City clears way for new home construction at November Council meeting.

The Common Council of the City of Cumberland met in regular session on Tuesday, November 2nd.

After reciting the pledge of allegiance, the council approved the agenda and dealt with the business items.

The first item on the agenda was to discuss the Open Record request from received from Tom St. Angelo. St. Angelo is requesting documentation on the Library Budgets from 2007, and grant agreement materials dating from 2008, to the present. Mayor Bert Skinner addressed the council stating that legal council had responded to St. Angelo's letter. The City's legal council advised St. Angelo that the City is only required by law to retain records for six years, if records beyond that were still available, then the City would provide them. He was also informed that he is required to pay $50 up front to cover copying charges, any unused funds would be returned and any amount due over that amount would be billed. St. Angelo has the right to appeal, through the court system, any part of the request that may be denied.

Without going into the request's details, the Mayor related that the last time the City dealt with a public record request, it cost Cumberland approximately $5,000, but cost the requester less than $200. He pointed out to the council that, in order to compensate for those costs, the line item for legal expenses in next year's budget had to be raised.

Moving on, the council approved awarding the Robinson St. and 12th Ave. Water Main Extension Project to A-1 Excavating in the amount of $235,885.00.

This will lay down the infrastructure needed to begin the residential construction in the area.

The Council then reviewed and approved a Quit Claim Deed for Lots 32-31 and 30-29 in TID #9 (part of the residential development area on the City's west side, behind Synergy) to C & M Companies for Twin Homes, with the agreement that all costs associated with site and prep work, as billed by Bowe Trucking & Excavating, Inc., be paid by C & M Companies. Wetland permitting for said lots to be prepared by CBS<sup>2</sup> and paid for by C & M Companies (not to exceed $1000 per lot). C & M hopes, weather permitting, to begin site prep and possibly even get foundations laid yet this fall.

Next, the Council approved the application for payment #3 for Water Street & 4th Ave Reconstruction to Haas Sons, Inc. in the amount of $152,790.66. This project is substantially completed. There should be only one payment left.

The Council then approved of any License Applications submitted since last meeting.

After announcing that the Annual Budget hearing will be held on November 23rd at 5 pm at City Hall, the meeting was adjourned at 7:15 pm.

The next regular session of the council is scheduled for Tuesday, December 7th at 7:00 pm at City Hall.

Work is well underway on the South East Storm Water Pond on the "Library Lake" portion of Beaver Dam Lake. This phase of the project will involve connecting 3 storm water drains from the City parking lot and several businesses along the alley to a new storm water pond. The pond will be the first of three treatment facilities to be located in the area where three houses were removed.

Kiwanis Has Served City Since 1952

by Mark R. Fuller

Kiwanis International was founded in 1915 by a group of businessmen in Detroit, Michigan. In its early years, members focused on business networking, but in 1919 the organization changed its focus to service, specifically service to children. This helped lead to a change in the organization's motto in 2005, when it went from "We build" to "Serving the children of the world."

From Cumberland's infancy, clubs and civic groups played a big part in the lives of the residents. In May of 1952, Cumberland added to these organizations working to devote time and money for community good. It was a charter for Kiwanis International.

The organization chose the Tower House as the host for its weekly noon luncheons on Mondays. The group was sponsored by the Barron Kiwanis as 42 individuals became part of the first class. Robert Harkness was chosen as the club's President, Howard Jacobson, Vice-President and Richard Ruppel, the Secretary.

The Cumberland Kiwanis

first project was to recognize the Senior Honor Students at a meeting two weeks later. Committee Head Ellsworth Erickson brought 12 students along with Principal Fred Moser to the Monday meeting, where a representative from Barron sponsoring group, congratulated Cumberland's new organization, "For recognizing good students."

Their next project of note was participating in a clean-up of the Tourist Park, where they said they were there to, "Provide physical, mental, and moral support to the project." It would become part of a busy summer for the new group.

The official charter night ceremony took place on June 3 at the Legion, where 75 representatives of clubs from Eau Claire to Chippewa Falls to Rice Lake joined in the celebration. Following the turkey dinner, several gifts were presented to the club including a gavel, table flags and a bell.

Before that first year was over, the Cumberland Kiwanis hosted a golf tourney and honored the Cumberland Islanders 1952 State Championship Baseball Team at a banquet. A December meeting entertained the club's wives for lunch as Milo Nelli was chosen as the 1953 President.

As the preceding years went by, the Cumberland group became involved in many activities from the yearly Yuletide Christmas lighting, to support for the Scouts, March of Dimes, DARE, Food for the needy, and numerous youth activities.

The club would celebrate its 50th anniversary at Maddy's Restaurant in 1992 with Charter members John Hines, Sam Donatelle Sr, Milo Nelli and Lloyd Iverson in attendance. The entire list of the 42 initial members were read as President Bo Benson and Vice-President Sam Donatelle Jr recognized the visitors to the meeting and carried out the club's duties.

Today, the Kiwanis continue to serve the community as it approaches its 70th anniversary. Under current President Dean Bergstrom, there are three major fundraisers held each year; The Rutabaga Festival Food Stand, the Taste of Cumberland Golf Ball Drop, and Louie's Weekend Brat Stand.

With the money raised, the Kiwanis support a long list of projects including "The Shooting Stars," the Kinship program, Scoutland, the Cumberland Library Project, as well as the Wolf Ridge Environmental study. These are just a few of the many programs supporting the children of the area.

At the 50th year celebration, it was said of the Cumberland Kiwanis that, "They are a typical club, which is a snapshot of community members from all walks of life, unified in their beliefs." That is still the case today.

President Bergstrom encourages anyone in the community interested in being a part of today's Kiwanis to contact him. "Call me or come to our next meeting at the Corner Bar on December 6 and join us in supporting our young people and making Cumberland a better place to live, work, raise families, and retire," he concluded.

Operation Christmas Child!

The Impact Youth Group of NLC helped the Awana kids from Northern Lakes Church fill boxes for Operation Christmas Child on Wednesday, November 3. The kids filled 100 boxes that will be sent overseas to give children gifts that may otherwise never receive a gift.

Northwoods Notebook: The lights are back on at ETC

By Larry Werner

On the stage at the Cumberland Arts Center, home of Enrichment Through Culture (ETC), folks ranging in age from late teens to mid-seventies are reading from scripts and, sitting on chairs in front of the stage, are E. Dennis Zahrbock and Michael Clay.

Denny and Mike are directors of the play being rehearsed – “It’s a Wonderful Life (live radio version),” which is scheduled for Dec. 16, 17, 18 and 19. Zahrbock is a newcomer to Cumberland, having moved to town from Silver Lake a couple years ago, and he’s a newcomer to directing plays. But he convinced ETC board members that this Christmas favorite should be performed at the old church.

He saw it done in St. Paul and figured it would be nice to do it here. But while he knows a lot about financial consulting, which he did in Rice Lake for many years, he knew little about putting a play together. So Mike, who was acting in and directing plays before our youngest cast member, Paityn Butzler, was born, agreed to be assistant director.

Other board members, including Clay, and I were excited about doing a play at the arts center. The high school play was in rehearsal in the spring of 2020, when the President declared a national emergency and much of life was shut down, including theaters. For many months after the shutdown, pieces of the set for that high school play lay in the theater like a crime scene.

A few months ago, high school drama adviser Courtney Shallock and her husband picked up the set pieces, and the theater was simply empty. Time passes, with the ETC board meeting outdoors or by Zoom, and then board member Jeremy Westin suggested we should take advantage of the shutdown to paint the walls and floors of the place.

So we put on our masks and applied black paint to all surfaces, feeling sad that this place no longer filled with patrons and performers was quiet as a library. In the summer of 2021, Dave Evenson started rehearsals for “Gilligan’s Island City,” a musical he had written years ago. But we couldn’t cast it, and the virus was surging.

Then, a financial consultant said it would be nice to do a Christmas play, and he’d be willing to direct it. I’ll be darned if it isn’t happening. Sitting up there on the stage with a dozen others, taking instructions from Denny and Mike, it felt like things were right again. I’ll be honest: It was emotional for me.

I had never acted in a play before moving to Cumberland and getting drafted to portray a dashing Spanish divorcee named Jesus Constanzuela. (I know, an obvious choice for an old white guy.) I was nervous about memorizing, scared about being up there under the stage lights for my new neighbors to see and critique. But it was so much fun that I appeared as an escaped mental patient (typecasting?) in “Death by Design” and as a New York pawn-shop owner in “The Gift,” our 2019 Christmas play – the last play we did before COVID.

We did move one of our summer concerts inside last summer because of rain. But other than that, the building given to ETC by the Ruppel family has sat dark and quiet. And ETC, like other arts organizations, has suffered financially. Our revenue dropped from about $24,000 in 2019 to about $12,000 in 2020. We don’t have staff to pay, but we do have expenses associated with owning the former St. Mary’s Catholic Church.

We have to pay utilities, maintenance, snow removal and property taxes. Fortunately, the good people of Cumberland continued to make donations. But we need to open up and sell tickets.

Thanks to a suggestion from a fellow who moved to Serenity Shores from Silver Lake, the theater has come to life with actors speaking those familiar lines from the classic play about George Bailey, who took over the building and loan after his father died, and persisted in running it despite the antics of a villainous competitor named Henry Potter.

Even though we’ve done no real promotion, we’re already getting calls and emails from people wanting tickets. By the time you read this, Roger Thorp will have delivered tickets to Peter & Annie’s Coffee Café. And you can reserve tickets by calling 715-822-2787.

There will be a dinner theater on opening night, Wednesday, Dec. 16, and a brunch matinee on Sunday, Dec. 19. Dinner and show on Wednesday is $25, and the brunch show is $20. Show-only tickets for all four performances are $10.

It feels awfully good to hear voices, laughter and music again in the Ruppel Family Theater. It’s been a long two years of quiet and dark.

Larry Werner’s email is lh-werner47@gmail.com.

Mecina Garibaldi and Alora Garibaldi sang “Million Reasons” by Lady Gaga at the 2021 Cabaret held on Friday, November 5th, at the Cumberland High School.

Cumberland church expands and draws in Billboard’s Top Christian Contemporary and Gospel artists into rural WI

If you’ve lived in our rural part of NW WI for some time, you get excited when a favorite band or artist comes to the Twin Cities, Duluth, Hinckley, or on a rare occasion, Eau Claire, for a concert. You get on-line to order tickets at an outrageous price and pay the ticket fees on top of that. You pray the weather is good that day for traveling several hours in both directions, but at this time of year you never know. Your seats are so far back you can only see the artists on the big screen. How blessed we’ve been to have our local Country artist, Chris Kroeze (runner up on The Voice), gracing stages, pontoons, festivals, and event centers in the areas where he got his humble start. Not many other artists make their way past the big city lights...until now.

Northern Lakes Church (NLC) in Cumberland outgrew their small dome church and completed building their 20,000 square foot Ark Ministry Center next door in 2018 (home of NLC). Part of the reason for this huge expansion was to be able to offer use of the facility to the community, which includes a full-size gym. NLC not only holds two church services during the week, and Awana/Impact for Wed night youth ministry, but the community uses the ministry center for things like early morning pickleball, inside walking in the winter, wrestling camp, taekwondo tournaments, community Christmas concert, and much more.

In December 2018, the NLC Worship Band invited the community to their inaugural Contemporary Christmas Concert with about 300 in attendance. This is now an annual celebration that many add to their Christmas festivities. Since that first open-door concert, NLC has invited in the 8-time Grammy Award and 7-time Dove Award winning southern gospel quartet, The Blackwood Brothers from Mississippi; Dove Award recipient, Mark Schultz, from Nashville; Minnesota’s own, Jason Gray (twice!), and this Sunday, November 14, they welcome one of Billboard’s top contemporary Christian artists, Josh Wilson, to their stage.

Josh Wilson, is a “Texas native who started playing piano at nine years old. He never dreamed he’d be behind the mic, but God had other plans. He signed his first record deal in 2006 and is now a staple on Christian radio stations. He has multiple top 10 hits on Billboard’s Hot Christian Songs chart, including I Refuse, That Was Then – This is Now, and his latest, Revolutionary. Josh is a multi-instrumentalist and live-looping enthusiast, he has been known to play and record as many as 20 instruments on stage at any given time” (source: www.joshwilsonmusic.com).

On Sunday, November 14, the doors open at NLC at 4 PM (VIP ticket holders attend the meet & greet at 4:30). The concert will start at 5 PM with the NLC Worship Band, followed by headliner, Josh Wilson, at 6 PM. Parking attendants will guide you in, greeters will welcome you, and refreshments will be available. Come and enjoy the show... come and find hope and experience God! All are welcome!

You may purchase tickets on-line at www.itickets.com/events/456697, or by calling Northern Lakes Church at 715-822-5502, by stopping in before/after the Thursday 6:30 PM or the Sunday 10 AM service, or during the week (Tue-Fri 9 to Noon) at 825 Eighth Ave. Tickets are $18 for general admission or $30 for VIP (which includes meet & greet and upfront seating).

Not just “The Dome” church anymore

Northern Lakes Church (NLC) in Cumberland is not a new church, yet you may have never heard of them. They are located at 825 Eighth Avenue in Cumberland. Lead Pastor, Matthew Earls (his wife, Michelle), and Associate Pastor, Chris Motes (his wife, Cara), both joined NLC this year after Pastor Dennis Wright (his wife, Lois) retired after 12 years of leading from a church plant to where they are today.

NLC’s mission is that “we exist to become a vibrant community of Jesus followers who are experiencing God and living out His kingdom in our personal lives, in our families, and in our community. Our vision is that we believe God loves us so much that He accepts us just as He finds us. However, He loves us too much to leave us where He found us. Therefore, our vision for every person at Northern Lakes Church is summarized in these three words: Learn, Love, Serve.”

They invite you to join them for service Sunday at 10:00 AM (also livestreamed online) where the NLC Worship Band opens with contemporary Christian music before Pastor Matthew Earls dives into the word of God, relates it to life today, and encourages all to apply the teachings to your daily lives. Come back Thursday at 6:30 PM to go deeper into the study from Sunday’s sermon. Children’s Church and childcare are available on Sunday. NLC offers Wednesday Youth Programs; Awana for ages 4 through 4th grade, and Jr. High and Sr. High Impact.

Northern Lakes Church has so much to share with you! Please visit their website to learn more, www.northernlakeschurch.com.

Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink’s basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $26.50-$27.50 per month and business services are $35.00-$40.00 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in a government benefit program (Lifeline) to make residential telephone or qualifying broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the FCC and state commissions. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain additional federal eligibility programs. The Lifeline discount is available for only one telephone or qualifying broadband service per household, which can be on either wireline or wireless service. Broadband speeds must be 25 Mbps download and 3 Mbps upload or faster to qualify.

A household is defined for the purposes of the Lifeline program as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline service is not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in the program. Consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain a Lifeline discount can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program.

If you live in a CenturyLink service area, please call 1-800-201-4099 or visit centurylink.com/lifeline with questions or to request an application for the Lifeline program.

CUMBERLAND

By Craig Bucher

This past week we witnessed the clash between the great god of our culture - professional football and the medical emergency COVID - 19. The wearing of masks and the development of vaccines have shown us a way through, and past the horrors of the virus, but it requires the cooperation of everyone. When the "all-anything" quarterback of the Green Bay Packers tested positive for the virus and neglected to tell the "whole" truth about his vaccination situation - resulting in Rogers not being able to play, the Packers lost the game and suddenly big bucks, big egos, and millions of fans throughout the country are involved in the controversy. We don't know the end result of the Rogers situation, but I know that I believe that Rogers decision was wrong. His freedom of decision is his. Rogers has chosen not to and we don't know yet, the end result of that decision. I suspect Roger's teammates are not very happy with him, and I suspect it will have an impact on the rest of the season for the Packers and also in a larger aspect on the whole league and the season. I am a sports fan and I watch and follow my favorite teams. However, I will choose public health concerns every time. Every day that we don't get closer to having this virus under control is another day my grandchildren and my children are living in danger. If I can encourage just one more person to get vaccinated, then that is one small step forward in making this a safer place for all.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Hard work of curbing climate change will fall mainly on scientists, industry

By Tom Still
MADISON, Wis. - From Leonardo DiCaprio to Queen Elizabeth II, and from indigenous people to world leaders, the United Nations climate summit in Glasgow drew a 25,000-member chorus that sounded dire alarms and vowed to control the harsh effects of climate change.
It won't be Boris Johnson, Joe Biden or U.N. Secretary-Antonio Guterres who get the job done, however. It will be a host of scientists, engineers and industry experts who leverage technology and the markets to stave off what many predict is a doomsday scenario for an over-heated planet.
That list will include no small number of technicians from Wisconsin, a state with the right combination of industry expertise and applied research horsepower already at work. Here is a very partial list:
• The UW-Madison's Wisconsin Energy Institute and the related Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center have worked with dozens of companies on projects tied to biofuels, biomaterials and other bioproducts. These products can reduce damage to air, water and land while making sense in a market sense. Johnson Controls and Epic have been among industry partners.
• The Connected Systems Institute, housed at the UW-Milwaukee, concentrates on advanced industrial processes to save materials, energy and transportation costs by leveraging the industrial "Internet of Things." Rockwell Automation is a major player.
• The School of Freshwater Sciences at the UW-Milwaukee is unique among similar schools because it blends instruction, research and industry partnerships. Companies such as A.O. Smith and Badger Meter are partners. The program is working on Great Lakes shoreline issues, water quality, aquaculture and more.
• Marquette University and UW-Milwaukee worked with Northwestern Mutual to create a Data Science Institute that uses digital data to describe or solve some of the world's toughest problems, including environmental challenges.
• The UW-Madison College of Engineering is using its historic expertise in nuclear physics to envision next-generation fission plants and even clean fusion power. The recent merger of SHINE Medical Technologies and Phoenix LLC was driven by what the Wisconsin firms describe as "unlocking the power of fusion technologies to benefit the planet and humankind."
While there are those who don't believe human activity has changed Earth's climate since the dawn of the industrial age, most experts in industry and academia read the tea leaves - and the atmospheric temperatures - some years ago.
Energy companies, researchers and manufacturers alike have reacted to consumer and government goals by adopting alternatives that phase in new systems and technologies while phasing out the old.
It's why nearly 300 U.S. coal plants have been shut down since 2010, with scores more to be decommissioned in the next three or four years. Some U.S. coal plants are being replaced by fossil or "natural" gas; others by a combination of renewable energy and conservation strategies.
Either way, it is hard to find a new coal plant on American utility drawing boards. The real challenge will involve countries, notably China, that are expanding coal-fired generation plants or other nations where there's no real option to coal. Wisconsin can offer expertise, especially with the recent surge in solar energy and transmission technologies.
Wisconsin is also offering practical advances in the development of electric vehicles, as well as autonomous cars and trucks. Beginning in 2022, Green Bay-based Schneider will add 50 Freightliner eCascadias - the truck manufacturer's first commercial Class 8 battery-electric truck - to its Southern California intermodal operations. That will give Schneider one of the largest battery-electric truck fleets in North America.
The UW-Madison College of Engineering is helping the city of Racine get on track with autonomous technology through "The Racine Badger," a small electric shuttle bus that will be tested at Gateway Technical College's lakefront campus.
The UN climate summit likely focused attention and even rallied public opinion, but it will take industry and research hubs such as those already working together in Wisconsin to meet the technically challenging goals set by world leaders.
Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechnologycouncil.com.

Danbury Woman Facing Child Neglect and OWI after a One Vehicle Rollover

On October 15, 2021, Burnett County Dispatch received a call regarding a crash from a witness at the scene, who stated that an adult female, and an adult male, and two small children had been in an accident.

When deputies arrived at the scene, they located a gray truck lying on the driver's side in ditch. A witness told deputies that the truck had been traveling eastbound when it appeared to lose control and slide into the westbound lane of traffic before traveling into the ditch and rolling over.

Deputies located two child car seats and a diaper bag inside the truck. Witnesses told deputies that the occupants of the vehicle had left the scene, and possibly fleeing into a wooded area near the crash scene.

Deputies obtained information which led to the determination that the occupants had been Richard Wylie of Webb Lake, and Delores Corbine of Danbury. According to the criminal complaint, near the crashed truck, deputies located a child's pacifier on the ground by an empty alcohol container.

Deputies then searched the vicinity and checked the wooded area and found a small shirt and a child's sock, but did not locate any people. Burnett County Dispatch received a series of calls over the next few hours stating that a male and female had been seen on a property located on Red Fox Trail and the subjects had fled towards Bass Lake. A little while later, dispatch received a call stating that a male and female were rowing a boat across Bass Lake.

Dispatch then received another call that a male and female were seen running down a logging road towards Tower Road, and then shortly after that, received another call stating that a male and female were flagging down drivers on State Road 35 near the Fish Bowl Bar. Deputies responded to the vicinity of each call but did not locate anyone.

According to the criminal complaint, approximately five hours after the crash was reported, law enforcement located Corbine and Wylie with two small children under the age of three, in the ditch near State Road 35 just north of State Road 77. The criminal complaint against Corbine states that when deputies located Corbine, Wylie, and the children, it was pitch black out, rainy and cold, with temperatures of around 40 degrees. However, Corbine, Wylie and the children were not dressed appropriately for the weather. Neither child had a jacket, hat or socks on their feet.

When deputies spoke with Corbine, she admitted to consuming alcohol in Superior, and then driving the truck to Burnett County, where she lost control of the truck and crashed.

The criminal complaint goes on to state that the children were medically cleared by emergency personnel and released to family members. A sample of Corbine's blood was obtained and after Corbine and Wylie were medically cleared, they were transported to the Burnett County Jail.

On October 18, at a hearing for Corbine, the court ordered a $500 cash bond which was posted a few days later. Corbine is scheduled to make an adjourned initial appearance regarding her charges later this month.

Wrestling Team Begins Practice on Monday

The Cumberland Wrestling Team opens practice this coming Monday under new Head Coach Justin Peterson. The team was 4 and 1 in the HON South Division's dual competition last winter, but only finished 8th overall at the Conference Tournament.

The team will be led by returning State Wrestling Champion Dawson Johnson. Edward Chafer was a Honorable Mention choice and will give Coach Petersen another returner to build around. Others returning to lead the Beavers this year are Senior Josh Simon, Sophomores Noah Hile, Mason Kogler, Drake Welker, and Connor Burke and a host of 10 incoming freshmen.

The Beavers open up their season on Friday, December 3 when they host a multi-school Invitational in Elmer Beran Gymnasium. Wrestling begins at 5:30 that evening.

Boys Basketball Team Hits the Hardwood Monday

The Boys Basketball Team will open practice this coming Monday for the 2021-2022 season. Coach Corey Berghammer will greet a new squad of players after losing a large senior class off last year's 11 and 8 team.

Leading the returners is HON Second Team All-Conference honoree Jax Effertz, who was fourth in the HON in rebounding last winter, while averaging 10.9 points per contest. Unfortunately, a football injury will likely keep him out until the first of the year, causing him to likely miss the first eight to nine games.

The only other player with much varsity experience is David Olson, who started a handful of contest last season. Monty Peterson and Vaughn Johnson also held varsity spots last winter and will look to vie for starting positions this winter.

Northwestern, a 16 and 7 team in 2020-2021, looks to be the conference favorite as they return several players who received HON recognition last season. The Beavers open up this year's schedule against the Tigers on Tuesday, December 7, in Maple. Several other teams return their top players making for an interesting conference race this winter.

The team holds a scrimmage beginning at 6:00 pm in Amery on Monday, November 22nd.

Sports Look Back, November 11, 1971

The 1971-72 Beaver Basketball season gets underway this Friday night when Luck plays here in a non-conference game. The first Heart O' North Conference game will be on November 18. The Beavers are the defending champions, losing only to Chetek last year in the conference and a non-conference game to Regis High of Eau Claire.

The local fans are anticipating with great relish, this year's campaign.

Coach Bob Davis said prospects are real bright for the year and if they can avoid injuries, the Beavers will be plenty tough. This is the first year for Davis as head coach and he has named Dave Olson as his assistant.

The Beavers will have eight letterman returning from the team that went to last year's state meet at Madison. They are Mark Nelson, Steve King, Sam Donatelle, Brad Curtis, Ron Ruppel, Bill Whalen, Duane Dosch, and Roger Thompson. Of these, Nelson, Donatelle, and King, and Curtis were regular starters and Ruppel, Whalen, Dosch, and Thompson all saw lots of action.

As good as this may sound, they will still miss one of last year's top players, Jerry Elmberg, who was a scrapper under the bucket, and had an excellent rebounder.

Thirty-five boys reported for practice on November 1. There were nine seniors, 13 juniors, and 13 sophomores. Fourteen freshman will report later.

The seniors are: Bob Anderson, Franks Csuti, Sam Donatelle, Duane Dosch, Steve King, Mark Nelson, Ron Ruppel, Brent Simanski and Bill Whalen.

WisDNR - Fall 2021 Wolf Hunt Update

Following a circuit court's ruling enjoining the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) from implementing the wolf harvest law, the DNR has announced that licenses have not been issued to state hunters and trappers for the Fall 2021 wolf hunt.

In accordance with the court order and the department's ongoing plans, the DNR will continue working towards promulgation of rules and the completion of a wolf management plan to guide management decisions.

If you suspect wolves in the depredation of livestock, pets or hunting dogs, or if wolves are exhibiting threatening or dangerous behavior, contact USDA-Wildlife Services staff immediately. If in northern Wisconsin, call 1-800-228-1368 or 715-369-5221; if in southern Wisconsin, call 1-800-433-0663 or 920-324-4514.

For more on wolves in Wisconsin, visit the DNR website for additional information on wolf management and wolf conflict abatement.

A beautiful 9 point buck!

Hunters Encouraged To Participate In DNR's Deer Donation Program

Deer Donations Help Wisconsinites In Need

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) encourages hunters to donate Wisconsin-harvested deer to the department's Deer Donation Program to help stock food pantries this holiday season and support residents in need throughout the state.

Since the program began in 2000, hunters have donated over 94,000 deer, totaling more than 3.8 million pounds of venison distributed to Wisconsin food pantries.

Through the Deer Donation Program, the DNR works with partnering meat processors to distribute thousands of pounds of donated venison to Wisconsin food pantries.

"Whether by harvesting an extra deer or donating the only deer they shoot, Wisconsin hunters have the chance to support their communities during the holiday season," said Sarah Wyrick, DNR Wildlife Damage Program Assistant. "We thank all deer hunters, meat processing and nonprofit partners who help make this program a success for those in need."

Those looking to support the Deer Donation Program can also do so through a monetary donation when purchasing a hunting or fishing license or a Wisconsin State Park pass.

Food Insecurity In Wisconsin

Approximately one in 12 Wisconsin households did not have enough food before the COVID-19 pandemic began in early 2020, and research shows this number continues to rise, according to the University of Wisconsin's Food Security Project.

Additionally, the Wisconsin Food Security Projects reports that food insecurity makes it harder for children to thrive in and out of school, increases the risk of health problems for children and adults, makes it more difficult to manage chronic conditions, and contributes to short-term and long-term stress for children and families.

How To Donate Wisconsin-Harvested Deer

Hunters interested in donating a Wisconsin-harvested deer to the DNR's Deer Donation Program can follow these steps:

1. Field dress your deer. Handle the carcass with care.
2. Register your deer through Game Reg. Make a note of your registration confirmation number and keep it on hand when dropping off your deer.
3. Test your deer for CWD if harvested from a CWD-affected county that requires testing before taking the deer to a processor. To find a CWD sampling location near you to submit samples from Wisconsin-harvested deer free of charge, visit the DNR's "Sampling For Chronic Wasting Disease" webpage. Test results are usually available from the DNR within two weeks.

4. Call ahead! Contact one of the participating processors before dropping off your deer to make sure they have space to accept it. More processors may be added later in the season, so check back if you don't see one currently in your area.

If donating a Wisconsin-harvested deer that is being tested for CWD, inform the processor at the time of the donation and provide your CWD barcode number. The processor will hold onto the donated deer until results are known and before distributing to an area nonprofit.

5. Drop off your deer at a participating processor. Visit the DNR's Deer Donation Program webpage to learn more.

WisDNR: Avoid Ash Trees When Placing Deer Stands

The DNR cautions hunters to avoid placing deer stands in or near ash trees this deer season.

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) cautions hunters to avoid placing deer stands in or near ash trees this deer season.

Most ash trees in the southern half of Wisconsin, Door County and the Mississippi River counties are dead or dying from emerald ash borer infestation. Although emerald ash borer is not as widespread in other parts of the state, the invasive insect continues to be found at additional locations throughout the state and unreported infestations are also likely present.

Tree stand accidents are the leading cause of serious injury to deer hunters. It is important to place and maintain tree stands carefully as trees infested with emerald ash borer may unexpectedly snap or drop large branches. Hunters should also be cautious around ash trees when hand at all times. Always use a haul line to raise and lower your unloaded firearm or bow into and out of the stand. You can also use the haul for other things like a heavy backpack.

Use a lifeline when climbing up and down, this keeps you connected from the time you leave the ground to the time you get back down.

How To Identify Ash Trees

Hunters should know how to identify an ash tree to avoid deer stand placement and to keep a lookout for unreported infestations while afield.

Ash trees can be identified through two key features: opposite branching patterns where two branches come off the main stem directly across from each other and compound leaves with 5-11 leaflets.

More information on ash trees and how to identify them is available on the UW-Madison's Department of Entomology Emerald Ash Borer in Wisconsin webpage.

How To Limit Tree Infestation And Disease Afield

When traveling for hunting season, people are encouraged to obtain firewood close to where it will be burned to reduce the chance of spreading tree-killing insects and diseases such as emerald ash borer, gypsy moth and oak wilt.

Dry firewood with loose bark has the lowest risk of spreading harmful insects or diseases. Purchasing certified firewood is another option, as it is widely available and is seasoned or treated to eliminate pests and diseases. Bundles of certified firewood have a printed label showing certification.

For a list of certified firewood retailers, visit the Firewood Scout website.

More information about emerald ash borer, signs and symptoms of infestation and where this pest has been found is available on the DNR website.

Chippewa River Bow Hunt

Hello friends,
I am sitting at the driver's seat of The Chevy Hotel somewhere in Pepin County, and I am writing this week's column. In the last 32-years, I have never written this column on a computer in my truck.

So here is the deal, I am camping, it is day six of my bow hunt. I have left camp in the dark by canoe and every day I have come back to camp in the dark by canoe.

To be perfectly honest, I am as weathered as possible and still walking. I am supposed to be headed home today but have just decided to stay another 48 to 72 hours. The following is some brief details of my life.

Sunday, October 31st
High 56, low 32

It is about a one-mile paddle to where I am bow hunting. Friday night was my first hunt. I have two doe tags and my buck tag; I want to make meat and as usual enjoy life. On Friday I saw one doe but unfortunately, she saw me first. She was crossing a marsh and I was going from a standing position to sitting in my stand and low and behold she spotted me first.

On Saturday I did not see one deer. Today I had better luck, kind of. At about 8:15, I saw a cow doe about 40-yards away in the forest and I am thinking about backstraps and one less tag to fill. Too bad for me she decided to go in a valley instead of towards me. Five minutes later I am pretty stoked about my experience and here comes a ten-point buck following her trail via his nose step for step.

That buck was literally seeing with his nose. Five minutes after that, what may be the biggest spike buck that I have ever seen, comes down the same trail as the doe and ten pointer and makes a B line right at me. I am thinking venison and glory, when he was five yards away, I made the "it's too early in this trip to fill my buck tag with this buck" decision. In all honesty, this spiker was not a 1.5-year-old deer. He had a very heavy body and really large spikes.

So, I am living in a tree, tent, or canoe and on the canoe end I have made two new friends. On Saturday I met Lyle Bataglia and Tom Nissley of Plum City. These guys are trapping muskrat and are very cool dudes, about as outdoorsy and natural as you can get. While they were setting their traps on Saturday, they caught seven muskrats. We have had great conversations every day when I paddle in for my lunch break.

Before I forget here are a couple of handy tips. When I got lost two weeks ago in a deep, dark swamp I unknowingly destroyed both of my Lacrosse Trapper hip boots and on my first hunt of this trip I found out. The following day I used one, 2.5-gallon zip lock bag for each foot and other than sweat, my feet stay dry.

Also, it took me four days to find my toothpaste. I put sea salt on my toothbrush and walla, my mouth is as fresh as a 60-year-old man living under these conditions can get.

Here is another story. I am exploring, I see a deer on what is a ridgeline/shoreline, it is a buck. The wind pushed me to shore within 20-feet of the buck who does not know of my presence, "must be the sea salt", it was a small fork horn. I let him live and when my canoe touched the shore, he saw me and said goodbye.

Next, most people are aware that it is not cool to shoot or hunt any deer other than a super trophy buck. I say BS to that. Last year I killed a very large ten-point buck, Selina whacked a spike and we put a doe in the freezer as well. The reality of sitting at the dinner table is this, the ten pointer is like eating an old bull compared to a prime steer. Selina's spiker is pure pleasure, like the steer that was raised for the county fair.

Sure, if you have the income, you can make sausage sticks out of the old goat but this low-income meat and potatoes guy is always thinking venison steaks sauteed with butter and onions, a meal like that makes me a lean, mean fighting machine.

So, I see I am about out of space and that sun clock is telling me that I need to paddle a mile, hike in a ways, and climb a tree. I am on overtime and am just about to the any buck will do kind of point. Super Spiker beware, I want your back straps in a fillet. Sunset

P.S. There are foul smells coming from all parts of my body, no worries, another half a week and a shower will take place.

COVID-19 Booster Doses Approved

Booster doses for all the COVID-19 vaccines, Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson, have now been approved. Booster doses can be mixed and matched. The Wisconsin Department of Health Services recommends that the following people receive a booster dose of Moderna or Pfizer at least six months after receiving their second dose to further strengthen their immunity:

- People 65 years and older
- All residents that are in long-term care

- People ages 18 and older with medical conditions
- People ages 18 and older who are at higher risk for COVID-19 exposure because of their job

If you received a Johnson & Johnson vaccine, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services recommends a booster at least 2 months after receiving the first dose.

To schedule your booster dose, call your doctor's office or local pharmacy. To find a vaccine or booster dose near you visit www.vaccinefinder.org.

Barron County Public Health is offering Pfizer and limited J&J booster doses on a walk-in basis. The booster doses are offered Monday through Friday from 8:30am-11:30 am and from 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Their office is located at 335 E Monroe Ave Barron, WI 54812.

Wisconsin to Offer COVID-19 Vaccinations to Children Ages 5-11

Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine deemed safe and effective for this age group

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) announces that children 5-11 years old are now eligible to receive the Pfizer-BioNTech (Pfizer) COVID-19 vaccine. The Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine requires two doses 21 days apart for full protection, and is the first and only vaccine currently available for this age group.

Vaccinations for this age group will begin as soon as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) releases the associated clinical guidance and vaccinators are able to review and complete the necessary trainings. It is important that parents and guardians are patient as Wisconsin vaccinators take the necessary steps to be properly informed and trained before beginning vaccination.

"The pandemic has been tough on everyone, but I know it has been especially hard for our kids," said Gov. Tony Evers. "Now with a COVID-19 vaccine available to nearly all school-aged children, we can do more to protect our kids from this virus. Whether they are at school, playing with their friends, or spending time with family, vaccinating your kids means they can do the things they love while also staying safe and healthy."

After successful clinical trials and a rigorous review of all available data, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) authorized Pfizer's request to expand the emergency use authorization (EUA) to include children ages 5-11 on October 29. On November 2, the CDC Director officially confirmed the vaccine is safe and recommended the vaccine to this age group.

"Our nation's leading medical experts have reviewed the available data and confirmed that the Pfizer er vaccine is safe for children 5 to 11 years of age," said DHS Secretary-designee Karen Timberlake. "We will soon begin vaccinating more of Wisconsin's children to protect them from the long-term symptoms of COVID-19 and reduce disruptions in and out of the classroom. We are urging parents and guardians to get their children vaccinated as soon as they can to protect them and those around them."

Disease activity remains very high (link is external) across Wisconsin. Children and youth under 18 continue to represent the highest number of new confirmed cases compared to other age groups. COVID-19, particularly the Delta variant, can have a serious impact on your child's health. Infection with the Delta variant has resulted in nearly three times the number of children in the hospital in the U.S. since early summer. Since the beginning of the pandemic, more than 1,600 Wisconsinites under 20 years old have been hospitalized with COVID-19. Vaccination is a safe and critical tool in both combating further COVID-19 illness among children and stopping the spread in our communities.

Parents and guardians of children ages 5-11 can schedule a vaccination using a variety of options, including with their health care provider, at community-based vaccination clinics, local and tribal health departments, or pharmacies. To locate a provider administering the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine for children ages 5-11, visit vaccines.gov (link is external). Parents and guardians can learn more by visiting the COVID-19: Resources for Parents and Guardians page or by calling 844-684-1064 toll-free.

In addition to getting your child vaccinated, DHS urges Wisconsin families to take the steps necessary to protect themselves and their communities: mask up when in indoor public settings or outside where physical distancing is not possible, stay home if you are feeling sick, and get tested if you're experiencing any symptoms or have been exposed to someone who tested positive for COVID-19.

For up-to-date information about Wisconsin's COVID-19 response, visit the DHS COVID-19 webpage. We encourage you to follow @DHSWI on Facebook (link is external), Twitter (link is external), or dhs.wi on Instagram (link is external) for more information on COVID-19.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

We had the most amazingly fantastically wonderful (add any words that make you happy here) Oak View Adult Family Home Scandinavian Smorgasbord ever this past Sunday. It was truly unbelievable. People started arriving a little before noon and the line didn't stop until about 2:00. We served about 250 people and sold some of the craft items and all the homemade baked items. We didn't have enough tables to accommodate all the guests at one time but, luckily, the weather was beautiful, and some guests chose to sit outside on the picnic tables. Others checked out the bazaar table while they waited. I don't think we had anyone who decided not to wait - everyone was so patient, and we really appreciated it.

The decorations were beautiful. Lynn Thon, Hailey Johnson and Lance Wisner worked for hours on Saturday afternoon decorating the stage and putting up lights. While they were doing that, Anita Lehmann and I made lefse and Sue Meier made krumkake. Pat Olson peeled those dang rutabagas (they are really a pain, but so many people like them) and Pat and Jessi Stouffer peeled potatoes. Lynn Thon made hundreds of cookies. And, in addition to those I just mentioned, on Sunday Nancy Campbell, Eddie Robarge, Tru Lehmann and her friend Vanessa, Jamie and Kurt Anderson, Kandice and Kane Thon and, of course, Duane helped with serving, keeping the buffet filled and keeping the kitchen clean and organized. We would also like to thank Judy Norton for donating the tray of delicious cheese and crackers. It was wonderful the way everyone worked together to make the dinner a success. I just can't thank our helpers enough - I'm racking my brain here, hoping I didn't miss anyone.

We especially want to thank everyone who came to enjoy the meal, visit and contribute to the Shell Lake and Cumberland schools. Thank you for your smiles and compliments. We hope you will come to our next smorgasbord on the first Sunday in November 2022.

I hope you marked your calendar for this Friday, November 12th, when the Barronett Civic Club members will be hosting the annual Hunters' Supper, starting at 5:00 p.m. In addition to the wonderful food, which consists of two different kinds of stew in bread bowls, there will be lots of fun things to do. There will be meat raffles, the wheel game, dice games, a buckboard, and "I Target Pro" where hunters can target practice with a rifle that shoots laser bullets. Please join us for great food, lots of conversation and fun games.

Our adorable little great-grandson, Pierce Thon, celebrated his second birthday on Friday, November 5th. His mom, dad and brother, Kandice, Garrett and Kane, hosted a party for him at their home in Sarona. His grandma Lynn Thon, Sue Meier, Duane and I were guests. We enjoyed delicious pizza, birthday cake and ice cream and watching Pierce blow out the candles. He had plenty of gifts to open, but he was so interested in a "Blue's Clues" birthday card that he wasn't in any hurry to tear the wrapping off a bunch of boxes. Kane, on the other hand, could hardly wait to see what new toys he and Pierce would be playing with. It was a great party and a good time was had by all.

It was so nice having Sue Meier here for a while this past week. She travels up from Monroe, Wisconsin every year to help with the smorgasbord. She arrived Thursday afternoon and had to leave for home again on Tuesday. We always wish she could stay longer but she has way too many obligations at home. Hopefully she will visit again soon when we will be able to relax a bit more and enjoy each other's company.

Jay Olson and his brother-in-law, Willy, were up from Clinton, Missouri to visit with family and friends this past week. They stopped by the house with Pat Olson to visit last Friday, and they were at the Scandinavian Smorgasbord. It was so nice to see them - I think Jay and Marcia should move up to this area - He's been in Missouri for so long that he sounds like a southerner when he talks. What is this world coming to?

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. Hope to see you Friday at the Hunters' Supper. Have a wonderful week and enjoy this beautiful weather while it lasts.

Life on Farm...

prayer to find two of them at a good price close to home. Once again, we saw how God delights in answering our prayers. He is so good.

We got them home and spent the next week working on them. We found extra stuff on them that needed fixing, but that can be expected when you buy older equipment. From fixing on the boxes, the apron chains, the running gears, and the wheel bearings, we put in a full week of work. It was a great challenge and we thoroughly enjoyed it. It was very rewarding bringing them back into excellent working condition. And work they did with the new crop of corn.

We're very thankful Mike sold them to us, and I must say that the price was right. It was very enjoyable bringing in big loads of golden corn and unloading them. What was more enjoyable than that though, was working on them as a family. There is something about doing projects together as a family and seeing the rewards of it.

In America today, families are so divided up, running in so many different directions. God made families to be together. There is something about working together and seeing the fruit of your work. It's also a great way to teach your children so many things. I wonder if all parents would work together with their children, and teach them in a loving Christian environment, if it would keep a lot of young people away from drugs, alcohol, crime and so many other things, bad things. Actually, I know it would, for the Bible says in Prov. 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." What more can I say, my kids greatly enjoyed working on those boxes with me and I enjoyed it too. It was very profitable for all of us in more ways than one.
