News from City Hall

by Mayor Dan Shoemaker

As written previously, the City is improving analytical processes and increasing scrutiny of financial decisions. We have obtained improved cost controls and better decisions. It is in the best interest of the City to continue process improvements and ensure consistency of management. Therefore, we are now taking the next step to evaluate changes to the organization of the City - beginning with professional, full-time staff for the management of City affairs.

The complexity of City operations has grown over the years. We are managing multiple infrastructure projects simultaneously and the costs are in the millions of dollars. Project funding affects current budgets and debt obligations extending as long as 40 years.

Coordination is required with the Utility, other governmental agencies (e.g. DOT, DNR), developers, builders, contractors, financial advisers, and engineering companies. Project management responsibilities include prioritization of needs, design, bid coordination, financing, change order control and cost oversight.

The model we are pursuing is straightforward.

Elected officials should be focused on policy issues, community goals and major projects. Hired administrative support should be responsible for the implementation of policy while providing continuity of operations. Currently, the City has part-time, minimally compensated elected and appointed officials fulfilling both roles. This is not sustainable in the long-run.

We are developing a plan for the following:

Create the position of City Administrator. This position is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the City.

Identify administrative functions that can be combined with the Utility for cost efficiencies, coordination, improved checks and balances.

Determine funding for positions consistent with budget objectives.

Improving our administrative structure is an important part of effective, responsible governance. This direction is encouraged by the County, our legal advisers and the experience of other Cities within the State.

We will soon present details to our constituents and look forward to opening this to public comment.

Cumberland's First Commencement: The Class of 1891 by Mark R Fuller

The front page of the May 28, 1891 Advocate, contained local news from the past week. There was coverage on the recent wedding of Wallis Lee and Minnie Stowe and a story covering a bicycle rider who had run into young Bertie Hines on a city sidewalk causing minor injuries. The Advocate urged Cumberland citizens to be more careful saying, "Bicycles are fine things, but wheel-riders should limit themselves to the proper place."

The paper also wrote on the close of another school year saying, "The teachers are working hard to have the work closed up and all reports in by Friday, June 5th. The article included details on the upcoming exercises for the graduating class, which would take place on Thursday, June 4th in Miller Hall.

There had been a few students who had received degrees in 1888, but no one had graduated from high school in the previous two years. The four 1891 students would be the first in the "Island City" to have actual commencement exercises.

The four graduates include Lydia Miller, Cora Shipman, Jay Hamilton, and C. Asaph Broeffle. The Thursday night graduation of these four would be followed by a Friday evening ceremony recognizing, "A large class of 16," who had completed grade school and were headed to high school in the fall.

Principal Brainerd pleaded to city residents to be part of the celebration by saying, "I encourage anyone who can, to come." Brainerd had given tickets to, "Teachers, scholars, and others for distribution," while others had been left at the Beaver Dam Company Store for pickup.

As was custom within the state at the time, the undergraduates were to play a major part in the ceremony. The article would say of the preparations, "Two of their number have places in the program as representatives of their class, while others are working hard to make this leave-taking a pleasant parting."

Prior to the event, the hall was decorated by a symmetrical evergreen arch, nine pairs of curtains draped around the stage, and more than 100 varieties of house plants in full bloom. The Advocate would call the decorations, "One of the most exquisite displays it has ever been our pleasure to behold." The Class motto, "Ever Higher," was in full view as it hung over the stage.

This was a major accomplishment by the newly formed city, who had put an emphasis on education from its beginnings. Thus, it was no surprise that the 400 chairs that adorned the hall on Thursday night were totally full, while some who hoped to attend were turned away.

The program began with some instrumental music and an Invocation by Reverend T. F. Murphy, followed by essays and orations from the four graduates. The paper would later say of their performances, "They were masterful efforts showing much talent and strong intellectual power. Their language was conspicuous for the absence of superfluous words and phrases and expression was clear, succinct, and forcible."

Among their presentations was an oration by Lydia Miller on, "Should immigration be limited," and an essay on the Red Cross by Alice Waterman. Finally, Judge Comstock delivered a short address and Principal Brainerd presented the diplomas. The evening closed as all in attendance sang "America."

The following night's recognition of the 16 students headed to high school in September was called, "Equal to that of Thursday". The exercises were led by Miss Riser, while an address to those in attendance was given by Reverend Phoenix. The Advocate would say of his remarks, "They were full of food for thought as he pictured bright possibilities for the class."

The following week, the Advocate summed up the two days by saying, "The first annual graduating exercises of the Cumberland Free High School were one of the proudest occasions in the history of the city."

One can only imagine what took place after the ceremonies? Was there a gathering of friends and maybe even a meal of cavatilli and sausage? We can be more sure they will be on the menu this weekend, when the next Cumberland Class moves into the post-high school world. As was said 130 years ago, "There are bright possibilities for the class." Here's congratulating the Class of 2023, while challenging them to fulfill those possibilities.

Northwoods Notebook: Local arts, like flowers, blossom in spring by Larry Werner

It was a long, cold, snowy winter, during which Enrichment Through Culture (ETC) pretty much did what bears do — hibernated for a few months. But it's time for the local artists to shake off their slumber.

Early June is when the windows of main street businesses display posters for all three of the art forms the arts council promotes. We've got the dramatic arts kicking things off on June 2, when the play "Little Women" opens at the Ruppel Family Theater. A few days later, on June 6, it's time for the performing arts as Higher Vision kicks off the Island City Music series on Library Lake. And four days after that, on June 10, Tourist Park is the scene of our premier visual arts event, the 31st annual Celebration of the Arts festival.

So get out those smartphone calendars, or the old-fashioned paper kind, to make note of upcoming happenings in this art-crazy town.

Little Women

This beloved play, based on a book by Louisa May Alcott, will be performed by a mostly young cast, under the direction of two young women who performed for years on the ETC stage as child actors. Emilie Springsteen and Hannah Paul are co-directing the play that will be performed June 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 7 p.m. and on June 4 and 11 in 2 p.m. Sunday matinees.

For years, music teacher Phil Warner directed ETC's annual children's play. But it was time for the torch to pass from Phil to some of the kids he directed, who are no longer kids.

Emilie reports that rehearsals are going well for the first event to be held under the new metal roof that was paid for with $70,000 raised from our generous community. If you've been past the old church on Second Avenue, you've no doubt seen the work being done on a roof that leaked rain and melting snow into the old plaster walls and the back stairway.

Tickets for "Little Women" are $12 for adults and $6 for students. They can be purchased at Peter & Annie's Coffee Shop & Café or can be ordered by leaving a message at 715-822-2787.

Island City Music

Summer Tuesdays have meant music on Library Lake for the past seven years. The eighth season of ETC's music series opens on June 6 with the highly popular Higher Vision quartet singing gospel and do-wop tunes from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The concerts are free, thanks to the sponsorship of local businesses and organizations. Higher Vision will be sponsored by Cumberland Federal Bank.

And again this year, food will be available at the concerts, served from the Little Red Caboose, a food wagon lent to Cumberland each summer by the Barronett Civic Club. The food is sold by local restaurants and nonprofits. The civic club will be cooking brats at the June 6 event.

Patrons should bring lawn chairs to the "back alley" for music performed by local musicians and singers. The bands cover a full range of musical genres from gospel to rock to jazz to a good helping of oldies.

The Cumberland Farmers Market will once again be held on Tuesday evenings on the street that runs between the library and the Pendelton Pawn building so you can pick up some vegetables or gluten-free pastries with your music. And when rain forces the concerts to move inside the Cumberland Arts Center, the farmers market will set up in the arts center basement.

Celebration of the Arts

From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, June 10, the park at our City Beach becomes an arts-and-crafts gallery. Lisa Barrows, an ETC board member, has signed up vendors who sell their creations at the park.

While this is primarily a visual-arts event, there is always music adjacent to the food booth staffed by members of Cumberland First United Methodist Church. So you can spend the day at the park and don't have to go home for lunch. Is there anything better than sitting at a picnic table at the beach listening to music and enjoying a piece of strawberry-rhubarb pie?

For that matter, is there anything better than spring, when the trees explode into curtains of green, the flowers burst into bloom, and Cumberland's artists come out of wherever they've been all winter to entertain us dramatically, musically and visually?

Some folks I know have suggested Enrichment Through Culture might be a bit pretentious as a name for a local arts council. I, however, think it's right on. My nine years as a resident of The Island City have been immensely enriched by culture that is far grander than you'd expect to find in a town of 2,000.

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

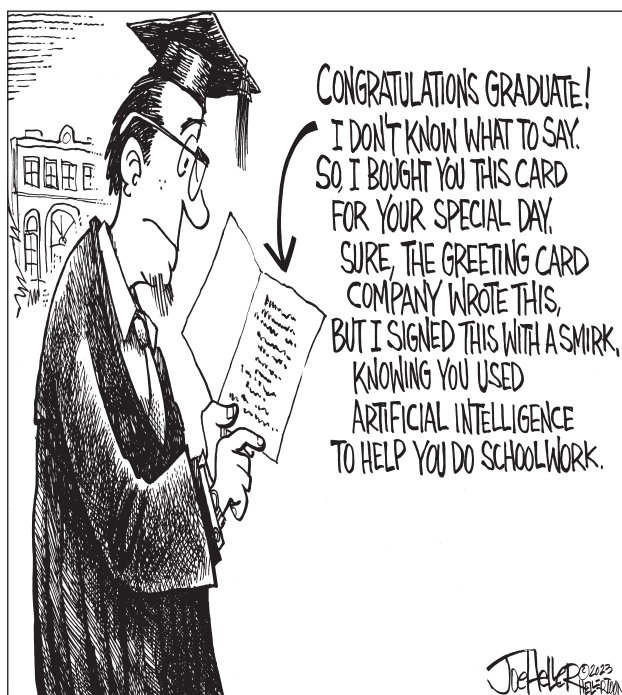

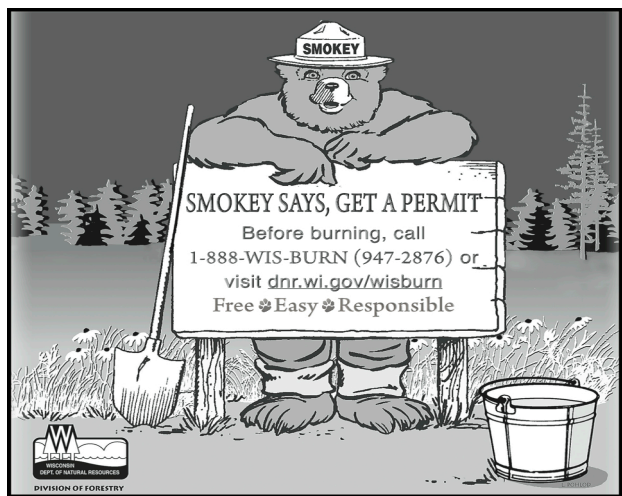

Well if you live anywhere in the country or even in town you surely have noticed the explosion of mosquitos! Wow I can't hardly start to be outside my house even during the day if there is not a good wind. We typically have a fair share of the "state bird" but this is crazy. If you look out the window after about 7 pm, there are clouds of them everywhere. Thirty minutes before dark the "hum" they make is unreal. It is impossible to ignore. I feel bad for out poor dog who has to get out and do her business. I literally have one of those shocking tennis rackets on my end table to swat them IN THE HOUSE. I knew they would be bad after all the snow and wet early spring, but this is ridiculous. I'm sure all the "Mosquito Hunters" are swamped. Never seen them this bad.

Congratulations to the class of 2023! Hopefully the weather is nice and the ceremony can be held outside at Endeavor Stadium. It seems the weather is usually crummy the last several years and services are held in the gym. Good luck to all in the future.

Please don't forget to thank a Veteran and attend a Memorial Day Service this coming Monday. We are so fortunate to live where we do and have the freedoms we enjoy. These freedoms did't come free. Far from it. So when you're out on the water, at the course, or grilling a brat, take a moment to think about the sacrifices our Veterans have made. I hope everyone has a great Memorial Day weekend and enjoy an extra day or two off. Have a great week!

"What, me worry? Learning optimism 'zen' from entrepreneurs"

MADISON, Wis. -- The average American might be excused for believing the economy is headed off a steep cliff. For starters, economists keep telling them so.

Many practitioners of the "the dismal science" -- how my favorite economist refers to economics -- have been predicting a recession for months, with the over-under bet on the apocalypse starting this fall. Oft-cited reasons include inflation, the debt crisis, bank failures, manufacturing slowdowns and consumer jitters. Oh, yes ... and the laws of gravity dictate it's time for a good, old-fashioned crash.

The problem is much of the economy refuses to cooperate with the predictions. The United States is still adding jobs, unemployment is lower than it has been in decades, inflation is beginning to subside (unless you're buying a house or renting an apartment), and failed banks appear to be victims of self-inflicted wounds versus other troubles.

If you're looking for an oasis of optimism to balance what you're hearing from most economists, talk to an entrepreneur.

One survey after another has shown entrepreneurs to be relentlessly optimistic, even Pollyannish, about their chances of success. That's despite the fact their chances of landing startup financing are slim and their competition from the marketplace can be daunting. For many entrepreneurs, their long-term vision for success often transcends where markets are today.

If you need a dose of optimism, the upcoming Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Conference in Milwaukee may be the place to go.

The annual conference will be held May 31 and June 1 at the Italian Community Center in Milwaukee, starting with the final round of the Wisconsin Governor's Business Plan Contest. Held every year since 2004, the 20th annual competition will feature live pitches from 13 startups from across Wisconsin. They are the finalists in a process that began in late January, aided by mentors, a workshop and judges whose input helped to make good ideas better.

It's a diverse group. That starts with the broad sectors in which their plans focus: Advanced manufacturing, business ser-VICES, information technology and life sciences are the four categories. It is also true based on geography and other characteristics. Eight of the 13 hail from outside the state's two largest cities, five of the 13 are women and at least three of the 13 would identify as minority.

Other conference highlights will include the annual "Seize the Day" award, which has gone to some of Wisconsin's most successful entrepreneurs over time. This year's recipient is Deb Carey, who launched New Glarus Brewery along with her brewer husband and has grown it into one of the nation's largest microbreweries and one of the top two-dozen overall. That's all without selling a single bottle outside Wisconsin.

Bringing home lessons from afar will be Charles Ross, a Milwaukee native and Marquette University graduate who leads the International Business Innovation Association.

Panel discussions are organized around major stages of a startup process -- launch, grow and succeed -- with experts providing advice on funding paths; legal, accounting and team compensation strategies; the rise of women entrepreneurs; how to find promising sales and supply-chain partners; and Wisconsin's recent success in landing two National Science Foundation awards out of only 44 nationwide.

A plenary panel will feature four early stage investors with experience in Wisconsin and elsewhere on how to pitch to people like them in today's investment climate.

A spot-on definition of "entrepreneur" comes from John Byrnes, who founded the Milwaukee-based Mason Wells investment fund about 25 years ago. "Entrepreneurs don't fear failure because they don't see it as an option. They enjoy solving problems as an outlet for their imagination and creativity. They like living on the edge, where stress is high. They know business is a rapidly moving river of change, and they love it," Byrnes said.

In other words, pessimists need not apply.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechcouncil.com.

The Cumberland Fire department was called to a fire at approximately 7:20 am on Tuesday morning, May 28th, at the Ault home. A candle was burning in the bathroom and caught some towels on fire, which resulted in minor damage to the bathroom. On Sunday, May 26th, the Fire Department responded to a call at the Opera House Apartments. A recliner in the basement of the building had been set on fire, and burned through the floor above, under the sink area of the kitchen. The fire was burning so hot that it burned through the water pipes, which in turn, put the fire out. No injuries were reported at either fire.

Officer Involved Shooting...

who was later identified as Glenn Perry, exited his vehicle armed with an AR-15 rifle and began shooting them. In the exchange of gunfire that followed, Perry who was 50 years old, and lived most of his life in the Chetek/New Auburn area, was struck in the right leg by one of the rounds fired by Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel. Perry later died from the gunshot wound to his leg.

Much has been said and reported about how brave and courageous Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel were when confronted by Perry, who was intent on killing them. I would add that Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel are heroes. A hero is defined as a person who shows great courage. Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel exhibited unimaginable courage on the afternoon of April 8, 2023. Their bravery, courage and sacrifice saved countless lives that day, encompassing other responding law enforcement officers, first responders, and the many innocent men, women and children who were in vehicles traveling on County Highway SS, just south of the U.S. Highway 8 West intersection in Cameron, Barron County, Wisconsin, when the shooting occurred.

Perry acted alone and is solely responsible for the deaths of Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel. His actions were premeditated. They are the epitome of evil. Perry had for years expressed animosity towards law enforcement and the government in general. At the same time, he interacted with law enforcement officers numerous times over the years on other matters without incident.

Perry lawfully purchased the AR-15 he used to murder Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel, along with a 9mm handgun he had on his person at the time of the shooting. Perry also lawfully purchased many other guns that he kept at his home and in his vehicle. Perry had no previous gun violations. There is no record of Perry having any DNR violations or citations.

The actions of Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel were valiant and necessary to protect the lives of countless others. Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel acted lawfully in self-defense and defense of others, and were privileged in using deadly force. Perry's actions will forever change the way we see our community, but the anger and hatred, that we, as a community, will surely feel should be concentrated on Perry, and him alone.

April 8, 2023

On the afternoon of April 8, 2023, officer Breidenbach was on routine patrol in the City of Chetek when she observed a vehicle driven by Perry. In 2022, Officer Breidenbach had stopped Perry for a traffic violation. Officer Breidenbach confirmed that Perry had an active warrant for his arrest. Aware of Captain Hagen's alert email, Officer Breidenbach did not immediately conduct a traffic stop on Perry's vehicle, but followed Perry's vehicle as it traveled northbound on County Highway SS, out of Chetek. Officer Breidenbach requested backup and spoke with Officer Scheel, who was on duty in Cameron. Officer Breidenbach advised on the police radio, that she, along with the Cameron Police Department officer, were going to stop Perry's vehicle when it got into the Village of Cameron.

Officer Breidenbach activated the emergency lights on her patrol vehicle when she rounded the curve where the grain silos are located on the west side of CTH SS. Perry pulled over to the shoulder of the road on the east shoulder of County Highway SS, approximately .2 miles south of the intersection with U.S. Highway 8 West. Officer Breidenbach pulled over to the shoulder behind Perry's vehicle at approximately 3:38 pm.

Officer Scheel, driving southbound on CTH SS, drove by Perry's vehicle and Officer Breidenbach's patrol vehicle, both of which were stopped on the east shoulder of the road. Officer Scheel pulled partially into the Quality Propane/Fuels driveway, activated the emergency lights on his patrol vehicle, backed his patrol vehicle onto CTH SS in order to turn around, and pulled behind Officer Breidenbach's patrol vehicle.

Officer Breidenbach conducted a high risk traffic stop on Perry's vehicle after Officer Scheel arrived on scene. Officer Breidenbach opened the driver's side door of her patrol vehicle and moved from where she had been seated in the patrol vehicle to a position behind the now open driver's side door. Officer Breidenbach positioned herself in the open space between the door and vehicle frame. A motorist who was driving by Officer Breidenbach's patrol vehicle described hearing Officer Breidenbach yelling commands toward Perry's vehicle, likely with her gun drawn and directing Perry to show his hands. It was at this time the shootings took place and both officers were killed along with the suspect.

Legal Analysis

A person privileged to intentionally use force against another for the purpose of preventing or terminating what the person reasonably believes to be an unlawful interference with his or her person by such other person. Wis. Stat. § 939.48(1). A person may use force which is intended or likely to cause death or great bodily harm only if the person reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm to himself or herself. Id. A person is privileged to defend another person under the same conditions and by the same means as those under and by which the person is privileged to defend himself or herself. Wis. Stat. §939.48 (4).

Police officers acting in their professional capacity retain the same privilege to act in self-defense or defense of others, including the use of force which is intended or likely to cause death or great bodily harm when a police officer reasonably believes the use of deadly force is necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm to himself, herself, or others. The reasonableness of a police officer's decision to use deadly force is to be considered from the standpoint of an ordinary and prudent person in the officer's position, having the knowledge and training that the officer possessed and acting under the circumstances that existed at the time.

Officer Breidenbach confirmed that Perry had a valid warrant for his arrest and carried out her duties to take him to custody on the warrant. Officer Breidenbach was privileged to use deadly force to protect herself and others. Officer Breidenbach defended herself by returning fire with her duty issued 9mm handgun in the seconds after she observed Perry aiming and firing an AR-15 rifle at her, before she was killed. Officer Scheel was also privileged to use deadly force to protect himself and others. Officer Scheel, under unrelenting fire from an AR-15 rifle, defended himself by returning fire again and again with his duty issued .40 caliber handgun, before he was killed. The heroism of Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel saved countless lives and will never be forgotten.

Conclusion

There are no mitigating factors to Perry's actions. Perry made the conscious, deliberate and premeditated decision to murder two police officers. Perry remained heavily armed, and was intent on killing any law enforcement officer who attempted to take him into custody.

The deaths of Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel are a stark reminder of how police officers put their lives on the line each and every day to protect us. The sworn duty of police officers to serve and protect should be revered whenever we remember the bravery, courage and sacrifice of Officer Breidenbach and Officer Scheel.

Under the circumstances that existed on the afternoon of April 8, 2023, Officer Emily Breidenbach and Officer Hunter Scheel were privileged to use deadly force against Perry. The officer involved shooting of Glenn Perry resulting in his death was justified.

Baseball Team Has 3 and 2 Week; Get Number Two Seed in Region

The Cumberland Baseball Team was busy last week, playing five games and taking three wins. The team is 11 and 12 overall as they conclude the regular season this week, having played at Grantsburg on Monday and then hosting Osseo-Fairchild on Thursday in a game starting at 5:00 pm.

Things started with a 5-3 loss at Ladysmith last Monday night. Three Cumberland errors were part of a four-run fifth inning that helped the Lumberjacks wipe out a 3-1 Cumberland lead and gave them the victory.

David Olson had three hits for the Beavers, while Vaughn Johnson had a pair of Cumberland RBI's. Johnson took the pitching loss, despite giving up only one earned run in the contest.

The Beavers bounced back with an exciting 5-4 victory over Spooner the following night, thanks to a big two-run single by Olson, which was part of a four-run rally in the bottom of the seventh wiping-out a 4-1 Rail lead. "David has had big hits all year and this was his second walk-off of the spring," said Head Coach Joe Waite.

Gavin Prinsen pitched well over his five innings of work, while Cooper Schramski took the pitching victory in relief. Prinsen had a double and Vaughn Johnson a triple for Coach Waite.

The victory broke an eight-game losing streak and helped provide momentum leading to two more victories before the week was over.

It began on Thursday, when the Beavers easily defeated Chetek-Weyerhaeuser, 10 to 2. Nathan Schmidt took the pitching victory with 1 2/3 innings of work, while Uriah Johnson had a big hitting game, collecting three hits which included a pair of doubles and four runs-batted-in. Cooper Schramski also had a nice game with three hits and a pair of RBI's.

Saturday morning, Cumberland added a victory over Flambeau, by an 8 to 5. Ryan Lundmark and David Olson had two hits each, while Vaughn Johnson added a triple. Coach Waite used four pitchers, with Gavin Prinsen taking the win.

Saturday concluded with a 15-3 loss to State Ranked Eau Claire Regis. Vaughn Johnson took the pitching loss, while Monty Peterson, Cooper Schramski, and Uriah Johnson had two hits each for the Beavers. Regis knocked out 17 hits in the contest against four Beaver pitchers.

Despite a 10-11 record, Cumberland is the second seed in the 14-team D3 Regional and will play the winner of Barron and Grantsburg in Cumberland on Tuesday, May 30. Grantsburg is 10 and 6 and Barron 5 and 15 on the year. The top seed in the Regional is St. Croix Falls with a record of 20 and 2.

Ryan Lundmark slides home safely in the boys 8-5 win over Flambeau Saturday at Islander Park.

Beaver second baseman Nathan Schmidt fields a ground ball and throws to first baseman David Olson for an out Saturday vs Flambeau.

Golf Team Opens Tournament Competition; Sectionals Next Monday at Lake Wissota

The Cumberland Golf Team has concluded their regular season and opened WIAA Regional Tournament play on Tuesday in Rice Lake. "The boys are playing good golf at the right time. I'm excited to see what they can do at Turtleback," said Head Coach Nick Johnson.

The regular season concluded last Thursday in the HON Conference Tournament at Sioux Creek in Chetek. The host Bulldogs took home the title with a score of 323, three strokes ahead of runner-up Ladysmith. The Beavers finished in 7th place with an overall total of 372.

Low scorers for the Beavers were Leighton Stouffer with an 87 and Alex Effertz, who shot 92. "The boys battled today and got some unfortunate breaks. That's golf though and I'm proud of how they persevered through adversity," added Coach Johnson.

The medalist on the day was Bryce Kiloren of Chetek-Weyerhaeuser, who shot an excellent 69. Although Stouffer tied for 15th on the day, the Cumberland Senior earned All-Conference honors by placing in the top ten for total points earned throughout the season. "I'm very proud of how Leighton Stouffer played this year. We are going to miss his leadership and presence next spring," added Johnson.

The JV Conference Tournament was also held last week with Cumberland finishing 6th behind the winning Hayward Hurricanes. Scoring for the Beavers were Brody Chartraw with a 54, Shae Longtine at 56. Max Hoff at 58 and Harrison Ruppel with a 64. "It was nice to get the JV kids out and playing. They have been working hard behind the scenes and setting up the program for success down the road," concluded Coach Johnson.

Top teams and individual qualifiers from Monday's Regional action will travel to Lake Wissota for Sectional play next Monday.

Edward Chafer ran to a second place finish at the conference meet in the 100 meter dash in Maple with a fine time of 11:76

A Unique Trout Fishing Trip!

Hello friends,
This week's column is a pretty cool and an off the wall story, here goes! Every spring I go somewhere in Wisconsin for 3-days, camp and fish trout. I make a wildlife adventure out of it and this year I chose the Clam River which is in northwest Wisconsin and flows through Burnett and Barron Counties. The beauty of this location is that much of the land is in the Clam River Wildlife Area, public land, that would be very cool to explore for hunting as well.

Sunday, May 14th
High 73, low 34

I am currently on a run where I am over scheduled and much of it is physical, all of this is my own doing and what I am doing is very positive! I fished the Clam River last May and did very well on brook trout, not so good on browns. This year I would be hiding out in a new section, one that I had never seen and today when I arrived in the late afternoon, I decided when I die, my ashes can be spread here, Burnett and Barron Counties are beautiful.

So here is a side note, on the way home from this expedition I am going to stop at Premier Livestock and Auction in Owen/Withee and hopefully buy 3 calves in the 200-pound range. I would be sleeping in the trailer I would haul calves in and the day after I got home, I would be moving my daughter Selina with that same trailer.

I find a place to hide my trailer and catch massive trout where no one has ever fished, I am super excited. I gear up including chest waders and go exploring. While crossing the Clam River I once again realize that walking on slippery rocks in a hard current, that my 165-pounds could easily be swept away. I see lots of deer sign, I fish hard for 4-hours, I have only one bite after working 5 pools and that is a brook trout that I released. I found a bear stump that had been washed down stream and is very waterlogged and full of mud. It is the perfect stump, I try lifting it and blow out my knees, back, hips and get a hernia. I must get the stump!

Monday, May 15th
High 72, low

I am on the Clam at 5:00 am and very excited. I am using a small gold hook with a number 5 split shot and a night crawler. I fished hard for 3 hours and only had one hit which was an 11 inch brown.

I have no worries; my pickup has gas and I am going to explore. First, I must get the stump across the river and haul it about 500-yards to my truck. This was a 4 grunts kind of journey, and that stump is going to kill me a bear some day. I explore and fish hard on the Clam and catch nothing, my mind says, "travel" and it is telling me to go to the Rush River in Pierce County.

The stump is in the back of my truck, I slept in my makeshift cattle trailer, my window switch does not work, my heater is stuck on high and life is excellent "Mothers don't teach your boys to be outdoor writers!"

I know the hole I want to fish on the Rush, I think the ridges are limestone, the pools are deep and I love it here. I am set up with 5 hours of daylight and about a half mile from my truck. The trout are hungry. This pool is about 40-yards long with a rapids above it and can be very challenging to negotiate. My first fish is a 15-inch brown trout and I now feel super smart, I fished until dark, forgot my headlamp, caught 11 browns of which I kept a 15, 14.5 and a 14.

The following morning, I limited out, drove to Premier by 10:00 where it was determined that I smelled worse than the cattle I was hoping to buy.

After a full day I could not find any calves that I could afford and homeward bound the Chevy Hotel

A nice limit of Rush River brown trout.

This bear stump was a job to haul back to the truck.

took me!

Cumberland Participates in Conference Meet at Maple

The Cumberland Track Team headed north last Tuesday, where they joined nine other teams who participated in the Conference Track Meet at Northwestern High School in Maple. At the end of the competition, Northwestern took home the boy's title, while Hayward was the 2023 girl's champion. Meanwhile, the Cumberland boy's team finished fourth and the girls eighth.

Cumberland had two championship performances. Senior Ben Cunningham won the discus competition with a throw of 138-11, while the 4x200 meter relay team comprised of Chayden Berghammer, Edward Chafer, Jax Effertz and Gavin Gores ran a 1:35.64 to take home their title by a full second. Cunningham's best throw took home his championship by over seven feet. "Both Ben and the relay team have worked very hard this spring to get to this position," said Head Coach Ryan O'Connell.

There were four second place finishes which included Edward Chafer in the 100-meter dash (11.76), Nick Kasper in the triple jump (39-10), and Andi Otto in both the triple jump (35.11) and 100-meter hurdles (16.98). Otto added a third in the long jump and 300-meter hurdles and Chafer a third in the 200, giving both outstanding afternoons. "Andi finished third or higher in four events and Edward three. Those are tremendous performances," added O'Connell.

Other third place finishes came from Freshman Ethan Mullikin in the triple jump and Kasper in the high jump. Kasper jumped 6-00 to tie for the second-best jump of the day, but finished third do to more misses. Kasper would go on to finish fourth in the long jump giving him a strong day of competition.

Cumberland added fifth place finishes from Jacob

Scradle in the 110-meter hurdles, Gavin Gores in the high jump, the boys 4x100 and 4x400-meter relay teams, and the girl's 4x100-meter relay team. Jax Effertz was sixth in the high jump giving Cumberland three spots in the top six of that event.

On Monday of this week, Cumberland ran in the D3 Regional competition in Webster. Those qualifying will be back in action this Thursday in Cameron in the 2023 Sectional. "We're hoping to have a large number of our athletes continue to move forward all the way to the State Meet," concluded O'Connell.

Track Team Participates in Webster Regional; Sectionals on Thursday

The Cumberland Track Team participated in the D3 Webster Regional on Monday with the Boy's Team finishing fourth and the Girl's Team tied for eighth and ninth. Webster took home the girl's title, while Grantsburg was boy's team champion. Individuals advancing will next head to the Cameron Sectional this Thursday with hopes of earning a spot at the 2023 State Tournament in La Crosse.

Cumberland did not pick up any first-place finishes, but did advance several individuals, including the 4x200 meter relay team, who finished second to Grantsburg but set a new School Record with a time of 1:34.66. Team members are Chayden Berghammer, Jax Effertz, Edward Chafer, and Gavin Gores.

Other second place finishes came from Junior Andie Otto in the 100-meter hurdles and Carly McCreary in the 1600.

Softball Team Finishes Regular Season: Opens Tournament Play

The Cumberland Softball Team entered WIAA Tournament play on Tuesday night with a contest against the 14 and 11 Bloomer Blackhawks. Bloomer finished third in the Cloverbelt Conference behind the First-Place Fall Creek Crickets. Cumberland entered the contest with an overall record of 11 and 12 and with a victory on Tuesday will play this Thursday in St. Croix Falls.

Cumberland concluded the regular season last week with a 11-1 victory over Webster and a 15-13 loss to Spooner, a game they led 13-2 after four innings of play.

Against Webster, Senior Orion Thompson pitched the five-inning victory giving up three hits while striking out three. Cumberland started quickly with five runs in the first and coasted to the win.

Kelsey Reidy, Kylah Gosda, and Morgan Monchilovich had three hits each in the contest, with Reidy and Monchilovich knocking in three runs apiece. Macy Beecroft added a single and scored three runs, while Thompson had a RBI triple.

Things started well against Spooner, but the Rails put together a 13 run fifth inning to wipe out a 11-run deficit and take the victory. Thompson took the pitching loss, hurt by eight Cumberland errors. Baileigh Stouffer had a big game at the plate with three hits, while Maddy Monchilovich, Camille Bohn, Kelsey Reidy, and Madison Graf had two hits each. Alora Garibali, Bohn, and Stouffer had doubles and Maddy Monchilovich a triple for Coach Jim Reidy.

Barron-Cumberland Soccer Team Raises Record to 15-3-1

The Barron-Cumberland Soccer Team continued its fine season with four wins over the last week to raise its overall record to 15-3-1 on the season. The team now prepares for a regular season home finale this Thursday against Baldwin-Woodville and the D3 WIAA opener on June 1 against Arcadia/Independence at 7:00 pm in Endeavor Stadium.

The wins came against Somerset, Northland Pines, Mosinee, and Superior.

The victory over Somerset came by a 5-1 score. Barron-Cumberland scored two early goals and cruised to the victory. Goalie Hauck continued her excellent season with help from a defense that includes Cumberland's Jasmine Woodley.

"We had many goal scoring opportunities and our work on passing, communication and movement as a team, is proving to be successful," said Head Coach Sarah Stauner.

The teams second victory came by a 3-0 shutout over Northland Pines. The team took a 1-0 lead at intermission on what was a cold, wet night in Eagle River. Cumberland's Yocelin Delgado scored a second half goal as the team played inspired soccer in picking up the road victory.

Delgado added an assist the next day, when the team took a 5-2 victory over Mosinee. Sydney Stauner scored three times in the victory as Coach Sarah Stauner summed up the win by saying, "Our defense played great throughout the game and we did an effective job working the ball through all positions to keep space and develop good runs. It is fun to see everyone get involved on both sides of the ball."

The final victory came over Superior by a 3-1

score. Taylor Johnson had a pair of goals in the win as the team built a 3-0 first half lead in taking the road victory. Again, Stauner credited Jasmine Woodley and the defense with a "Strong performance."

Cumberland will enter the WIAA playoffs as a #1 seed in the Region. Sydney Stauner leads the team with 33 goals on the season, while Goal Tender Rayna Hauck and the defense are giving up less than a score per game. The team finishes up the HON schedule in second place behind Ashland, the 2023 Champion.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

Graduation time is here – We have already received invitations to a few grad parties. Gabi Otto's party will be held this Saturday at Art and Jill's home. Gabi plans to attend Winona State University this fall, majoring in biochemistry.

Remington Riewestahl's dad, Dana, told us that he plans to go to Northwood Technical College in Rice Lake. Remington will be taking classes in plumbing, and then intends to work as an apprentice to get his master plumbers' license.

I will get in touch with the other students, or their parents, and let you know what the rest of the "Barronett kids" are planning to do with the rest of their lives.

Duane and I have decided that it is time to eliminate the flower bed on the north side of our house and turn it back into lawn. We will still have the hostas, peonies and a few other little things, but we have found that, over the years, it has gotten harder and harder to keep the garden looking nice. (Blame it on old age or laziness – whichever you prefer.) Anyway, Anna Waterman is an avid flower gardener and she and her hubby, Alec Adams, came over on Saturday and took lots and lots of our plants. The bed of their pickup was completely full, and they put some in the back seat. They invited us over to see Anna's garden and we plan to do that very soon. We're very happy that the plants found a new home.

Bob Russell said that he would take our irises, and Jamie and Kurt Anderson are going to come and get the lupine and a few other things. Aah yes – life is good.

The Shaw house is almost finished. Tina's friend, Pat, is almost finished tiling the bathroom, and then all we have to do is get Dana over to hook up the water upstairs. Yea!! It has been a long drawn-out remodeling job. Tina was over there this past weekend putting her things in the kitchen cabinets. She bought a dresser table, chair and a chest of drawers to put in the bathroom. She's pretty excited about getting moved in. She even took her little dog, Peanut, over and he slept in his dog bed in the kitchen while she was working. I'm sure he will make himself right at home very soon.

Tru Lehmann competed at the fun show (rodeo) at Ski High Ranch in Webster and did very well. She took first place in all the contests that she entered except for one, in which she took second. I'm so happy that she loves horses and competing – maybe we will have another Spooner Rodeo Queen in our family soon.

Duane has been very busy this past week getting the garden ready. He tilled up the spot that we had corn last year and planted potatoes and onions there. This week he is going to get the other part of the garden tilled so we can get the rest of the seeds and plants in. It's always exciting when we first start working in the garden – but it gets a little tiring when the weeds start competing with our vegetables.

The strawberry plants look great and there are a few blossoms on them already. We hope that we will have a lot again this year so that we can share them with friends and neighbors. The rhubarb is coming along nicely too. I should be able to start making jelly this week.

The lilacs are blooming – Duane picked a bouquet on Sunday, and they make the dining room smell so nice.

We are enjoying the gazebo that Art Adams built for us. We sit out there in the mornings with our coffee and watch the birds coming to the feeders. The little hummingbirds buzz through there – they are so cute. And, the orioles are flocking to the feeders. They put on quite the show for us every day.

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. Hope you are enjoying the beautiful weather.

Released From the Grip of Snow/Sin"

by Pastor Wayne Romsos
Timberland Ringebu Free Lutheran Church

I'm sure you will agree that it has been a challenging winter for most of us. It seems like this winter has been the longest and with the most snow that I can remember. The weather has taken a toll on buildings as you can see from the collapsed roofs of old barns and sheds as well as the many trees that were bent over from the heavy snow and ice. There is a row of Spruce trees outside my house that always get loaded with snow and the lower boughs are brought to the ground every year. However, this year one particular bough which was about 15 feet high and reached out about 20 feet from the trunk was definitely impacted. Early in the winter this particular bough was loaded up with snow and ice and brought clear down to the ground. It stayed there for several months where more snow and ice kept it trapped. I was sure that the limb would not recover from this amount of bending and the duration.

Just days after "Salvation Celebration Sunday" (most people just call it "Easter") I happened to be looking at the bough and wondering what was to come of it. All of a sudden the bough literally "popped-up" out of the snow with two chunks of snow attached that later melted off. This sudden release from the grip of winter's prison reminded me of how we can be released from our sins through what we had just celebrated. Just as the "sun" warmed and melted enough snow to release that bough, the "Son" gave himself to release us from our sins. Jesus willingly took our place on the cross to free us from the condemnation of our sin. We see in 1 John 1:9 "If we confess our sin He is faithful and just to forgive our sins..."

So let us celebrate the "sun" releasing us from the grip of winter and the "Son" releasing us from the grip of our sins!

Breathe easier knowing the signs, treatment options for asthma; May is Asthma Awareness Month

Knowing if you or your child has asthma can be difficult because there may be more causes than just the known genetic, environmental and occupational factors.
 Asthma is a disease that affects the lungs. It causes repeated episodes of coughing, wheezing, difficulty breathing and/or chest tightness. Approximately 50 percent of people with asthma have allergic triggers, which may include mold, dust mites, pollen, and pet dander. The other 50 percent of asthma attacks are caused by a range of factors such as exercise, aspirin, time of day and more.
 Asthma often starts during childhood when the immune system is still developing. Having a parent with asthma, taking in cigarette smoke as a young child and exposure to viral infections can increase the risk of developing asthma.
 Prevea Health Allergist, Dr. Dylan Timberlake says diagnosing asthma, especially in children under age five, may include a medical history review and a conversation about symptoms if present.
 "Once asthma has been diagnosed, controlling the symptoms and triggers is manageable," says Dr. Timberlake. "Everyone's treatment plan will look different, but typically asthma can be kept at bay with monitoring and medication."
 For those with severe asthma, an attack may occur without warning. An attack happens when the airways swell and narrow, making it harder to breathe and swallow. Dr. Timberlake says typically people with severe asthma have at-home medications to use during an attack, but if those medications are not providing relief or you need medication more often than every four hours, you should go to the emergency department or urgent care.
 For young children with asthma, call 911 if they:
 Have a fast heartbeat
 Seem confused or drowsy
 Have a blue tint to the skin or lips
 Dr. Timberlake sees patients at the Prevea Altoona Medical Office Building, 3119 Woodman Dr. and the Prevea Ladysmith Health Center, 1101 Lake Ave. West. To schedule an appointment with Dr. Timberlake, call (715) 717-6275 or schedule online.

Wisconsin thawed: Weight restrictions end for northern Wisconsin highways

Warmer weather has reached northern Wisconsin, and the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) is ending Spring Thaw and Class II road restrictions for 15 counties of Zone 1 on Monday, May 22 at 12:01 a.m.
 Class II roads include about 1,400 miles of state highways susceptible to damage from heavy trucks during the spring thaw period as frost leaves the ground. More information regarding frozen road declarations, Class II roadways, and roadway postings can be found on WisDOT's website. Further information also can be found online for divisible load permits and non-divisible load permits.
 County highways, town roads, city and village streets may also be posted or limited to legal load limits or less. Decisions to place or lift weight restrictions on those roads are up to local units of government.
 More information on overweight permits can be found on the WisDOT website by searching for oversize overweight permits. The department maintains an interactive map for seasonal weight restrictions. Haulers with specific questions can contact WisDOT's Oversize/Overweight Permits Unit at (608) 266-7320. A recorded message with general information on road restrictions is available by calling (608) 266-8417.
