Car/School Bus accident claims life

On Tuesday, November 20, 2018, at 9:27 p.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a 911 call of a school bus versus car accident on Highway 48 just west of Rice Lake.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department, along with ambulances from Chetek, Lakeview Medical Center, Gold Cross and Cumberland, officers from the City of Rice Lake and the City of Barron, fire departments from Rice Lake and Barron and the Life Link Helicopter responded to the scene.

Investigation shows the car driven by Joy Tew, 55, of Rice Lake, crossed the center line and struck an Amery School Bus carrying the Amery Girls Basketball team of 22 students, four coaches and one bus driver. All the students and staff were treated and released at the scene. The driver of the car, Tew, was pronounced deceased at the scene.

This accident remains under investigation by the Barron County Sheriff's Department and the Barron County Medical Examiners Office and is being reconstructed by the Wisconsin State Patrol. The Barron County Highway Department closed Highway 48 for five hours.

Sheriff Fitzgerald, would like to thank all of our first responders that responded to this scene and assisted Tuesday night, and a special thanks goes out to the Amery Girls team, coaches and parents, who waited patiently with each other while everyone was checked out and reunited with family.

As the busiest travel time of the year approaches, please take your time, buckle up and never drink and drive, so you can get home to your family for this holiday season.

Cumberland Healthcare announces New Campus Kick Off

In 2017 Cumberland Healthcare acquired 65 acres of land near the Cumberland Golf Course for a replacement campus. This land purchase was annexed into the city in 2018 and financing has been secured through the USDA with involvement from local banks.

Cumberland Healthcare is kicking off the design of its replacement facility with Wendel, a nationally recognized Architectural, Engineering, Energy Efficiency and Construction Management firm. The proposed campus will replace the current facility which is 60 years old. Schematic design kicked off November of this year and will continue through January 2019. Full design phases will follow, with groundbreaking scheduled to take place this May. This one of a kind facility will be complete in mid-2021.

The project is programmed at nearly 100,000 square feet for both the hospital and ambulatory care facilities. The site was specifically selected to include planned space for future long term care facilities as well as elderly residential development. Construction and all other related project costs are expected to total near $40M.

"We are very excited and proud to announce our new healthcare campus kickoff and how we will deliver future health care to you." Says Mike Gutsch, CEO, "This is an exciting time for our providers, governing board, and staff as it will have a positive impact on the communities in which we serve."

"Cumberland Healthcare

Campus will be a model for LEAN design strategies specific to critical access hospitals in a rural setting." Says David Kimball, AIA CCS CDT, Principal Architect, "The design will focus on spatial efficiencies that maximize utilization by concentrating on flow of staff, materials and equipment."

Cumberland Healthcare is an independent, not-for-profit, critical access healthcare facility, in your community, providing a full-spectrum of services to all ages, every step of the way.

Low speed chase near Almena nets drug bust

On Saturday, November 24, 2018, at 3:15 a.m., a Barron County Sheriff's Deputy attempted to stop a vehicle on Hwy P south of Almena for a suspicion of impaired driving violation. The vehicle failed to stop and took deputies on a two mile low speed chase. To get the vehicle to stop, the deputy executed a PIT (Pursuit Intervention Technique) maneuver on the car. Taken into custody without further incident was Abraham Mott, 35 of Rice Lake.

During the chase, the car did stop several times and then took off again. During one of those stops, a passenger in the car did get out and give up. He was questioned and will not be charged.

Mott did have a felony probation warrant for his arrest. During the arrest, 3/4 pound of marijuana was located in the car.

Mott is being held in the Barron County Jail on charges of fleeing an officer, Delivery of Marijuana, the probation warrant as well as a traffic violation of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of a controlled substance.

This case remains under investigation by the Barron County Sheriff Department.

Grain Bin accident claims a life on farm near Turtle Lake

On November 21st, 2018 at 12:22 p.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a 911 call of a subject trapped in corn bin south of Turtle Lake. Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department along with the Turtle Lake, Cumberland and Dallas Fire Departments, Gold Cross Ambulance, Turtle Lake Police Department and Life Link Helicopter all responded to the scene.

Responders worked for over an hour to rescue the man, who was then flown to a regional trauma center with life threatening injuries. Barron County Sheriff Chris Fitzgerald later released this statement: "Richard Fick, age 63, who was extricated from the corn bin earlier today, has passed away. Our prayers go out to the family."

This case remains under investigation by the Sheriff's Department. "The effort put forth by the family and first responders in this case was truly amazing," stated Fitzgerald.

Tragic accident

Despite the best efforts of numerous Firemen, Police Officers and EMT's, this grain bin accident claimed the life of Richard Fick, 63, of Turtle Lake.

Northwoods Notebook: Cherry Cokes, hot dogs and rock 'n roll

by Larry Werner

For the last two summers, we've gathered on the shore of Library Lake to enjoy concerts we named Island City Music. I was inspired to organize these events by nightly music in the place Ann and I hang out during the month of March – The Villages, Florida.

We love live music and the first year we vacationed there we went to the town square every night, where lots of other "active seniors" go to hear the bands and dance. One night, a group called "Rocky and the Rollers" was playing, and we were blown away by the crowd of several hundred old folks who came to hear The Village's favorite oldies band.

Back in Cumberland last summer, we were similarly impressed when one of our 12 bands attracted the largest audience of the summer to Library Lake. The band, called The Git Backs, plays 50s, 60s and 70s music, and it became clear, as people kept showing up with their lawn chairs, that we had a winner.

So as the ETC board discussed doing some concerts in the winter months, The Git Backs were an easy choice. On Saturday, Dec. 1, Stan Nosbush's band will be playing 90 minutes of oldies at the Cumberland Arts Center. And The World's Oldest Garage Band – Dave Evenson, John Ostrem and Tom Mullen – will be our warmup group.

The music begins at 7 p.m., and the doors open at 6:30.

In keeping with the Sock Hop theme, we'll lay down a dance floor, and Vickie Komarek of Peter & Annie's will be serving up hot dogs, chips and Cherry Cokes. Tickets are $10 and available at Peter & Annie's, at the door or by calling 715-822-2787.

What is it about the music of my youth? A big part of its popularity, I suppose, is there are so many Baby Boomers out there who grew up to the be-bop and do-wop sounds. As we sat there last summer behind the library, I watched others of my generation, and some younger, mouthing the words to old favorites by artists ranging from Chuck Berry to The Beatles.

And some couldn't help but get out of their chairs and do a little jitterbugging right there in front of God and their neighbors. Mike and Paula Clay are quite good, aren't they?

Nosbush, who also has a jazz band, says The Git Backs' music is about having fun.

"If you love 50s and 60s music, you are in a big brotherhood of friends," he said. "I believe early rock and roll music was created out of newfound wonder and excitement. No other motive, just fun."

So that's what Dec. 1 is all about at the arts center – just plain fun.

And maybe I can get Stan to play my favorite Del Shannon song – "Hats off to Larry."

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

I definitely know, after this Thanksgiving, that I am getting older. Sharon and I climbed into the car and along with our twin grandsons, headed out to spend the holiday with our oldest son and his family in Rolla, Missouri. It is a drive of some six hundred and seventy miles. Even with the twins doing much of the driving, it is tough sitting in a car for twelve hours. The weather was great and the grass turned greener every mile we got closer to Rolla. We had a great visit and the weather on Wednesday, was in the upper fifties. We visited a state park with a trout stream that runs through the park where Mark fishes for trout. It was beautiful. We had the usual turkey for dinner on Thursday and spent the rest of the day visiting and watching football. We came home on Saturday and again the weather was beautiful. We climbed in bed at about 11 p.m. on Saturday and I really slept like the proverbial "log." It was a great visit, but 670 miles is a long way and I am glad to be home. The weather really turned and parts of Iowa, that we drove through, had 17 inches of snow on Sunday. I am glad we missed it! They shut down portions of the interstate.

What a rare weekend for Gopher and Viking fans. A double win over the Badgers and the Packers. It has been ages, 14 years, since the Gophers brought home Paul Bunyan's axe and the Vikings win over the Packers pretty well cooks the Packers goose for this season. Rodgers is one of the best quarterbacks in the league, but there just isn't enough talent around him and couple that with injuries, makes it difficult for the Pack to win consistently. I suspect there will be big changes in the Packer roster next year.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Where Does Generosity Stop?

To the Editor:

We are rapidly approaching that very special day of the year Christmas. A time of celebration and great jubilee at the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ. Also a time for family gathering and gift giving. Where does generosity to others fit in? And what about the poor?

One local man vehemently expressed that instead of spending all of that money on a new church building they could have given it to the poor. I answered as Jesus did, "For the poor you will always have with you." However, that does not mean we ignore the poor and do not give them a hand up. Lost in the conversation was the purpose of the building, to be used as a tool to save souls.

In the past month I have been inundated with requests for money with numerous charities and organizations an average of 9 or 10 per week by mail alone. How to decide which ones to give to? One way is based on your heart. One person picks out those she feels a bond or connection with and sends a small contribution almost every time she receives a request. The only thing with that is the number of requests are exponentially tied to the number of times given. The more often you give, the more often you receive.

One charity must believe that people base their giving upon what they receive. I received the following: self addressed labels (of which I have hundreds if not thousands), gift labels, Christmas stickers, three Christmas cards, a 2019 calendar, address labels, three small note pads, two ornaments, a ballpoint pen, Legend of the Dream Catcher, certificate of giving (for my generosity) and a personal letter

by Tom Still

Wisconsin R&D figures reflect strengths – and some challenges

MADISON, Wis. – The annual report by the National Science Foundation on research and development spending by U.S. colleges and universities confirmed what many people already know: The UW-Madison is a powerhouse when it comes to attracting R&D dollars.

What's less known without a deeper dive in the NSF's Higher Education Research and Development survey is UW-Madison isn't alone in Wisconsin when it comes to R&D activity.

The state's flagship campus ranked sixth in the United States with $1.194 billion in total R&D dollars raised and spent in 2017, according to the NSF, with about half of that amount -- $570.8 million -- coming from federal sources. The rest came from other institutions, such as the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation, the UW Foundation, businesses and other private sources.

Other than second-place Michigan ($1.530 billion), UW-Madison topped all other Big Ten Conference schools in the survey, which ranked 644 colleges and universities nationwide. Other Big Ten schools ranged from 17th to 77th on that list.

Academic R&D in Wisconsin totaled a little more than $1.5 billion, largely on the strength of three institutions – the Medical College of Wisconsin, the UW-Milwaukee and Marquette University – that have seen their research activities grow significantly in recent years.

Ranked just outside the top 100 at No. 105, MCW reported $209.6 million in research, up from $165 million 10 years ago. The UW-Milwaukee (No.192) showed $54.2 million in research, the result of greater emphasis on R&D work by a succession of chancellors spanning about 20 years. Marquette University (No. 219) reported $30 million in research, triple what was raised and spent in 2008.

That means at least $294 million in research is clustered in the Milwaukee region, where the effort is beginning to pay off in the form of young startups and more innovation by major firms.

The NSF reported the rest of the UW System, primarily campuses in La Crosse, Stevens Point, Eau Claire, Oshkosh, Green Bay, River Falls and Platteville, raised and spent about $15 million. Those campuses don't have doctoral degree programs, which partly explains the modest total, but another factor is that most researchers on those campuses also have heavy teaching loads. It's hard to be two places at once.

A breakdown of the UW-Madison's R&D total speak to challenges the campus must confront as it strives to remain one the nation's most diverse research universities.

The good news was that more R&D dollars were raised through business-related research (up 7.3 percent), non-profit groups such as health-related causes (8.8 percent) and institutional funds (9.1 percent). The "old" news was that federal R&D spending remained flat, the result of reductions that have spanned much of the 2000s. The bad news was the decline in state and local government funding, which fell 11.3 percent. Without consistent state support for basic research, it is difficult to attract funding for the kind of applied research that creates companies and jobs.

On the federal side, the UW-Madison's rank ranged widely in terms of the agency source. The campus ranked 4th in the nation in funding from the Department of Energy, about $60.8 million, largely focused within the College of Engineering and the Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center. The UW-Madison was 12th in funding directly from the National Science Foundation ($84.4 million), 16th in support from the Department of Agriculture ($27.4 million), 21st in grants from the Department of Health and Human Services ($314.8 million), 24th on the list for NASA ($12.5 million) and 15th on the list that captured most smaller agencies ($44.3 million).

One area that could be improved is spending by the Department of Defense, where the UW-Madison ranked 46th nationally. Most of the DOD spending of $26.7 million was clustered in life sciences, physical sciences and engineering.

Research at the UW-Madison is spread among all colleges and schools, including the humanities, which helps to explain why the campus consistently ranks among U.S. leaders. There's also a growing amount of academic R&D activity spread around the state, which also contributes to the Wisconsin economy.

To nourish a research environment many other states would envy, state policymakers should provide enough seed money to help.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

Robert A. Truitt, 48, of Webster has been charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 6th, and operating a motor vehicle after revocation of his driver's license, 4th.

The criminal complaint states that on Tuesday, November 14, 2018 at approximately 3:20 p.m., Cumberland Police Officer Chafer observed a vehicle conduct a turn without using a turn signal. Officer Chafer conducted a traffic stop of the vehicle, which had three occupants, including the driver, Robert Truitt.

Truitt informed Officer Chafer that his driver's license was suspended. Officer Chafer asked if he had any prior operating while suspended tickets, of if he had any conditions of probation, parole, or bond. Truitt said he was on probation for a DWI.

Officer Chafer asked if he had anything to drink that day, and Truitt said no. Officer Chafer then asked if he would pass field sobriety testing if asked to do so, at which point Truitt said he "had a couple."

Officer Chafer asked Truitt if he was allowed to drink while on probation, and Truitt said he was not.

Officer Chafer started to walk back to his squad car, and Truitt opened the door of the vehicle and asked if he could go to the bathroom.

When Truitt stepped out of the vehicle, Officer Chafer could smell an odor of intoxicants coming from him.

Officer Chafer was informed by dispatch that Truitt's driver's license was revoked for operating while intoxicated, and that the other subjects in the vehicle had outstanding warrants. Officer Chafer opened one of the passenger side doors to the vehicle, and a half full can of beer fell out of the vehicle. One of the passengers claimed ownership of the beverage.

Truitt agreed to perform field sobriety testing. Upon inquiry Truitt reported he had surgery three times on his eyes, and that would interfere with his ability to follow the tip of a pen with both eyes. Truitt further reported that "his knee was shot" and that would prevent him from doing any kind of balancing tests.

Officer Chafer explained the one-leg stand test to Truitt, and Truitt said he was not going to pass it. He said his balance was impacted on account of his eye, and he did not perform the test.

Officer Chafer asked Truitt how many beers he had had that day, and Truitt said two or three. Officer Chafer asked if they were larger beers (24 ounce) like the one found in the vehicle, and Truitt said, yes.

Officer Chafer then asked Truitt when the last time he had a drink was, and Truitt said about two years ago. He then asked Truitt if he felt intoxicated and Truitt said that he did not.

Officer Chafer explained the heel-to-toe test to Truitt, and Truitt again stated that "his balance was shot."

Truitt attempted the heel-to-toe test, took four steps forward and then made a waiving motion with his hand. Truitt then stepped toward Officer Chafer with his hands together, as would be presented to place cuffs on them. Officer Chafer asked Truitt if he wanted to complete the test, but Truitt did not complete the test.

Officer Chafer eventually administered a preliminary breath test to Truitt, which yielded a result of .257. Officer Chafer showed the results to Truitt, and he stated, "just over," at which time Officer Chafer corrected Truitt as to the legal limit in Wisconsin.

Officer Chafer eventually transported Truitt to Cumberland Healthcare, where Truitt's blood was drawn for further testing.

Officer Chafer reviewed Truitt's Wisconsin driver's record, which reflected that Truitt had been convicted of operating while intoxicated on December 7, 2001, June 12, 2008, June 10, 2010, and April 5, 2016. On April 5, 2016, Truitt's driver's license was revoked for two years plus six months, and his driver's license had not since been reinstated.

If convicted Truitt may be fined not more than $2,500 or imprisoned for not more than one year in the county jail, or both. The court may also suspend his drive's license for not more than six months. His preliminary hearing will be held November 28, 2018.

from a child. Also I have received a number of certificates in acknowledgment, outstanding citizen and even a hero award. What do all of these charities have in common? I have never donated a dime to these giving gifts or awards of recognition. In fact, I stay away from them because I believe they are spending too much of the contributions on marketing.

What about local business? You could take the stance of one businessman when I approached him with non-profit fund raising raffle tickets, who related that so many approaches are made that he and his father had decided not to give to any. As I left their store I spied his father in his office and went in and sold him $5.00 worth of tickets. So you see to the persistent rep, that one does not work.

What really is the answer to where generosity stops? I guess it is up to each and every one of us to determine. One thing I look at is the internet to tell me what the charity does and what per cent of the giving goes to the need. The Salvation Army is one such organization which covers an unbelievable number of needs and has about 80% going to those needs. Another is where does the money go. The United Fund of the Cumberland Area is one such organization where all money except for very small administrative costs are distributed locally. There are many others and space does not provide to name them all, but Project Santa and Kinship of Cumberland-Turtle Lake are others where funds remain locally. Please do not forget your church at this time of year when family gift buying may compete with your church gifts..

In conclusion, I have no magic formula to share with you as to where to donate, how much to donate and when to stop. It is up to you, your means and your heart. However, I just ask you to give and to give generously as there are so many needs. Jesus said, "Truly I say to you, as you did this to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it for me." Matthew 15:5 ESV

Cumberland's Alphonse Played Big Role on National Championship Team

By Mark Fuller

As we watched the University of Minnesota trounce the Badgers last Saturday and become Bowl eligible, one is reminded of a time when they were a National Power.

In 1936, the Gophers would be voted the National Champions for the third straight year. This despite losing to Northwestern in a rain-drenched contest, their first loss in three years, which broke a 28-game winning streak.

The Gophers began that season by traveling to Washington to open against the Huskies. The trip would be by train and take four days to reach the Pacific Northwest.

While staying overnight in Montana, the Gophers motel would be destroyed by a fire. Forced out by a 3:00 am alarm, luckily no one was hurt in the disaster.

Minnesota would take a 14-7 victory in the hard-hitting opener. The Gophers wide receiver Bud Wilkinson, who would eventually go on to a Hall of Fame coaching career at the University of Oklahoma, would score one touchdown on a 60-yard pass play, while Cumberland's own Julius Alphonse would grab three interceptions and lead the team in rushing.

Alphonse would eventually be drafted by the NFL Cleveland Rams that next spring and go on to a short career in Professional football. As a Gopher in 1936, Alphonse would be among the teams leading rushers, tacklers, and was the teams second leading passer as a two-way performer.

The loss to Northwestern was one of only two games the Gophers gave up points the entire season. Among their victories was a 52-0 decision over Iowa, a 26-0 thumping of Michigan, and a 24-0 whitewashing of the Badgers. It was a time when the Gophers were king of College football and Cumberland's own, Julius Alphonse, was one of the real sons why!

Cold Weather Duck Hunt

Hello friends,
I believe that one of the most common subjects of conversation with people is weather and ever since early August it has either been very wet ,or colder than normal, or both. This week I am writing to you about a duck hunt and camping trip that I did on pool 9 of the Mississippi River near Desoto.

Monday, November 12th
High 30, low 17

Here is my plan. With my 16-foot canoe on top of my 9-foot enclosed trailer I was going drive to a pre-determined public landing, canoe about two-miles down river, hunt ducks, canoe back in the dark, sleep in my trailer and repeat the process the next day.

My golden retrievers Ruby and Fire stayed home on this trip, Ruby is pregnant and Fire is too old for cold water duck retrieves.

The first thing that I noticed as I got my canoe ready for the day was there was one heck of a lot of current flowing down a very flooded Mississippi River and I knew that would make the canoe trip up river in the dark a physical adventure.

As I paddled down river, I have to admit I was really excited for this hunt, and I noticed the affects of a beaver pelt market that is almost non existent. Now there are so many beavers that they are having a pretty big affect on the islands. I noticed beaver sign every where and what I also noticed is that there were very few young trees on the islands.

Mature trees go down in storms with time, young trees replace them. Trees on the islands hold the islands together with their roots from the constant current, beaver like eating young trees.

So I put out my robo duck and maybe 20 decoys and though I did see several high flying flocks towards dark I did not get a shot. It was actually dangerously windy and about 25-degrees and my robo duck lost one of its wings in 4-feet of water and there was no retrieving that.

The paddle back to my truck was physical, but no big deal. I spoke with two other hunters and neither one had fired his shotgun.

Like I said earlier my plan was to spend the night in my enclosed trailer and that is what I did with a plan of canoeing up river in the morning and hopefully finding some ducks in an area that that I had never seen before.

Tuesday, November 13th
High 29, low 11

I woke up at 4:30 a.m. and I had a half a pan of homemade chili next to me, it was frozen solid. We all know that it can get cold in mid November but it just seems that ever since early August we are flooding and freezing.

I started my paddle in the dark and I was totally into the experience, the reason being because I could hear the beautiful sound of ducks flying directly overhead in the dark. I put out the One Winged Warrior, about 15 decoys, and had to break ice to stash my canoe. I laid in in some vegetation to conceal myself and then the show began.

I never heard another shot and I dropped a hen mallard and a beautiful golden-eye. I did some missing and as the day proceeded I observed another body of water as it froze over. What was really cool about this trip is that I found a new spots to duck hunt, and that is going to be very good for me in the future, and they are easy to get to by canoe.

I have been addicted to the Mighty Mississippi ever since I was a young boy and this two-day experience was another challenge and in the end a positive memory to notch in the belt of life.

Play outside!

Vests keep hunting dogs warm in cold weather conditions!

The One Winged Warrior helped lure in ducks on the second day of the hunt.

The Rice Lake Speedway recently won a special award at the WISSOTA National Banquet held November 10th in St. Cloud Minnesota. At the National Banquet, the top drivers in all divisions that race under the WISSOTA sanctioning body are honored for their accomplishments and other special awards are also presented.

The Rice Lake Speedway, under the promotion and ownership of Dave Adams and Mitch Hansen, both from Cameron Wisconsin, won the prestigious 2018 WISSOTA Promotion of the Year award for the annual Street Stock "Little Dream" race held at the Rice Lake Speedway.

This event, which features a very unique format in that fans in the stands and representatives of local and area businesses help build up the purse for the event by contributing cash for various finishing positions along with other special incentives. In 2018, the event set a record for the top finisher as winner Danny Richards from Mondovi Wisconsin went home with a top prize of $16,088 for the feature win.

In the nine years that Adams-Hansen Inc. has owned the Rice Lake Speedway, the top prize for this race has exploded upward from the $3,000 plus payoff in 2010 to over sixteen thousand dollars this year. In the twenty four year history of this race, over $250,000 in cash prize money has gone out to the competitors in this unique race and it is clearly a race that fans love to attend as in 2018, the Adams-Hansen Inc. ownership group saw attendance for this race break all records for a one night crowd since they purchased the track in 2010.

The 2019 edition of the "Little Dream" race is scheduled for July 30th and with it being the twenty fifth anniversary of this hugely popular race, some very special things to celebrate that anniversary are in the planning stages.

The ownership and management of the Rice Lake Speedway is very grateful to their fans and drivers for their great support of this event which keeps it growing each year and invite everyone to monitor the Rice Lake Speedway face book page for updates as planning continues for the 2019 racing season

Christmas Again!
By: Pastor Gary Dorn
Cumberland Baptist Church

Thanksgiving is over, which is hard to deny with the need to loosen my belt a notch or two! Another sure sign that we are done with Thanksgiving is the Christmas shopping blitz that is already in full swing. If you survived "Black Friday shopping," you have my respect for your bravery...and my bewilderment that you entered the fray!

I think that every year the pastor with the first shot at the Advocate Christmas Season Pastor's Column feels obligated to remind us what Christmas is really about. This year I get the honors!

I am focusing on the Matthew's account of the birth of Jesus this year (you can read this familiar passage in Matthew 1:18-25). Matthew's account focuses on Joseph's experience, which is the proper perspective for a Jewish audience. Matthew uses three important names/titles to convey to his Jewish audience the significance of this momentous birth: "Christ," "Jesus," and "Immanuel."

The title "Christ," or "Messiah," connects Jesus to the Jewish prophecies of a king from the line of King David who will rescue and restore the Jewish nation. Matthew even gives the genealogy of Jesus showing that Jesus truly is of the lineage of King David. Christmas is the birth of a King!

The name "Jesus" is a common name for the Jewish people. It is the Greek form of the name "Joshua." The famous Jewish "Joshua" was the savior of the people of Israel because he led them in conquering the Promised Land and established them as a nation. This "Jesus" is also a Savior, named personally by God, to indicate that Jesus will save His people from their sins. Christmas is the birth of the Savior!

The name "Immanuel" means "God with us" and recalls a Messianic prophecy in Isaiah 7:14. The amazing thing, though, is that Jesus really is "God with us!" He is God in human flesh. God refuses to be distant and disconnected from us, even while we are in our sins. God became flesh and entered our world to be present with us. Christmas is the birth of God in human flesh!

I pray that we don't get so distracted by the shopping, by the glitz and business, by the travel and parties that we miss the true joy of Christmas! God loves sinners so much that the King took on human flesh to be with us and to save us from our sins. Rejoice in THAT love and have a blessed Christmas!

Barronett News
By Judy Pieper

Hello. I hope you had a wonderful Thanksgiving and a very successful hunting season. Duane and I don't hunt, but I always have a pot of chili on the stove opening day for any of our hunters who decided they are cold and hungry. We didn't have enough hungry hunters this year, so Duane will be eating chili for the next two weeks. Poor guy.

Ryan Lehmann was the first lucky hunter in our group this year. First thing opening morning he walked out of the house and shot a ten-point buck. I think he must have had it tied in one of the stalls in the barn. Suzy stole his thunder later in the season though. She also got a ten pointer, but her buck had a spread that was an inch wider than Ryan's. I think they said that they want the European mount and are going to take them to Wolsy's Barronett Beetles to have them done.

We had two Thanksgiving dinners this year. The first one on Thanksgiving day, was spent with Duane's daughters, Dawn and Debbie. We decided, instead of cooking at home and cleaning up a lot of dishes, to have dinner at a restaurant. I won't mention the name of the restaurant, but I will tell you that it was not in Barronett, Shell Lake, Cumberland or Barron. All I will say is that the meal was not the best. I think our order must have been sitting on the counter for at least 20 minutes, because even the mashed potatoes were cold. We would have asked the waitress to throw it in the microwave for a minute, but she never came back. We won't make that mistake again-next year Dawn and Debbie will have a homemade Thanksgiving dinner.

On the way home from that disaster, Duane and I stopped by Pat Olson's house on Granite Lake. Most of her family was there-even Jay, Marcia, Jordan and Jace and Jace's friend Matt, were up from Missouri to spend Thanksgiving with her. The house smelled wonderful, and she had about ten pies just sitting there waiting to tempt us to add a few more calories. We did, of course. She is the world's best cook and baker. Anyway, while we were sitting and visiting, I noticed that Jay's guitar was just sitting there idle, so I asked him if he was going to play for us. He did, I think he still loves to play the guitar and he's very good at it, and Jordan sang. I wish Jordan would do something with that voice-he is so talented. People with voices like that think anyone can sing, but if you've ever heard me singing off key you know that is not so. It's such a gift and he should really be sharing it with everyone. Can't convince him of that though. Anyway we had a wonderful time visiting with Pat and the relatives and, of course, eating pie.

The Lehmann crew had their traditional Thanksgiving get-together at the hunting shack. Anita called and said that they all had a wonderful time. She said that Marie, Jolene and Kiara Anderson brought Angela Campillo, their foreign exchange student, with them. Angela is from Murcia, Spain and this was her first experience with an American Thanksgiving dinner. Anita said that she tried just about everything, and that pumpkin pie was one of the very few things she was not thrilled with, but did like the banana cream. (Don't we all.) Anita said that Angela is very outgoing and friendly and it was a joy to have them for dinner. From what I have heard, there were plenty of leftovers for everyone to take home and everyone had a very good time eating and visiting.

We had an amazing Thanksgiving meal on Sunday (our day for the family get-together) at Garrett, Kandice and Kane Thons' home. Kandice, Kane and Lynn had the family room beautifully decorated for the meal with glittery red tablecloths on all the tables. We had all the traditional Thanksgiving food, plus pies and cheesecake. Most of the family was there, and we had a truly wonderful time. This is the first time Kandice has been hostess for the entire family at their new home, but she aced it. As you probably know, Garrett is a police officer in Rice Lake and, unfortunately, he had to work until 2:00 p.m. but he joined us as soon as he possibly could. Most of the family was still there when he got home and visited with him while he ate his dinner. We love family get-togethers.

Speaking of that, we had an impromptu family get-together Sunday before last. Jerry Marsh called me at about 6:45 a.m. and asked if I could make a birthday breakfast for his friend Hallie. (Our birthday breakfasts consist of waffles with ice cream and bacon or sausage.) I said that I would love to do that and immediately called the Lehmann's and Thon's and asked if they would like to come and celebrate Hallie's birthday with us. I don't know if Hallie was ready to meet our entire family, but she seemed to be enjoying herself during the meal. Other guests were Suzy, Ryan, Tinnille and Miriah Lehmann, Jeremy Olson, Lynn Thon, Jamie Lombard and Kaitlynn and Jessica Holmen.

Duane, Lynn Thon, Jamie Lombard and I had a pretty special dinner on Wednesday evening. We went to Bistro 63 to spend a little family time together. Everything was great. Sharon and Jenno and the crew treat everyone like royalty, and the food is excellent. Duane almost always orders the ribs and is never disappointed. He tells anyone who asks that Jenno makes the best ribs he's ever eaten. We had a wonderful meal-the only bad thing was that we were all too full to have dessert. Next time I am going to order dessert first and then take some of the meal home in a to-go box.

Okay, Terry Goodrich, aka the friendly neighborhood moocher, called with a trapping story. I can't swear to you that this is the truth, but Terry said he's pretty sure the guy who told him about it was telling it just as it was. Seems that the guy's friend, who is a trapper, was checking traps one day and was horrified to find a bobcat, caught by one of its legs, in his trap. Well, an angry bobcat is not a creature that anyone would want to walk up to and pet, so the trapper went back to his house and got a hard-sided suitcase. He brought it back, very carefully put it over the bobcat, held it together as best he could and opened the trap. The bobcat pulled its foot up, the trapper slammed the suitcase and hitched it, and then wondered how he was going to get the cat out of there without getting shredded. He decided to put the suitcase beside the road and watch to see what would happen. Didn't take long-a van came down the road, went past the suitcase, brake lights came on and the van backs up. Someone reached out of the van and grabbed the suitcase, and the van started down the road again. It didn't get more than a half block away and the trapper saw the brake lights come on again. The van screeched to a halt, doors flew open, people jumped out and the bobcat jumped out last and high-tailed it for the woods. Good way to get rid of a bobcat without getting scratched, don't you think?

Well, this is getting way too long, so I guess I had better go. Hope you had a good week and I'll see you next time.

Christmas Tree Lighting!

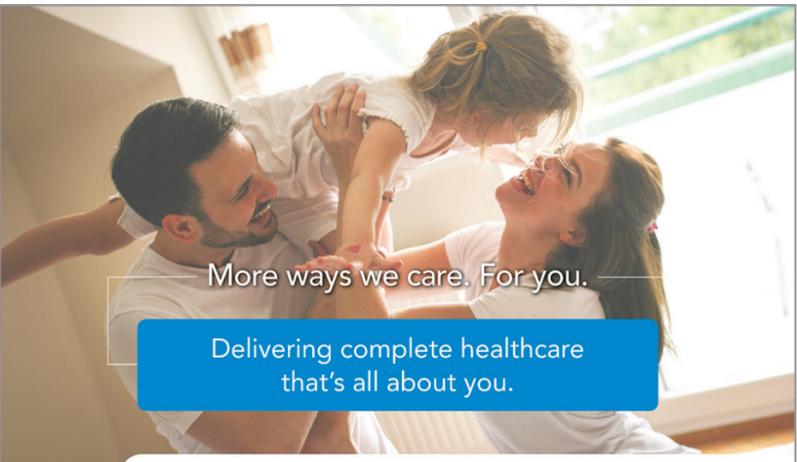

A great time was had by all who attended the Christmas Tree lighting celebration held Tuesday, November 20th on Main St. in Cumberland. Pictured above kids pose with Santa and Emilie Springsteen sings a carol. Photo's by Bob Nugent

A Tree For Jayme

Barron County Clerk of Court Office decorated the Justice Center Christmas tree to continue to hope and believe in the safe return of Jayme Closs. It has been a tradition at the Justice Center since its 2004 construction completion that decorating the first floor was rotated between four offices: Sheriff Department, District Attorney Office, Judges' Office and Clerk of Court Office. Often times the decorating theme is discussed at some length, but this year it was quick and obvious there is no other message more important than to believe and hope in Jayme's safe return.
