in his yard, and he shined a flashlight on the subject, who then took off in his neighbor's vehicle. He provided Officer Chafer with the license plate for the vehicle, which was left be-

Olson Has Big Night; Beavers All Over Bears

The Cumberland Beavers evened their record at 2 - 2 with a convincing 47 - 6 win Friday night in Barron. Cumberland would strike first when quarterback Reid Olson scored on a 27 yard run to put the red and white up 6 - 0. Olson would do the honors again, this time from one yard out for a 12 - 0 lead with two minutes remaining in the first quarter - both extra point attempts were no good.

The Beavers would move out to a big lead with the two more second quarter scores. Olson hit Jack Martens for one score and ran in another for a 26 - 0 lead. Barron would score their lone points of the night when Warren Williams hit Will Waldofski for a 29 yard score with 1:40 remaining in the first half.

The Beavers came out in the second half and put the game away when Olson connected with Andrew Barnes for a 69 yard touchdown pass. A little over three minutes later Olson ran into the end zone from nine yards out for a 40 - 6 lead. Jack Martens capped the scoring with a three yard run early in the 4th quarter for the 47 - 6 final score.

On the night quarterback Reid Olson had a huge game throwing for 208 yards and a pair of scores. He also led the team in rushing with 128 yards and four scores on just 11 attempts for a whopping 11.6 yard average.

Jack Martens was close behind with 110 yards rushing and one score on 13 attempts. Andrew Barnes led the Beavers with 67 yards receiving and one touchdown.

Adam Nyhus hauled in two passes for 66 yards and Martens three for 55 yards and a score. Adam Nyhus, Reid Olson, Tristan Neitzel, Carter Bickle, and Milan Monchilovich led a stingy defence which allowed just 133 yards of total offense for the Bears, including only 21 yards rushing. Andrew Barnes had two interceptions and Paul Runstrom also picked off a Barron pass.

Coach Cory Berghammer stated "some kids really stepped up tonight playing without leading rusher Riley Bodsberg. We needed to play a great game defensively and I thought we played well on that side of the ball. I was really impressed with our senior leadership and the way some of the young guys made plays tonight."

Teal on the Mississippi

Hello friends,
Wisconsin's seven day teal season opens on September 1st each year and I use it as an excuse to get myself and my golden retrievers Fire, and her pup Ruby ready for the upcoming waterfowl season. This past weekend I camped by boat on the Mississippi River near Ferryville on an island that I first camped on 46-years ago.

Friday, August 31st
High 82, low 55
I am pulling my War Eagle down highway 35 just south of Lacrosse, and there are two things on my mind. The devastation caused by the recent flooding and the fact that it is after 5:00 p.m. and I have a long ways to go before my boat is launched, and I have found a place to camp and hunt for the sunrise opener.

As usual that all worked out and the task at hand went quicker than normal because I put my canoe inside of the War Eagle which made it so I could do the three-mile boat ride a lot faster.

Nothing mattered once I arrived at an island that I first saw back in the early 70s, especially when a flock of teal flew by as I idled into my campsite.

So as is the norm these days rain was forecast, plus it was going to get dark in an hour. I unloaded my gear and got the pups in the canoe and went scouting, came back, built camp in the dark and then had a beer and was thoroughly happy with my situation.

Saturday, September 1st
High 79, low 58

The crazy part of this trip started when a very powerful storm hit at 3:45 a.m. with lots of wind, rain, lightning, and thunder. I had planned on getting up at 4:30 but was not canoeing or hunting in that kind of storm. About 5:00 I noticed that I was getting wet and could not figure out why, at that time both dogs also began sleeping on top of me.

When I got up I realized that I had not properly closed one of the doors on my tent and I had a good five-gallons of water on my floor.

The storm stopped about 9:00 and I was excited to go hunting, but to be honest I did not figure that I would get much until the evening hunt. I paddled out to where I wanted to hunt and I put out a dozen duck decoys a half dozen geese (that opened today as well) and an electronic duck decoy.

I hid my canoe in some weeds and had action in the form of lots of wood ducks coming into the decoys, especially the robo duck. I was really surprised when I looked up and there were two teal coming my way and I dusted one which required a long, but successful retrieve from Ruby.

The limit of teal is six per day and I figured I would have my limit right away and go fishing. It was at this time that I kind of started having more bad luck. First my camera battery was dead, so I paddled back to camp and plugged it into the boat.

When I started hunting again I had tons of woodies coming in and then my robo duck had his left wing fall off, and then his battery went dead, then there were zero teal.

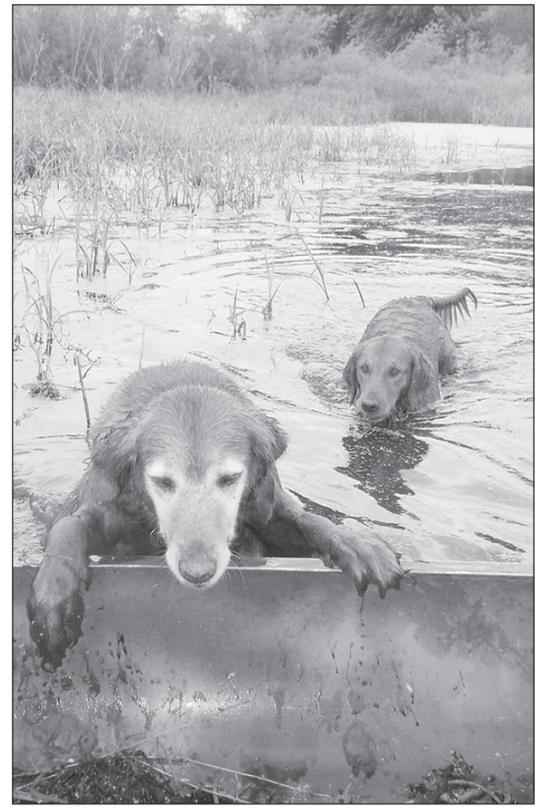

In reality I did not care because I had a duck and all I did was look around and put myself back into each and everyone of the last 47 hunting seasons that I have sat here.

The last two hours of the day it was gorgeous out but there just were not any teal, and the entire day I did not see one other hunter.

Tonight back at camp I drank a very tasty beer, and cooked a steak and fried potatoes, naturally it rained again and the following morning I went on another hunt.

I only had two shooting opportunities and one of them I hit a teal, which three hours later Fire would find 500-yards from where I dropped it.

When I was trailering my boat at Ferryville in what would be in another downpour, I had an excellent conversation with two conservation wardens and then Ruby got lucky and met her husband to be. A fella pulled in that had a beautiful golden retriever in the backseat of his truck.

An old dog getting into a canoe gets to be harder and harder each year.

This dog has the pedigree, looks, hunting back ground and a master that I can work with. Ruby is due to be in heat any day and perhaps Selina's wish of having pups her senior year in high school will come true. Get a hold of me if you are interested, even if you called in the past!

Soccer Team Grabs First win

The Cumberland boys soccer team picked up their first win of the season when they downed the Osceola Chieftains 5 - 2 last Thursday night at Endeavor Stadium.

Five different players scored for the Beavers. Kevin Koser opened the scoring for the home team late in the first half. Osceola would tie the score early in the second half only to see the Beaver's answer back only 15 seconds later. Tanner Johnson set up Chase Lussier for the go ahead goal. Johnson then scored on a great mid-field pass from Matthew Friess. A pair of productive corner kicks from Kevin Koser set up Andrew Cunningham, as well as a header from Ethan Sandman. A late penalty kick gave the Chieftains their second goal.

Coach BJ Brenna stated "We are finding our identity and this match shows what we are capable of. Our defensive chemistry is improving after moving some players around. We are pleased with our first win but we know we have more to do."

Cumberland hosted Unity/St. Croix Falls on Tuesday night and travels to Somerset on Thursday.

BARRONETT NEWS

By Judy Pieper

COLORFEST IS HERE!! It starts at 5:00 p.m. this Friday, September 14th, at Barronett Community Center with a spaghetti supper prepared by members of the Civic Club. There will be meat raffles, hay rides and cake walks that evening.

On Saturday the festivities start at 9:00 a.m. with a craft fair and farmers market and men's slow-pitch softball tournament. Women of Barronett Lutheran will also be hosting the pie and ice cream social, naturally. At noon the Dairyland garden tractor pull will start, and the Barronett brick scavenger hunt starts. There will be kids' games and a bean bag tournament. And, there will be more hayrides.

On Sunday please join us at the community center for Barronett Lutheran church service at 9:00 a.m. We will be singing all the old familiar hymns, and, if you don't already have a home church, this would be a perfect time to visit us and see how friendly and welcoming we are. After the church service we will be serving fresh home-made cinnamon rolls.

The softball tournament continues, of course. At 11:30 we will have our annual Kiddy Parade. If you have children who would like to be in the parade, please bring them by. They can dress up as their favorite characters if they would like to, ride bikes, pull wagons, hold hands with their little brothers and sisters - anything. Just bring them over and let them march in our parade, they will have a blast waving to the crowd.

The Barronett's best baked potato bar will be held from 11:30 to 2:00. At noon you can register for the produce and flower competition. And, the kids' pedal tractor pull starts at noon.

Bring in your best tasting concoction along with your hopes and dreams of success to Barronett's best bakers contest at 1:00. This year the recipe must include oranges. Bring the recipe with you, but don't put your name on it because we don't want the judges knowing who brought what, if you know what I mean. Only one entry per person, please.

At 2:00 there will be a wine and cheese tasting event. There will be more hayrides starting at 3:30. A keg toss competition starts at 4:00. And there will be music by Peichel and Westin from 3:00 to 5:00. And, the big event - the major raffle drawing when the softball tournament is ended.

Oh, one other thing, the dunk tank will be going on Saturday and Sunday afternoon. I'm not sure who has volunteered to sit there while people throw balls at them, but it will be fun to find out. That's one of my favorite games at the Color Fest.

I hope you see something there that you can't resist. Join us for a fun filled, family weekend.

Okay, on to other things. Town of Lakeland has started breaking ground for their new town shop. It will be located at the end of 29 3/4 Avenue, on the old Albee place. There has been lots of activity up there this past week, mowing down weeds, putting up barriers and dozing to get everything level. A big "thank you" goes out to Mark Erickson for very generously granting the township the use of his bulldozer over the weekend. He even took time out of his busy schedule to deliver it to the site. Thanks, Mark. It was greatly appreciated.

I had a chance to visit with Wayne Boyd for a few minutes this past weekend. He and Bobby have completed their move to South Carolina and he said they are very happy in their new home. He said that they are far enough west of the Atlantic that they don't have to worry too much about hurricanes, but that they do get some of the wind now and again. I imagine they will be back in our area to visit once in a while - No one can leave beautiful Barronett forever.

Terry Goodrich, aka the friendly neighborhood moocher, called Sunday evening. He will be one of the judges at the baking contest, and he had just found out that the ingredient for this year's contest is oranges. That reminded him of a delightful orange pie that Maurine McClain had made for him a few years back. He said it was made like a lemon meringue pie but was even better.

And, by the way, Terry wants to buy a chest freezer. He must think he's going to get so many pies that he won't be able to eat them all at once. He is serious about the freezer - he said it should be at least a 15 cubic foot one.

I have some advice/a warning for you - do not go to Terry's house unannounced. I have been informed that he likes to take outdoor showers, but every time he does that his dogs run away and his horse faints. Maybe the SPCA can find a regulation requiring him to take only indoor showers for the sake of his poor animals.

Aaron, Erin, Miles and Charlie Lehmann hosted a fish fry at their home this past weekend in honor of Heidi Diesterhaft and her son, DaShaun's, birthdays. Other guests included Kerry Diesterhaft, Gary and Kathy Gannon, Anita and Cheryl Lehmann and Mike, Ashley, Will and JoJo Knutson. The fish was caught in Canada earlier this summer and was delicious. Everyone had plenty of great food and lots of fun conversations.

That's about all I know from Barronett this week. I certainly hope that you will join us for all the fun at the Color Fest this weekend. See you there.

Learning About Faith
By: Pastor Tim Schmidt
First Lutheran Church, Cumberland

"We will not hide from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the LORD"

Psalm 78: 4

Back to school time! We all know that is the case...kids are getting up early, buses are on the roads and classrooms are full. And this back to school time gives us a chance to think a little bit as well about learning about our faith.

And for many of us, we were blessed to do that as children. We were brought to Sunday School and to Bible School. We read Bible stories together at home and prayed at meals and at bedtime. It was a solid foundation that was established in us by our parents, grandparents and other caring adults in our lives. And I believe that we would want that same solid foundation for the next generation as well.

So in this back to school season I encourage you to see that the children in your lives are blessed to receive some religious education. If you don't have one, find a local church for Sunday School, a Wednesday program or other learning opportunities for children and youth.

And even if you are only a child at heart, there are still many great ways to learn about your faith. Read your Bible, use a daily devotional, join a Bible study group at your church. Learning is a life-long endeavor for us all- and that is true with our faith as well.

So Gods blessings to our students and teachers and schools as they begin a new year, and blessings to us all as we continue to learn and grow in faith.

Local Singer set to take the Big Stage on NBC's The Voice

Barron Singer/Songwriter Chris Kroeze to appear on Season 15

Chris Kroeze is set to take the biggest stage of his career when the four-time Emmy Award-winning singing competition THE VOICE returns to NBC on September 24.

Kroeze's musical career has been on the rise over the past few years, performing over 200 shows annually in four countries. He has shared the stage with national acts including Joe Nichols, Chris Cagle, Travis Tritt, and Montgomery Gentry. An avid supporter of the military, Kroeze takes multiple trips to the Middle East each year to support the men and women serving our country overseas through music.

"I couldn't be more excited for the opportunity to perform on THE VOICE," Kroeze said, who credits his family and community for his career. "It's the people here in the Midwest that have made this a reality for me and my family. They have supported me, believed in me, and allowed me the opportunity to focus on my music -- I've been able to make a career doing what I love because of our community. When I take the stage, I'll be competing for all the people in small towns that pull together to make big things happen."

Born and raised in Barron, Kroeze discovered his passion for music at an early age. His Dad surprised him with a small acoustic guitar for his sixth birthday, and he hasn't put it down since.

"He literally wouldn't put it down. He'd carry it around the house all day," Chris' father, Todd Kroeze, said. "There were so many nights when I'd go down to tuck the kids in for bed, only to find Chris having fallen asleep, his guitar still clutched tightly in his hands."

In 2016, Kroeze traveled to Nashville to record his hit song "Four Letter Words" at the famous Station West studio.

"I've seen firsthand what a small town can do when it comes together," he said. "The opportunity to go to Nashville was a big one, but money was tight and it wasn't looking like I could make the trip happen. Word got out, and a fundraiser was thrown. Every penny raised made 'Four Letter Words' a reality. That trip changed my life, and it would not have been possible without the support of my small town."

Chris Kroeze lives in Northwest Wisconsin with his wife Mara, daughter Bella, and son Finely. Check out www.chriskroezemusic.com for more info and hind which was registered to Louies Finer Meats. He identified his neighbor as M. S.

Officer Chafer made contact with Louis Muench, who stated that nobody should have been driving the van, and that it was used for driving his wheelchair-bound brother around for appointments and is usually kept on Sylvan Street. Officer Chafer reports the vehicle was totaled as the passenger side door was ripped off, and the HandyLift/wheelchair lift was busted and pulled from where it was mounted. It appeared to Officer Chafer that the vehicle had hit something, causing the door to be ripped off.

At 8:00 a.m. that day Officer Chafer received a text message from N. V., who stated that M. L. was at his apartment and she had informed him that windows and the door had been busted. He reported M. L. said that Dante and J. G. were the ones who damaged the property.

Officer Chafer responded to N. V.'s residence and made contact with him. He said that his window was busted out and that the door was broken off at the hinges. Officer Chafer went to the busted out window and yelled for M. L. and could hear people inside the building.

Officer Chafer removed a blanket, presumably covering the window and he could see individuals he recognized as M. L. and J. G. inside the building. M. L. opened the door and let him in, and he noticed blood on the floor.

He asked M. L. if anyone else was in the residence and she stated that Dante was. Officer Chafer made contact with Dante.

M. L. appeared to be very intoxicated and J. G. also appeared to be under the influence. Officer Chafer administered preliminary breath tests to the subjects and M. L. blew a .206, George a .68 and Dante .000

Officer Chafer asked M. L. about the blood and she said that J. G. stabbed himself because he was mad at her.

Officer Chafer asked her what happened and she said Dante broke the window and door. She said Dante freaked out the previous night and broke the door and window when she would not let him in. She said the previous night they were out riding around with Dante and they smoked some meth. She said they had been driving around in a minivan with a ramp for wheelchairs in it. She appeared to be afraid to provide information and would not say anything if Dante could hear.

Officer Chafer spoke to J. G. about what happened the previous night and he said that Dante came over and they went for a ride in a van with a wheelchair ramp.

Officer Chafer spoke with Dante and asked him what had happened. He said he took the van from down the street and then picked up the other two and went out driving around. He said that M. L. and J.G. were fighting and he left them out.

When Officer Chafer asked about the damage to the van's door, Dante said the damage occurred out by County Line bar. He said he hit something and the door came off. He also admitted he took a car from out on County Highway G. He said the second vehicle he took was parked on Superior Avenue in Cumberland.

Officer Chafer confirmed with Bill Muench that no one had permission to take the van, and Dante was taken into custody.

Officer Chafer then spoke with the apartment owner, who stated he did not give anyone permission damage his property. He estimated the cost to repair the damaged door and window at $800.00.

On August 29, 2018, at approximately 6:18 a.m. Barron County Deputy Jilek received a request from Cumberland Police Officer Frey for assistance with the above described auto theft investigation.

Deputy Jilek made contact with M. S. and confirmed that no one had permission to take his vehicle. Deputy Jilek received information that his vehicle had been located on Superior Avenue and he contacted M. S. so he could retrieve the vehicle. There was no damage to his vehicle.

Deputy Jilek also questioned Dante, who explained that he is homeless and had been living in the bathrooms at the Eagle Point Campground in Cumberland. He said it had been cold the last couple nights, and he wanted to get to an aunt's residence in Hertel. He admitted he had walked to Cumberland for the purpose of checking vehicles. When Deputy Jilek asked Dante why he didn't just go to Hertel to his aunts house like he planned, he stated that he wanted to let it sit for the bit. He added that when he had taken the vehicle from County Highway G, someone in the residence shined a light on him.

If convicted Saal may be fined not more than $40,000 or imprisoned for not more than 18 years and nine months, or both. His adjourned initial appearance was scheduled for September 1, 2018.

September City Council... of the unexpected soil issues. He noted that the weather had also been preventing city crews from completing the job.

At the close of the public hearing period, the council voted to approve the resolution levying the special assessments for the Wickre Dr., Forest Path and Woodland Trail project.

The second public hearing revolved around the conditional use request for nonmetallic mineral extraction in an agricultural district by Dave DeSantis. Councilwoman Carol Wallin complemented the area residents for working towards a compromise with the DeSantis company. Robin Hanson, a neighbor to the subject property spoke saying that, she is still opposed to having the operation as a neighbor, as long as the terms of the agreement are adhered to, she can live with it. At the end of the public hearing the council voted to approve the conditional use request.

The third and final public hearing was on the amending of the cemetery ordinance. Sarah Lloyd spoke during the public hearing asking what was the reason for the changes in the cemetery ordinance. It was explained that after many years of service to the community as the Sexton for the cemetery, Bob Skinner no longer wishes to hold that position and is turning the cemetery records back over to the city for their administration. Arlene Frisinger will be the new Sexton for the city and they are training in Denise Sando as a back up. The other changes in the cemetery or ordinance will allow for the eventual construction of a Columbarium for the interment of cremains. At the close of that public hearing the council also voted to approve the changes in the cemetery ordinance and also approved the amending of the municipal code regarding the municipal cemetery.

Next on the agenda were the approval of two resolutions to accept the annexation of property. The first being a road right-of-way on 22nd Ave. near Berdan and the second to accept the annexation of the Cumberland Golf Course from the Towns of Crystal Lake and Maple Plain. Both resolutions were approved.

Financial matters made up the next portion of the agenda. The Council approved the funding for the waste water treatment plant projects from USDA funding. They also approved a change order for the Wickre Dr., Forest Path and Woodland Trail project which is adding $192,000+ to the cost of the project. This was due to the discovery of bad soil missed during the original survey and the cost to replace that soil.

The council also approved expenses for the Cumberland Municipal Utility to be paid out of TID #9. The council, after discussion, amended the motion to just pay $93,000 of the total request for a water main extension. The other funds requested were tabled and returned to committee for further discussion.

Next up we're two agenda items dealing with the Utility Commission. There was a discussion about moving the hydrant charge, currently on the tax levy, to the individual utility bills for the properties. This measure had been discussed in the finance committee for a number of months before bringing it before the council and it was returned to the finance committee a couple of times before finally making it to the council this month. After much discussion on the pros and cons, the council decided that the city was better served on an income basis by taking the properties off of the tax levy and putting them on the utility bills. A full discussion of this issue can be found on front page of this week's Advocate in the News from City Hall article. At the end of the discussion the council did vote to approve the resolution placing the public fire protection charges on the utility bills.

The council then discussed the need for electrical and water upgrades at Eagle Point. The council was happy to approve the funding for them because the campground had a very successful season, and the repairs will be entirely funded through the profit made from Eagle Point this summer.

In the committee reports Police Chief Rick Rieper announced that Melissa A. Damrell had been hired to serve as the Police Liaison Officer with the school district and City of Cumberland. This will be a 70/30 funding position with the officer at the school for nine months of the year and the remaining three months (summer) the officer would work for the city.

In closing the meeting, Mayor Skinner once again issued an invitation to anyone who's questions were not adequately answered throughout the course of the meeting to make an appointment to speak with either himself or Julie Kessler to address their concerns. He also thanked the residents of Wickre Dr., Woodland Trail and Forest Path for their continued patience under very trying circumstances and wanted them to know that the City is working with the utmost speed possible to try and resolve the situation.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is Tuesday October 9th at 7 p.m. at City Hall
