

Sheriff's Issue Statements on Covid 19; Safer at Home

Barron County Sheriff Chris Fitzgerald

As we continue to evaluate everything that is going on around us, I want to inform you on how we will move forward in Barron County. Over the past few years, we have seen and dealt with many different types of issues and incidents. Each time it was not one person that made a decision. It was not one person that took action. It was a team of experts doing what was right for Barron County and the citizens we serve.

Coronavirus or COVID-19 is not any different. There is a strong team continually evaluating and planning to keep everyone safe. In March, when the first stay at home order was issued, the people of Barron County stepped up to keep us ALL safe. Many sacrifices have been made by all of you and we thank you.

The Safer at Home order has now been extended until May 26th. Again, the same team you have entrusted with your safety and well-being is evaluating and looking for a plan of action to keep EVERYONE safe while moving our communities forward. There may be a better way to safely move ahead than what is currently in place.

Polk County Sheriff Brent Waak

I want to take this opportunity to explain to the residents of Polk County my position on the enforcement of the Safer at Home order. Since the Covid-19 Pandemic started over a month ago, I chose to take a common sense approach to enforcing this order. I watched our community self-regulate and adapt to the order. By utilizing social distancing and sanitation guidelines, our community has stayed healthy. I didn't enforce travel restrictions or prohibit religious freedoms. I respected our fundamental rights.

I believe the extension of the Safer at Home order that was set to expire on April 24, 2020 is an over-reach of the State Government. As your Sheriff, I have taken an Oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the State of Wisconsin. I have always respected the

Our team is working with the state and the legislature to see what our options may be. We want businesses to be able to open back up, but we need a plan to ensure the safety of EVERYONE in Barron County.

It is our hope that the legislation and/or the courts address the pending lawsuits regarding constitutionality of the order and give us some direction. We are working with our Corporation Council to determine the liability to the county if we enforce or fail to enforce it.

We are asking you all to continue to support each other and us while these requests and plans are being made. There are smart people behind the scenes working on this and trying to do what is right for both the health and economy of Barron County. We will get there, just give us time to plan and set that plan in motion.

As Sheriff, I will make the determination if any enforcement action will be taken as a result of this order. I take the citizen's rights in Barron County very seriously and I hold the safety of each of you and your loved ones very high.

civil liberties of the citizens of Polk County.

I believe that most Polk County businesses can safely operate with some protective measures in place such as social distancing and protective equipment for staff/patrons. I believe that our business community can be innovative and re-open safely with everyone's health in mind.

I will work with local Public Health Officials to make sure our community continues to stay healthy and expect that we can safely start to reopen our economy. The Polk County Sheriff's Office will work hard to protect our citizens from criminals and keep our community safe while respecting everyone's constitutional rights.

In a statement issued the following day, the Polk County Sheriff's Department Manhunt!

Polk County officers with the help of canine Jaeger took the suspect into custody after a lengthy chase.

Car Chase Crosses State Lines; Ends in Manhunt

On Monday, April 27th, 2020 at 12:30 PM, St Croix Falls Police Officers and Polk County Sheriff's Deputies attempted to apprehend Jason Diers-Leske for a Probation Warrant, Escape, and Battery to a Police Officer. Diers-Leske was found outside of a residence in the City of St. Croix Falls. Diers-Leske resisted arrest. Diers-Leske was able to make it to his vehicle. A Deputy attempted to remove Diers-Leske from the vehicle, the Deputy was struck by the suspect's vehicle door as the suspect backed up and fled. The Deputy sustained minor injuries.

Officers pursued Diers-Leske. The pursuit went into Minnesota and back into Polk County. Deputies lost sight of the vehicle and discontinued pursuing it. With the aid of citizens, the vehicle was spotted in the Village of Luck. After Diers-Leske almost struck a pedestrian, officers began pursuing him. Diers-Leske turned into a residence outside of the Village of Luck and struck a squad. He then crashed his vehicle into a swamp. Diers Leske then stole another vehicle from that residence, struck another squad, and then fled on foot after crashing the truck into trees.

A perimeter was established and Diers-Leske was taken into custody by Polk County with assistance from K9 Jaeger.

Assisting the Polk County Sheriff's Office with the apprehension was St. Croix Falls Police, Chisago County Sheriff's Office, Luck

Police Department, Frederic Police Department, Barron County Sheriff's Office, Turtle Lake Police Department, Burnett County Sheriff's Department, WI DNR, WI State Patrol, St. Croix Tribal Police Department, and the MN State Patrol. Thanks to the numerous citizens that aided in the location and apprehension of this dangerous individual.

The case remains under investigation by the Polk County Sheriff's Office.

Drug Bust!

Cumberland Police and other officers executed a search warrant at 1471 Berdan St lot 38 on Wednesday April 22. A large amount of drugs and money were seized. Two suspects were taken into custody.

Statement...

ment issued the following statement: The Polk County Health Department and Sheriff's Office top priority is ensuring the health and safety of the residents of Polk County. This includes not only physical health, but mental, emotional and social health as well. We understand that in order to protect our physical health, the Safer at Home Order was necessary. We also understand how the Safer at Home Order has impacted our other areas of health. We share your desire for a return to normal so that we can be healthy in all areas.

Together, we will work to create an environment that prioritizes the health of the public and works with the business community within the parameters of Governor Evers Emergency Order #28. Our goal is to proactively engage the business community to support a gradual return to normal while prioritizing the public's health. This is best achieved by practicing physical distancing and other public health recommendations while adhering to Emergency Order #28.

Governor Evers Announces Expanded Opportunities for Certain Nonessential Businesses

Gov. Tony Evers announced Monday another turn of the dial in expanding allowed operations for non-essential businesses, providing even more opportunities for businesses to get back to work in a safe and responsible way.

The Emergency Order, signed today by Wisconsin Department of Health Services Secretary-designee Andrea Palm, allows non-essential businesses to do curbside drop-off of goods and animals. This will allow businesses like dog groomers, small engine repair shops, upholstery businesses, and others to safely open. Today's order also allows outdoor recreational rentals, such as boats, golf carts, kayaks, ATVs, and other similar recreational vehicles. Additionally, automatic or self-service car washes would be able to operate. All of these businesses must operate free of contact with customers by providing payment options online or over the phone, enact proper disinfecting practices, and operations must be able to be performed by one staff member.

"No one wants to reopen our economy as much as I do, and we're working to do everything we can to make sure we can do so as soon as we safely and responsibly can. That's why today we announced a new order that, coupled with our Safer at Home order that went into effect last week, turns the dial a notch by allowing non-essential businesses to do more than they were able to do before," said Gov. Evers. "This order means that every business across our state can do things like deliveries, mailings, curbside pick-up and drop-off, and it's an important step in making sure that while folks are staying safer at home, they can also continue to support small businesses across our state."

Monday's order builds upon the last turn of the dial. When the Safer at Home order was extended last week, a number of additional options were made available for businesses to safely serve the public, including:

- Golf courses were opened this past weekend;
- All businesses are allowed to offer curbside pick-up, allowing customers to purchase goods online or over the phone from a local store;
- Construction businesses can do aesthetic or optional construction work so long as it is performed by a single person;
- Public libraries can provide curbside pick-up of books and other library materials;
- Arts and crafts stores can offer expanded curbside pick-up of materials necessary to make face masks; and
- Landscaping businesses can do aesthetic or optional lawn care so long as it is done by a single employee.

Emergency Order #34 goes into effect at 8 a.m. Wednesday, April 29, 2020.

In addition to the requirements outlined above, all essential and nonessential businesses must continue to follow social distancing and safety practices required under the Safer at Home order, available here. A document summarizing these safe business practices by the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) is available at WEDC.org. Businesses can also visit the site for additional resources on taking the necessary steps to keep workers, businesses, and customers safe.

Northwoods Notebook: Library Lake is looking good enough to walk around

By Larry Werner

When I moved here six years ago, the body of water adjacent to downtown was more of a swamp than a lake – overgrown with cattails and other weeds that grew out of the silt that had flowed for years down storm sewers into this bay of Beaver Dam Lake.

I'd hear stories from old timers about Library Lake's glory days when it was good for swimming, fishing and even water-skiing, Paul Nelson told me. But because storm sewers drained water and dirt into the lake, it became an eyesore rather than amenity.

Over these past few years, the Beaver Dam Lake Management District has built retention ponds on three corners of the lake and redirected the storm-sewer lines so the runoff flows into these ponds rather than the lake itself. As Tom Schroeder, president of the lake district, reported last week in the Advocate, the fourth and final pond will be built soon, and sewers in the southeast corner of the lake redirected.

So the lake will no longer fill up with muck that sprouts cattails and weeds. And the lake district has received grants to dredge the lake and remove many of the cattails.

That swamp has become a lake once again. Thanks to the dredging, pontoons (with canopies down) can once again enter Library Lake under the Grove Street Bridge and tie up adjacent to the parking lot on the east bank. At last summer's Island City Music concerts, I loved seeing the boats in the lake while the music played.

The southeast retention pond will be built on the site of three old houses the lake district is buying and will demolish. When the project is complete, the east and south banks of the downtown lake will be public land – parkland, if you will. It'll be a lovely sight greeting visitors coming into town from the west.

And then we should build a boardwalk along the east and south shores of the lake that ends at Fifth Avenue, which runs along the west side of the lake and intersects with Grove Street, which runs along the north side. At that point, we'd have a lake walk – a pedestrian walkway of boardwalk and sidewalks around what is now a lovely little body of water.

Residents and visitors could park in the "back-alley" and walk or jog around the lake and then get some food or beverage at one of our Main Street establishments.

I don't know of many small towns that have a lake in their downtowns. I do know from living in Minneapolis – known as the "City of Lakes" – that people love to walk around lakes. In fact, that city recently closed roads around some city lakes so the large number of pedestrians who flocked to them once the pandemic hit would have room for social-distancing.

Thank you, Beaver Dam Lake Management District, for restoring our downtown lake to a body of water deserving of a boardwalk.

#GivingTuesdayNow to support the COVID-19 fight at Marshfield Clinic Health System

We need your help to fight COVID-19 in our rural Wisconsin communities. Donate to Marshfield Clinic Health System's COVID-19 Impact Fund, you'll bring this global movement to our communities where COVID-19 relief is needed most.

#GivingTuesdayNow is a global day of giving that takes place May 5, 2020, as an emergency response to the unprecedented need caused by COVID-19. By donating to the MCHS COVID-19 Impact Fund, you'll bring this global movement to our communities where COVID-19 relief is needed most.

"Marshfield Clinic Health System cares about our rural communities," said Teri Wilczek, chief philanthropy officer, Marshfield Clinic Health System Foundation. "Our caregivers, researchers and employees are fighting to protect you and the people you care about from the COVID-19 pandemic. But we cannot fight without your help."

Marshfield Clinic Health System is directing all available resources to prepare for COVID-19, but our needs continue to grow. That's why we've established the MCHS COVID-19 Impact Fund to support our most urgent needs.

Your donation will help us:

- Convert hospital and clinic areas into COVID-19 units to prepare for a surge of patients.
- Train health care providers in triaging and treating COVID-19 patients.
- Increase availability of COVID-19 testing for Marshfield Clinic Health System patients.

- Protect health care providers and patients by funding essential equipment to fight COVID-19 during the national shortage.
- Invest in telehealth services to continue providing essential care to patients from the safety of their homes.

We're doing all we can to fight COVID-19, but we have to do more. Our goal is to raise $300,000 for the MCHS COVID-19 Impact Fund by #GivingTuesdayNow. Your support will help jump start the millions of dollars needed to combat the pandemic locally. The Pablo Foundation in Eau Claire is generously matching the first $50,000 donated to this fund, so your gifts will be doubled for a limited time.

To support the MCHS COVID-19 Impact Fund, visit justgiving.com/campaign/COVID19ImpactMCHS or call (715) 389-3249.

Thank you for standing together to help us fight COVID-19 in the communities we serve.

BCDHHS: Recreational Travel during COVID

Barron County Public Health is working with local and state partners to balance the needs of the community, business owners, and the health and safety of all residents. While our community has done a great job of social distancing and flattening the curve, we still need everyone's help to keep our communities as healthy and safe as possible.

"COVID-19 is spread from person to person, said Laura Sauve, Health Officer for Barron County. "This all started in December in just one country and within a few months it became a worldwide problem. Travel is what spread this virus globally. Although it's not fun for anyone, this is why the travel restrictions are essential in stopping or slowing the spread of COVID-19."

Under Wisconsin's Emergency Order #28, Safer at Home, tourism facilities, such as campgrounds, resorts and tourist rooming houses are considered essential businesses and may choose to open. However, non-essential travel is still prohibited. The order states, "All forms of travel are prohibited, except for essential travel as defined in this order." Recreational travel or traveling for vacationing purposes is considered non-essential. The order also states, "Individuals are strongly encouraged to remain at their primary residence or home. Travel to second homes or residences should be avoided if possible." Travel to a second home is allowable for people whose primary residence is there part of the year.

Campgrounds, resorts and tourist rooming houses are essential because they are able to provide housing to permanently seasonal residents as well as seasonal essential workers. Recreational travel to these places is not considered essential. Barron County tourism facilities are working with Public Health to make sure they have special guidelines in place to keep everyone as safe as possible. Campgrounds in Barron County plan to open and will make case-by-case decisions about visitors. Guidance given asks that they only accept self-contained campers at this time. Self-contained means campers must have their own bathroom facilities.

"So many of our communities rely on our seasonal residents and guests and we appreciate all that they do for our county, continued Sauve. "The travel restrictions are meant to keep everyone, including our seasonal property owners safe. We look forward to them visiting when it is safe to do so."

If you have questions about COVID-19, call 2-1-1 or text COVID-19 to 211-211. For up-to-date information, please follow Barron County Public Health's Facebook page or check the DHS website for updates.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

We took a ride around town this past week. Just a ride to look at all the things that Cumberland has to offer. We live here, yet sometimes we really don't see what a place has to offer. We are so busy that just so often we pass through without paying much attention. We have excellent medical care and an excellent educational system. I read, with much interest, the article in last week's Advocate by the president of the Lake Management District, Tom Schroeder. The article made me think about what a crown jewel we have in Beaver Dam Lake. It is great to read about the progress combating invasive plants all in an effort to improve the quality of the water. It is great to hear of the plans to improve access to the downtown by watercraft. That will be a great benefit to our downtown. The acquiring of the properties, just west of the Corner Bar, will greatly improve the entrance to downtown. Every improvement to the lake enhances our community and makes Cumberland a better place to live. Next time you take a drive through town try to take a fresh look at your town. It is ever changing and ever improving. It is a great place to live and Beaver Dam Lake is a wonderful attribute.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

“Consumer confidence, not orders and lawsuits, will bring economy back”

MADISON, WI - We ventured out on Madison's Beltline Highway the other day, noticing as soon as we climbed the entry ramp that something was different.

There was a fair amount of traffic out there.

Not the rush-hour, crawling-speed traffic typical of every Beltline rush hour before the outbreak of COVID-19, but enough to make me wonder if people were beginning to vote with their feet ... or, more accurately, their wheels.

Perhaps most of those vehicles were driven by people like us, running an “essential” errand, or others looking for any excuse to get out of the house for a while without needing to encounter another person within six feet.

And yet, I doubt those cars and trucks were filled with people looking to thumb their noses at the “safer at home” order by motoring to places where they could gleefully defy social distancing rules.

There have been notable examples of people rallying to protest “safer at home” or similar orders in Wisconsin and elsewhere, but most Americans have shown remarkable patience with a lockdown that is contradictory to our engrained sense of mobility.

Americans don't like being told they must confine themselves to one location. That's consistent with the history of the nation and especially since the invention of the automobile. However, most Americans remain patient with staying cooped up, at least for a while longer, while the coronavirus runs its uncertain course.

An Associated Press-NORC Center for Public Affairs Research poll of 1,057 adults pretty much confirmed that perception when it was released April 22. About eight in 10 people surveyed in the poll, which is constructed to mirror the larger population within a 4% error rate, said they support measures requiring Americans to stay mostly in their homes and limiting gatherings to 10 or fewer people.

Only 12% of those polled said restrictions where they live go too far. More than twice as many, 26%, said they don't go far enough. About 61% chose the “goldilocks” option, describing steps taken by government officials to control the spread of COVID-19 as being just right.

While society may still be only months away from illegal 1920s-style “speakeasies” in wedding barns, the AP poll shows something is lacking before the economy can be fully reopened. That something is consumer confidence.

Businesses can reopen, but it doesn't mean people will show up to buy things if they think it's unsafe to do so. A reasonable measure of confidence will be required before people flock back to bars, restaurants or water parks.

One way to restore consumer confidence is through transparent, science-based plans that function much like scorecards, with regular updates people can follow.

Wisconsin may be headed toward such a system, with metrics that chart how well the state is performing in testing and other indicators such as hospitalizations, deaths and more. Testing is the biggest indicator because without more of it, public health officials, business owners and policy makers alike are shooting in the dark.

Another indicator to include in the mix is how Wisconsin fares in some of the more prominent national computer models, such as those constructed by the University of Washington and the University of Texas. Those models crunch real data to make COVID-19 forecasts.

People can wait longer if they're presented with weekly evidence of progress ... or reality.

At some point, however, it should no longer fall to government to decide what businesses are “essential” and which are not, but to assess which businesses follow rigorous safety and sanitation rules and which do not. That's a matter for public health inspections, a normal duty of government, versus an arbitrary designation of which businesses and jobs matter more than others.

While not scientific, a survey by the Wisconsin Technology Council revealed that people in the business sector also have misgivings about rushing into reopening the economy.

Asked what would help their businesses most in the months ahead, 17% of the respondents picked immediate lifting of Wisconsin's “safer at home” order and 46% favored a gradual lifting. The rest favored other options, such as federal Small Business Administration loans arriving before their companies run out of cash.

Lockdowns in Wisconsin and elsewhere are not sustainable forever, or even for very long. They can be safely lifted, however, if restless consumers regain the confidence to believe it's safe to venture out again.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechcouncil.com.

Investigator Emmons, with the Barron Police Department, reports on April 11, 2020 at approximately 7:00 a.m., he was dispatched to a residence in Barron for a report of a stolen car.

Upon arrival, Investigator Emmons reports he met with a female subject who lives at the residence. She stated she went outside around 6:30 a.m., to start the car for her mother. When her mother went outside around 7:00 a.m. to leave for work, the car was gone. The female stated that neither she nor her mother gave anyone permission to take the car. Investigator Emmons obtained a vehicle description and VIN number for the stolen car.

Investigator Emmons reports he received a phone call on April 11, at approximately 9:30 a.m., from a male subject who is the maintenance person for the residence. The male stated he had video of the car being stolen from the residence earlier that morning. Investigator Emmons met with the male subject and viewed the video.

The video shows that, at approximately 7:01 a.m., two subjects, a male and a female, arrive on the east end of the residence. The male and female are seen walking along the front of the building. The female was wearing a dark colored face mask and a scarf on her head and carrying a multi-colored backpack on her back. The male is also wearing a dark colored face mask.

The video shows the male and female walking up to the vehicle that was stolen. The female gets in the driver's door. The male waits on the passenger side for the female to unlock it. After the door is unlocked, the male gets in and they quickly drive out of the parking lot turning on a side street.

Investigator Emmons reports on April 12, he was notified by Barron County Dispatch that they had just received a teletype from Price County that a male and a female were seen in Phillips driving the stolen car. The female was still driving. The male tried to get a couple of things at the Pick and Save, in Phillips, to make change for $100 bill. The person who the male asked to make change felt the bill and knew it was fake. The person did not make change for the $100 bill, and told the male it was fake. The male and female got back into the stolen vehicle and drove away.

Barron Police Chief Vierkant reports on April 15, he was notified that the Barron Kwik Trip might have video surveillance of the two suspects that stole the vehicle. Chief Vierkant went to Kwik Trip and met with the store manager, who provided Chief Vierkant with a photograph of the two suspects entering the store. The male and female in the picture were the same suspects that were shown on the video taken from the residence.

The manager stated an employee told her that the male and female had been in the store several times that night (April 11) prior to the vehicle being stolen. The male and female made comments about walking 14 miles. The male asked the clerk if he could use a half $100 bill and was denied.

Chief Vierkant reports he sent the photograph from Kwik Trip to the Barron County Sheriff's Department for identification of the two suspects shown in the photograph. Jail Officer Smith and Deputy Sommerfeld informed Chief Vierkant that they believed the male suspect was Erik Whiterabbit. Chief Vierkant printed booking photographs of Whiterabbit and observed he appeared to be the same person shown in the photograph. Chief Vierkant reports the deputies were unable to identify the female suspect.

Investigator Emmons reports on April 15, he sent the photograph to Officer Smith, with the Cumberland Police Department. Officer Smith later sent Investigator Emmons a text identifying the male subject as Whiterabbit. Investigator Emmons reports he checked Facebook and found a page for Whiterabbit. The Facebook page shows Whiterabbit is from Turtle Lake. Investigator Emmons determined the distance between Turtle Lake and Barron is approximately 16 miles, very near to what Whiterabbit and the female suspect told the employee at Kwik Trip.

Officer Donald Holmes, with the S. Croix Tribal Police Department, reports he was on routine patrol in the Maple Plain Community, when on April 15, at approximately 7:09 p.m. he observed a vehicle drive past his location. Officer Holmes ran the license plate on the vehicle and it returned to the stolen vehicle out of Barron. Officer Holmes conducted a traffic stop.

Sergeant Hulback, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on April 15, at approximately 7:16 p.m., he responded to the Maple Plain Reservation after becoming aware that Officer Holmes reported having observed the stolen vehicle, but had lost sight of it. While en route, dispatch advised that Officer Holmes located the vehicle again and was in the process of conducting a traffic stop. Sergeant Hulback responded to the location.

Upon arrival, Sergeant Hulback observed a female driver and a male passenger. Sergeant Hulback spoke with the female, who stated that Whiterabbit was her brother. He had told her she could borrow or buy the vehicle. The female stated that Whiterabbit was with the female when they arrived at her residence with the vehicle.

The female stated that Whiterabbit and Coen told her that they found a vehicle. The female stated she found it a little strange, but was looking to buy a car and they said that she could buy that one. When Sergeant Hulback informed the female that the vehicle was stolen, the female replied that she knew something was kind of funny about it. The female denied knowing that the vehicle was stolen.

Sergeant Hulback reports that the female stated that Whiterabbit left a $100 bill in the vehicle that was torn in half. Investigator Emmons reports he inspected the vehicle on April 16. He reports he observed what appeared to be a fake $100 bill torn in half under the front dash in a compartment.

If convicted for theft-movable property, Whiterabbit may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than three years and six months or both. For operating a motor vehicle without owner's consent, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. If convicted for theft-movable property, Coen may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than three years and six months or both. For operating a motor vehicle without owner's consent, she may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both.

$3,000 cash located inside of a Verizon box, $900 cash in a multi-colored wallet located in a drawer, $962 cash located in a safe, a Heritage Manual Revolver, and a 9mm. handgun located next to the safe.

Officer Westberg additionally reports that the residence is located 800 feet away from the Cumberland School District, baseball field, and hockey rink.

Officer Strenke, also with the Cumberland Police Department, reports he assisted in execution of the search warrant on April 22. Officer Strenke reports he took Dickson into custody and transported him to the Barron County Jail. Officer Strenke reports Dickson stated he and Davis have lived at the residence for approximately two months and that nobody else lived there during that time frame. Dickson reportedly stated he and Davis shared a bedroom. He further stated all of the marijuana and paraphernalia in the residence was his and that Davis was not involved with drugs in any way.

Based upon the officer's training and experience, the combination of the amount of marijuana, combined with the presence of a scale and the substantial amount of cash found, is more indicative of someone involved in the selling and distribution of marijuana.

If convicted for possession with intent to deliver THC, possession with intent to deliver/distribute a controlled substance on or near a school, Dickson may be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For possession of THC, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than three years and six months or both. For possession of a controlled substance he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than three years and six months or both. For possession of drug paraphernalia, he may be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than 30 days or both. His adjourned initial appearance is scheduled for May 6, 2020.

An Outdoorsman's Journal by Mark Walters

Lake Michigan for Coho/The 360 Degree Wind!

Hello friends,

Here is the scenario. I am in a turkey blind, my computer is setup on a chair and I am hen pecking this weeks column to you while I hunt turkey which is the field work for next week's column.

Sunday, April 19th
High 52, low 30

I am driving to Milwaukee with a canoe on the top of a truck that is about to hit 300,000 miles. I am going to paddle that canoe in Lake Michigan and catch a salmon. Tonight I am going to sleep in The Chevy Hotel and the next day I will repeat the process and if I still have a heart beat I will drive home.

When I left home there was a chilly west wind blowing and it was forecast over the next 24-hours to go from west to north to east to south and back to west. My extremely brilliant plan was to have the dangerous part of the wind blowing when I was resting in the wonderful accommodations of The Chevy Hotel.

As I am driving in the Milwaukee area I noticed two things, one was that I simply do not fit in here and the other was that the wind was now blowing out of the north, no problem, I am Mark Walters and I can do anything.

My destination is Bender Park which is near the Oak Creek Power Plant and my informants have told me that I could fill my canoe with coho, browns, and maybe even a king salmon. Looking at the waves that were being pushed by what was now a northeast wind I was thinking the only thing that I could fill my canoe with was water.

Just a week ago I fell out of this canoe and into the Menominee River while netting a fish, did you ever see a gun shy dog when you pull a gun out and it see's it? I kind of have that problem since my recent baptism!

So, I talk to three very wise fishermen who are trailering their boat, they tell me that they were the last boat on the water and they were in a 22-foot Boston Whaler. I am told it is impossible to fish with the northeast wind.

I have a brainstorm. I call my good friends Paul and Christine Johnson who live in Kenosha. I have never been to Kenosha. Paul tells me that he thinks I could fish the harbor. I drive to Kenosha and am pleasantly surprised. For a city, it is very clean, quiet, and has lots of walkers and shore fishermen.

I begin the job of rigging my 17-foot canoe and talk with many shore fishermen, brown trout is king in the spring and one fella I spoke with caught a 26-pounder two days earlier.

I am working out of Simmons Island Marina and pulling three rigs. One has a dodger/fly combo and is on a right planer board. Another has a Flicker Shad and is straight back and the third has a spoon and is on a left board. I work this maybe 1.5 mile area and keep trying to paddle into the big lake but the waves beat me back every time. No fish today!

Monday, April 20th
High 57, low 29

I hid my canoe in the marina and hid in my truck and the only folks that almost found me were three homeless guys.

I was up at 3:45 this morning and would be using every type of light that I have so that boats with motors would not eat me in the dark. At 4:30 I am literally paddling out to sea and in this case we are talking Lake Michigan. Naturally there is adversity and in this case it is rollers from the east wind hitting my canoe from the east and a now southwest wind. My canoe is beat around like a feather in a solid wind and I am having a hard time paddling fast enough to move my lures at an appropriate speed.

I am straddling a small cooler and sitting on my knees. This method guarantees loss of circulation from the neck down and lots of cramping.

The wind has switched to the west and is blowing right down the harbor and is forecast to pick up big time any moment. I hear a woman yell out from shore "I thought that was you." It is Christine Johnson, about the same time I get either a snag or a hit, it is a fish, I am in disbelief. I catch the fish and now I know I am invincible, I caught a coho out of my canoe. I make the extremely wise decision to paddle a mile south on Lake Michigan in a growing wind. No one knows the misery I am in, to anyone watching I looked like one tough dude fighting big waves.

The victory of a coho!

By the time I got out of the crazy stuff, my arms were each two inches longer and I was fully aware that I have some form of mental health problem.

Got my salmon!

One Hundred Years Ago: The Cumberland Class of 1920

By Mark R Fuller

Cumberland has always placed a high regard on education. In 1876, only two years after the first Norwegian settlers came to the area, a meeting was held in which it was decided to build a log cabin school house over the winter. It was to be opened for the Island's children the fall of 1877 with a budget of $900.00.

By 1920, Cumberland schools had grown from their initial graduating class of six, to 19 students who were ready to receive their diplomas that May. The class had numbered 63 as freshmen, but had dropped to 31 as sophomores and 17 as juniors. Two late additions, the fall of 1919, would bring the final class number to 19.

With 29 juniors, 39 sophomores, and 44 freshmen in the high school, one could see the District starting to grow. The enrollment in the Elementary School, meanwhile, stood at 306.

T.A. Bergh was the Superintendent and Principal, having a staff of seven teachers. He also served as the coach in both basketball and football. Our schools were two years removed from WWI and the big Influenza scare of 1918, which had closed schools for over two months and canceled the 1918 football season.

Physical examinations were given to the whole school twice a year, due to the the health scares of the times. A larger outbreak of polio had struck New York City in 1916, with more than 27,000 cases and 6,000 deaths. As the number of polio cases grew, the paralytic disease changed the way Americans looked at public health and disability. Throw in the flu pandemic of less than two years earlier and you can understand the concerns.

The physicals took place first in September and then following Easter vacation. Any child's physical issues were noted and their parents contacted with the concerns. The September physical, to start this school year, had found that 65 percent of the children were underweight. The school would go on to say, "Through the co-operation of the teachers and parents the percent of underweights has been reduced to 35 percent by the end of our school year."

Health talks were presented to the grade school children once a week, while absences were carefully investigated by the school nurse and social hygiene lectures were often given. Milk, at one cent a cup, was served each day.

The Senior Class contained among others, Class President Lester Wandrey, Vice President Gladys Baird and Secretary-Treasurer Douglas Gibson. Each Senior listed their favorite class, with English taught by Miss Ruth Shryhock being the most common answer. Valedictorian Lucille "Bunny" Haugen had one of the most interesting mottos, as it read, "Arise with the lark, but avoid larks in the evening."

Athletically, the football team had come back that fall with limited experience following the cancellation of the 1918 season. Coach Bergh would schedule four games against Hudson, River Falls, New Richmond, and Spooner. The tough schedule left them winless, but football had at least returned to the school.

Bergh also coached Basketball, where the team would go 5 and 4. The most interesting part of the season was a season ending March 4 train trip to Superior, which lasted 23 hours thanks to a big snowstorm. While there, despite limited sleep, the Beavers defeated Shell Lake 47-13, while losing to the eventual 1920 State Champion Superior Spartans 48-18.

To help pay for the Superior trip, the Athletic Association decided to put on a school play called, "The Family Affair." Staged in the School auditorium, $115.50 was cleared following expenses. Among the actors who participated was Elmer Beran, a high school freshman. Years later, he would become much better known for his role as a Cumberland teacher and coach himself.

Music was also a part of the school curriculum. The High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Lyle Garrett, was in its second year of existence. Although only having four members, they would present a Christmas program in December and play for the commencement ceremonies that took place on May 26.

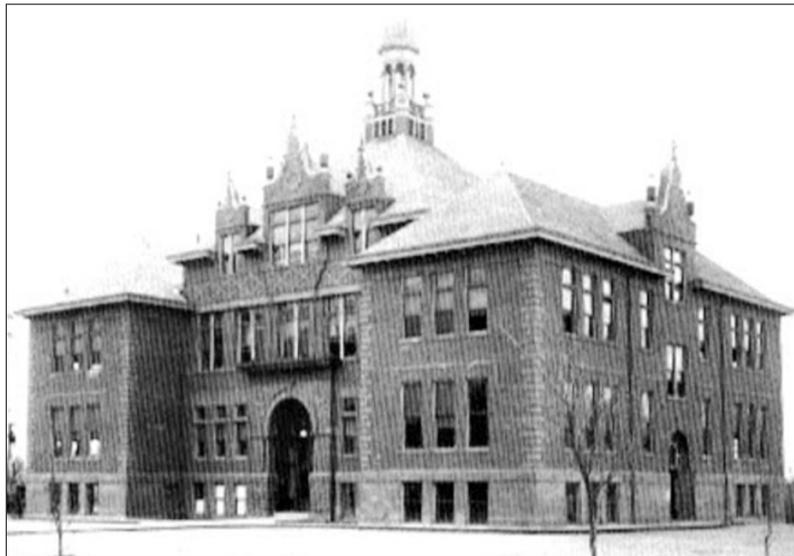

The Glee Club, meanwhile, operated under the direction of Miss Violet Hill. Its 30 members performed at several events, including two social evenings where there were games, folk dances, and grand marches.

The school year itself, looked much like it does today. It began on September 2 and ended on May 28. Christmas vacation went from December 20 to January 5.

Although things have changed substantially over the last 100 years, things have also, in some ways, remained much like they are today. One can see some of those similarities in a poem written 100 years ago, by Class President Lester Wandrey, which appeared in the school yearbook of 1920, called the Tamakwa.

A Senior's Sob

I'll say this is a funny world

The Cumberland School opened in January of 1904.

As through life you pass. I've seen three years of high school

And now I'll see my last. The first year was like a dream

I was in perfect bliss. I never skipped a day of school,

I was afraid there'd be something I'd miss.

I studied hard and faithfully,

And passed in all but four. If I could have taken five, I guess I'd flunked one more.

And then into the Sophomore class

I finally was sent. And then an inspiration

Into my heart content. I decided to get to business,

And grow up and be a gent.

I settled down right then and there

And did my work real well.

But let me tell you one thing.

This studying sure is

At last I was a Junior,

All set and fine as spruce. Again I resolved to study

But, alas! It was no use. I guess I passed in five that year,

I made an awful try. When they put my name on the honor list

I thought I would surely die.

At last I am a Senior,

It ain't so awful grand. I don't see any of the teachers, A eatin' out of my hand.

I guess I'll have to stick it out

And work like a little man.

And with the teachers' kindly help

I'll graduate, if I can

L. L. Wandrey, '20.

I'd like to thank Lee and Judy Jacobson, hanging out these days in Arizona, for sending me much of the information for this article.*

We hopefully will see them back in Cumberland soon.

I'd like to also thank our many teachers and Administrators for their tremendous work each and every year and wish our many students my very best as we continue our disrupted school

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

What a beautiful week! It was so nice to be outside without wearing a jacket. Duane got the garden all tilled up and fertilized, and I think we can start planting without worrying about any frost – maybe. The Lehmann family, and I'm sure lots of other farmers, were out getting field work done. A lot different than last April. I think we still had quite a bit of snow on the ground at this time last year.

And, we have wonderful news in our family. We have a new great-granddaughter. Elodie Jean Hines, adorable little daughter of Ben and Jensyn Hines and sister of little Boden Hines, arrived on April 22. Mom and baby are doing wonderfully well, and the whole family is so happy to welcome their new little sweetheart. We will have to wait a while to see her in person, of course, but Jensyn sent us a picture and she is such a pretty baby.

Do you remember when I told you that Pastor Todd had made DVDs of the Sunday services so that we could watch them at home and that they wouldn't work on our DVD player? Well, everyone else could play them, so I tried one more time. There was nothing wrong with the DVD, it was just that I didn't know how to operate the machine. Anyway, I finally figured out where to set the "input" and they worked beautifully. So, Sunday morning at 9:00, Duane and I watched the Easter service. Pastor Todd had filmed it at Barronett Lutheran with Geri Pittman playing the organ, so it seemed as though we were actually at church. To say it was wonderful is an understatement. I don't think we will ever take Sunday morning church services for granted again. It will be so good to be able to meet with the rest of the congregation in the church when this all blows over.

We had such a nice message on our phone this past week, but I don't know who it was from. A lady called to say how much she enjoyed Shirley Stellrecht's poem, "Sister." It is such a touching poem – especially now when we are all missing our families so much. (Thank you for the call. It was so nice to hear from you.)

Duane and I finally met Ted Schoenhals. I had talked to him on the phone a few times when he was telling me about the rod and reel give-away he planned to have for kids this month. Of course, that plan changed the first part of March, just like almost everything else. Anyway, Duane and I had some old fishing gear that we thought he might like to fix up for the kids, and so he and Terry Goodrich came by to pick it up. We were all wearing masks, so he probably won't recognize us if he meets us on the street, but at least we had a chance to be introduced to him. If he is able to have his give-away this summer, I think we will go there just to visit while the kids pick out fishing poles. And, if you do have any old rods and reels you don't use any more, I'm sure he would be glad to get them.

I talked to Geri Pittman for a while this weekend. She said that she and her granddaughters, Erica and Brooke, had been busy this past week cleaning up the yard. She had a swing set and some other playground equipment that they disassembled and put away. She said that when Mel used to mow the grass and complain about mowing around everything she thought he was just complaining unnecessarily. After all, how hard could it be to mow around a few little things? Well, now she is doing the yard work and has decided that he was exactly right. Hmmm -- Funny how that works.

Oh, I have to tell you – While Duane was slaving away on a tractor, tilling the garden, I wasn't just sitting around watching soap operas and eating bon-bons. I got the treehouse all cleaned up and ready for little visitors. There hadn't been any rodents in the house, but there were lots and lots of bugs to sweep up. Now, whenever we are able to have grandchildren and great-grandchildren around again, we can go up to the garden and fly kites and have a picnic at the treehouse. I can hardly wait.

Jerry Marsh rode his motorcycle over to our place on Saturday. He is so concerned about giving us any germs that he stayed by the curb and I stayed on the porch and we visited that way. It will be so nice when I can hug my kids again.

I feel so bad for this year's senior classes. Graduation and graduation parties are such a big deal, and I don't know what they will be doing this year. I would really like to put their names and their plans for the future in this column, so I need your help. If you have a son, daughter, grandchild, niece, nephew – anyone – graduating this year would you please call me with the details. I would be glad to let everyone know how they are doing and what they plan to do this fall. Thanks in advance for your help.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Richard Hillman who passed away on Thursday. Please keep Marie and the rest of the family in your prayers for comfort in this time of sorrow.

That's all I have from Barronett this week. Stay safe and I hope to see you again soon.

Headline from the October 6, 1898 Advocate concerning the "Great Fire"

The Great Fire of 1898

by Mark R. Fuller

Forest Fires were a fact of life in the early growth of Wisconsin. The loggers of our north woods left slash, branches and fallen trees, throughout the woods. As these materials dried out, fires would sometimes break out. This could create a devastating environment in our early towns, in which every structure was made of wood.

The most devastating fire in United States history occurred in our State in October of 1871. Starting in Peshtigo, it began following an extremely Summer day in their forest outside of town. Before it was done, some 1200 people lost their lives and two billion trees were consumed by the flames. Two hundred people died in a single tavern in Peshtigo.

Our area was not exempt from these devastations. In 1891, some 65,000 acres had burned in the Comstock area. Then in 1894, a fire burst out over Barron, Rusk, Sawyer, and Chippewa counties that left Barronett, Granite Lake, and Comstock completely wiped out.

F.S. Staub and his fellow lumberjacks tried to fight the fires in Barronett, but were forced to give up and saved their lives by burying themselves in a roadside ditch. Barronett was left with three homes, while once again, Comstock had little left.

Unfortunately, the conditions in 1898 were similar to those of four years earlier. Farmers who owned land along the railroad became "firewatchers" as temperatures that summer ran near 100 degrees for an entire week.

Then on a warm Thursday afternoon it happened. Black smoke could be seen rising up into the sky south of town as the sun became obscured from the smoke. Mayor S. H. Waterman quickly ordered schools closed and the mill crews to standby to help as the volunteer Fire Department became the first to answer the call.

Some of those on the crew included H. S. Comstock, Dr. Hopkins, Fred Miller, Ole Olson, Elmer Beck, Barber Weston, and Frank Jerry.

Within an hour of first seeing the smoke, the situation became alarming as homeowners wet down all they could. Women, children, and older citizens were put on a train and sent to Shell Lake, taking their valuables with them. Others began to row to safety out in the lake.

The flames eventually reached the cities southern border and began to split. The Heading Mill, where Seneca Foods stands today, was soon on fire as strong winds added to the problem. Twenty-one homes and Waterman's Office were also soon gone.

The fighting went on to try and save the downtown section. The fire consumed Roberts Livery Stable and Theo Hamm's Beer Depot and Saloon, but was stopped just South of the present library.

The Beaver Dam Lumber Company on Mill Hill would be hard hit. It's small tugboat, tied up in the water below the hill had its mooring rope burn through as it soon drifted into Norwegian Bay. The company would eventually lose seven million feet of lumber.

By 9:00 p.m., relief thankfully came in a downpour of rain. The next morning, the residents of the Island City began to assess the damages the city had endured. Hundreds of families were left homeless as dead animals could be found and bodies of area homesteaders were located.

Financial losses in Cumberland were around $170,000, and in Barron County some $300,000. Stiff winds blew up again the next day, as panic of a second round of fires set in, but nothing materialized.

The Governor, Edward Scofield, sent Adjutant General Boardman to visit the city, while the city of Superior sent $125, and food to our citizens. Mayor Waterman, meanwhile, realized jobs were lost as he set out to bring business back into the city. This included moving the Waterman, Olcott, Miller Mill from Sand Lake to the City, where it opened in the spring.

The fire had caused the city great suffering, but the will of the people would endure. Cumberland was ready to head into the twentieth Century with the continued optimism that had settled the area.

“Goodbye Cumberland”

It has been a great 12 years, but God has called my wife, Kelly, and I to a new ministry in northwestern Minnesota. We have been richly blessed by our time in this community and we will remember you fondly!

First of all, I want to thank Cumberland Baptist Church for our 12 years of ministry together. We have had our victories and our defeats, but I am proud of your commitment to God's Word and your willingness to sacrificially serve the community! Kelly and I love you all, and we wait eagerly to see what God plans next for CBC.

We were blessed to have our two children, Josh and Kait, graduate from Cumberland High School. I want to thank all of the teachers, administrators, and staff for your commitment and hard work! Our children have both done very well, building on the foundation Cumberland Schools gave them.

I also want to thank the other churches in Cumberland for their spirit of cooperation. I have enjoyed knowing the community pastors through the Ministerial, and I enjoyed leading the Ministerial this past year. You have all been great to work with. It looks like one of you will need to step up and take the reins. God bless you!

It is impossible to thank everybody who has blessed us personally, and the CoVid-19 Pandemic has made this a bizarre time to end our ministry in Cumberland, but we do want you to know that we love you and we will miss you. I pray that God continues to bless and strengthen the Cumberland Community.

Sincerely,
Pastor Gary (and Kelly) Dorn

NOTICE OF BOARD OF REVIEW MEETING
 Notice is hereby given that the Board of Review for the Town of Lakeland, Barron County, Wisconsin, shall hold its first meeting on June 3, 2020, from 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. at the Lakeland Town Hall located at 791 29-11/16 Ave, Barronett, Wisconsin.

Please be advised of the following requirements to appear before the board of review and procedural requirements if appearing before the board:

1. No person will be allowed to appear before the board of review, to testify to the board by telephone, or to contest the amount of any assessment of real or personal property if the person has refused a reasonable written request by certified mail of the assessor to view the property.
2. After the first meeting of the board of review and before the board's final adjournment, no person who is scheduled to appear before the board of review may contact or provide information to a member of the board about the person's objection, except at a session of the board.
3. The board of review may not hear an objection to the amount or valuation of property unless, at least 48 hours before the board's first scheduled meeting, the objector provides to the board's clerk written or oral notice of an intent to file an objection, except that upon a showing of good cause and the submission of a written objection, the board shall waive that requirement during the first 2 hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, and the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days with proof of extraordinary circumstances for failure to meet the 48-hour notice requirement and failure to appear before the board of review during the first 2 hours of the first scheduled meeting.
4. Objections to the amount or valuation of property shall first be made in writing and filed with the clerk of the board of review within the first 2 hours of the board's first scheduled meeting, except that, upon evidence of extraordinary circumstances, the board may waive that requirement up to the end of the 5th day of the session or up to the end of the final day of the session if the session is less than 5 days. The board may require objections to the amount or valuation of property to be submitted on forms approved by the Department of Revenue, and the board shall require that any forms include stated valuations of the property in question. Persons who own land and improvements to that land may object to the aggregate valuation of that land and improvements to that land, but no person who owns land and improvements to that land may object only to the valuation of that land or only to the valuation of improvements to that land. No person may be allowed in any action or proceedings to question the amount or valuation of property unless the written objection has been filed and that person in good faith presented evidence to the board in support of the objections and made full disclosure before the board, under oath, of all of that person's property liable to assessment in the district and the value of that property. The requirement that objections be in writing may be waived by express action of the board.
5. When appearing before the board of review, the objecting person shall specify in writing the person's estimate of the value of the land and of the improvements that are the subject of the person's objection and specify the information that the person used to arrive at that estimate.
6. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or object to a valuation if that valuation was made by the assessor or the objector using the income method of valuation, unless the person supplies the assessor with all the information about income and expenses, as specified in the assessor's manual under s. 73.03 (2a), Wis. stats., that the assessor requests. The Town of Lakeland has an ordinance for the confidentiality of information about income and expenses that is provided to the assessor under this paragraph that provides exceptions for persons using information in the discharge of duties imposed by law or the duties of their officer or by order of a court.* The information that is provided under this paragraph, unless a court determined that it is inaccurate, is not subject to the right of inspection and copying under s. 19.35 (1), Wis. stats.
7. The board shall hear upon oath, by telephone, all ill or disabled persons who present to the board a letter from a physician, surgeon, or osteopath that confirms their illness or disability. No other persons may testify by telephone unless the Board, in its discretion, has determined to grant a property owner's or their representative's request to testify under oath by telephone or written statement.
8. No person may appear before the board of review, testify to the board by telephone, or contest the amount of any assessment unless, at least 48 hours before the first meeting of the board, or at least 48 hours before the objection is heard if the objection is allowed under s. 70.47 (3) (a), Wis. stats., that person provides to the clerk of the board of review notice as to whether the person will ask for the removal of a member of the board of review and, if so, which member, and provides a reasonable estimate of the length of time the hearing will take. Fred Moser; His History in Cumberland

Many men and women have left their presence on Cumberland's long history. One name who appears among them is that of Fred Moser.

Born in 1898, Moser grew up in Plum City and went on to attend River Falls High School, from which he graduated in 1910 as the valedictorian, at the age of 16. He would move on to the River Falls Normal School, receiving his degree in education in 1915.

His first teaching position was at Red Granite High School, but he would soon enlist in the army and serve in WW1. Following his service, he would return to education and teach at Minong and Elmwood.

After three years of teaching, he would go to the University of Wisconsin where he received his PHD. While there, he was elected to the honorary society, "Artus," one of only three members selected that year from the student body.

Moser would then come to Cumberland in the fall of 1925 as an economics and history teacher as well as a coach. In 1929, he would be named the High School Principal. In 1936, he would marry Catherine Chapman, a Cumberland English and Music teacher. She would eventually write the words to the School song.

Moser was not only involved in education, but served 11 years on the Barron County Education Commission as well as the Cumberland City Council and Library Board. He was also a charter member of the Kiwanis and his dedication to the community led the school to name the athletic field "Moser Field."

Moser would leave Cumberland and serve in the Wisconsin Assembly from 1966 to 1967. While there, he would be a member of the Education and Public Welfare Committees. Moser would continue his ties to Cumberland until his death in 1993, including a membership in the American Legion here for 60 years. He would be buried in Lakeside Cemetery.

Education has always been important in the Island City, led by people like Merwin Moen and Frank Peichel to Dr. Barry Rose today. Like them, Fred Moser was a person who dedicated his life to the children of Cumberland.

Construction on US 8 begins

Project includes rehabilitating US 8 pavement, adding rumble strips

Construction on US 8 in Polk and Barron counties, between the roundabout at WIS 46 South and County P in Almena, is scheduled to begin in early May, with traffic-control measures put in place the week of April 27 and actual roadwork starting the following week.

The $8.5 million projects aim to improve road safety and involve:

- Milling off a portion of US 8's surface.
- Overlaying US 8 with asphalt.
- Shouldering.
- Installing centerline rumble strips.
- Marking the pavement.
- Widening the paved shoulders from 3 feet to 5 feet and adding shoulder rumble strips in appropriate areas to help address run-off-roadway crashes.

Construction is scheduled to be completed by the end of September. During construction, US 8 will remain open to traffic. Motorists can expect two-lane conditions with short-term single-lane closures using flagging operations to control traffic through the work area. Access to local businesses and residences will be maintained.

Please be timely with your scheduled pickup. In compliance with the Emergency Order #28, the library building remains closed to the public. This curbside pickup is a no contact service, meaning that staff will not be outdoors working at the tables. Library materials may be returned in the outside book/media drop boxes.

Please practice social distancing and wear a face mask when you pick up your library items. Wait for the person ahead of you to pick up their bag and to leave the table before you approach the table.

The Thomas St. Angelo Public Library staff are following safety precautions including social distancing, wearing masks, frequently washing hands and are staying home while ill. We encourage library customers to follow CDC guidance and take similar precautions.

WIS 48 traffic changes in Rice Lake coming

WIS 48/US 53 interchange Stage 1 construction nearing completion. Construction around the US 53/WIS 48 interchange in Rice Lake has begun, and motorists should expect to see traffic changes coming.

Weather pending, the contractor is expected to complete the temporary widening of the north side of WIS 48 and a temporary northbound off-ramp connection to Stout Street during the week of May 4. Drivers then can expect:

- A traffic switch that will route all WIS 48 vehicles onto the north side of the highway median.
- The intersection of West Avenue to the south of WIS 48 will be closed. This closure is expected to last through early July.
- The West Avenue/19th Street intersection to the north will remain open.
- WIS 48 will remain open; however, delays may be encountered.

The temporary US 53 northbound off-ramp that connects to Stout Street will not be utilized until mid-July, keeping vehicles on the existing ramp longer than originally anticipated.

The $5 million project includes completely reconstructing WIS 48 from West Avenue to Bear Paw Avenue, reconstructing the WIS 48-West Avenue intersection with a roundabout, reconstructing the north- and southbound US 53 ramp terminals at WIS 48 as roundabouts and improving the Bear Paw Avenue intersection in the form of pavement marking and traffic signal installation. Construction began Monday, April 20 and is scheduled to be completed in mid-November.

April School Board meets by teleconference; Discusses plans for remainder of year

Due to the COVID crisis, the Cumberland School Board met via teleconference on Monday, April 27th.

Athletic Director Lorne Majewski brought the Board up to date on plans to get as much of the Spring sports seasons accomplished as possible, once the current situation allows for the resumption of activities.

Jamie Shaffer, Director of Learning, gave her report on the continuing efforts by the staff and students to continue with studies and learning opportunities during the shut down.

Every effort is being made to get assignments to students - either online or by packets that can be picked up along with the Meals-to-Go.

Tami Alberg gave the Board information on the Special Ed Department's efforts to continue servicing their students special needs.

In action items, the Board approved the employment of Brittany Martinek as 2nd Grade Teacher, as well as that of Jenna Stuntz as Speech & Language Pathologist for the Elementary School. Jenna replaces Diane Carlson, longtime Speech & Language Pathologist for the district who will be retiring at the end of this year.

Next, the board discussed a "Resolution for Requesting a Waiver for Instructional Hours" for the 2019-2020 school year. This waiver has been offered to all districts but paperwork must be filed in order for it to be granted. The resolution will be voted on at the next meeting.

One common theme ran through the Administrator reports. All three principals complimented their staffs in how they are handling communications between parents, students, and the administration under these extremely challenging circumstances.

They all also assured the board that students are being held accountable for the assignments given out. Middle and High School students who do not complete their work will receive "zeros" and could be required to retake classes. This could also affect their eligibility for Fall Sports.

Superintendent Barry Rose discussed plans to honor the Seniors. The district is running through numerous ideas on how to hold a prom and graduation ceremonies once the shut-down is relaxed. Nothing is certain because of the ever changing situation.

The next regular board meeting is scheduled for Monday, May 18th at 6:00 p.m. - location to be determined.

It's Time to Pray! National Day of Prayer-May 7

"PRAY GOD'S GLORY ACROSS THE EARTH" is this year's theme for the 69th annual National Day of Prayer based on Habakkuk 2:14. "For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the Glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." The mission of the National Day of Prayer Task Force is to mobilize unified public prayer for America. This began on April 17th, 1952 when a bill initiated by Mr. Conrad Hilton of Hilton Hotels and Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas. A bill was unanimously passed by the House & Senate authorizing the President of the United States to set aside a National Day of Prayer.

The National Observance will be aired at 7 p.m. on the www.nationaldayofprayer.org site, NDP Facebook Live, WI National Day of Prayer-Madison Facebook Live, God TV, Daystar, and radio stations. This will be hosted by NDP President Kathy Branzell and Will Graham of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association plus many other ministry guest prayers.

Locally we are featuring a "Drive-By-Prayer" on the WI NDP-Madison facebook site as well as a ZOOM prayer time at noon found on the NDP website under "Events" where I will have the link to join the ZOOM call. Local churches in Cumberland will be posting the "Drive-By-Prayer" on their websites or facebook. Normally we would have gatherings, but not this year.

We are encouraging believers to join electronically or use "Drive-By-Prayer" from home or a vehicle. We want to honor the recommendations that have been set forth by the state.

The 12 key areas on the "Drive-By-Prayer" are as follows: 1. Praying God's Glory Across the Earth 2. Prayer Pandemic-Revival 3. Covid-19 4. First Responders 5. Agriculture 6. Church 7. Government 8. Family 9. Education 10. Business 11. Military 12. Media millions of Americans praying for their nation on Thursday, May 7th. Your prayers make a difference as we seek to pray God's glory across the earth and bring godly transformation to the above areas of society.

For more information on the NDP contact Joleen Helbig, WI National Day of Prayer State Coordinator or the local churches. joleen.wi.ndp@gmail.com or WI National Day of Prayer-Madison Facebook
